READY FOR SCHOOL.

The Buildings all in Perfect Condition for the Fall Term

Other Items of Importance to Those Interested in Education.

On Monday morning next, at 9 o'clock, the school bells of Omaha, whose silence is always indicative of vacation, will again take up the labors of another school year. tion of the great thoroughfare. The preparations made during the last two months evince the fact that school work will go on with increased vigor. The board of education has taken pains to place all the buildings in the best possible shape, and has fitled all vacancies in the corps of instructors with able and competent teachers.

CENTRAL SCHOOL REPAIRS. The Central School building has been fitted up in the last three weeks in a very accommodating manner. The rooms have most all been calcimined. The physical apparatus room and office have been made one to be used for a study, requiring the services of one or more it with the small one which in the future will be used by the class in chemistry. The physical apparatus has been put in the cloak room adjoining that of Miss or so long lay in cases in the hall, have occupancy, to be used by pupils from the graded school below, removed to make room for one hundred additional high school students.
