

THE DAILY BEE. COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Thursday Morn'g, July 31.

By Carrier 30 cents per week. By Mail $10.00 per year.

MINOR MENTION.

See J. Reiter's summer styles. The circuit court opens here August 18. The alderman at large of the Fourth ward is still at large. T. J. Evans has lost one of his fine horses, it having died of colic.

There has already been contributed $150 toward the entertaining of the commercial travelling men who are to be here in September. Master Eddie and Miss Ida, son and daughter of Mayor Vaughan, entertained about thirty of their little friends yesterday afternoon. It was a happy gathering of little folks.

Mr. Cooke, of Cooke & Morgan, says that Mr. J. W. Laing is to become a member of that firm in without foundation, despite the fact that the rumor has become quite general. Andrew Busch while standing on a ladder painting a house on Main street yesterday lost his balance and fell backwards striking on his head. Nothing serious anticipated from the fall.

A map of the city is being made for the purpose of indicating the best places to establish electric lights for lighting the streets, a proposal for doing which will be submitted to the council at an early date. The mayor yesterday received a letter from Charles M. Kinney, of Bradshaw, York county, Neb., asking about the work being done by the Home of the Friendless here, the interest in which seems to be spreading.

A pleasant little wedding took place at the parlors of the Creston house yesterday, the parties being Albert Harner and Miss Nancy Jane Chippe, both of Carson. Justice Schurz officiated in his usually happy way. Permits to wed were yesterday given to Ivan T. Simons and Mary B. McMillan, of Neola; also to W. H. Mullin and Mrs. A. E. Mansfield, both of this city, and to Frank Miller and Adaline Foster, also of this city.

The paving on Main street having been completed attention is now turned to the paving of Broadway. The work of excavation has commenced at Broadway M. E. church, and the laying of stone will soon follow. George Creighton has commenced suit against the Pacific Express company claiming $4,500 damages, on the claim that the latter had him arrested as a suspicious character, when in fact he was a good honest farmer.

Anna Maria Hernia Agnes Sivers has commenced divorce proceedings against Claus Johreim Sivers, claiming that he has treated her cruelly by hitting her with her fist, pouring pailful of cold water over her, and threatening to take her life. The resignation of John Allen having been accepted Mr. Allen today retires as cook on the dining cars of the "Q" road and takes his place at the head of the firm of Allen & Rapp, who have purchased Chris. Schwenger's old stand, 108 Main street.

The funeral services of Mrs. Stiles were held yesterday afternoon at the residence of Judge G. A. Robinson, Rev. Mr. Mackay officiating. The remains were then taken to the depot, and will be carried to her old home at Dixon, Ill., for burial. The colored voters have organized a Blaine and Logan club, with F. Finley, president; W. Thomas, secretary; H. Campbell, treasurer. A committee, consisting of B. Owens, H. Campbell, W. Maxey and C. H. Warner, has been appointed to draw up a constitution and by-laws and solicit new members. The next meeting will be held on Wednesday evening.

ty convention the name of J. S. B. Cogshall for county recorder. He has been prominently and actively identified with the labor interests, even at a personal sacrifice, and hence the working-men deem him entitled to their support, while his claims upon the republican party are based upon the fact of his having been a life-long member of that party. He is a veteran with scars, and as for his experience and ability for the position for which his friends are pushing him, he has served two terms in the legislature of another state, and been in other positions of trust.

A STRANGE WEDDING.

A Broadway Hotel Stirred Up Considerably Over It. The boarders and attaches of a hotel on Broadway have been keeping their tongues wagging lively of late about the marriage of one of the females employed at the hotel. Sometime ago the girl married one of the boarders, a carpenter, and although this fact was known to those about the house, still the man and woman never acted as though that intimacy existed between them, which is supposed to be between husband and wife. They continued to occupy separate rooms, and they continued to act in all respects as before they were married. There have been many conjectures as to what was the cause of this strange procedure which while being man and wife, they still seemed not to be man and wife. The man had occasion to go over to Omaha for a few days, and on returning he chanced to see her out riding with another young man, and this so aroused him that he flew into a passion and said the marriage certificate might as well be torn up, for he was not being allowed any of the privileges of a husband. Then it leaked out that though married, she kept him continually at a cold distance from her. A day or two ago she left the hotel, claiming that she was going to visit some relatives east. The secret of her strange action is now told, it being in effect that she has already a husband in the east, but that being rather charmed with this young man, she consoled herself in his company, while he became so infatuated with her that he urged and urged again that she marry him, he supposing that she was a maiden at all. In a sudden impulse, as she describes it, she consented, and after the ceremony was performed she came to a realization of what she had done, and she resolved that she would pursue the forbidden path no further, and hence she set her face against him, barring him from all undue intimacy. She has gone eastward again, but it doubtful whether she will join her first husband, they having separated on account of incompatibility, but it is presumed that her intention is to stay away until she can legally release from her first husband, and then she will probably ratify the marriage with the carpenter by taking him as her husband in full.

THE FAREWELL RECEPTION

Tendered Rev. Cyrus Hamlin by His Friends Last Evening. At the residence of Mr. W. W. Wallace last evening, a farewell reception was given Rev. Cyrus Hamlin, who lately resigned the pastorate of the Congregational church of this city. A large number of his friends improved this opportunity to meet him again socially before his departure. The gathering was by no means confined to those of his church and congregation, for Mr. Hamlin has, during his seven years residence here, been a citizen as well as a pastor, and has taken an active interest in all movements tending to the bettering of the heads and hearts of the community. No man has built up here as a backing for his pulpit teachings a stronger public confidence in the personal integrity and loyalty to his convictions of truth than he, while in intellectual ability and scholarly attainments he cannot but take high rank wherever he may be. The farewell reception thus tendered him was not a mere formality forced by custom, by the honest tribute of a church and a community which feel that his going is a loss to both. One of the pleasant features of the evening was the presentation to Mr. Hamlin of an elegant gold watch, which will serve him as a happy reminder of his Council Bluffs friends, although he hardly needs to be reminded that he has and always will have many friends here. He expects to start away the early part of next week.

The Druids.

The Grand Grove of Druids of the United States meets in St. Louis August 13. The grand secretary of the Missouri Lodge writes asking how many of the Druids of this city will attend, and whether they will be accompanied by ladies, as he wants to make arrangements for them. The delegates for the Iowa grand lodge are W. R. Vaughan, of this city, H. Bewig, of Burlington, and Judge Cramer, of Davenport. The Iowa delegates, in accordance with the action of the last session of the grand lodge of this state, will endeavor to secure the next meeting of the United States grand lodge at Des Moines. Mayor Cary, of that city, will be present and present the claims of that city.
