MINOR MENTION.

See J. Reiter's new fall stock of cloths. Paul De Vol fell from a tree yesterday and dislocated some of his fingers.

Portland cement curbing is being put down in front of L. C. Brackett's on Broadway.

The Blaine and Logan Glee club will meet at the court house this evening for rehearsal.

Justice Schurz yesterday married Christian Marceson to Mary Nielsen, both of this city.

Miss Anna Scott, on Washington avenue, was tendered a pleasant surprise party, Monday evening.

The Bluff City running cart has been sent to Lincoln, Neb., to be used in a tournament there today.

The Y. M. C. A. entertainment last evening had for one of its features an interesting talk by J. M. Halliday.

There will be a democratic meeting at the opera house this evening. Mr. Pusy will be one of the speakers.

The Maccedonian says: "Deputy Sheriff Clatterbox was in town Monday on business." Clatterbox is now asking "what's in a name, anyway."

City Marshal Guanella will long remember his thirtieth birthday, for a goodly number of his friends marched in on him in the evening, and a merry time followed.

It is now claimed that Clayton Turney who says he was robbed at the Bechtel hotel Sunday morning, lost his money gambling and wanted to settle with the hotel proprietor for fifty dollars.

The Irish National League has arranged for a ball to take place Tuesday evening, September 23. The members of the committee are George Hughes, Eli Wickham, John Withan, M. Connors, and Frank Fox.

The democratic judicial convention meets today at the court house. A number of the delegates arrived yesterday and last evening. Much activity was noticeable at the hotels last evening and many delegates were having their arms talked off.

There was a quiet, happy little wedding at the residence of Charles Borg-hausen Sunday evening, the contracting parties being Emil Palmer, of Plattsmouth, and Alma Peterson, of Louisville, Neb. Justice Abbott performed the ceremony.

The young man who made an unsuccessful attempt to jump his board bill on Saturday at the Pacific house an account of which appeared in The Bee on Monday was yesterday taken to his home in Clarinda by his father who came after his wayward son.

Deputy Sheriff G. W. Sheick, of York, Neb., was here yesterday after the man arrested in this city on suspicion of being wanted there for robbery. The visiting officer was not quite satisfied that it was the man he wanted, and so he went back without him, and the man was released.

J. C. De Havens yesterday sent on to Col. Lind nearly 500 names of veterans who want the new soldiers' home located in Council Bluffs. It more of the citizens had shown so much lively interest in the matter as Mr. De Havens, the location of the Home here would be more certain.

Colonel Jesse Harper is to speak here on the 30th of September on the labor question, and all workmen and labor organizations are expected to turn out and hear him. The reputation of Colonel Harper is such that he will doubtless draw a crowd and will be listened to with interest.

The burning of the vacant two-story frame building of Mr. Jacob's, corner of Second avenue and Eighteenth street, was without doubt the work of an incendiary. It seems strange that some of these rascals cannot be caught. This is the sixth incendiary case with six weeks.

On the men at work on the sewerage yesterday had $9 stolen from his vest, which he had laid aside while at work. His suspicions rested on two men, and the boy who carried water, because they saw him put the money in his vest pocket. They were arrested, but there being no evidence against them they were discharged.

Ike Davidson was yesterday sentenced to thirty days in jail for stealing an article he never saw. He pleaded guilty to being one of the gang who tried to plunder Richie Bros. lumber office, and although he got nothing, one of the fellows got a revolver, and Judge Aylesworth held that he was just as guilty, because he joined in the conspiracy.

M. H. Judd, the land agent of the Union Pacific, exhibited at The Bee office yesterday a best that beats them all. It is not only of enormous size but is so strangely formed that it makes an almost perfect pig's head, with ears, snout and all. By the addition of an ear of corn in the mouth, and some artificial eyes, it is liable to deceive even a stock man. Mr. Judd is going to send it to the railway exposition in Boston.

Mrs. Westcott, whose husband lately opened a trunk factory here, has decided to give private lessons in French and German, as is indicated by a notice found elsewhere. Mrs. Westcott had large classes at Oshkosh, Wis., her former, and The Bee is assured by personal friends of the writer that she is a remarkably excellent instructor, as well as a perfect lady, and there should be a goodly number here to avail themselves of her services.

The dear old grandmother yesterday rolled as a sweet morsel under her tongue, an article in a Dubuque paper giving Council Bluffs a terrible showing, as a sinkhole of immorality and filth. The Dubuque newspaper correspondent had better confine his attention writing up descriptions of rotten egg throwing in his own city, and other disgraceful scenes enacted there, the like of which was never known in Council Bluffs. There is too much glass in the Dubuque man's house to warrant his throwing stones.

Rev. J. Z. Armstrong has been appointed for another year as pastor of the Broadway Methodist church. His pastorate here has been quite successful and his continuance in the position is evidently satisfactory to his people. Rev. W. T. Smith has been appointed presiding elder of this district. Mr. Smith has been pastor of the church at Indianola for two years past, and was formerly pastor of the old Second M. E. church here. It is hoped that he and his family will make Council Bluffs their home, and they will meet with a hearty welcome. Rev. Mr. Hooker, the former presiding elder, now takes the pastorate at Indianola.

The news of the temporary financial troubles of N. C. Thompson's private bank in Rockford, Ill., given in yesterday's telegraphic news, has caused natural inquiries as to whether the business of the agricultural machinery business in which his name is prominent, would be affected. The Bee on asking those who of all others should know, is assured that it will in no way affect the manufacturing nor the firm of Van Brunt, Thompson & Co. The Thompson Manufacturing Company is a stock company, and its dealings with the private bank of N. C. Thompson was the same as with any distinct and entirely separate establishment, so that the financial trouble of the bank cannot affect the other business any way, and that of the bank is expected to be speedily and satisfactorily adjusted.

J. Mueller has been presented with a beautiful cushion covered with crazy quilt which was made by the young lady who won the piano at the Nebraska state fair.

Col. W. F. Sapp spoke at Emerson Monday night. The rally was a rousing one and the hall used for the Blaine and Logan headquarters could not hold the crowd.

"Old Prince," the reliable steed of the United States express company, who has been crippled for two weeks or so is again on duty.

Dr. E. D. Cross has removed to the southeast corner Fourth (Bancroft) and Worth streets.

GROWING GRAPES.

How Omaha Feeds on Council Bluffs Fruit.

Council Bluffs can well be proud of its vineyards. For fifteen years the culture of grapes has been increasing, and it is now demonstrated beyond a doubt that among the bluffs are to be found the choicest bits of land for grape-growing, and it will not be long before the muses will be putting the "sunny vine clad hills" of Council Bluffs into literature. Chatting with ex-Alderman Alexander Wood yesterday The Bee man learned that this year's crop of grapes here was not as large as supposed. In his opinion, it was only about two-thirds of the average. Mr. Wood, who has about seven acres, has gathered 23,000 pounds, or about ten tons. He thought he ought to have had about 40,000 pounds if it had not been for last winter's nips at the vines.

"How many acres of ground in and about Council Bluffs are given to grape vines?"

Mr. Wood with his pencil figured up on a rough stone post in front of the court house the numbers, as furnished by his memory, and made the total 75 acres. "Most of that is inside the city limits, too; in fact nearly all of it."

"How much is the average yield of grapes to the acre, Mr. Wood?"

"Well, about 6,000 pounds."

"Where do all these grapes go to?"

"Well the bulk goes into Omaha. Omaha is a great city for grapes. They eat more over there than they do here. Besides, the Council Bluffs market is largely supplied by those who have a few vines and not enough to ship away."

"What are the grapes bringing this year?"

"We are selling twenty-pound baskets for eighty cents—that is four cents a pound."

"Are there many grapes shipped away?"
