

THE DAILY BEE.

Friday Morning October 3.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Next Sunday is Harvest Home at Trinity cathedral and there is also a musical service in the evening.

A woman named Mrs. M. J. Quinn was upon the street yesterday looking for her husband, who she claimed had deserted her at St. Paul.

Last evening two fellows, who were a little worse off for liquor, were upset upon Sherman street. Luckily they struck in the mud and were not injured.

The industrial school opens in the room beneath Trinity cathedral, corner of Eighteenth and Capitol Avenue on Saturday next at 10 a. m. The children will come early.

The boys had a little rally at Ed. Maurer's place last evening and Mattias New was fortunate enough to win a $180 mule box. It is a fine one and was imported from Europe.

There will be a special meeting of Rath Belekah Degree Lodge No. 1, in Odd Fellows hall, at 7:30 Saturday evening, October 4, 1884. A full attendance earnestly requested, as there is business of importance.

The county Cleveland had Hendricks club are making arrangements for a mass meeting at the club rooms Saturday evening, Judge Savage, Parko Gowin, Geo. W. Shields, Geo. W. Bertrand and others are announced to speak.

R. B. Lowenstein, the insurance agent, who is charged with selling a horse and buggy belonging to the Nebraska and Iowa insurance company, has waived examination and has been taken back to Cumung county by the sheriff of that place.

There will be a meeting of the Blaine and Logan club of the second ward, Saturday evening, in Cunningham's hall, corner of Thirtieth and Jackson streets. All republicans are invited to be present.

By Order of the Ward Committee.

The Gate City Council of the North-western Legion of Honor will complete its organization at the Knights of Honor hall this (Friday) evening. They have about one hundred enrolled members, and expect a large turnout.

The millennium is at hand for sure. Not a single arrest had been made by the police for the past twenty-four hours, ending at 11 o'clock yesterday. In police court yesterday Judge Benke looked silent and sad as no criminals were brought before him for trial.

The Bee was mistaken in stating that Miss Elizabeth Poppleton is the superintendent of the industrial art department of the New Orleans exposition. She was appointed without her knowledge and she has not accepted the office, as she is unable to attend to the duties of the position.

The little "Missionary Helpers," under the direction of Miss C. Ross and Miss H. Collier, will give a concert followed by the sale of fancy articles prepared by themselves and refreshments, at the Dodge St. Presbyterian church, on Friday evening, the exercises to commence at precisely half past seven.

Henry Ritter, a gentleman well-known in northwest Omaha, will start with his family today for St. Louis. After spending a few weeks in the Missouri metropolis he will visit the World's Exposition at New Orleans, and thence will go to Cincinnati Ohio and New York city, returning home in about three months.

Mrs. Clara Grossman, assisted by two teachers, will open a Kindergarten on the Froebel system, on Wednesday, the 8th day of October. The hours will be from 10 to 3 o'clock. Children taken from three and a half years to eleven years of age. For particulars apply 369 North Seventeenth street. Private lessons in music, German and fancy work on Saturdays, for ladies and children.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Jessie Grant, wife and child passed through this city yesterday.

N. L. Taylor, one of Madison's prominent attorneys, was in the city yesterday on legal business.

Mrs. P. H. Carey has returned after her extended visit with her relatives and friends in Milwaukee.

Mrs. S. H. Callaway and children arrived in Omaha Wednesday from Chicago. They are at the Millard.

Mrs. N. Shelton arrived in this city yesterday morning from New York City. She took the noon train for Grand Island.

The many friends of Mrs. Andrew Borden will rejoice to learn that she is improving in health and will doubtless recover in a short time.

B. H. Robinson, Tekamah; C. Duval, Crete; E. K. Valentine, West Point; Dan Condon, Columbus; Dr. M. W. Stone, Wahoo, were at the Millard yesterday.

Mr. A. L. Johnson, one of the most popular engineers on the Union Pacific road, left yesterday for a trip through Michigan, Indiana and Ohio. He will return in about one month.

N. S. Harwood, W. W. Jones, M. D. Welch, T. Ewig and T. H. Leavitt, Lincoln; C. W. Thomas, Grand Island; T. R. Liddle, Gottenburg; A. Casteller, wife and Miss May Castellar, Blair; C. E. Kinney, Pawnee; C. A. Von Warner, Grand Island, registered at the Paxton yesterday.

A. K. Marsh, Sutton; A. U. Hitchcock, Pierce; Andy Boden, Columbus; J. D. Evans, Sutton; Geo. Gilman, Nebraska City; W. H. Beckham, Valentine; J. McClester, Oakland; A. K. Caffrey, Strongsburg; C. H. Wallace, Springfield, Vt.; H. F. Mathews, Bellow Falls, Vt. are at the Metropolitan.

Mr. Jas. Levy, advance agent for Laurance Barrett, is at the Paxton. He is making arrangements for the appearance in this city of that eminent tragedian, Laurance Barrett is now America's foremost tragedian. Booth is under the weather and McCullough has totally failed. The palm now lies between Barrett and Tom Kone.

Mr. Fr. Metz, who has been visiting in Ger many for some time returned home yesterday morning via Wabash R. R. He was met in New York by his wife. The Plattender Verein, of which he is a member, met him at the depot with the Musical Union band, which escorted him to his home. The beautiful new banner of the Verein was used on this occasion for the first time.

SPLENDID CHANCE.

BELL & SHRYVER.

AT LAST 'TIS DONE.

The B. & M. Cut Through Seventeenth Street in the Dead of Night.

The People in that Neighborhood Awakened this Morning to Look Upon a Canal.

For several weeks a policeman has been stationed near the Tenth street crossing to see that the B. & M. folks did not take advantage of the darkness of night and cut through the street at that point and by so doing leave a canal across that thoroughfare.

While the police have been guarding and watching at this point the company with a large gang of men have been preparing to make a cut across Seventeenth street, to enable them to lay their track. Wednesday evening when the sombre shades of night enveloped the earth there was no sign of a railroad track across Seventeenth street other than that of the Union Pacific, but when the gray dawn of the early morning proclaimed the approach of the coming day, behold, a canal eight feet deep had been cut across the street, and in the bottom of this canal were the ties and iron rails of the B. & M. railroad company.

The company had not made any bluster about the matter, but while the enemy were watching at one point they had made an attack upon an unguarded point and had carried the battle without a struggle.

It now remains to be seen what will be done by the city in regard to the matter.

AN INJUNCTION GRANTED.

The Omaha & Southwestern railroad company Wednesday began suit in the district court against the city of Omaha and Patrick Mears and asked for a temporary injunction to restrain the defendant from grading Seventeenth street from the south line of the Union Pacific tracks to the south line of the Omaha & Southwestern tracks. Judge Neville granted the injunction.

A CHAPTER ON BOILS.

A Prominent Man Writes to a Friend on the Subject of Boils.

As a great many people in this city are now troubled with boils they can appreciate the following letter which was written by a prominent gentleman, at one time a resident of this city and a government director of the Union Pacific road, to a personal friend in Omaha, who, at the present time is nursing a pet upon his right hand:

THE LETTER.

My Dear Fellow Co-Sufferer:

I learn with regret that you are laid up with one of Job's comforters. I sympathize with you because I have been laid up here for three weeks with a carbuncle on my neck, that weighed at its worst over 300 pounds, but it is now on the mend and only weighs 40 pounds. They weigh the most at nights. I also during that time have had five boils on my right hand. Treatment, while the boil is on the make up, you must not swear at it as it does no good, but talk kindly to it and make it believe you are friendly with it. After it is done making up and ready to open, you can then begin to feel a little independent and saucy, but be sure there are no others hiding around.

I feel sorry for Job even now, but probably the boils were the making of Job. To doubt you recollect the sweet promise that you find some place in the Bible that reads something like this, "Blessed are those that have boils for they will feel so good after they quit hurting." I may not have the exact language of the good book, but you can hook on to the meaning.

I hope you are on the improve and learn hereafter that there is but one good place to have a boil, and that is on the other fellow, or hired man; recollect this. Have lots of patience, (that is what kept Job in business), poltice with blessed meal, say your prayers regular, and I think you will be able to smash more baggage.

P. S.—I have sent up for my wife and may remain here a couple of weeks yet. I have missed having the care of my wife and having one around that you are not afraid to scold when the boil hurts.

CLIPPINGS FROM COURTS.

The Carry Properly the Cause of Four Arrests.

A New Way of Collecting City Taxes by Mr. BUCK.

POLICE COURT.

A couple of weeks ago Cornelia Gilbert brought suit against a man named Randow, the lessee of the plaintiff, to dispose of him of the property formerly occupied by Richard Curry for saloon purposes, near the corner of Tenth and Douglas. The suit was decided in favor of the plaintiff and the writ of restitution issued to give her possession of the premises.

It appears that Randow had sub-let the property to the wife of Curry, who in turn had sub-let it to a man named Sampson. The writ to dispose of Randow was placed in the hands of Deputy-Sheriff Crowell for execution. Upon going to the premises Randow was not found, but he was afterward enticed into the place and ejected from the premises by virtue of the order of the court then in the hands of the executive officer.

Sampson was placed as a guard over the premises but was subsequently enticed away by a constable who was acting for Mrs. Curry. She was then given possession of the premises and has been occupying the place ever since through Patrick her sublessee.

It seems that Sampson enraged by these proceedings on the part of Mrs. Curry, aided by a man named Johnson broke open a door and did some damage to the walls. For this a complaint was filed in police court by Mrs. Curry against them charging them with malicious destruction of property. Sampson in return filed a complaint against Mrs. Curry, and a man named George Paddock, charging them with trespass. Warrants were issued on both complaints and the cases are set down for hearing on Saturday next.

IN THE COUNTY COURT.

In the county court the case of Morgan against Chapman, involving the possession of the store building at 1213 Farnam, was decided in favor of plaintiff.

It appeared from the testimony upon the trial of the case that the parties to the suit had formerly been partners in the store whose possession was in dispute. Upon their dissolution it was mutually agreed that the defendant should pay the debt of the concern, among which was one owing to the city amounting to $150 for taxes. Mr. Morgan, who was paying $150 per month for the store, refused to pay the whole amount, but paid one-third which he claimed was all he was bound to pay. City Treasurer Buck being unable to find personal property upon which to levy to make the second half was told by Chapman that he would put Morgan's rental where he could reach it as a treasurer's execution. It was accordingly done and ninety-six dollars was taken from "the amount by the city official. Morgan's refusal to receive the balance as payment of the month's rent and accordingly instituted suit against the defendant who, he alleged, was in arrears of rent, the result being as above stated.

W. E. Miller, 4 cars to Palmer & Richardson, Chicago, by way Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul.

Archibald, 15 cars of horses to Memphis, Tennessee.

Denman Thompson.

Mr. Denman Thompson appeared at the opera house last evening in "Joshua Whitcomb." A good sized audience was present to greet the eminent actor. The play has lost nothing in the years which it has been handled by Mr. Thompson and he is surrounded this season by first-class support.

The play, as has often been said is of the real old Yankee type. For more than two generations the American stage had been over-run with Yankee's of the Solon Shingle Brother Jonathan style, but the real article never appeared until Mr. Thompson brought him down from his native New Hampshire hills. Mr. Thompson has met with unbounded success in his play. He does not pretend to be a literary man, but for all that, he is a practical dramatist, and has fitted himself perfectly with a vehicle for the exploiting of his peculiarities.

Camp Meeting Notes.

Eldor Starr, of Chicago, arrived on the camp ground last night at 10 o'clock and will remain during the remainder of the meeting.

Yesterday at 10 Elder Butler, president of the general conference arrived, and Mrs. E. G. White is expected this evening. To our surprise and gratification we have learned that Uriah Smith, editor of the Review and Herald will arrive here this evening and the meeting will have the benefit of his valuable labors during the remainder of the meeting. Many other important arrivals are daily expected.

A BEAUTIFUL GIFT.

The First Ward Blaine and Logan Club Presented With a Flag by the Ladies.

Wednesday night a large crowd gathered around the stand erected at the corner of Seventh and Pierce streets by the First Ward Blaine and Logan club. Mr. Jenkinson introduced Miss Emma George a modest and retiring young lady, who represents the young ladies of the Blaine and Logan club a beautiful flag which the young ladies had prepared. Miss George spoke as follows:

Mr. President, and Members of the First Ward Blaine and Logan Club.—The ladies of this ward have selected me as their humble instrument to express to you how sincerely we sympathize with you in the purpose to which you have devoted this club.

Although it is hardly to be expected of us to enter into the details and turmoil of a political campaign, we must be permitted to participate sufficiently to know that we appreciate the noble principles of this grand party which has so gloriously administered the affairs of the government for the past two decades; which has guided us through the dark and troublous times of civil strife, to this era of peace and prosperity.

We, the ladies of the First ward, feel proud to show our admiration of the brilliant statesman, Blaine, and the great warrior, Logan, and that you may be encouraged to march on to victory and elect these noble men, we beg leave to present you with this flag.

At the close of this beautiful little speech the crowd broke forth in loud and prolonged cheers, and a large number of ladies in the assembly waved their handkerchiefs and smiled in approbation.

The flag was then raised to the top of the pole and the next speaker, Judge McCulloch, was introduced. He spoke of the beautiful flag and paid a glowing tribute to the fire and patriotism, which is kindled in the heart of every American woman. He said the proud flag floating in the evening breeze reminded him of an address he had learned while at school and of which he would repeat a passage. It is as follows:

"The starry emblem of his country's sovereignty is to him radiant with a divine glory, that which meets his mortal vision. It epitomizes the splendid results of dreary ages of experiment and failure in human government; and, as he gazes upon its starry folds, undulating responsive to the whispering winds of upper air, it sometimes seems to him that the soft blue sky, till the heavens open and angel hands place it upon the battlements of paradise. Wherever that ensign floats, on the land or over the sea, it is to him the very embodiment of his political love and faith, luminous with the presence of that God who conducted our fathers through the fires of the revolution to the heights of civil and religious liberty—its stars seem real, its lines, white symbolize the purity of his heroic sires; those of red their patriot blood shed in defense of the right. To defend that flag is to him something more than a duty; it is a joy, a coveted privilege, akin to that which never fails to arm and direct the blow in defense of wife or child. To insult it is worse than infamy; to make war upon it is more than treason."

He then spoke at some length upon the tariff question, which evoked considerable applause.

Mr. D. F. Gurley, C. R. Kyle and Mr. Jenkinson each made short speeches, after which three rousing cheers for Blaine and Logan were given and the meeting adjourned.

A Political Riot.

HUNTER'S POINT, N. Y., Oct. 2.—While the independent republicans were raising a Cleveland banner at Hivesville last night a number of rowdies, led by ex-Policeman Stratford, made an attack with clubs and stones, injuring several. Stratford drew a pistol and shot once, but was disarmed by the police. The banner was cut down during the night and carried off.
