THE REPUBLICAN LEADERS.

ANALYZING BLAINE'S LETTER.

Special Dispatch to THE BEE.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—There is general commendation of Blaine's letter of acceptance. The prominence given to the subject as protection is regarded as striking the key note of the campaign. The absence of fireworks over the discussion of foreign relations is regarded as adding much to the strength of the paper. Upon this subject it is known that much advice was taken out of the hands of Blaine as he is greatly delighted over the paper, with the exception of a few who felt certain it was to be extreme on the subject of asserting American power and influence, and who have done much talking along the line of their beliefs advocating what they called "imperialism" and a vigorous foreign policy. The executive officers in regard to the letter are very effective. At the republican committee rooms it is spoken of as certain to be one of their most important papers. A large edition will be immediately printed.

GENERAL LOGAN'S LETTER

will be made public Wednesday next. This letter is about two columns in length. It touches upon some of the same subjects as the letter of Blaine, but it is upon points of interest to readers. Those friends of General Logan who have read his letter are greatly pleased with it and pronounce it an excellent paper.

Special Dispatch to THE BEE.

CHICAGO, July 20.—Republicans here express themselves as much pleased with Blaine's letter.

THE COCK-EYED CONUNDRUM.

ATTEMPTING AT BUTLER'S INTENTIONS.

Special Dispatch to THE BEE.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—General Butler's late visit here resulted in settling the question of his running as a presidential candidate in the affirmative. His speech before the democratic convention, carefully revised, appears in several quarters in the east. He will run as the special champion of the laboring interests, the pronounced enemy of monopolies and the representative of the great bulk of the people. He is also expected by some of his adherents that he will announce himself upon foreign affairs in such a manner as to further extend himself to his Irish friends. Some representatives of labor organizations here say they have reason to expect the early announcement of his views and a full explanation of the exact position he expects to occupy in the presidential race. Both democrats and republicans here have a curiosity bordering on anxiety to learn his plan of campaign. As yet neither party has sufficient data from which to estimate the probable effect of his movement.

KELLY'S POSITION.

HE WILL SUPPORT CLEVELAND.

Special Dispatch to THE BEE.

NEW YORK, July 20.—Since the return of Tammany from the Chicago convention John Kelly has continuously said the course of that body could not be known until the meeting of the committee on organization in September. It is well known that Kelly never waits for that and it is an open secret that he has already decided upon his course. He will support Cleveland. He was seen in a room in a questionable quarter of the city this morning, during a quarrel, Clement Sullivan, a young German, shot and instantly killed him. He then blew out his own brains, dying in a few minutes. The girl's real name is Ada Harvey. She came here from Racine, Wis.

ROOSEVELT.

HE WILL SUPPORT BLAINE.

Special Dispatch to THE BEE.

BOSTON, July 20.—Young Theodore Roosevelt, of New York, is visiting Henry Cabot Lodge, having returned from his Dakota ranch. It is generally understood that his political views received at the republican national convention have about healed in the fracturing air of Dakota, and that he will support Blaine.

DEMOCRACY'S RATIFICATION.

HALF-HEARTED AFFAIR AT COLUMBUS.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 19.—About 5,000 people attended the democratic ratification meeting at the east front of the capitol this evening. John G. Thompson presided and read letters from gentlemen who had been invited to be present. Governor Cleveland wrote: "I thank you for the words of encouragement and assurance of hearty support. Am convinced that the democracy of Columbus and the state of Ohio are determined to support the man who will divide the vote with me."

A PROHIBITION PLOT.

A Secret Society in Dubuque to Enforce the Iowa Idea.

Special Dispatch to THE BEE.

DUBUQUE, July 20.—It has been ascertained that a secret citizens' league has been in existence for several weeks, its object being in the interest of the enforcement of prohibition. The president of the league is a man named George W. Smith. It is said that the league has been organized to divide the way of its proceedings further than state that it had been determined to act positively with regard to further violations of the law.

The Hocking Valley Strike.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 20.—This has been a quiet day among the miners of Hocking Valley, with no change in the situation of the strike except that Brooks, the operator, left here on a special train to-day for additional laborers to take charge of the machines in the mines to-day. It is said they are experienced in the business. Twenty-five of the Hocking police are under arrest at New Straitsville on the charge of usurpation of power and bond over to court.

Inviting Prohibition in Ohio.

CINCINNATI, July 20.—Over two thousand saloon keepers have failed to take out their names in the city under the State law. Their time expired July 19. Suits will be instituted before all justices of the peace here. The license is $100 and $200 per annum, according to the kind of intoxicants sold.

A Newspaper Correspondent in Office.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Wm. E. Curtis, the Washington correspondent of the Chicago Inter-Ocean, has been appointed by the president secretary of the commission to inquire into the commercial relations between the United States and the countries of Central and South America, with a view to extending our commerce in that direction.

A HOLIDAY HORROR.

AN EXCURSION TRAIN WRECK.

PITTSBURGH, July 20.—A special intelligence has just been received from Canton, O., saying that an excursion train on the Connetquot Valley railroad, started from Canton, Ohio, on Saturday last, and was wrecked on the edge of a cliff, and the employes of the railroad, and their families, who had been picnicking, were wrecked two miles east of Canton and two hundred persons killed and injured. The wreck was caused by a broken frog. The whole train left the track and rolled down a sixty foot embankment. Shortly before the accident occurred another train passed over the frog safely.

UNDER THE WRECK DEAD.

THE EMPLOYES OF AULTMAN & CO.'S MACHINE WORKS had their annual picnic at Cuyahoga Falls today and over 2000 went on the excursion. The first train arrived at Canton at 7:20 p. m., and while a hundred fathers, brothers and sisters were at the station waiting for friends and relatives on the second section, a halfless messenger came running down the track, crying that the train had been wrecked and many killed and injured. The scene that followed was of the wildest description, and when the wreck was reached, men, women and children ran around wringing their hands and looking for their loved ones. Nine cars were off the track and in water four feet deep.

THE CRIMES OF THE INJURED.

They were heartrending. Hundreds of willing hands were at work and it was found that not more than twenty-five were injured; but it was impossible to know how many or who were killed. About a dozen or more were missing and may be under the cars, and nothing definite can be known until the wrecking train arrives, which is now on its way to the scene. The telegraph office has been opened and many killed and injured. The list, as far as can be learned, is as follows:

MARY SCHLESNKEY, aged 19, arm crushed, leg broken.

ALBERT TRAVEL, aged 18, arm-broken, chest crushed, leg broken.

ELVA NEUMAN, aged 18, leg broken, internal injuries.

Mrs. A. GROVEMILLER, severe internal injuries.

Mrs. WALTER MOSLEY, internal injuries.

AGNES LIPPERT, foot crushed.

LENA HILBERGER, internal injuries.

MRS. J. G. HUBBARD, internal injuries.

JULIA HILBERGER, and wife, both internal injuries.

LEVIN SHAMAROFF, head cut.

CHARLES H. HANSEN, severely wounded.

Mrs. JOSEPH DICKS, internal injuries.

HARRY TRICE, head cut, badly crushed.

THE CAUSE OF THE CALAMITY.

The engineer says the wreck was caused by the track springing. The engine passed safely, but the first car jumped the track and eight others followed and ran alongside the track throwing the occupants from side to side and finally jumped a small embankment and fell in three feet of water. The doors were out and the people got out.

THREE DOCTORS are attending the wounded several of whom will probably die.

SUNDAY'S DEVELOPMENTS.

CLEVELAND, July 20.—Investigation to-day shows that nobody was killed or dangerously injured by the accident last night to the excursion train near Canton.

PITTSBURGH, July 20.—A Canton, O., special says that the train which was wrecked last night was cleared to-day, but three cars thrown into the mud have not yet been removed.

Twenty-two persons were injured, but no deaths were reported, and the wounded are doing better than expected. No one was killed and those missing and supposed to be under the wreck have turned up. The loss to the railroad company is about $3,000.

ALMOST ANOTHER.

A SUNDAY EXCURSION HAS A NARROW ESCAPE.

BOSTON, July 20.—The excursion steamer Empire State had a narrow escape to-day from a terrible disaster. The vessel left Boston at 10:30 a. m. for a trip along the north shore, having nearly thirteen hundred passengers. In returning, the inside route between Thatchers and Rockport was taken, and when about half way through the channel the boat struck a ledge. The passengers were mostly on the upper decks and no panic occurred. The vessel immediately came off the rocks, having stove a hole in the bottom, and sought refuge in the harbor for Rockport. The port in half an hour. The passengers landed without accident and returned to this city. The boat is fast sinking at Gloucester wharf.

Logan En Route to Minneapolis.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 20.—General John A. Logan and a delegation of the Grand Army of the Republic passed through the city on the Pacific express this afternoon, en route to the national encampment at Minneapolis. General Logan was met at the depot by the republican county executive committee and an impromptu reception tendered him. The newspaper representatives were not in force, but the general refused to talk politics.

THE GREELEY DISCOVERERS.

They Will Receive No Share of the $25,000 Reward—English Opinion.

Special dispatch to THE BEE. WASHINGTON, July 20.—"We have received inquiries" said acting secretary Nichols "as to how the $25,000 reward for the rescue of the Greeley party will be apportioned. It can be distinctly stated that no reward will be made at all, for the rescue was effected by the relief expedition entirely, and the money was appropriated for outsiders only, in order that the whalers might have an incentive to hunt for the party."

Special Dispatch to THE BEE.

LONDON, July 20.—The news of the relief of the survivors of the Greeley expedition has been fully called, and excites keen interest. The press warmly sympathizes with the sufferers and expresses the courage and skill of both parties. It hardly complains of poor

A DRAKE UNBURY A SCANDAL.

LONDON, July 20.—A scandalous disclosure was made at the inquest of Judge Watkin Williams, who died suddenly last Thursday night at Nottingham. Judge Williams was a leading member of the English bench and ranked among lawyers on account of learning and ability. He was the head of a large family and highly respected. He was especially popular among English reformers, and his name was prominent in the interest of social reform, and generally looked upon as a pattern of all virtues. He was in apparent enjoyment of excellent health during the day, and died suddenly during Thursday night. It was given out that he died from a sudden attack of heart disease. At the inquest, however, the coroner in pushing forward the case, and in the opinion of the judge's death, brought out the fact that it occurred in a Nottingham house of ill-fame. It was developed that after abstracting his day's business, on the bench, Judge Williams repaired to the brothel, and there dined with one of his notables. After dinner Judge Williams and his companion spent the night together in an orgie, in course of which he suddenly expired in the house. The coroner made every attempt to keep the disclosure, and the friends of the family vainly attempted to bribe the inmates of the brothel and the reporters to conceal the scandal.

AMERICAN POLITICS.

There has been much comment during the week on Cleveland's nomination in English opinion, on the whole, is against Blaine and for Cleveland. Even strong liberal journals and some friends of America, like the Spectator, declare they doubt the success of the democrats in the interests of purity, freedom and peace. On the other hand, Blaine's letter of acceptance, which was so warmly welcomed by the democrats, has been considered as a sign of his moderation and his willingness to supply his slenderification of his alleged "Jingoism."

Care for the Children.

Children feel the debility of the changing seasons, even more than adults, and they become cross, peevish, and uncontrollable. The blood should be cleansed and the system invigorated by the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Last Spring my two children were vaccinated. Soon after they broke out with red eruptions, so painful I thought I should lose them. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured them completely, and they have been healthy ever since. I do feel that Hood's Sarsaparilla saved my children to me." Mrs. C. L. Thompson, Purist Warren, Mass.

Purify the Blood.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is characterized by three qualities: 1st, the combination of remedial agents; 2d, the proportion; 3d, the process of securing the active medicinal qualities. The result is a medicine of unusual strength, effecting cures in biliousness, indigestion, and other ailments.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla beats all others, and is worth its weight in gold." I. BARRINGTON, 138 Bank Street, New York City.

THE KANSAS CITY BELT.

A Big Land Speculation—Chasing Charles Francis Adams—Near $250,000 Involved.

Special to the Globe-Democrat.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 18.—A deputy United States Marshal's six hours' chase after Charles Francis Adams is the farcical aspect of two suits involving a quarter of a million dollars, which have been instituted in the federal court here. S. C. Shaffer, an Ohio creditor, who, with a syndicate, is the next largest holder to Mr. Adams' real estate and about Kansas City, brings these suits. Their basis is the breaking of contracts under which large purchases of land were made in the vicinity of the city for the use of the belt line railroad. The room along the river front is limited. The great bulk of the day have been shaved away all that they will stand to let in the tracks and with the increasing demands the time has come when a tract of the belt line company south side has become an imperative necessity. The Boston people, in other words the Santa Fe interest, are particularly interested in this belt line for 12 miles from the route through and beyond Kansas City on their way as projected toward Chicago.

THE BASIS OF LITIGATION.

Mr. Schaffer, in speaking of the suits he has brought, said to the Globe-Democrat correspondent: "I own 82 1/2 acres by option contract 325 acres in what is known as Big Blue bottom, east of Kansas City about 10 miles. Later, I purchased 100 acres of land to the Kansas City Belt Line railroad, which Charles Francis Adams, of Boston, is the leading spirit, and C. F. Morse, the superintendent of the belt line company, were to select 850 acres for use as shown, and were to pay $10,000 in cash for the same. The balance of the tract was to be converted into city lots, and was to have the management of the sale, and my compensation was to be 5 per cent until the original purchase money for the tract, $114,008 was realized. After that was paid back, one-third of the proceeds from the sale of lots, or one-fifth of the land in gross. The contract was that the title to the property should be good and valid and satisfactory to the belt line company. On December 1, 1882, they declined to take the property, assigned the reason that the title was not satisfactory. That this excuse was not a good one may be judged from the fact that in December, 1883, they tried to convey sixty acres of similar title land which lay in the same tract. Big Blue Bottom. They tried to convey and I consented. They finally abandoned that intention and went over and purchased 100 acres of the Woods property which on the 1st of December, 1882, they had declined to purchase. Now I sue for the one-fifth interest in the 100 acres they have purchased, to which I am entitled under the original contract. The contract states that title shall be divided into town lots, and that it shall not be sold for less than $1,500 an acre. Then I sue for $185,000 damages for the loss I have sustained in the breaking of the contract under which I was to have a 5 per cent commission, the $10,000 bonus and a fifth interest after a certain sum was realized. When our contract was made the belt line was represented in all of them by C. F. Morse as trustee. Now, to cover up their tracks, they have the title made direct to the railroad and the original contract had a trustee because we were advised that the company couldn't speculate. By the contract it can be seen that Adams was to relieve the company of responsibility. This property is a fine, level piece, high and dry, and about all there is left in the immediate vicinity of Kansas City for the purpose of building a city.

CHASING MR. ADAMS.

The trouble has been to get on Mr. Adams, and for that reason the litigation has been held in abeyance. The railway magazine held a very interesting talk Kansas City on Friday and getting off the local Monday made it tend to give him the legal note. A few days ago information was received that Mr. Adams had returned to New York and here on a week day. The depot was watched, but no special car came in. At length, three or four hours after the arrival, it was learned that Adams had returned to Kansas City. The marshal, thoroughly desperate, went to the city and got on Adams' train, and there on the steps of a very important message for Mr. Adams, and at last he found himself in the marshal's presence. The papers were finally sent to Adams, and he was released. Mr. Adams has engaged John O'Grady, of St. Louis, by telegraph to come up here and prepare the cases for speedy trial.
