STRANGE DISAPPEARANCE.

Max Grimm Comes Up Missing on His Wedding Morn.

His Friends Believe That He Has Met With Foul Play.

There was quite a little sensation in certain circles in this city yesterday when the hour of nine o'clock arrived. That was the time appointed when Mr. Max Grimm was to have been united in wedlock to a highly respectable young lady of this city. The hour arrived the guests and minister were on hand, the bride was arrayed in her wedding robes, but Max came not. Long they waited but the expected bridegroom failed to appear.

After a time it dawned upon the company that Max would not come. That either he had got sick of the bargain and took this way to get out of it, or that he had met with some accident which prevented his coming.

Some of his friends started out to look for him. They went to his boarding-house on Eighteenth street, near Dorcas, and found that he had not been there since Saturday evening. At nine o'clock Saturday evening Max left the home of his betrothed. He was in the best of spirits, and was to have met her at church Sunday morning. He did not meet her at church, and did not call on her Sunday evening, and she thought it strange, but did not have any idea that his absence would prove of so much moment.

He was a tailor by trade, and for a long time worked for B. Newman & Co. By his industry and saving he had become the possessor of some real estate in this city.

His friends think that he has met with foul play. At the time of his leaving the house of his betrothed on Saturday night he had between $150 and $200 in his pockets and it is thought that he was made away with to obtain the money. His betrothed is nearly beside herself with grief at having her loved one snatched from her arms just as she was to claim him forever.

Any information in regard to his whereabouts will be gladly received by his friends if left at Henry Kaufman's or at this office.

At the time of his disappearance he had on a black sack coat, grey trousers and a black stiff hat. He was about five feet ten inches in height and weighed about 175 or 180 pounds. He had a dark complexion, dark eyes and had a small black moustache.

Caldwell, troop F, Fifth cavalry, published in general court-martial orders No. 23, current series from the headquarters, is remitted, to take effect August 3, 1884.

THE COMING REUNION.
The Attention of Veterans Called to Several Important Things.

General Order No. 17 has been issued from the headquarters of the G. A. R., at David City, for the department of Nebraska, and reads as follows:

1. The sixth annual reunion of the department of Nebraska, Grand Army of the Republic, will be held at Fremont, Neb. The department will go into camp on Monday, September 1, to remain six days.

2. Comrade John M. Thayer, post No. 11 Grand Island, has been selected by the reunion committee to command the camp.

3. The department officers have used every means in their power to procure tents from the United States and state governments, and failed in every attempt. It is therefore ordered that all posts in this department, immediately on receipt of this order, take the necessary steps to secure tents for their own use at this and future reunions. Commanders of posts will communicate with Comrade N. G. Franklin, assistant quartermaster-general at Lincoln, Nebraska, who has made arrangements with tent manufacturers to supply tents at a great reduction.

The tents will be sold as follows: 10x12 ft., 8 oz. duck (pins and poles complete) $8; 12x14 ft., 8 oz. duck (pins and poles complete) $11, and each order must be accompanied with check or money order for the amount. None but cash orders will receive attention. As the time is so short before the opening of camp, comrades will see the necessity of immediate action. No blame must be attached to any officer of the department if you are not provided with shelter at Fremont. See general order 14, June 18, 1884.

4. As soon as the railroad rates are ascertained they will be published in all the daily papers of the state.

5. The council of administration will assemble at headquarters tent on camp ground at 2 o'clock p. m., Tuesday, September 2 to transact all business that may be presented to them.

6. The department commander is pleased to again announce that the martial bands of this state who met in Lincoln on December 24, 25 and 26, 1883, perfected an organization to be known as the State Band association. All bands in the state are cordially invited to join this association. A copy of the constitution and by-laws can be procured by applying to S. L. Hawley, secretary, Marley, Nebraska. All musicians holding certificates of membership in this association will be entitled to free transportation to the annual reunions. These can also be obtained by applying to the secretary.

7. Owing to the resignation of Comrade John F. Diener, Comrade A. Allee, of Post No. 7, Omaha, is hereby appointed department inspector. He will be obeyed and respected accordingly.

8. Comrade William Powell, Post No. 21, Syracuse, is hereby appointed aid-camp on the department staff, and will be obeyed and respected accordingly.

9. S. B. Curtis, Post No. 89, was erroneously reported delinquent in general orders No. 16, they having sent in reports and dues June 30, 1884.

10. Comrade John A. Wood is commander of General Angus Post No. 192, Ewing, Neb. By command of H. E. PALMER, Department Commander. BRAD. P. COOK, Assistant Adjutant-General.

A Moral Plea.

To the Editor of THE BEE:

I see by THE BEE that a petition is in circulation asking that the Davises and other women might be removed from the river bottoms. I hope they may not be allowed to come into the city, as some months ago they were allowed to occupy a house for months, not half a block from the third ward school house, to the disgust of the teachers, children and passers.

As a citizen I would like to ask how it is that we are compelled to be overrun by this class of women in the third ward? Their drunkenness, blasphemy and the indecent exposure of their persons, is an abomination that ought not to be tolerated any longer, and if the mayor and marshal with the police force will not protect us, we, mothers and wives, must protect ourselves.

Some mothers have concluded to keep their little ones home from school and let them grow up in ignorance rather than to expose them to this terrible vice. These little ones in passing to and from school see only the bright side of these girls' life; they do not see the end that follows and hence do not fear. It is demoralizing to the boys as well as the girls.

I wish every mother in the city of Omaha would realize that there is danger either directly or indirectly from school association, or otherwise, to her young growing family.

If men love a pure home life they must see to it that our laws are enforced.

Not long ago one of those girls rented from a concubiner and a policeman kept her. In the very block in which the third ward school house is situated there are the very worst kind of people living, and a class that is most demoralizing to the colored young men.

We ask in all kindness that our city authorities will take action in this matter. They are paid for this work and we look to them to do it. Our laws are good if they are only enforced.
