

RESTLESS RENEGADES.

Two Persons Killed, Others Seriously Wounded, and Much Live Stock Stolen by the Outlaws.

AN APPEAL TO THE PRESIDENT. Chicago Times Special. OMAHA, Utah, August 14.—Yesterday Governor Murray received a long message from Harold Carrillo, dated at Durango, Colorado, requesting the governor to call on President Arthur for troops to protect citizens on the San Juan river. In southeastern Utah, from the depredations of and massacres by Indians. The message was sent in behalf of the Kansas and New Mexico Land and Cattle Company, who claim to be heavy sufferers. Most of the trouble comes from the White river Utes, removed last year from Colorado to the Utah reservation in Utah, and from the Navajos, Zunis, Apaches and Southern Utes, together with criminal whites and Mexicans.

A few days since a band of renegades killed two men, officers Langreese, Langreese, and killed and stole a large number of cattle. In addition to this they burned a number of ranches and a lot of provisions and other property, they almost ruined a great cattle industry, and sorely distressed the inhabitants of that locality in other ways.

LIVES IN DANGER. Mr. Carille represents to the governor that the lives of the people are still in imminent danger, and that they dare not resume their business for fear of further outbreak. The stockmen have been compelled to abandon their ranges and seek refuge in the families and places of safety, to the great damage and ruin of their business, and they therefore asked Governor Murray to request the president of the United States to order troops to their region to afford them protection and to remove the Indians to their reservation. They represent that their lives and property are at the mercy of these marauding bands, and that they pray the government to afford them such relief as will restore their business to its former position by an urgent appeal to President Arthur.

THE STATEMENT VERIFIED. This telegram was verified by one from James Carrillo, dated at Durango, Col., August 12, in which he says that he knows that the representations made by Mr. Carille are true, and that the danger to the people is real. He also says that he has telegraphed the message he had received from Colorado to the secretary of the interior, together with the following: Hon. H. M. Teller, secretary of the interior, Washington, D. C. The following message is just received. On these facts I request you to order troops to their region, to afford them protection, and to remove the Indians to their reservation. They represent that their lives and property are at the mercy of these marauding bands, and that they pray the government to afford them such relief as will restore their business to its former position by an urgent appeal to President Arthur.

LABOR MATTERS. Probability That All Pig Iron Furnaces Will Close. Chicago Times Special. Pittsburgh, August 15.—It is very probable that there will be a general strike of pig iron furnaces very much depressed and the furnace men hope by a suspension of operations to restrict the production of iron to such an extent that demand will improve. In response to a circular sent out recently by Hull & Co. in reference to the banking of the furnaces, Joseph D. Weeks has written nearly 200 letters, of these 121 are in favor of the scheme. The conditions are that unless two-thirds are in accord with the plan, the strike will not be made. A number are yet to be heard from, and the possibility is that those yet to report will change the complexion of the present standing. The one-third closed, containing one supposed to supply the mills that have to be kept running. Responses have been received from a number of those who out of that, saying they are willing to continue on, in order to make the plan a success. The argument offered by the furnace men against banking the furnaces is that it requires such careful watching in order that the market may not fall. In case such an event should occur, it would cost them several thousand dollars to prepare the furnaces for operation.

ALGER'S CAREER. Detroit, August 15.—Russell A. Alger, the republican nominee for governor, was born in Lafayette township, Medina county, Ohio, February 27, 1835. When 11 years of age his parents left him in the hands of a younger brother, and he went to work, and without any of the substantial means of education. Lacking the opportunity of better employment he worked on a farm in Richfield, O., for the greater part of each of the succeeding seven years, saving money enough to defray his expenses in attending school during the winter term. He commenced the study of law in the office of Willott & Upson, at Akron, and then returned to Medina, where he was admitted to the bar by the Ohio supreme court. He then removed to Cleveland and entered the law office of Otis & Coffinbury, and then to the office of Hart, where study and close confinement began to tell on his constitution, and failing health warned him that he must seek other occupation. He therefore reluctantly abandoned the practice of law and removed to Grand Rapids, Mich., to engage in the lumber business. When Michigan was called upon to furnish troops for the Mexican war, Alger enlisted in the Second Michigan cavalry, and was mustered into the service of the United States in the month of August, 1847. He participated in some of the fiercest contests of the rebellion, and was twice wounded. His first injury was received in the battle of Booneville, Miss., in 1862. He was promoted to this engagement was so distinguished that he was promoted to the rank of major. On the same occasion his colonel, the gallant Phil Sheridan, was killed. Alger was in the ranks of the 10th of October Major Alger became lieutenant-colonel of the 6th Michigan cavalry, and was ordered with his company to the battle of Gettysburg, Md. In this conflict he was again wounded. His health received a more than temporary impairment, and in October, 1864, he was obliged to retire from the service. He was brevetted brigadier general and major general for "gallant and meritorious service on the field." General Alger came to Detroit in 1865, and since that time has been extensively engaged in the pine timber business. He is a tall, handsome, military appearing and very amiable man, with iron gray mustache and whiskers, and a full head of black hair sprinkled with gray. He is a hard worker, and has a fast horse, and drives a splendid span. He is a millionaire.

FOREIGN NOTES. England. LONDON, August 15.—P. M.—A fire started this forenoon in the envelope factory of James Hodgson, in Little Trinity Lane, caused by the bursting of a gas pipe. Before the employees were ordered to leave, the building was in flames, except by the windows, which were cut off. Many were compelled to jump to the street, and several, including women, were injured thereby. The adjoining building, occupied by Wm. Chase & Co., American merchants, was fired and is now burning. Other buildings are in danger. The loss here already reached fifty thousand pounds. Twenty engines are flooding the burning structure.

Charged With Being Fugitives. A complaint, charging that William Hall, John Robinson and John Williams, the men arrested by the Omaha police at the U. P. depot on Thursday evening, were fugitives from justice, was filed in the police court yesterday afternoon by Mr. Valentine, the Union Pacific detective. This information was supported by a copy of the complaint against them in the Bufile charging them with being guilty of swindling. Judge Benke committed them to the county jail until next Monday, within which time it is thought they will be taken across the river by a requisition from the governor of Iowa.

Another Confidence Game Played in the Bufile. Last evening a young man named Samuel Soliman arrived in the city and put up at the Tremont house. At the supper table he made the acquaintance of a man who claimed to be a stranger, but who is known as the confidence man Bloom, of whom is referred to in another article on the Council Bufile page today. They strolled up Broadway and the confidence man worked the express dodge and check game upon the unsuspecting man to the extent of $10, on a check for $700. They separated. The young man went down Broadway and thinking he had been skinned told Edward Watts. The express man, Broadway and met Officer Hurley, who telephoned to hold the 11 o'clock dummy train, and on returning found their man pretending to be asleep. Hurley arrested him, brought him up and placed him in the hands of Officer Morse, who jailed the bird while Officer Hurley went to the transfer with two men looking after the accomplice, the express man. The officer returned from the transfer at 1:30 this morning without the agent but rejoices over the arrest of Bloom.

Hard to Believe. It is hard to believe that a man was cured of his kidney ailment after his boy was swollen as big as a barrel and he had been given up as incurable and lay at death's door. Yet such a cure was accomplished by Kidney-Wort in the person of M. M. Devereaux of Ionia, Mich., who says: "After thirteen of the best doctors in Detroit had given me up, I was cured by Kidney-Wort. I want every one to know what a boon it is."
