

THE DAILY BEE. COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Saturday Morning, July 12.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES. By Carrier... By Mail...

OFFICE: No. 7 Pearl Street, Near Broadway.

MINOR MENTION.

See J. Reiter's spring goods. There seems to be a difficulty in getting enough buttermilk to supply the patrons of the bars.

The marshal from Red Oak was here yesterday and arrested a man on the charge of burglary, the fellow having broken into some place and got a suit of clothes.

The work of tearing away commenced at the Presbyterian church yesterday, preparatory to the building of the new church.

About half past nine last evening a false alarm of fire was sent in. The democrats claim it was done to break up their jubilee.

The Methodists are tearing down one corner of their church, and are to build it up so that it will be safe. Then they will occupy the building.

Peter Bechtel's hotel instead of being run on the European plan has been made a $2 a day house, a remarkably low rate considering the excellence of the accommodations given the public there.

The flurry of wind which cut across the central part of the city last evening is reported to have done some damage. A piece of sidewalk was blown across the C. B. & Q. track and a child was somewhat injured.

Chief Skinner has arrested Fay White and E. D. Clarence on a telephone from from Ida Grove to the effect that they had disappeared with three mortgaged horses. The marshal found the animals yesterday afternoon and took the men and horses back.

Every young man in this city is invited to attend the social meeting and bible study at the rooms of the Y. M. C. A. this evening at 8 o'clock. Both ladies and gentlemen will be welcomed at the gospel service held at the same place on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The republican county convention is called to meet here August 8, to choose nine delegates to attend the republican state convention, to be held in Des Moines, August 20, and nineteen delegates to attend the congressional convention to be held in Atlantic, 1884.

The case of Ashley, the barber, charged with stealing razors and a pair of shoes from a fellow-barber, has been continued until next Monday. The case against Davis for hitting Ashley for not returning the property on demand was dismissed.

There will be a special meeting of the board of trade this evening, for the purpose of taking action in regard to securing the location of the Soldiers' Home in Council Bluffs. This is a matter of importance to the city and the meeting called for such a purpose should be largely attended.

The Harlan papers speak in very complimentary terms of the oration delivered there on the Fourth of July by Jacob Sims, of this city. Council Bluffs can furnish the surrounding towns with some pretty strong oratory, and Harlan got some of the best of it when it secured Sims.

Prof. Cooper, of Council Bluffs, was in Harlan on Tuesday, for the purpose, we understand, of buying the Tribune. We would regret to see one so eminently qualified as Bro. Walker for journalism retire so soon from the field, but in Prof. Cooper he would find an able successor. —Shelby Co. Republican.

Two men, giving the names of Thomas McDermott and John Kuddy are under arrest on a charge of getting two suits of clothes of Spetman Bros., under the false pretense that they were working for J. J. Brown. They were found afterwards on the dummy train bound for the west, and were pulled off and detained in jail.

C. Heck and C. G. Lanstrup, who were arrested for resisting an officer on the Fourth of July, were given a hearing before Justice Abbott yesterday, and were discharged, the evidence proving an alibi. Either the court or the police officers are evidently making many mistakes of late, for none but innocent men seem to be arrested.

Clark, "the newspaper fiend," hasn't got over the Fourth yet, but keeps firing Roman candles and squibs at the Bee. It seems to irritate the newspaper fiend that while the Bee was getting the news of the convention over the wires and getting out fresh bulletins, he was kept busy serving up the plates shipped from Chicago to fill up the alleged telegraph columns.

The well known Davy Mottaz now wears an elegant $125 gold watch, which he got in a peculiarly lucky manner, and yet not wholly lucky. An Ohio tobacco firm, P. J. Sorg & Co., offered prizes to those returning the tin tags on pieces of plug tobacco, a farm going to the one returning the largest number of tags, and smaller prizes to others. Mottaz accumulated and returned 2,007 of these tags, and was given the sixth prize, the watch which he now carries. An Omaha man is said to have secured the farm.

Bushnell sells railroad tickets cheap to all points.

Seal of North Carolina Tobacco is the best.

POLITICAL POTPOURRI.

Some of the Street - Corner Talk About the Congressional Race.

The question as to who is to be the republican nominee for congress from this district will be settled in the course of a month now, the convention for that purpose being called to meet in Atlantic August 13. The republicans, and in fact the democrats also, are proceeding upon the concession that Congressman Pusey will be renominated by the democrats, and that he will accept. The fact that Mr. Pusey will poll a heavy vote in Council Bluffs in comparison with any outside candidate, causes many to look to Council Bluffs for a candidate on the republican side of the house. The talk now prevalent here is that George F. Wright, of this city, who has been conceded to be an active candidate, is virtually off the track. He has been looked upon as one of those liable to capture the nomination. Lieutenant Governor Manning is being talked of as an active candidate and it is confidently predicted by his friends and admirers that he will get this county and that he has already strength in Shelby and Audubon counties, although Audubon has instructed in favor of John Y. Stone.

From the present it seems that the contest in the convention will be mainly between these two—Manning and Stone. Lafo Young's strength seems to be confined now largely to Cass county, his own home town. That county having declared in his favor, Churchill, whose name was mentioned two years ago, and has been whispered occasionally since, will probably not come to the surface.

Colonel Sapp seems to be out of any active consideration. It is understood that in case of a contest in the convention he may be agreed upon and thus get the nomination, and would doubtless accept if thus nominated, but he does not seem inclined to make any attempt to secure the nomination.

Montgomery county may favor Moore and press his claim somewhat, but at present there seems no strength developed for him elsewhere.

The talk about John W. Chapman seems confined to the wordy discussion in which the Nonpareil claims he is not a candidate and the Globe claims he is at work on the sly. If at work at all, it is to be that the discussion is simply a play to keep him from being forgotten altogether.

Major Anderson is simply prancing about on the outside watching a chance for getting sweet revenge on those who so bitterly fought him two years ago. He is supposed to be friendly to Stone, and is partially led to this probably by the desire to see Young defeated, as Young fought him so fiercely in the last campaign.

There may be and probably will be many changes in the situation before the convention meets, and the Bee will endeavor to give the talk and prospect from time to time without favor, fear or frenzy.

In connection with the mention of Lieutenant-Governor Manning's name the Carroll Herald published at his old home:

The fact that he has not been identified with any of the factions of the district, and that his nomination would thoroughly unite the party, is perhaps the strongest argument in his favor. The Herald is not published in the Ninth district, and it must be deemed presumptuous for us to make any suggestions concerning the choice of a standard-bearer in the coming congressional contest. But since the name of Governor Manning has so prominently suggested by papers in that district, it cannot certainly be out of place for us to contribute something from our personal knowledge concerning him, a knowledge gained through years of intimate acquaintance during the time he made Carroll his home. This we can say that in every public position he has been called upon to fill, Mr. Manning has more than met the expectations of his warmest friends. As the representative in the legislature from this district, when it comprised three counties, for two terms, he ranked as one of the ablest and most efficient members of the house, and not only served to their entire satisfaction the interests of his constituents, but gained a state reputation which, when he was named in connection with the nomination for lieutenant governor, made him a strong candidate from the first. Elected to this responsible office, his reputation for ability was increased and it is universally admitted that no more capable and impartial official ever occupied the presidential chair in the senate. To-day there is not a man more generally known and admired by the republicans of Iowa than Governor Manning. In the last state election he ran over 4,500 ahead of Governor Sherman, and was chosen by the largest majority of anyone on the republican ticket. His record in public and private life is pure and unassailable. Should the republicans of the ninth district procure him to lead the fight upon the congressional ticket, they would have a candidate who, untrammelled by faction, would unite the party and lead it on to glorious victory. On the stump he would be a power, and no man the democrats could select would be able to sustain him in joint debate. In common with the republicans of Carroll county, where Mr. Manning has lived the best years of his life, we should be most sincerely glad to see him nominated for congress in the ninth district. Such a ticket would win, and win so grandly that the opposition would be completely demoralized. We do not know that Governor Manning will be a candidate for the office, but judging from the support already assured, we should say that should he decide to enter the lists he would stand an excellent chance for success.

Resolutions of Sympathy. At a meeting of the board of directors of the Council Bluffs Y. M. C. A., held on Monday evening July 7, 1884, a committee was appointed to draft resolutions concerning Mr. Thomas M. Gowdy. The following have been prepared:

Whereas, the death of Mr. Thomas M. Gowdy has been an occasion of grief in our city and other cities, and

Whereas, We desire to place on record some testimonial of our young friend and member, therefore be it

Resolved, That in his death our association has lost a true friend and our city a resident whose upright life has been an honor to himself and us.

Resolved, That our memories associated with his life; personal as well as public, and in time to come our remembrance of him will be pleasant and fraternal.

Resolved, That while we mourn his early death, we unite in gratitude to God that he has given us such a sample of practical christianity. Resolved, That we deeply sympathize with the relatives of Mr. Gowdy. Resolved, That these minutes be entered in the minutes of our association, published in the daily papers, and a copy sent to the immediate relatives. Signed by THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

ANOTHER SCARE. An Informer Files Another Complaint. Then Gets Frightened and Skips.

Yesterday there was another little flurry about enforcing the prohibitory law. A man named R. T. Dennis went into Justice Abbott's court and expressed a desire to file an information against Peter Kuhn for violating the prohibitory law. An information was accordingly drawn up, and sworn to by Dennis. Justice Abbott then told him to get the names of his witnesses, and when they were given in a warrant would be issued. The man said he would get the names of the men he saw drinking there, and started out to do so. The news soon spread and with it the report that the prosecution had been started rather maliciously on account of the fact that Dennis is a painter and Kuhn is in the same trade. After the information had been filed Dennis got badly scared on account of some threats made against him, and two men gave him a chase, just for "a bluff" evidently. At last accounts Dennis had taken a train to get out town.

A Card. In view of the fact that it has been generally reported and widely circulated that I have been employed to prosecute all cases in Council Bluffs for the violation of the prohibitory law of the state, I desire to say that such report is not true. I have not been employed to prosecute any cases of that nature, nor have I been consulted. Whenever I am retained in any case I always discharge my duty conscientiously, to the best of my ability, without fear or favor. WM. SEARS.
