

THE DAILY BEE.

Saturday Morning, July 19.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Craig L. Wright and Chas. A. Dodge, of Sioux City, Iowa, are at the Paxton for a few days.

On Wednesday R. D. Walsh, of Fremont, passed a bogus check upon Tom O'Connor, of this city. He was yesterday arrested and lodged in jail by Deputy Sheriff Crowell.

Mr. A. McNeill, of the firm of McNeill & Bussey, took a run down to Plattsmouth last evening, to attend a social gathering in that city, returning to-day.

Mrs. Thomas F. Tuttle returned yesterday from a five weeks visit to her sisters in Colorado. The lady has a large circle of friends in this city who have sadly missed her, and will rejoice at her return.

Mr. J. W. Miner, of The Republican force, has returned from Connecticut, where he was called two weeks since by the death of his mother. Mr. Miner and the children will remain in the east until September.

Dr. Octave Pavy, a member of the Greeney party, and who died on the 6th of June, was a brother-in-law of Dr. E. M. Stone, of this city. Unfortunately his body was among those washed out to sea and lost.

Colonel Decker, the miniature man with the "Karl" show, attacked a crowd of attention upon the streets yesterday. He was followed wherever he went by a crowd of small boys and with watchful eyes they looked upon him.

Prof. Fryer has recovered his watch and money taken from him last week while on a visit to this city from St. Joe. The St. Joe Herald says the property was taken in fun. Such fun sometimes allows the funny man to see what the inside of a penitentiary looks like.

Yesterday Stinson's "Monte Christo" party passed through this city east, having closed their season in San Francisco last week. During their engagement of two weeks in that city the management realized $13,000 clear of all expenses. A draft for $10,000 was sent in advance of the company to New York.

A lady yesterday forenoon near the corner of Seventeenth and Leavenworth, was overcome by the heat and fell in a swoon on the sidewalk. Several men standing near by either from forgetfulness or inhumanity gave her no aid. After lying on the walk for a short time Councilman Behm passed by and helped her to her home on South Eighteenth street.

BARRETT AGAIN.

The young ladies in this city who mourn the loss of their money paid one E. D. Barrett, for teaching them macramé lace making, will read with interest the following special dispatch from Bloomington, Ill., to the St. Louis Globe Democrat:

Some three weeks ago two men and two ladies representing themselves as Durand Bartlett and wife and Mr. Pinkham and wife, came to this city and opened out a school to teach young girls to make macramé lace, holding out to them brilliant inducements. They charged a tuition fee of $3, and offered to pay the girls a salary of $10 to $12 a week to make the lace after they had learned. About 300 girls learned it, and last night a class of ninety more was organized. The $3 tuition was paid, and today the instructors, Bartlett and wife and Pinkham and wife are missing, and the girls consider themselves swindled. The quartet have taken $800.

MORTIFIED MISSOURIANS.

The American Association Champions Beaten by the Home Nine.

Rockwell's Pitching Too Much for the Brown Stockings.

7 to 0 the Score of the Game.

The lovers of base ball in this city who have been doubting the playing strength of the home nine had their minds set at rest by the wonderful work of the Union Pacifics in yesterday's game with the St. Louis Browns. Even many of the admirers and friends of the home club expected nothing but an honorable defeat at the hands of the visiting team. Great odds were given on the Union Pacifics in bets on the result of the game, and the friends of the home nine who ventured their money on them did so reluctantly and with little expectation of ever seeing it return.

The rain of the last few days had left the grounds somewhat soft for sharp playing, but it nevertheless was in fair condition. A gathering storm constantly threatened the spectators from the third innings, but the nines were allowed to finish the game without the least interruption from rain. Many, however, left the grounds about the seventh innings and thus missed several sharp plays on both sides.

It is to be exceedingly regretted that McGinnis, Dassy and Comisky, the regular pitcher, catcher and first baseman of the Browns were not present to take part in the game as the friends and admirers of the visiting team lay their defeat to their absence. With the terrible slugging, excellent fielding of the Union Pacifics, yesterday, the "stone wall" and their strongest battery would scarcely have been able to wrest the victory from the home team.

The game was called promptly at 4:30, the Union Pacifics winning the toss. Gibson, who stands credited with sixty base hits for this season, headed the batting list and led off with a single to left field. He was followed by Latham who went out on a long fly to center. He was followed by Lewis, whose difficult foul fly to right field was taken in by Sneed. O'Neill was caught out by Funkhouser who made a running catch of his liner to center field, being the great play of the game. For the home nine McKelvey reached first on a hot grounder to third which Latham fumbled. Bandle helped him to third by his single-reaching home on Dwyer's safe hit. Sneed next sent a high fly to left field which Strief misjudged, Bandle and Dwyer scoring. Rockwell came home on Funkhouser's single bagger. Funkhouser was thrown out at second and Whitney was cut off at first. Walsh was also put out by Krehmeyer with Quest's assist.

In the fourth the home team piled up two more runs on O'Neill's fumble and a passed ball by Streuve. In the seventh inning the home team, on a single, reached third on passed balls by Streuve, and came home on a wild pitch of Davis, who had been substituted in the pitcher's box for O'Neill, who was ineffective. He concluded the run-getting for the game, St. Louis receiving nine beautiful goose eggs.

By the Browns there was nothing done in the diamond that provoked applause but the strong and graceful playing of Latham on third. Rockwell proved a puzzle for the St. Louis, making only five scatterings hits in the game, and when a Brown reached base he was compelled to hug it by the careful and errorless playing of the home team. Not one of the visitors saw third, and but few of them ever reached second. For the Union Pacifics Bandle played his usual game, Funkhouser and Sneed distinguishing themselves in the field. Dwyer played an excellent game on first and McKelvey held down second as only he can.

In the seventh inning a finger of Streuve was broken and his place was filled by Krehmeyer. O'Neill for the remainder of the game played first, Dwyer, of the home team, taking his place in right field.

Below is the score:

AN ALLIGATOR ALLEGORY.

Ed. Gorman is Visited by What Appeared to be a Young Alligator.

Thursday afternoon a woman was confined in one of the cells in the city jail and while there was taken with a St. She was finally placed in a carriage and taken to her home and the cell was left unoccupied.

In the evening a number of the boys were seated in the jail corridor swapping lies and smoking cigars, when all at once an unwelcome visitor put in an appearance. A large green lizard ran out of the cell in which the woman had been locked up and made a straight shot for old Charley Miller, who was in his bare feet. With a whoop like a wild Indian, Charley sprang high in the air, ran into an adjoining room and slammed the door.

A general scattering took place, all leaving the field in possession of the reptile, with the exception of Dr. Crowell, who made a rush for the intruder and with a pie of plaster in his hand, seized it by the tail and succeeded in placing it in a pail of water.

WRECK OF THE RAIN.

North Omaha Sewers Closed Up and Damage Follows.

The Heaviest Rainfall of the Season—Farnam Street Pavement Giving Way.

The storm of last evening and night surpassed all others of the season—not in its violence, but simply in the depth of its rainfall. Between the hours of seven and eleven last night 1.98 inches of rain had fallen and at midnight the ploverometer indicated 2.25. The storm came from the west and here was unaccompanied by wind. At three o'clock this morning the rain was still falling, and the wind was blowing quite furiously.

Men who have lived in Nebraska many years say they never saw as much rain fall in an hour as fell last evening between the hours of seven and eight. It came down in perfect torrents and the paved streets looked like miniature rivers.

The Farnam street storm sewer showed its efficiency by carrying off all the surface water conducted to it, and without flooding more than a single cellar, so far as could be learned.

The mouth of the sewer had the appearance of a boiling cauldron as the water of this conduit struggled to become a part of the Big Muddy. Within one half of an hour after the heavy rainfall had ceased the water had all been conducted from the surface and the pool in front of Drexel & Maul's rooms was all that was left to tell of the rain.

The storm, however, did considerable damage to Farnam. From Thirtieth to Fourteenth streets the granite pavement between the street car tracks and directly over the sewer gave way and large holes from a few inches to a foot deep were left in the street. This is thought to have been caused by the incomplete filling up of the sewer trench. The plug in the sewer connection with the Paxton house cellar was forced out and the water went surging over its bottom. The influx of water was soon discovered and stopped before any damage was done.

On Twentieth and Farnam the water went rushing through the low ground and flooded the two wings, situated on it, several feet deep. In one instance the inmates of the house were taken out of the second story windows in order to make their escape from the imperiled building. The drowned out families were cared for by their neighbors and but few were taken to go back to their homes for the night.

The front of the brick foundation of Mr. Christianson's house on Nineteenth and Harney was washed out and the water poured through under the tottering building from two to four feet deep.

The greatest damage done, however, was in the vicinity of the North Omaha sewer. During Thursday's storm the water rose above the top of the arch for some distance and went through the old creek bed tearing up the loose dirt recently filled in. Yesterday afternoon it became closed up and the great volume of water, in seeking an outlet took the old creek bed and tore it up in places forty feet wide and as deep as to the top of the arch. The sidewalk on Twenty-third street was taken away and much damage is reported to the grading now being done in that part of the city. Many cellars also were filled, but the damage from this source is slight.

In one instance the inmates of the house were taken out of the second story windows in order to make their escape from the imperiled building. DISTRICT COURT.

Motion for a New Trial in the Guthrie Case Overruled—Kinney Convicted—Other Matters.

In the district court yesterday the Kinney case was given to the jury. They retired to the jury room and in a few minutes announced that they had agreed upon a verdict. Upon entering the court-room the foreman of the jury stated that they had found a verdict of guilty as charged in the indictment.

All jurors were then dismissed until 9:30 this morning. The balance of the forenoon was consumed in hearing the arguments upon the motion for a new trial in the Guthrie case. After dinner the judge announced that he had overruled the motion, and would not grant a new trial. The matter will now probably be taken before the supreme court.

Tom Cooper was brought into court yesterday, and pleaded guilty of the charge of burglary. James Ragan, who was caught in Gen. Lowe's house, pleaded guilty to the charge of burglary. Edmund Houry pleaded not guilty to the charge of murder in the first degree. His case will come up for trial tomorrow morning at 9:30.
