

THE DAILY BEE. COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Wednesday Morning, July 9.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES. By Carrier - - - - - 30 cents per week. By Mail - - - - - $10.00 per year.

OFFICE: No. 7 Pearl Street, Near Broadway.

MINOR MENTION.

See J. Reiter's spring goods. There is talk of paving some of the residential streets in the Fourth ward. Two drunks were disposed of by fines in the superior court yesterday. Work commenced yesterday on the addition to the deaf and dumb institute. John D. Nicholson has closed his saloon up tight, and purposes moving to Omaha.

The workmen on several new buildings had to quit yesterday on account of the intense heat. The Y. M. C. A. held another enjoyable social, literary and musical entertainment last evening. Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Adams, last week entertained some of their friends, to a pleasant little lawn party.

Thirty-three of the Callender minstrel troupe stopped at the Rovere House. It looked very shady up there. Park Policeman Covatt has sent in his resignation, because he gets his pay only in city warrants instead of cash.

E. H. Sheafe, who was formerly with W. W. Chapman, has opened a real estate and collection office over Officer & Pusey's bank. Lieutenant Governor Manning, Charlie Harle, Col. Sapp and Mr. Steadman made stirring speeches at the Blaine and Logan meeting last night.

Callendar's minstrels made quite a parade yesterday, the band, all of whom were colored, making more noise than any street band for months. The grand orchestra at the opera house is slowly improving, five instruments being the number the management thought sufficient Monday night.

The police are getting discouraged. They say it is no use to arrest anyone, for they get cleared by the courts, if the charge is any more serious than a plain drunk. Another open air summer evening concert, similar to the one given by THE BEE, and later by Mr. Mueller in Baylis park, would be appreciated in this weather.

The Blaine and Logan club had a "hurrah" last night. Music by the band and speeches by local orators made up the programme, and an enthusiastic meeting was the result. Justice Schurz was kept in a dripping sweat yesterday hearing the cases of Bessie Fremont against Ida Story, in which the former seeks to make the latter give up a trunk filled with feminine finery.

The thermometer stood in the shade yesterday, from 95 to 100 degrees. In the sun it reached 145 degrees, and when Dr. Rice saw his thus getting up into the sky he pulled it in for fear it would burst. Clark, the "newspaper fiend," still insists that THE BEE is a foreign newspaper. But he should remember that when THE BEE came to Council Bluffs it came because there wasn't a newspaper in the city. THE BEE fills the bill, and Clark the fiend knows it, and too well.

One liquor house yesterday sent an order to Kentucky for fifty barrels of whiskey. They have to show with the shipment a certificate from the county auditor that the house has a permit to sell for medicinal, culinary, mechanical and sacramental purposes, before the railways will receive it.

A large number of the citizens went over to Omaha yesterday to return the compliment lately paid this city by Omaha citizens, and to attend the races. The Bavarian band accompanied the party. The band wagon was too high for the ferry cars, and so the band had to depend on getting a band wagon after arriving on the other side.

A section of one of the great trees of California reached here yesterday. It took one whole flat car to carry it, and it was consigned to C. Anderson, of this city. The section was in three pieces, so it could be shipped conveniently, and when set up it measured sixteen feet in diameter. It was hollow, and the center was large enough so that a team and carriage could drive through it.

The Presbyterians will soon begin tearing down their present church to make way for the new one to go up on the same site. The present furniture, etc., is offered for sale. It is not decided where the congregation will worship in the meantime. It is understood that the Congregationalists, who will soon be without a pastor, desire the Presbyterians to occupy their church for a season. That sort of an arrangement would possibly accommodate both.

Now that "municipal reform" is the cry, suppose a little more attention was paid to the gambling houses. In no city in the west are such houses allowed to run with so little regulation. Here they all run open, a regular free-for-all, and there seems no official attempt even to regulate, much less to suppress them. The city gets its share of the profits by regular monthly dividends, and while there is a great howl about the saloons, the gambling houses are allowed to catch-as-catch-can, and not a word.

It is running again, but on the sly. The keepers who have really closed their houses do not think this is fair. One thing certain, all should be treated alike, and no favoritism shown. Another thing is noticeable as the result of the new law concerning such houses. There are more street-walkers on the principal thoroughfares and thronging the parks than were ever seen before. The prospect seems to be that instead of having well-known houses, where there are numbers of these fallen ones gathered, they will each have a room, and then will personally solicit patronage. It is to be hoped that the city authorities will not be more than two or three months in noticing the street-walkers, and will take some steps to stop them.

A husky, dusky fellow named Owen, who was arrested by Officer O'Brien, pulled a revolver on him, and quite a tussle followed, but O'Brien got the gun away from the darkey, and landed him in the cooler. Yesterday Owen had a hearing before Justice Abbott, who dismissed the charge of assault with intent to kill, and continued the case of carrying concealed weapons thirty days, the prisoner being allowed to go on his own bond, at the suggestion of the prosecuting attorney, who expressed the hope he would skip town. This may be a easy hot-weather way of getting rid of cases, but it is little satisfaction to the officer who had the tussle, and ran the risk of getting a bullet.

The election of Prof. McNaughton as superintendent of the city schools for another year was by a unanimous vote of the board, indicating somewhat the way in which his work for the past year has been with the approval of the board. It seems to have met with no less hearty approval by the public at large. Prof. McNaughton came here at a time when there were wars and rumors of wars, and has had many difficulties and obstacles, but by his discretion he has won his way, and by his ability as an organizer and instructor, he has done nobly in keeping the public schools of Council Bluffs up to their high standard, and has brought about changes for the better in many respects. It is with pleasure to many that Prof. McNaughton has thus been unanimously endorsed and continued in the work.

CRUELY CRUSHED.

Another Boy Falls Victim to the Practice of Jumping on Moving Cars.

He Loses a Leg and Receives Other Injuries.

Yesterday about noon Michael O'Leary, a boy aged about thirteen years, met with a terrible accident by the cars. He was going with a basket to the sandbank, carrying dinner to one of the men, and near Pettibone's place tried to jump upon an outgoing freight train on the Chicago and Northwestern road. Several other boys, with whom he had stopped for a few minutes for play, stood by, and one of them warned him not to try to jump on the train, but he did not heed the warning, and with the basket on one arm, he caught hold of the ladder of a freight car, and quicker than words could tell it, missed his hold and was drawn under the wheels, and terribly mangled. He was taken to the Northwestern depot, and Dr. Macrae called. His left leg was crushed, a foot cut off just below the knee, and there was a long gash in his scalp. From the depot the little fellow was taken to the home of his widowed mother on Eighth street. It is doubtful whether he will recover, but still he may do so.

DR. CROSS' CASE.

The Disappearing Witness Appears Again.

There has been little heard, of late, concerning the case of Dr. Cross, who stands charged with the murder of Dr. McKune. One of the causes of continuance was that one of the witnesses could not be found. The witness referred to was named Stick Carl, whose nickname among the boys is "Spotty." It was claimed that he was the only one who saw the whole affair, and he was present on the preliminary examination as a witness for the state, but soon after disappeared, and it is said he has been kept out of the way. However that may be he has now returned. He is a bricklayer by trade, and seems by his dress and manners to have struck good jobs while away. On the preliminary examination in answer to a question as to who struck the first blow, he replied that Dr. McKune struck the first blow. Some to whom he told his story before being sworn, say he told them that Dr. Cross first struck at Dr. McKune, but did not hit him, the latter warding off the blow and then hitting Cross.

It is claimed that if the witness had been asked who made the first pass he would have said Dr. Cross, but that to his mind Dr. McKune got in the first real blow. The state seemed rather inclined to drop Carl as a witness after he had said that Dr. McKune struck the first blow in the encounter, and the defense rather claimed him. If, as is now claimed, he saw Dr. Cross make the first attempt to strike, the defense may want to drop. There has been many conjectures as to the disappearance of this witness, but now he is on the grounds again, and the state as well as defense ought to be able now to get at what he really knows about the affair.

All hats at cost from this day, J. J. Auwerda & Co.

Something for Nothing.

Until further notice we give to each twentieth customer his purchase, whatever the price or value of the same may be. Our cashier will keep an accurate record of every transaction, and when the twentieth sale of any amount is made the purchaser will be presented with the same. We have adopted for the present this system of advertising because it gives our patrons instead of the newspapers the five per cent. which it costs us. Clothing retailed at wholesale prices. Furnishing goods, trunks, bags, umbrellas, etc., etc. Every twentieth customer presented with his purchase. METCALF BROS.
