BEN BUTLER.

Morning-No Speeches.

Yesterday morning some twelve or fifteen persons were at the Rock Island localdepot to get a glimpse of the Hon. Benjamin F. Butler, who was to arrive there at 9 o clock. The train came in at .28, in charge of conductor John Carey. It was well loaded with people mostly on their way to the Nebraska state fair in Omaha at which place General Butler

The general was seated in a day coach next to the sleeper and by his side was Mr. M. A. Plympton who is traveling with him, as is also C. H. Montague, who represents the Boston Globe. The party were joined at Atlantic by Hon. Daniel Campbell, delegate at large from Iowa on the Butler ticket, and ex-candidate for Fission governor of this state on the greenback icket, who accompanied them.

General Butler were a black and but found no tramps. They had fied and made good their escape.
