

THE DAILY BEE.

Tuesday Morning August 19.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

—Hings & Connor, Dentists, opp. F. O.
—The boys and men officing and working in the Fenwick block have challenged those in the Creighton block to play a game of base ball on August 28.
—The Sherman Avenue Sunday beat the Little Shamrocks in the game of ball, by a score of 3 to 2. The Sherman Avenue have new suits and now signify their intention of going on a trip through the state.
—This evening at 8 o'clock p. m. there will be a meeting of the Catholic Knights of America, in their hall in Creighton block. All members are expected to be in attendance. T. F. Brennan, Sec'y.
—Henry Myers and Frank Martin were yesterday arrested on suspicion of having been implicated in the robbery of Wickenberg's jewelry store. Officer Nightingale has gone to Fremont to get a third man who is said to have had a hand in the matter.
A telegram was received last evening stating that the Union Pacific won the game with the St. Louis Union yesterday, by the score of 3 to 2. Salisbury pitched a great game, only six hits being made off him. The boys started for Evansville last night, where they will again test conclusions with Charlie-Lord's Hoosiers.
—The confidence men by their attorney appeared before Judge Benke yesterday afternoon and demanded their release. The court ordered that time, until 4 p. m. to-day, would be given to allow the plaintiff to sustain his charge by proof or present a requisition from the governor of Iowa.
—The G. A. Ouster post at its last meeting on Friday night last determined to buy a tent for the reunion at Fremont to be used by the G. A. R. boys from this city. No action was taken by the post with reference to its attendance at the reunion, but a special meeting will be called to determine the matter.
—Mr. C. D. Marin, a young man twenty-three years of age, who for a year past has been traveling for Stevens, Johnson & Co., died Tuesday at the residence of Dr. Dinmore, of alcohol of the brain. His remains were taken to the undertaking establishment of H. K. Burke, where they were embalmed, and from there they will be shipped to Leeds, Mass., for interment.
—The case of the State against Davis, charged with snuffing with intent to commit murder, came up last evening in police court on preliminary examination. Flowers, the man, who has nearly recovered from his injuries, was present and gave his evidence, testifying that no shots were fired by himself. The evidence for the State was all adduced yesterday after which the case was continued until this afternoon.
—An amusing scene occurred at the B. & M. depot yesterday. Just as the K. C. train pulled out, two women, a tall slim one and a short, medium thick set one, rounded the depot corner and made for the departing train. For a few rods they gained upon it but finally a little more steam was put on and the train was leaving them far behind. They were not discouraged, however, and pulling their dresses up around them they increased their speed. This taller one of the two was the fastest runner and left her companion far behind, but feet-floored as she was the train pulled off and left her. They did not cease their fruitless chase until they had passed the round house and then they slowly retraced their steps while the paint and powder faded away under the softening influences of perspiration.
—The storm of yesterday's was one of the most severe of the entire season. At 1:30 the lightning flashed, the wind blew and the rain poured in torrents and turned themselves bottom side up and poured their contents upon the earth. The water fell in torrents and was driven with fearful force against the depot and buildings. In the midst of the storm came a terrific clap of thunder which awoke nearly everybody in the city. It was found this morning that this was caused by the lightning striking the St. Mary's avenue congregational church. No serious damage was done. The paved streets, instead of being cleaned, were covered with mud which washed down from the hillsides during the storm and will give the street cleaners some work.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Fred Engle, of this city, returned home from the east on Saturday, after a pleasant trip.
Richard B. Teachenor, editor of the Courier, published at Georgetown, Colorado, called at this headquarters this morning, on his way home from an eastern trip.
Mr. E. J. Bussey, of the firm of McElwain & Bussey, left on yesterday morning's train for Denver, and will visit all the principal points of interest in Colorado before his return.
Mrs. S. B. Barnitz and Mrs. Alexander, of Des Moines, Iowa, were in this city over Sunday, the guests of Rev. and Mrs. J. S. Detweiler, and will leave this evening for a visit to friends in Denver.
R. M. Snavely, an attorney of Indianola, Neb., passed through Omaha yesterday on his way from Des Moines, Iowa, where he had been on legal business, and stopped off in this city a couple of hours to visit his old friend J. T. Moriarty.
Kozuk and Cuppawhs, two Indian chiefs of the Sac Indians in the Territory, accompanied by a couple of Fox braves, were at the Paxton last night. They are on their way to Tama county, Iowa, to visit other parts of these tribes that are there on a reservation.
A Social Gathering.
Last Saturday evening about twenty-five couples met at the residence of Mrs. A. A. Gibson, at 1411 California street, to do honor to Miss Ida Gibson, previous to her departure on a visit to friends in Idaho and Wyoming. About ten o'clock refreshments were served and those acquainted with Mrs. Gibson know that her cooking is a feat. A pleasant time was had until midnight when the party adjourned, all uniting in saying that they had spent a most delightful evening. Among those present from abroad were Misses Minnie and Emma McKone, of Padmont, Va.; Miss Ella Larkin, of Washington, D. C.; Miss Hardy, of Chicago, and Miss Howell, of Des Moines.
Gilt Edge Flour is unequalled. Sold only by J. B. French & Co. 18 3c

INDIGNANT TAX PAYERS.

The First Ward Property Holders Express Their Views Upon the 30 per cent. Raise, and Will Go Into Court.

Under the call as circulated by the dodgers distributed upon the streets and in the stores and shops yesterday afternoon, about 200 citizens met in Turner Hall last evening. Its object was to express their sentiments and give vent to their feelings with respect to the "raise" of 30 per cent. by the city council and the board of county commissioners of the assessed valuation of the real estate of the First ward, as returned by Mr. William Doll, its assessor. The meeting was presided over by Charles Brandes, with Mr. O. R. Nelson as secretary.
Mr. C. Berkett, chairman of the committee to issue legal services, made a report, and stated many facts had been brought to light through an authority usurped by the council. He read the next, read Judge Lake's opinion to the effect that evidence must be taken to show that a given district is relatively low before it could be legally raised.
Mr. Lake then took the floor and amplified his opinion by citing instances and opinions of courts covering them.
Gus Kountze then asked Mr. Lake if after individual complaints had been made the county commissioners or the city council could then make a wholesale raise of the ward or precinct. He was informed that when the separate complaints had been disposed of it could be done.
Mr. Rush was next called upon, who said it was their duty to employ counsel to take the case into the courts and settle this indignity to citizenship. He then assailed Mr. Behm for his reasons for raising the ward. He then referred to Mr. Redfield whom he called an "inflationist arithmetical encyclopedia." He would say to the council "go slow." It was said the property of Boyd, Kountze, and Krug had been assessed too low, but it should be remembered that such men as these had made Omaha what it is. Many lots in the First ward were not worth $100 while none could be bought in the Second for that amount.
He next referred to the protection the citizens of the First ward were afforded. Not a policeman had ever been seen in certain parts of that precinct, unless he was going to a picnic or ball. Not a building had caught fire without burning to the ground, not leaving a vestige remaining.
Mr. Boyd was next called for, who said that there were two points upon which an action at law might be based. First, that evidence should be adduced to the commissioners and council to show that the ward was relatively low as compared with the other wards; second, that the raise should be made from the assessment rolls returned by the assessors, and not from the rolls as equalized by the board of county commissioners. He concluded by stating that he would give his proportion toward raising the amount necessary to pay eminent council to defend their rights to the extent of the law.
It was then moved by Mr. Barker and carried that Judge Lake be employed as counsel to defend the First ward, who should be instructed to use the speediest measure possible to bring about a favorable result.
Mr. Boyd again took the floor and announced that the city council stating that the wards should soon to it next time that honest men are elected to the council. He did not mean to say that there were not honest men in that body but most of them were too much for it.
Mr. Rush again arose and said it was about time the people investigate and see how the county's money is expended.
After adopting the following resolutions the meeting adjourned.
Resolved, That this meeting is indignant at the action of the county and city authorities in the matter of assessments and increase of values in the first ward, and as evidence of our earnest feeling in the matter we instruct our executive committee, consisting of Birch, King, Smith, Strout and Johnson, to employ competent counsel, including George B. Lake, to take such legal steps for the abatement of the nuisance which we now complain of by any and every means which may present itself.

THE TERRIBLE THIRD.

Numerous Inquiries as to the Means to Suppress Vice in that Part of Omaha.
Acting Mayor Murphy is in constant receipt of letters, petitions, communications and visits from clergymen, interested citizens and ladies inquiring by what means or methods the vice now prevailing to an alarming extent in the Third ward can be eradicated. The disorderly houses and saloons in that part of the city they assert are driving many of the young people of that vicinity into lives of shame and crime. They implore Mr. Murphy to enforce the ordinances provided for such classes of misdemeanors, but when told what their right as citizens are, and by what means the desired end can be brought about, they universally conclude that it is well nigh impossible to secure evidence sufficient to convict.
The following is section 3 of chapter XVI, of Chase's compiled ordinances regulating disorderly houses:
If two or more citizens shall at any time make written complaint to the city marshall to the effect that any place or house in their immediate neighborhood is notoriously maintained as a house of prostitution or disorderly house, it shall be the duty of that officer to forthwith make a proper complaint before the police judge against the person or persons so keeping or maintaining such house, and against all inmates thereof, and all such persons, shall, upon conviction, be punished as provided in section one of this chapter.
The Methodist Excursion.
Mere mention was made in these columns of the excursion last Friday, to Weeping Water, under the auspices of the First M. E. church.
Nothing, however, was said of the beautiful little town, nestled as it is at the feet of the surrounding hills, whose summits are capped with crumbling rock, and whose valleys are thickly wooded.
The excursion train comprised six cars, heavily freighted with old and young.

THE FALEN BUILDING.

Additional particulars of the Collapse of the Padlock Building Yesterday Morning.

The accident occurred over an hour after the heavy thunder storm and heavy rain which made the night an ugly one. A second shower was noted just before the fall of the building but not accompanied by the wind or electrical phenomena which marked the first. The streets were still running with water and the night as "dark as a stack of black cats." The little crowd which gathered at the spot included few except the firemen, reporters and sportingmen and, as the rain again increased to a torrent, the excitement and difficulty of releasing the parties from the building were increased. In fact the collapse of the north and east walls seemed imminent and the bravest were not anxious to risk their lives among a heap of ruins lighted only by the fierce glare of the lightning, and looking more ghastly than the work of the fire fiend.
The escape of the inmates seven in all, was effected under the most hazardous circumstances and in one or two instances death was avoided almost miraculously. Harry McGee, the watchman, was in his room in the third story, east side and he rode down victoriously, in the midst of his household effects, clear to the cellar, where he was wedged in between the joint of his ceiling and a bed of brick, two or three feet deep. He called out that he was not hurt and his rescuers soon got him out of his unpleasant dilemma. He says he could feel himself going down but kept up his presence of mind through it all.
Another close call was that of a Frenchman named Johnson, who occupied the second story, from which he was rescued after clinging to the sill for half an hour with nothing to shield him from the inclemency of the weather except a night shirt and drawers. In this room were half a dozen large and heavy trunks one of which was hurled to the ground, while the lamp on the table was not overturned and burned through the rain and wind until 5:30 a. m. Captain Kent, who roomed in the third story was awakened by a terrible crash, and thinking the lightning had struck the house, ran to his door. On opening it he saw a yawning abyss at the threshold, filled with the debris of the rest of the house, and it is his opinion now that the West wall had settled since the previous rain by reason of the overflow of the cistern in the rear of the building.
The history of the building as told by a gentleman familiar with it, seems to furnish the true theory in regard to its downfall. It was erected in 1866 by Fox Brothers, Mr. Lewis Shields being the contractor.
The bricks used were purchased cheap from a lot of condemned brick, and it is said that scarcely one was sound, and that the house was looked on as unsafe from the first. It was subsequently sold to Messrs. Giese and Padlock and then later, in 1872, the casing was removed and front were torn down and rebuilt, and from Stubbendorf & Co. moved into the lower room 26 heavy braces were put in the basement to support the first floor. Previous to this the storeroom was used as a variety theatre, the cellar as a beer hall and the upper rooms as a gambling room, but of late the second and third stories were rented as lodging rooms. The building was 22x80 feet in size.
Mr. Stubbendorf says, and he is corroborated by Capt. Kent, that at times of high wind the building would rock to and fro frequently. The casing grew loose from time to time, and on one occasion stopped a large clock on the first floor by striking the pendulum against the glass. In the fourth story a coat swinging to and fro from a peg, measured an arc of 14 inches. Several times roomers vacated the premises after a storm. The high wind at 1:30 last night was from the southwest, and probably rocked the house until it wrenched it in two and it slowly broke apart and the west half sunk to the ground. The scene before daylight was weird and ghastly. The lightning shining through the open windows upon the skeleton of the walls, the bare view of the room in which the lamp burned with a steady glow, the muttering thunder and the knot of spectators shivering in the rain, looked like a stage set for the tragedy and only awaiting the advent of "the heavy villain."
The grocery store of Leitch & Co. was badly wrecked and the loss will be considerable. The building is a total wreck and was worth perhaps $6,000. Much of the furniture and clothing up stairs will be saved.
It was reported this morning that the grocery's clerk was in the room by the turn of up all right until 8 o'clock, and thereafter, no one was either killed or wounded.
U. P. Band Excursion.
The U. P. band excursion to Fremont today was a very large one. It required thirteen cars to carry all the jolly excursionists. The engine was beautifully decorated with bunting and flags and presented a holiday appearance. Men, women and children joined the festive throng and it is safe to say that all who attended had a glorious good time.
Charley Little was among the excursionists and upon his arm he carried a basket about three feet long and two feet wide. The reporter was able to lift the cover and gaze upon the contents. In the center of that huge basket quietly nestled a single, solitary doughnut. No doubt some of Charlie's lady friends took compassion upon him and gave him a cup of coffee to wash it down with.
Smoke Seal of North Carolina Tobacco.
Read Morse & Brunner's new card.
Remnants in lace, 1 1/2 to 2 inches in width, to be closed out cheap at the Bankrupt store.
The Bankrupt Dry Goods store, 1517 Douglas street, is having a special sale of embroideries and laces this week.
PELHAM PLACE.
Some very choice lots in "Pelham Place," east frontage. Only five minutes' walk from Saunders street cars; beautiful view; for sale on easy terms. A16 6c. BELL & SHERIDAN.
My Fall and Winter Stock of Woollens now complete. FRANK J. RANGE. A11 1/2

THE FALEN BUILDING.

Additional particulars of the Collapse of the Padlock Building Yesterday Morning.

The accident occurred over an hour after the heavy thunder storm and heavy rain which made the night an ugly one. A second shower was noted just before the fall of the building but not accompanied by the wind or electrical phenomena which marked the first. The streets were still running with water and the night as "dark as a stack of black cats." The little crowd which gathered at the spot included few except the firemen, reporters and sportingmen and, as the rain again increased to a torrent, the excitement and difficulty of releasing the parties from the building were increased. In fact the collapse of the north and east walls seemed imminent and the bravest were not anxious to risk their lives among a heap of ruins lighted only by the fierce glare of the lightning, and looking more ghastly than the work of the fire fiend.
The escape of the inmates seven in all, was effected under the most hazardous circumstances and in one or two instances death was avoided almost miraculously. Harry McGee, the watchman, was in his room in the third story, east side and he rode down victoriously, in the midst of his household effects, clear to the cellar, where he was wedged in between the joint of his ceiling and a bed of brick, two or three feet deep. He called out that he was not hurt and his rescuers soon got him out of his unpleasant dilemma. He says he could feel himself going down but kept up his presence of mind through it all.
Another close call was that of a Frenchman named Johnson, who occupied the second story, from which he was rescued after clinging to the sill for half an hour with nothing to shield him from the inclemency of the weather except a night shirt and drawers. In this room were half a dozen large and heavy trunks one of which was hurled to the ground, while the lamp on the table was not overturned and burned through the rain and wind until 5:30 a. m. Captain Kent, who roomed in the third story was awakened by a terrible crash, and thinking the lightning had struck the house, ran to his door. On opening it he saw a yawning abyss at the threshold, filled with the debris of the rest of the house, and it is his opinion now that the West wall had settled since the previous rain by reason of the overflow of the cistern in the rear of the building.
The history of the building as told by a gentleman familiar with it, seems to furnish the true theory in regard to its downfall. It was erected in 1866 by Fox Brothers, Mr. Lewis Shields being the contractor.
The bricks used were purchased cheap from a lot of condemned brick, and it is said that scarcely one was sound, and that the house was looked on as unsafe from the first. It was subsequently sold to Messrs. Giese and Padlock and then later, in 1872, the casing was removed and front were torn down and rebuilt, and from Stubbendorf & Co. moved into the lower room 26 heavy braces were put in the basement to support the first floor. Previous to this the storeroom was used as a variety theatre, the cellar as a beer hall and the upper rooms as a gambling room, but of late the second and third stories were rented as lodging rooms. The building was 22x80 feet in size.
Mr. Stubbendorf says, and he is corroborated by Capt. Kent, that at times of high wind the building would rock to and fro frequently. The casing grew loose from time to time, and on one occasion stopped a large clock on the first floor by striking the pendulum against the glass. In the fourth story a coat swinging to and fro from a peg, measured an arc of 14 inches. Several times roomers vacated the premises after a storm. The high wind at 1:30 last night was from the southwest, and probably rocked the house until it wrenched it in two and it slowly broke apart and the west half sunk to the ground. The scene before daylight was weird and ghastly. The lightning shining through the open windows upon the skeleton of the walls, the bare view of the room in which the lamp burned with a steady glow, the muttering thunder and the knot of spectators shivering in the rain, looked like a stage set for the tragedy and only awaiting the advent of "the heavy villain."
The grocery store of Leitch & Co. was badly wrecked and the loss will be considerable. The building is a total wreck and was worth perhaps $6,000. Much of the furniture and clothing up stairs will be saved.
It was reported this morning that the grocery's clerk was in the room by the turn of up all right until 8 o'clock, and thereafter, no one was either killed or wounded.
U. P. Band Excursion.
The U. P. band excursion to Fremont today was a very large one. It required thirteen cars to carry all the jolly excursionists. The engine was beautifully decorated with bunting and flags and presented a holiday appearance. Men, women and children joined the festive throng and it is safe to say that all who attended had a glorious good time.
Charley Little was among the excursionists and upon his arm he carried a basket about three feet long and two feet wide. The reporter was able to lift the cover and gaze upon the contents. In the center of that huge basket quietly nestled a single, solitary doughnut. No doubt some of Charlie's lady friends took compassion upon him and gave him a cup of coffee to wash it down with.
Smoke Seal of North Carolina Tobacco.
Read Morse & Brunner's new card.
Remnants in lace, 1 1/2 to 2 inches in width, to be closed out cheap at the Bankrupt store.
The Bankrupt Dry Goods store, 1517 Douglas street, is having a special sale of embroideries and laces this week.
PELHAM PLACE.
Some very choice lots in "Pelham Place," east frontage. Only five minutes' walk from Saunders street cars; beautiful view; for sale on easy terms. A16 6c. BELL & SHERIDAN.
My Fall and Winter Stock of Woollens now complete. FRANK J. RANGE. A11 1/2

NEW HOTEL.

About the 27th of this month Mr. George Canfield will re-open the old Canfield house in this city. The house has been repaired, in fact rebuilt, and will be opened as a first class house. It will be furnished new throughout and bath-rooms and all the modern conveniences have been added. Mr. J. V. Mulvihill, an old hotel man of fifteen years experience in the east, has been engaged as manager of the house and as Mr. Mulvihill, thoroughly understands his business the house will be properly run.
AT THE STOCK YARDS.
About Wednesday next Mr. Canfield will also open the Union Stock Yards hotel, at the stock yards south of this city. This house will be under the management of F. D. Yates.
A Base Fabrication.
A week ago a statement appeared in the "Independent" that I was removed as foreman of THE BEE because I refused to obey an order from E. Rosewater to reduce the wages of the men employed in the press room. Last Saturday the same paper charges that Mr. Rosewater notified me that on and after a certain date my wages would be $18 per week instead of $25 or $7 less than the price paid on the Republican for similar work.
I wish to state that both charges are not in accordance with the real facts. Mr. Rosewater did not ask me to reduce the wages of the press room employees, but simply sent me a note stating that on and after 30 days my services would no longer be required, also stating that he had no complaint to make against me in regards to my qualifications. Neither was I asked to make a reduction on my personal salary.
J. W. MORRISON.
Mexican War Veterans.
HEADQUARTERS OMAHA POST,
MEXICAN WAR VETERANS,
August 15th, 1884.
At a meeting to-day held in the rooms of John Kilkenny, in Cunningham's block, Phillip Dore, an esteemed and worthy member, was unanimously elected delegate to attend the national union of the Mexican war veterans to be held in St. Louis on the 8th of October next. Resolutions were made by the meeting thanking the BEE for its kindness. [Nebraska papers please copy.] SAM WALCH, Sec.
CAMPAIGN EQUIPMENTS
at
MAX MEYER & CO'S.
A full line of Campaign Goods on hand. Please call and select as early as possible. All the manufacturers are rushed with orders. Call and see them. Complete uniforms for Republican and Democratic clubs. a3-m&10c
Ladies should reflect before using any preparation that is applied to so delicate a surface as the skin. Any cosmetic that at first imparts a beautifying effect and not apparently injure the skin, but in a very short time little blotches and discolorations appear on the face which conclusively show the poisonous drugs in that composition. It can be safely said the more than two thirds of the face powder contain these injurious ingredients. Ponzoni's medicated complexion power is not only absolutely free from all deleterious matter, but its principal ingredient is an active curative for all diseases of the skin. It has stood the test of years. Sold by all druggists. me-ecoly1
Fashion is Queen. Fast, brilliant and fashionable are the Diamond Dye colors. One package colors 1 to 4 lbs. of goods. 10c for any color. Sold at druggists, Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt.
Jason Lewis Founded.
On Saturday there was an article in the Independent reflecting upon James Stephenson and Contractor Williams. This morning Mr. Williams called at the office of the Independent and demanded an explanation. Jason Lewis very meekly smoothed the thing over by saying that his information had been received from a man named Morrow and that he would make a retraction in the next issue of the paper. As Mr. Williams left the office he met Mr. Morrow and went back with him and asked him in Lewis' presence if he had made such statements and he said he had not. Lewis called him a liar and struck at him with a mallet. Morrow warded off the blow and knocked Lewis down, after which he gave him a good pounding. Two or three of Lewis' friends, who were present, attempted to interfere, but were prevented by Mr. Williams, who saw that both men had fair play. Lewis is said to be badly whipped and will be laid up for a week or so.

MERGELL & ROSENZWEIG, Practical Painters & Decorators, CARRY THE LARGEST AND FINEST RETAIL STOCK OF WALL PAPERS AND DECORATIONS, 1515 Douglas Street, Omaha, Neb.

Booths' Oval Brand OYSTERS AND Fresh Fish AT WHOLESALE: D. B. BEEMER, Agent, OMAHA, NEB

The Largest Stock in Omaha and Makes the Lowest Prices: Furniture. DRAPERIES AND MIRRORS, CHAMBER SETS

Parlor Goods Draperies. Now ready for the inspection of customers, the newest novelties in Suits and Odd Pieces. Elegant Passenger Elevator to all Floors. CHARLES SHIVERICK, 1206, 1208 and 1210 Farnam Street, OMAHA, NEB.

Dr. CONNAUGHTON, 403 BRADY ST., DAVENPORT, IOWA, U. S. A. Established 1878—Catarrh, Deafness, Lung and Nervous Diseases Speedily and Permanently Cured.

German D. Wyatt, LUMBER MERCHANT, Lumber, Lath, Shingles, Sash, Doors, Lime, Plaster, Hair, Cement, Etc. GUMINGS AND 20TH ST., OMAHA, NEB.

W.M. SNYDER, MANUFACTURER OF OF STRICTLY FIRST-CLASS Carriages, Buggies, Road Wagons AND TWO WHEEL CARTS. 1512 and 1510 Hamon Street and 403 A. 15th Street, Omaha, Neb.

RUEMPING, BOLTE & COMPANY, MANUFACTURERS OF ORNAMENTAL GALVANIZED IRON CORNICES, Dormer Windows, Finials, Window Caps, Iron Crestings, Metal Sky-lights, etc., Tin, Iron and Slate Roofs, 310 South 12th Street, Omaha, Nebraska.

A. J. SIMPSON, Established in '58, THE LEADING CARRIAGE-FACTORY, 1409 and 1411 Dodge St., Catalogues furnished on Application. Omaha, Neb.

TIMKEN SPRING VEHICLES! In the District Court for Douglas County Nebraska Kathrine Keen, plaintiff, vs. Patrick H. Keen, defendant. YOU can make money. New Illustrated Guide to Wealth, by J. L. LAY & Co., 789 Broadway, New York.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER Absolutely Pure. T. SINHOLD, MANUFACTURER OF GALVANIZED IRON CORNICES, WINDOW CAPS, FINIALS, ETC. 416 23rd Street, OMAHA, NEBRASKA