THE DAILY BEE.

Saturday Morning September 20.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Seventeen numbers of the Bijou Opera company are quartered at the Goss hotel.

Chief Clerk Griffin yesterday received the appointment of J. S. Greenwood as postal clerk from Omaha to Ogden.

Through the workings of the street sweeper the crossings upon the paved streets are now passable after a rain.

A wagon filled with garden truck was demolished on Sixteenth street yesterday morning by colliding with a heavier vehicle.

The Douglas county agricultural society disbursed the sum of $387 in premiums awarded to exhibitors at its fair last week.

The Thurston Hose company will send a delegation to the Dakota Territorial Firemen's tournament, to be held at Aberdeen on October 8th.

The ladies interested in the fair for the benefit of the German-American school will meet Tuesday afternoon to perfect arrangements for holding the same.

At the session of the United States court last evening, three judgments amounting in all to $3,600, were rendered against Dixon county party defendant.

Spiritualist Society meets on Sunday, at 2 and 7 p. m., in St. George's Hall, corner of Farnam and Fourteenth streets. Inspiration lectures by Mrs. Bishop--all invited.

At the corner of Jones and Ninth street upon the sandstone pavement, there is a large pool of water which was caused by Thursday night's rain. There seems to be a low spot in the pavement at that place.

Deputy Marshal Culp, of Nemaha county, came up to Omaha yesterday, having in his custody one Dingley, of Schubert, charged with selling cigars without first having procured the government license.

Wednesday night burglars entered the store of Grotnak & Boehnke, corner of Twelfth street and Capital avenue, and carried off about 1,000 cigarettes and $40 in cash. They effected an entrance without first having procured the government license.

Thomas Noteman, a section hand on the Union Pacific, sold his time, amounting to $36 to Fred Wells, and then came to town and collected the money. When Wells found he had been swindled he swore out a warrant for Noteman's arrest but the latter was not to be found.

Thursday Constable Edgerton sold the drug store on Dodge street formerly owned by J. D. St. Hill, to the firm of Richardson & Co., of St. Louis, Mr. St. Hill's heaviest creditors. The firm will run the place until they can dispose of it to advantage. The price paid was $287.

An unknown woman, bound west, was nearly asphyxiated in the P. & M. depot in this city Wednesday night. She wanted to sleep but the light bothered her, so she blew out the gas and lay down. Had not the watchman discovered what had been done she would be in that land where they need no another light of the sun.

Tinted papers now used to have the mittimus printed upon for containing prisoners convicted in police court and sentenced to imprisonment on bread and water to the county jail. Some mistakes have been made on account of the paper being all alike, but every bread and water prisoner will hereafter get his full notice.

The gold watch and diamond ring taken in Wednesday's burglary, have been traced to Co. on's pawnshop, on South Tenth street.

when they were "soaked" by the boy Martin, who claims that he was hired by unknown parties to carry the goods to Cohen's. He got $5 for the job, at least that is what he says.

There will be a grand republican rally in the Sixth ward this evening on the corner of 26th and Cumming streets. Able speakers have been secured, also the services of the U. P. band. Blaine and Logan organizations of the city at large are respectfully invited to attend. A booming time is expected. Geo. R. Rathbun, president Blaine and Logan clubs.

The brotherhood of carpenters and joiners held a well-attended ball at Falconer's Hall last Thursday night. The music was furnished by the Fort Omaha band and a very enjoyable time was had by those present. Mr. E. B. Egan acted as chief of music. He was ably assisted by Messrs. T. G. Cliff, E. P. Davis and William Nelson. The dancing was kept up until early morning.

A train of emigrants, with quite a number of horses, passed through this city eastward yesterday. It seems that the country is not just what they expected to find and they were going back to the land of their fathers. Men with nerve and sinew, and who are not afraid of work can make it go in this western country.

From some unwarranted source the impression has gone out that one or more vacancies exist upon the police force, and acting Mayor Murphy is daily besieged by numerous applicants desirous of positions in this department. The fact is that not only are there no vacancies on the force but the extreme probability is that the number now employed will be materially decreased in a short time.

James McWade and A. C. Hendricks, chiefs of the departments of Albany, New York and New Haven, Conn., respectively, arrived in the city yesterday. These gentlemen have been in attendance upon the national convention of fire engineers at Chicago, and have been visiting St. Paul, Minneapolis, and other western cities, and dropping down upon Omaha were yesterday shown about the city by Fire Chief Galligan and Jerome Pentecost.

Peter C. Kyoar, the gentleman who was arrested on Monday last on the affidavit of C. L. Poes, the agent of Frederikson, of Chicago, charging him with embezzlement as their agent, is taking preliminary steps to commence action for damages against his former employer.

Mr. Kyoar thinks he has been grossly maltreated in this matter, and on account of his want of knowledge of the law, has been bulldozed out of quite a sum of money.

The storm Thursday night was a hard one. Shortly after 10 o'clock the rain began to fall in torrents and continued to do so, spasmodically, until after 3 o'clock Friday morning. The lightning flashes were almost incessant and of great brilliancy. Mud was washed down upon many of the paved streets in great quantities. The telephone bells kept up a constant ringing and the telegraph wires worked very badly and it was a hazardous task for an operator to undertake to receive or send a message. On this account the telegraph report in the morning papers was somewhat meagre. No serious damage has been reported.

The meeting of the Second Ward Cleveland and Hendricks club, which was held in Kasper's hall Thursday night, was one of the largest held since the opening of the campaign.

E. P. Moriarty, the president of the club, occupied the chair, and speeches were made by C. S. Montgomery, Esq., Sam Fugate, George Hines and John Ruels, the latter in Behemian. Mr. Montgomery dwelt particularly upon republican misrule in Nebraska. After electing three vice-presidents the meeting adjourned to meet in the same hall on Thursday night, and resolved to meet there on each Thursday night until the campaign was over.

RAPIDLY RECOVERING.

Major North in the City--He Will Again Join the Show.

Major Frank North, who, until his accident at Hartford, Conn., had been travelling with the "Wild West" show this season, came down from Columbus yesterday and took rooms at the Paxton. Mr. North was accompanied to Omaha by his daughter Stella, who will attend Brownell hall during the coming school year, and who was detained by sickness from attending this institution when the school year opened.

Mr. North is fast recovering from his injury and will be permanently restored from its effects. He thinks now he will have sufficiently recovered in the next six weeks to meet the show in Cincinnati and travel with it during the winter season. For the present, however, he is still in the care of a physician and probably will for some time to come.

Mr. North, during the narration of his troubles, incidentally remarked of the love the Indians, traveling with the show. On account of his injuries he was left at Hartford and met the company at Albany, New York. The braves gave him a grand reception and held a powwow. When he told them he was going to leave the show they signified their intention of doing likewise and nothing could dissuade them from their determination but the promise that he would join the show as soon as he was able.

Police Court.

Every morning after a rain the police court room is crowded with spectators, and such was the case yesterday.

Among the prisoners yesterday was one, Peter Mason, who was charged with disturbance of the peace by drunkenness. He was to be married yesterday noon, and had when arrested his marriage license, and also a wedding ring which he had bought to place upon the finger of the blushing bride. The judge took compassion upon him and let him off with $1 and costs.

James Daly was charged with drunkenness. He said he had only gotten out of jail last Friday, and if the judge would let him go he would go down into Sarpy county and not return again to Omaha until spring. The judge sentenced him to fifteen days in the county jail on bread and water, but suspended the sentence provided he did as he had agreed and left the city.

Miles Mullen was charged with being a vagrant. He denied the allegation and defied the allector. He said he had been in Omaha, off and on, for upwards of thirty years. He was held until his case could be investigated.

Philip Corbett and "Huck" Burns were also charged with being vagrants. They both denied the charge and tried to prove that they were all right. In this they failed and the former was sentenced to ten days in the county jail on bread and water, while the latter got fifteen days on a similar diet.

James Thomas was charged with being a suspicious character. He had his right hand in a sling and was a sorry sight. He said he came from Kansas City Thursday morning and had $26. He was pounded by some fellows and robbed of most of his money. He said that his parents were all dead, (evidently having been well supplied with parents at one time.) At this point he broke down completely and his loud sob, like the exhaust from a steam engine, shook the old court house and caused a tear to trickle down the cheek of the stern and seemingly unrelentless judge. The work was done, the judge's heart of Sioux Falls granite had become as sandstone and in a tremulous voice, expressive of great emotion, he bade the poor fellow to go and sin no more. He slipped out behind the corner, took his hand from the sling, tipped his hat over his eye, slapped himself upon the breast and in the language of Chas. Parsons exclaimed, "me toughy," and steered for the nearest saloon to liquor up.

Joe Sheddahank was charged with larceny for stealing a pair of shoes, pair of pants and a vest from Fred Tuckenhagen. He said he took the things when the owner was away, but he did not intend to steal them. He was only going to wear them so that he wouldn't look so tough.

The judge gave him ten days in the county jail on bread and water to reflect upon his evil doings.

An India-Crete Girl.

A girl named Emma O. Burlingame, living at Crete, Neb., disappeared this week from the home of her parents in that place. It is not known where she is hiding, though it is suspected that she is at present in Omaha. The girl is about seventeen years old, of medium height, dark brown hair, blue eyes, small ears on right cheek, hair when combed down over her forehead almost touches her eyes, a la bang. When she left home she had on a dark hat, and red plaid striped dress. Mr. E. S. Abbott, the well-known lawyer at Crete, or Mr. E. Bronz, of the firm of Nestor & Co., will gladly receive any information about the missing girl.

A Reckless Driver.

Mr. Joe Creighton is the most reckless driver in this city and it would be a good idea to appoint a coachman to steer his vehicle through the crowded streets. A few weeks ago he drove over a woman at the corner of Sixteenth and Cass streets. Thelady was quite severely injured. Thursday night he was driving up Sixteenth street and Dr. Summers, accompanied by his wife was driving down. They met between Davenport street and Capitol Avenue, and Creighton drove his buggy against the doctor's and both came up a standing. The doctor was driving a moment's time and it looked for a few moments as if there was going to be serious trouble, but they were finally separated and Creighton drove off down street at a breakneck speed with one axle so badly sprung that the wheel stood at an angle of forty-five degrees. Fortunately the doctor's buggy was not injured beyond a few scratches.

SOON.

CORYELL--Wednesday morning, September 17, 1884, to Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Coryell, at their home on California near Seventeenth street, a son, WILLIAM HANLEY.

The numerous friends in Omaha and Nebraska of these ideal families, the Coryells and Arnolds, will congratulate them upon the advent of a loving home to this first born little twalva-pounder of the house of Coryell, and join in wishing that the little fellow of whom they are all so proud may grow up to be as brave, honorable and successful in grappling with the world as his father, as courteous and high minded as his grandfather, as tender-hearted and affectionate as his mother and grandmother, as musical and talented as his Aunt Fanny, as handsome as his Uncle Ed, and as good a, cordial and popular as both estimable branches of relationship.

Thos. Rees, of the Illinois State Register, Springfield, Ill., called at Tur Box office yesterday.

German and French.

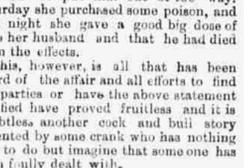

Anyone desiring to gain a practical knowledge of either or both of these languages, should call on or address Mrs. Westcott, 504 Main street. She is a thoroughly competent and experienced instructor, and has the best recommendations.

A False Report.

Yesterday morning a man rushed into Drexel & Maul's undertaking establishment and inquired if they had there the body of John Jack. Upon being answered in the negative he said that Mrs. Jack had got tired of living with John and had decided to put him out of the way. Thursday she purchased some poison, and last night she gave a good big dose of it to her husband and that he had died from the effects.

This, however, is all that has been heard of the affair and all efforts to find the parties or have the above statement verified have proved fruitless and it is doubtless another cock and bull story invented by some crank who has nothing else to do but imagine that some one has been fully dealt with.
