BRUDDER TROWER'S BOMB. It Stirs Brudder Norfolk to Burning. Small, Dandy Debaters Fully Aroused.

Scars of Zion Enthusiasm Over the Man From Buffalo. The Platform Too Small—Dandy Debaters Fully Aroused.

Among the colored democratic voters who listened with indignation to the Rev. Mr. Trower's criticism of the democratic candidate for the presidency were Messrs G. Sullivan Waxmaster, Adolphus R. Peter, and Robert Lee Norfolk.

Mr. Norfolk, president of the club, was in the chair. He is a stalwart individual who wears bushy side-whiskers, gold-mounted spectacles and broadcloth clothes.

Mr. Norfolk was sent to Raymond street jail for ten days, but his punishment was his popular among his colored brethren.

It may be said that Gubner Cleoblan' orated Mr. Jefferson to be 'scouted on' 'Manaphan' day.

Mr. Norfolk, gracefully, 'It am possible that I was a little too profuse, but I do wish to say this much, if I do not repeat it, my party think that it is in ignominy to call you, it's a gain to get it.'

The enthusiasm aroused by the speaker's remark was indescribable. The members of the club stamped, shouted, hooted and waved their hats and handkerchiefs wildly.

I agree with noble sentiments of the speaker, noble sentiments, noble sentiments, noble sentiments.

Quarantine Curiousities. The quarantine measures which have been adopted by various European nations for protection against cholera are naturally the source of a good deal of inconvenience.

WRONGS OF THE SIOUX. Mr. Bland Tells how He Was ejected from Pine Ridge Agency.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 3.—Several weeks ago T. A. Bland of Washington was arrested and expelled from the Pine Ridge Indian reservation by Indian agent McGillicuddy of the Blue Ridge agency.

There is no doubt that the alarm in Spain in regard to the cholera is very great. Vessels coming from French ports have the greatest difficulty in obtaining permission to enter any Spanish harbor.

Austria has just announced that all persons entering Austria from Italy will be quarantined for a period of ten days.

Mr. Bland holds no official position under this department and is not authorized to represent the department in any way, nor to interfere in the affairs of the Agency.

On reaching the office, Agent McGillicuddy met me at the door and said: 'This is Dr. Bland, I suppose?'

He ordered out a carriage and asked me to get into it. I declined to do so on request, saying: 'I shall not get into the carriage until you shall order me to do so on pain of personal violence.'

The government did not keep its treaty of 1851. It has not fully kept the treaty of 1851. It has not fully kept the treaty of 1851.

On the authority of M. S. Julia Draper, who was a missionary teacher among the Sioux for ten years, Mr. Bland charges that Bishop Hare and the Rev. John Robinson, missionary at Pine Ridge agency, are fully cognizant of Agent McGillicuddy's unfitness and misbehavior.

Under the treaty Dr. Bland says, the Indians are entitled to soldiers' rations. He weighed some of the rations and found the supply of eight persons for two weeks was: Flour, eight pounds; Bacon, four pounds; sugar, two pounds; coffee, one and a half pounds; baking powder, quarter pound; soap, half pound.

ad another for the Indians—and that the Indians are required to pay a higher price. For example, he says, an Indian is obliged to pay the trader a dollar for what a half pound of coffee or four pounds of sugar, whereas a white man can buy four pounds of coffee or six pounds of sugar for the same amount of money.

Philadelphian Call. Western Railroad President—'I tell you, sir, it is ruinous. I can't reduce rates between those points from $14.50 to $5. You must be crazy.'

'Capital ideal! But that would only work for a while. The passengers would complain and the authorities would get after us.'

Financing in New York. Wall Street news. The young man as he returned from town, 'they say about twenty of the big factories in New England have shut down.'

What a host of unpleasant symptoms! Indigestion; lame back; aching joints; sleeplessness; vertigo; weariness; no appetite; cold feet; twinges in breast; night sweats; chills and fever.

He was a graduate of a school of pharmacy and had just bought out an apothecary store at the South End. Last evening his sweet young wife looked from her paper and said:

'Did it say he ran a soda fountain in any of his establishments?' 'He had, and he had traded in extracts and other medicinal preparations.'

'Ah, well, that accounts for it. I tell you that so long as a man can sell three quarts of wind and a half of soda water that is in all about three fourths of a mill for five cents hard cash, and then have half the water in it in form that can't be sucked out of the glass, there is no danger of failing.'
