

THE DAILY BEE. COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Tuesday Morning Sept. 30. SUBSCRIPTION RATES. By Carrier... Office: No. 7 Pearl Street, Near Broadway.

MINOR MENTION.

See J. Reiter's new fall stock of cloth. Col. Jesse Harper is to speak here this evening. The Magic Mirror to-night at the exposition and good music.

H. Rhoads and Mrs. R. A. Nye, of Avoca, were yesterday given permit to wed. A number of Knights of Pythias leave to-day for Sioux City to attend the grand lodge.

Since the first of January last there has been 325 marriage licenses issued in this county. The United States officials have now secured offices in Burnham, Tulley & Co's building.

A wagon drawn by two cows yesterday was a gentle reminder of old times to the old settler.

Lovers of beautiful and artistic effects should not fail to see the "Magic Mirror" at the exposition to-night.

T. M. Hunter has been appointed U. S. commissioner to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Marshal Key.

Excavation commenced yesterday for the new house to be built by Mrs. M. A. Smith, corner of Mynter and Seventh streets.

Mrs. John Shadden, who was thrown from a wagon on circus day, is recovering from her injuries more rapidly than was expected.

The marriage of P. J. Ewing, of Nelson, to Mrs. Mary M. Sprink, of this city, takes place in St. Francis church this morning.

Mrs. Jane Hetherington is having her sanity passed upon by the commissioners for the insane, with a view of having her taken to the asylum.

On account of the democratic primaries the council did not meet last evening. They will meet this afternoon to open bids for the improvement of Indian creek.

It is said that Davy Mottaz, who served us efficiently as city jailor, and who has filled other positions faithfully is liable to be nominated for constable by the republicans.

The United States circuit court met in session yesterday. Judge Love, who has been suffering so from a carbuncle near his knee, is at home, and Judge Shiras, who is to sit in his place, could not arrive until last night.

There are still many births, deaths and marriages to be reported to the clerk of the county, the law requiring such reports and imposing a penalty for neglect.

Yesterday one of Rockwell's trucks, loaded with cases of dry goods, tipped over at the Northwestern freight depot. Several trucks have got stalled there lately and one other fell over, caused by the bad road leading to the platform.

Wall McFadden, who has so instant in season and out of season with his martial band, at all republican gatherings and soldiers reunions, is looking for a nomination as constable. He has had much experience to fit him for such a position.

The man Egan, arrested for attempting to burglarize Hoffmayer's mill Sunday, was in court yesterday and gained a continuance of two weeks to enable him to get testimony to show that he wasn't that kind of a fellow, but that he was an honest man, and engaged in selling Corlies engines.

Have the aldermen and city officials forgotten the promise made by the Union Pacific railway company to lay a double track and run dummy trains every half-hour? This promise was made and repeated, and made was a part of the agreement by which the Union Pacific got the $40,000 advance devoted to it.

There was a report that one of Pinkerton's detectives arrested a man yesterday morning at the transfer who was said to be a counterfeit, and that he had $400 in counterfeit money on his person when arrested, that he was one of the gang whom the officers had been looking for. Inquiry of the government officials here failed to confirm the report.

There was a lively racket at the corner of Broadway and Pearl streets yesterday about noon. It seems that Charles Allen, who has been driving an express wagon for Billy Lewis, had some grievance, real or imagined, and unexpectedly went for Lewis with a sling shot. He only got in one blow, cutting Lewis' chin. While Lewis gave him one or two terrible thumps, causing the claret to cover Allen's face. Allen was arrested at once.

It is predicted by some of the knowing democrats that Broadbeck will be the nominee for recorder. Some of those who want to get the nomination for county clerk are urging the nomination of Mr. Cramer, of Avoca, as recorder, it seeming that Council Bluffs shall not demand both nominations. Among those named as possible capturers of the nomination for county clerk is William Patton. Mr. Ware is also talked of, and Mr. Gallagher seems to have some supporters.

THE BEER GARDEN.

How the Sunday Night Fantasia was Stopped—No More Sunday Business.

For some weeks past there has been an attempt to stop the Sunday night dances at the beer garden and to close the saloons on Sunday, but both have seemed to be rather difficult tasks. The hotel men claim it is not fair play to compel them to close and let the hotel men have full swing.

Sunday night one of THE BEE men learning that the beer garden was running full blast, and chancing to meet Officer Hurley on upper Broadway tackled him about it. The officer seemed surprised. "Why," he said, "I went up there a while ago with orders from the chief for them to shut up, and they promised to do so at once."

Chief Skinner had gone to bed at Neumayer's hotel, and Hurley woke him up. Skinner said that the beer garden was in the outskirts of the city, and perhaps it was just as well to let it run, and if anybody wanted to complain then the police make the arrests. With this understanding Hurley went back to his beat; and THE BEE man strolling along down the street, chanced to meet Mayor Vaughan.

"What are you going to do about the beer garden, mayor? It seems to be running just the same as if orders had not been issued." "So officer Towns was just telling me, I've been away, you know, and I have been trying to have the saloon men settle these questions among themselves. They say the hotel bars won't close Sunday, and make that an excuse for keeping open. I am going to issue orders this week for every bar, hotel and all, to be closed on Sundays. But about this beer garden and dance—come on, let's go up and see Skinner."

The little mayor then hastened to interview Chief Skinner. He told the chief to take men enough with him up to the beer-garden, and see that the order for closing was carried out, and the dance stopped, and if not obeyed, to arrest the men and their wives. Then the chief of police, with officers Towns and Hurley, marched up to the beer-garden. It looked to be business, then, and it was not long before the music was stopped and the lights went out. It was none too soon, for the crowd had got together, and a fight was just starting when the place was closed. Officer Hurley was left to see that the place was kept closed.

PARTING WITH A PASTOR.

Rev. J. Z. Armstrong Bids Farewell to the Broadway Methodist Church.

The congregation that assembled in the M. E. church on Sunday evening last expecting to hear the Rev. J. Z. Armstrong deliver the first of a series of lectures that had been announced, on the subject of the "Disposition of Man," were somewhat astonished by the intelligence that Mr. Armstrong, who has for the last two years occupied the position of pastor of the M. E. church in this city, has accepted a pastoral position in an eastern city, for which place he expects to leave this week, and that a new minister has been appointed to take charge of the field here.

For this reason the series of lectures was not commenced, and instead, the pastor bestowed upon his audience a few words of farewell. He pressed the members to extend to the new pastor a warm welcome, and spoke encouragingly of the progress the church had made during the last two years, both financially and spiritually, and expressed the most earnest hopes that it might continue to prosper. He exhorted the members to action and industry; dwelt upon the good results consequent upon a liberal distribution of money among the poor and needy, and reminded the church of the obligations under which as a church, it stands, to render assistance to all manner of charitable and christian institutions.

In conclusion he said: "When we meet again, it may be 'beyond the river.' Your spirit will then be free. We will then look upon the past, and all the transactions back there in Council Bluffs will stand out in full noon-tide splendor. You will see it well then, and remember how merciful God was to you and to me as we went stumbling through with that hard work."

"Now may God help us so to live," that we may get there,—all of us—on the other side of the river. If we allow the world to have too strong a hold upon us, and take too many chances, and carry this on, too long and late in the day, we may fail to get there. And then we will have another kind of recollection. It will be that of privileges and opportunities, and glorious chances, of which we have failed to take advantage. We will remember how we thought of everything except the salvation of our souls. How this was extended to us, and we said 'I will not,' and we are here. May God help us to forget everything else and help us to press forward to the mark of our high calling in Christ Jesus, that our salvation may be sure in the end."

WOMEN'S WORK.

The Successful Opening of a Very Creditable Exposition.

The Woman's Exchange opened its exposition at the skating rink last evening. The attendance was large, and the praise justly earned will cause the attendance to keep up day after day, and probably increase. Those who expected to see an ordinary church fair, were most happily surprised.

The Woman's Exchange opened its exposition at the skating rink last evening. The attendance was large, and the praise justly earned will cause the attendance to keep up day after day, and probably increase. Those who expected to see an ordinary church fair, were most happily surprised. The building had its exterior adorned by flags, and the interior presented a brilliant appearance, lighted by the electric lamps, and the booths having arranged very showingly a stage, with drop curtains, scenery etc, has been built at one end of the great hall, and in front of this is a beautiful grouping of flowers and plants.

About the side of the rink, are stalls or booths arranged much after the fashion of a great exposition. Not only have the ladies themselves some fine displays of needle work and art, fancy articles and tempting jellies and fruits, but the merchants of the city have taken great pains to make pleasing displays. Among them are Harkness Bros., Casady, Orcutt & French, S. S. Keller, Cooper & McGee, Beebe & Co., J. J. Bliss, J. Mueller, C. B. Jacquelin, J. M. Phillips, Metcalf Bros., and others, so that in dry goods, carpets, hardware, furniture, millinery, musical instruments, boots and shoes, clothing, etc., there is a very fine showing. H. R. Stuart has some of his fine crayonings. W. W. Chapman also makes an art display.

The success which the ladies have met with from the start, and the appearance of the hall, naturally lead to the query, why cannot the fair association, or some other permanent organization take upon the work which the women have so richly started, and organize a permanent exposition, so that every fall Council Bluffs may have such a showing, or an even larger and better one?

This exposition as is generally understood, is for the benefit of the Presbyterian church, and to help along the new building enterprise. The exposition is to be open every afternoon after 1 o'clock, and every evening. Entertainments are arranged for each evening, and with refreshments and good music the place is made very attractive and pleasant for all who visit it.

Two of the police force will be laid off to-day.
