

THE DAILY BEE. COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Thursday Morning, July 17

SUBSCRIPTION RATES. By Carrier - - - - - 20 cents per week By Mail - - - - - $10.00 per year

OFFICE: No. 7 Pearl Street, Near Broadway.

MINOR MENTION.

See J. Reiter's summer goods. The foundation of the new Episcopal church is nearly completed.

The city fathers are talking of getting twenty-five electric lights for street purposes, to take the place of gas.

Mrs. Barga Menkel is to be tendered a benefit concert at Dohany's opera house on Thursday evening July 24th.

Peter Beaton, whose Bluffs house was burned last winter has rebuilt the same, and will open it Tuesday evening, July 22.

The southwest corner of Bayless park is submerged by water, so that travel through the park is interrupted, except to rubber boots.

The funeral of the little child of Mr. J. Nelson was held yesterday from the residence, corner of Twelfth street and Nineteenth avenue.

Robert Huntington, Jr., has lost a horse by colic. The day before the death of the horse he was offered $160 for it, but refused.

If the city council brings that section of the big California tree for an ornament for Bayless park, it will give an excellent chance for stump speeches.

There is to be another legal fight over the lot of female finery claimed by both Minnie Fremont and Ida Story. This time it will be in Abbott's court.

Constant Edgerston was yesterday over from Omaha hunting up a gold watch, on which an Omaha firm had a chattel mortgage, the man having moved to this side.

There was a little racket at the beer garden Tuesday night in which a shoe-maker called Shuester and a man named Morris seemed to be the chief participants.

The rainfall yesterday was the heaviest known in Council Bluffs so far this year. Mr. Flickinger's garage showed it to be 1.35 inch, that being the fall between 9 o'clock a. m., and 12 o'clock.

The work of tearing down the old Presbyterian church to make room for a new and better one, is proceeding rapidly. The organ is being taken out and stored temporarily in the Bloomer school building.

The fellow arrested for being drunk, and who insisted on being called "Macedonia," was sober enough yesterday to disclaim even a residence at that place, and begged so piteously for mercy that he was let off.

Four tramps, whom the police had dragged in from the box-cars, were turned loose yesterday morning. There is getting to be a good deal of nonsense about this arresting and discharging of so-called tramps.

Mrs. Brown, who lives in Farley's glen, was scalded Tuesday evening, a boiler full of hot water accidentally tipping and scalding her from the waist down. Dr. Hanchett was called to attend her and pronounces the injuries not so serious as to endanger life.

D. F. Eicher is interested and kept busy in improving property on Glen avenue. He has purchased several lots there of late, and yesterday began on the foundation of a new house which he is to build there to cost $2500 or so. He has great faith in the future of Glen avenue.

Fred Selzer, who has been attending school in New York, reached this city Tuesday on his way home to Sioux City, and was given a happy reception in the evening at the home of Mr. L. Zummehlen, there being gathered twenty of his young friends present. A very enjoyable evening was spent, and yesterday Fred proceeded on his journey.

The local committee, consisting of members of the G. A. R., the city council and board of trade did not make their trip of observation and search for a site for the soldiers' home yesterday, the rain preventing. They will probably go out to-day and see if they can find 320 acres to present to Uncle Sam if he will build the home here.

The Methodist church is undergoing repairs and it is expected that it will be ready for occupancy by next Sunday, and that it will be in such safe condition that there need be no more trembling of the nerves on the part of the adherent fathers. The board of health will doubtless take back its decree of condemnation when these repairs are completed.

About two weeks ago a gentleman asked Theodore Lund to take a chance in a double-barrelled shot-gun. Mr. Lund immediately produced the necessary two dollars which entitled him to a chance for the same and forgot all about the two dollars and the gun when to his surprise Tuesday evening a number of gentlemen presented this gun to him telling him he had won it in the raffle. He now thinks there are some 'straight' raffles.

Luxurious Imagery.

Cincinnati Equi-For insurance of imagery in head-lines the Toledo Commercial Telegram will please step forward and receive the bun This is appalling: "Chaos Without Form and Void. Darkness upon the Face of the Deep. The Leaven in the Shape of Dolores. Inserted. And the Germans Ready to Sprout and Ferment and Fight and Sweat." This indicates quinine.

PROHIBITION PRATTLE.

The Situation Remains Outwardly Unchanged, but Inwardly There is Much Going On.

It was expected that before this some new information would be filed against some of the saloon men, but none have yet appeared. There is much discussion however, of ways and means, all sorts of conjectures and predictions expressed, and each side in the contest is interested, ready, and watching eagerly every move of the opposition, while the scores of neutrals are busy trying to keep so balanced as not to fall off the fence.

There has been much said about the position which justices in this city would take in case anyone desired or attempted to file an information before them. Justice Vaughan, the mayor, says: "You can tell your readers that I am a believer in THE BEE's theory of high license, and that while I do not drink a glass of either wine, beer or whisky, and do not use tobacco in any form, yet I do not believe in letting eighty business buildings in Council Bluffs stand idle." In other words he is not a prohibitionist. He said that if any one wanted to file an information before him he should require bonds to secure the costs, in case the prosecution failed. These costs might run up to hundreds of dollars, and he would not run the risk of having these costs thrown onto the county, and added to the burden of the taxpayers.

Justice Schurz, in reply to the same question, said that in addition to the one who signed the information, there must be several affidavits filed so that in case of any criticism of his conduct he could show that he had due reason to believe they had a case. The informant must also put up a cash deposit to pay the costs in case the prosecution failed to convict.

Justice Abbott said that he would allow an information to be filed in his court the same as any other information, and after the names of witnesses for the prosecution had been handed in, and there seemed reason to believe that there was just ground for issuing a warrant, the warrant would be issued.

Some of the officers said they would serve papers. Others that they would not.

Among the whispered reports is that there is a committee already appointed to file information against anyone who files information against the saloon men. It is said that in some cases an attempt will be made to have the informants adjudged insane, in other cases charges of vagrancy will be preferred. In fact all sorts of charges are talked of to be brought against too aggressive prohibitionists. Such are some of the talk on the street. There is much deep feeling on both sides, but it is to be hoped that moderation, fairness, and good judgment may guide the counsels of both.

PERSONAL.

Charlie Dool, of Boston, is at Bechtel's. J. G. Hale, of Lima, O., is at the Ogden. J. T. Bacon, of Milwaukee, arrived at the Ogden yesterday.

J. M. Power, of Newark, N. J., was at the Pacific yesterday. John Green's daughter and family are visiting him from Shelby.

A. S. Powell, of Platte Center, arrived at the Pacific yesterday. Wm. W. McCrackin, of Fairfield, Iowa, was in the city yesterday and at the Ogden.

Dr. Spiney, of Minneapolis, stopped at the Pacific house yesterday on his way to Sioux City.

H. Oron, a prominent farmer of Living Springs, Silver Creek township, spent Tuesday night with C. Wesley and family.

J. M. Power, N. J., was the first gent who had the honor of registering his name on the new register which was opened yesterday at the Pacific house.

John Templeton has returned from Missouri Valley, and reports that his brother-in-law Mr. Campbell, who was injured there by the cars, is getting along fully as well as could be expected, the injuries being very serious.

Professor Pierre Olker, the well known musician, has returned from Providence, Rhode Island, where he has been playing in the opera house orchestra with his brother. It is understood that he will again make Council Bluffs his home, and will organize a band here.

F. Lamb, Sr., yesterday enjoyed a brief visit from his old friend Mr. Palmer, of Chicago, it being the first time they have met and dined together since twenty-three years ago. They were in high school schoolmates in London. Mr. Palmer has now gone across the river to visit his daughter, Mrs. Pratt, of Omaha.

Miss E. L. Fleckinger arrived here yesterday from Kimball, Dakota, by way of Sioux City, and after a visit here to her brother A. T. Fickinger, and her sister, she will proceed to her home in Independence. Miss Fickinger has for three years been principal of the school on the hill, and has many friends and acquaintances to give her a hearty welcome to this city.

Tom Austin, who has resided here for twelve years, and been in the employ of the C. B. & Q., has sold his property on South First street to Mrs. Henn, and now goes with his family to Salt Lake, where they expect to make their permanent home. Their neighbor Guffy Jones lately went to Utah with the same determination but has returned, rather discouraged at the outlook, the worms making sad havoc with the crops there.

The Poultry Coops.

A coop ten feet square will accommodate twenty-five fowls if the roosts are well arranged and kept scrupulously clean. If the floor is of boards it should be arranged so that the rats cannot get under it. If the floor be sprinkled with dry earth or sand after it is swept out with a broom, which should be done every day, the fowls will keep healthy and free from disease. A good coop may be made ten feet square, eight feet high at the back and three or four feet at the front, the rear of the coop, which should face the south, having a greenhouse sash, three feet by six on the top. Such a coop will cost as follows: Sash, ready glazed, $3; 300 feet of lumber for floor and sides, $6; roof, about $4 (shingles); total $13. This does not include labor, and may cost less in some places for material. The nests should be of boxes, separate, so as to be easily cleaned. If confined in yards the fowls should be given exercise by throwing the hard food into the yard in order to make them scratch. Spade the yards up occasionally which turns under the filth and purifies them. Cleanliness is the best medicine that can be given for warding off disease.
