

THE DAILY BEE.

Monday Morning October 6

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Friday Tom Murray had two men at work at the site of his proposed new building. One of the men was engaged in loading a wheelbarrow and the other was wheeling it. Murray will be compelled to vacate the street at once and build a sidewalk.

Mr. Michael Fitzmaurice the well-known flagman on the Thirtieth street crossing of the U. P., is one of the happiest men in town. For the first time in years he is able to use his faculties and breathe freely. He had suffered for over two years from what the doctors called catarrhal lungs and after an operation occupying three hours the obstruction was successfully removed by Dr. Mc Kenna. Though past three score years Mr. Fitzmaurice is like a man who had been given a new lease of life.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. John R. Manchester and her sister, Miss Jennie McAnisland left Saturday for St. Louis.

COUNTY PROPERTY.

A Proposition to Sell the Old Court House Property—Polling Places.

The county commissioners completed the election proclamation yesterday. Included in the proclamation is a proposition in reference to the court house grounds, as follows: "Shall the county of Douglas, by its board of county commissioners, be authorized to sell the old court house site at Sixteenth and Farnam streets, being lots 2 and 6, in block 118, in the city of Omaha, in Douglas county, Neb., and appropriate the proceeds derived therefrom to grade the grounds and erect retaining wall and steps for the new court house?"

POLLING PLACES.

were designated as follows: Omaha precinct—No. 1, northeast corner Tenth and Jackson streets. Omaha precinct—No. 2, First district, No. 1210 South Thirtieth street; Second district, No. 1813 South St. Mary's avenue, between Eighteenth and Nineteenth streets. Omaha precinct—No. 3, No. 303 South Eleventh street. Omaha precinct—No. 4, sheriff's office, court house. Omaha precinct—No. 5, First district, No. 1219 Chicago street, between Twelfth and Thirtieth streets; Second district, Redman's, Izard and Sixteenth streets. Omaha precinct—No. 6, No. 1 engine house, Twentieth and Izard streets. Saratoga precinct—School house, near Grunig's. Florence precinct—Florence school house. Union precinct—Irvington school house. Jefferson precinct—School house in District No. 44. Elkhorn precinct—Elkhorn school house. Platte Valley precinct—School house at Valley. Waterloo precinct—School house at Waterloo. Chicago precinct—School house at Elkhorn station. Millard precinct—Millard school house. Leard precinct—McArdle school house. Douglas precinct—District No. 1, Hawall's; District No. 2, Cassidy school house. West Omaha precinct—School house near Selden's. The election opens at 8 o'clock and closes at 6 p. m. The commissioners in selecting the polling places did all that lay in their power to hold them as far as possible from saloons. The polls will not be held at the November election in a single place in this county where drinks are sold, but the commissioners in the third ward were unable to find a suitable place for holding them where they would be removed more than half a block from a drinking-place.

THE POOR FARM PETITION.

The petition (circulated by Cyrus Morton, Esq., for the sale of the poor farm has been referred to Gen. Cowin, county attorney.

THE CAMP MEETING.

The Work of Yesterday—Today's the Closing Session.

Yesterday was the last Sunday of the camp meeting. The regular exercises began at the wonted hour but owing to the dampness of the ground the early morning services were held in the Art Hall.

At 9:30 the Sabbath School Association met and the officers for the ensuing year were duly elected. H. P. Rue, Fremont, president; Mrs. A. T. Sheppard, of Nebraska City, secretary and treasurer, and Mrs. H. P. Rue, Fremont, corresponding secretary.

At 10:30 a. m., Elder Elias Smith, editor of the Battle Creek Review and Herald, spoke on the subject "The Eastern Question." The large audience listened to his address with much interest. The sermon was illustrated by a large map especially drawn for that purpose.

At 2:30 p. m. Mrs. White spoke on the question of Christian temperance. A large congregation heard the sermon, in which much interest was evinced. Quite a large delegation from the Woman's Christian Temperance Union from the city was present upon the grounds in the afternoon. Elder Smith began his sermon at 5 p. m., and immediately upon its close the meeting of the Nebraska conference took place. After reading the minutes the unfinished business was called for and the report of the treasurer, followed by the report of the nominating committee. The following nomination were reported and approved the nominees being duly elected: Rev. A. J. Cudney, Fremont, president; R. P. Lippincott, Blair, secretary and Rev. Cudney, Jensen and Schultz as a conference committee. The committee on resolutions not having had time to complete its work made no report. In the evening Rev. Butler, visiting the meeting yet the assembling members fully accomplished the object for which it was erected.

SARPY'S SHOW.

Grand Success of the Second Annual Exhibition.

The Display of Stock and farm Products a Magnificent one—The Rain Interrupts the Programme.

The second annual fair of the Sarpy County Agricultural Society closed on Saturday evening and, despite disagreeing weather, was an unqualified success.

The grounds on which the fairs are held are owned by the Papillion Driving Park association and include about fifty acres of land, beautifully located on the south bank of the river, and nearly as level as a floor. Ten acres of this was purchased last year and many improvements made, such as the addition of fifty new stalls, a new judges' stand, band stand, etc., and enlarging the track from a quarter to a half mile stretch. The officers of the Driving Park association are: Wm. Snyder, president; A. H. Morris, secretary and Dr. W. C. Upjohn, treasurer. The first fair given was successful enough financially to greatly encourage the new society, and this year the members deter mined to spare no trouble or expense to perpetuate the enterprise. The premium list was large, good speed horses were secured, a shooting tournament arranged for and excellent speakers secured to deliver the annual and agricultural addresses. The citizens of Sarpy county responded with equal spirit and over two thousand entries were recorded on the opening day, nearly four times as many as on the preceding year. The result proved entirely satisfactory, the net receipts being sufficient to pay expenses, pay all premiums in full and leave a balance of several hundred dollars in the treasury to go on. Sarpy county certainly has reason to be proud of the exhibit made of its resources on this occasion, and this was the general remark.

The display in all departments was unusually fine, and in none more so than in live stock. There were some nice cattle as can be found anywhere, Mr. R. Daniels, of Cottage Grove farm, entering twenty-five head from his herd; Brown Bros., of Papillion, eight head; Wm. Uhe, of Papillion, four head, and many others a smaller number.

There was also a good showing in hogs, Mr. Wm. Uhe alone having forty-seven head in the pens. Lank Ramsey and Charles Gates, of Gilmore; Wm. Frank, E. G. Schaal and D. M. Heacock, of Springfield, and R. M. Carpenter, of Papillion, were among the leading exhibitors in this line, which included Poland Chinas, Chester Whites and Jersey Reds.

Hon. R. Daniels had the only sheep present, a pair of fine ewes and a pair of lambs from his large herd. In the poultry department there was the usual variety of chickens, geese, ducks and turkeys.

The most notable feature of the display in Floral Hall was that of fruit, there being 105 entries of especially fine standard varieties. Mr. J. T. Allen, the Union Pacific forest planter says that the display in this line was not equalled in quality by that at the state fair and was very enthusiastic over the resources of Sarpy county in this respect. Mr. Allen has been engaged in gathering lots of choice apples for the Boston, St. Louis and New Orleans expositions and selected a number of boxes of fine specimens of apples from that display. He has already sent three car loads to Boston and one to St. Louis and from the present lot a box of rare fruit to The Bee and each of the Omaha newspaper offices. The leading exhibitors of fruit were: Cyrus Latham, R. D. Carpenter and A. Holman, of Papillion, and John Lovell, of Springfield.

In the agricultural line there was corn, pumpkins, squashes, beets, potatoes, watermelons and all other truck of that kind that would vie with similar productions from any country in the world and made a superb showing.

The ladies were not behind in their departments and the canned fruits, jellies, golden pate of butter and other treasures of the pantry, the specimens of fine needle work, embroidery, painting, etc., were as royal as the products of the soil just mentioned.

There was a very full exhibit of farm machinery, wagons, etc., there being about fifty entries in all. Mr. E. B. West, of this city, carried off the first premium in harness, while Eby & Walker and the Nebraska Implement Co., also of Omaha, were both well represented.

The programme prepared for the two latter days of the fair was very interesting, including addresses by Hon. James W. Savage and Mayor Vaughn, of Council Bluffs, races of all kinds and a feature productive of fun and frolic. Unfortunately Judge Savage was not able to be present but Mayor Vaughn delivered a splendid agricultural address Saturday afternoon.

On Friday afternoon, the trotting race, limited to Sarpy county took place. The entries were: Rowan, Harry T. Clarke, of Bellevue; Ned R. Mr. Rogers, of Springfield; Springfield Maid, J. S. Stew art and Wirey, Ike Welch, Papillion. Beeswax won two straight heats and the race, the others coming in in the order named. Time 3:06, 3:10, 3:15. During this race a heavy rain storm came up and dispersed the crowd, the last two heats being trotted through torrents of water and several inches of mud. But for this, the race would have been very interesting, as some of the horses were capable of making their mile in 2:30 and 2:40. The racing race was also made in the midst of the storm, time being 3:10, 3:15 and 3:35. The drivers came in plastered from head to foot with mud, and it was probably the first race ever trotted or paced under similar circumstances. The pole team race and all the rest of the programme was then abandoned and the people took shelter in the hall and elsewhere until they could get into town. The track was used up, and the Saturday programme necessarily abandoned.

The attendance at the fair on Friday was estimated at over 2,000, there being 1,300 gate tickets sold, besides family tickets. This made the sales of the two first days over 400 larger than the entire week of 1880. Great credit is due to the officers of the society for the zeal with which they worked for the success of the fair and especially to the secretary, Mr. Will Sander, who was compelled to work alone much of the time owing to the sickness of his brother officers, who are Hon. Ames Gates, of Gilmore, president; Eli Rishel, of Peach Grove, vice president, and A. W. Clarke, treasurer.

THE UNION PACIFIC BAND furnished the music during the entire fair, and it was fine music, too. Prof. A. R. Tooser had his men out in full uniform and they attracted as much attention as the other thoroughbreds. The ladies of Sarpy county were so well pleased that on Saturday evening they presented the band with three new instruments that have not their duplicate in any band in the country, and which the boys are very proud of. In return for the kindness shown, the band gave a grand concert and ball on Friday evening.

VANQUISHED VISITORS.

The Union Pacifics Beat the Evansville Yesterday by the Score of Eight to Three.

Yesterday's game afforded to an audience of probably 400 people a splendid exhibition of the national game. A great deal had been anticipated from the Evansville's new pitcher, the "phenomenon" Saunders, and in the light of the previous day's defeat, home hopes were not overly elevated. The result seems to indicate that the U. P.'s are an excellent tonic for "phenomenal" ambitions.

The visitors made their record in the first inning, running down their list of left-handed leaders with three runs. Local talent batted in the second with two tallies and expended in full glory in the fifth with four runs and a display of the mainly art of slugging with the latest amendments.

Sneed opened the entries with a magnificent drive to the extreme right, beating the ball to third. Visner with a safe single scored Sneed. Dwyer followed Sneed's example and sent the leather toward town while he gained third. Bantley batted, followed by a beautiful fly to Walsh, let in one more. Here, the advance was checked, Whitney, Taylor and Salisbury perishing in succession without giving Walsh an opening for home.

The remaining innings were intensely exciting and filled with bright plays.

The visitors tried hard to avert the impending defeat and three times filled up the bases only to leave them occupied. In the sixth and eighth the U. P.'s strengthened their leading margin by two scores; Visner and Taylor, distinguishing themselves with a three and double bagger, respectively. Following is the official score.

GAME TO-DAY.

The same teams meet again this afternoon at St. Mary's Avenue park, and the contests are most interesting, and this in the closing series of the season, a liberal attendance should be accorded by the public.

SATURDAY'S GAME.

The series was opened Saturday afternoon in a glorious victory for the Evansville, Rockwell was suffering from a slight indisposition, and only with great reluctance took the box. His delivery was proportionately crippled, and the sluggers of the visiting nine pounded him for some wonderful drives. Rockwell retired in favor of McKelvey in the sixth inning. Final score—Evansville, 12; Union Pacifics, 7.

THE GERMAN THEATRE.

The Commencement of the Winter Season and First Performance in the Renovated Stadt Theater.

Last evening the German theater, which has been re-decorated and enlarged, was thronged upstairs and down on the occasion of the re-appearance of Mr. Molchin and Miss Shan, in leading roles. The piece presented was a historical drama entitled "The Earl of Essex," and was admirably put on the boards. Mr. Molchin sustained the character of the Earl of Essex in a masterly manner, and was loudly applauded. Mrs. Spahn as the countess personated her part very attractively and her make-up was excellent.

Mr. Poio, as Sir Robert Cecil made a great success of his part and Mrs. Buecher appeared as Queen Elizabeth, in which character she was extremely well received. Mrs. Pulsah as Lady Nottingham made the most of the role allotted to her, and Mrs. Lindemann played Zofe charmingly, while Mr. Schmidtoff received a well deserved round of applause for his personation of Sir James Ralph. All the minor points were well taken and the management merits high commendation for the able and pleasing manner in which they put the piece on the boards. The Musical Union orchestra discouraged some of the evening enlivening the entertainment immensely.

A REPORTER'S ROUBLE.

Mr. A. J. Huss, of the Republican, is Gobbled up by a Pair of Hoaxmen.

Friday morning about 2:30, Mr. A. J. Huss, a Republican reporter, had concluded his labors and was on his way from the office to his home at the Canfield house.

When he neared McCord & Brady's grocery, on the corner of Farnam and Tenth streets, a gust of wind raised his hat and sent it whirling to the bottom of the area which runs beside the store on the latter thoroughfare. Mr. Huss swung over the protecting rail and descended to the bottom in search of the missing covering. In the shade of the building, although the moon was shining brightly the area was quite dark.

In this way the several matches to aid him in his search. While one of the lights was still burning, a voice from the sidewalk inquired: "What are you doing down there?" To which Mr. Huss replied: "I am looking for my hat. The wind has blown it down here."

One of the officers then said that Mr. Huss had better get up, to which the gentleman replied that, if they would assist him, he would be glad to do so.

There are no steps leading from the area. One of the officers according extended his hand, caught that of Huss, which was stretched toward them. In this way the several matches to aid him in his search. While one of the lights was still burning, a voice from the sidewalk inquired: "What are you doing down there?"

He says that he told the officers who he was and that he offered to go with them to the Republican office to establish his identity, but they would not listen to this and he was hustled off to jail and locked up. Shortly afterwards he was released by Judge Benke, and yesterday when he appeared for trial he was discharged, Judge Benke stating that it was all right for a reporter to carry a revolver.

The police officers who made the arrest insist that they did not know who Huss was and that he did not make himself known.

UNLAWFUL OBSTRUCTION.

A Great Many Complaints Because McCord, Brady & Co., Obstruct the Streets.

Almost daily complaints come to this office because of the way in which McCord, Brady & Co. use Farnam street at the intersection of Tenth. Most of these complaints are from ladies, who have been subjected to many inconveniences because of the walk at this point being blocked, and also have had their clothing torn by coming in contact with some of the many boxes and barrels which are left standing upon the walk.

For this there can be no excuse, as there is a rear door to the building and all the loading and unloading could be done on Tenth street just as well as on Farnam street. They also have an alley door which can be used. These doors were used during the paving of Farnam street without any inconvenience to the firm or passers-by.

From morning until night wagons are backed up in front of the Farnam street entrance and a "skid" for running barrels thrown out across the sidewalk, which forms a sort of barrier and all pedestrians are either compelled to walk around it or else take a big step over it. There is another more serious objection to this loading process at Farnam street. Heavy barrels are rolled out of the building with sufficient force to send them halfway up the "skid" and hence they come out upon the sidewalk with a great deal of force. This is dangerous work for passers-by as one of their barrels is liable to roll back at any time and such an accident would be a serious one.

There is only one way to remedy this evil and that is to do the loading and unloading in the rear.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

A Meeting of the Board Friday and the Polling Places Established.

The county commissioners held a prolonged meeting Friday in the office of the county clerk. There was little business of public importance transacted. In connection with the latter, were made several changes in the voting places in the city. In the city, the polls will be located at the following places:

First Ward—Northeast corner of Tenth and Jackson.

Second Ward—First district, 1210 Thirtieth street; second district, Eighteenth and St. Mary's avenue.

Third Ward—363 Eleventh street.

Fourth Ward—At the court house.

Fifth Ward—First district, 1219 Chicago street, Second district, Redman's feed store, Sixteenth and Izard streets.

Sixth Ward—Engine house, Twentieth and Izard streets.

The county polling places are named as in the last fall election.

Sheriff Miller yesterday presented his bill for feeding the prisoners in the jail for the month of September. It amounted to $1,045. This is the largest bill that has ever been presented for such service in the county.

ANOTHER CENTENARIAN GONE.

Mr. W. H. Mole has returned from Bradford, Iowa, where he had been summoned by a telegram announcing the death of his father, Wm. Mole, who passed over the river at the advanced age of 94 years and 10 months. Mr. Mole was born at Moulton, in Devonshire county, England, in January, 1790.

FAILURES AT DENVER.

October 1st Bradstreet reported the assignment of Jensen, Bliss & Co., wholesale hardware of Denver. The agency now reports assets $145,000 with liabilities of $85,000 of which amount $55,000 is to one bank, and $20,000 to eastern creditors. This failure was a surprise to the trade and banks, excepting the bank to whom they were indebted. The firm stood high and was regarded by everybody as one of the soundest firms. Their indebtedness which was so large at the bank was unknown to the trade, and enabled them to keep up their foreign credit in a satisfactory manner. The bank desiring security requested the firm to give them their stock, which they declined to do, and made an assignment for the benefit of all their creditors.

The agency also reports that this morning the failure of S. S. S. & Co., wholesale notions. It is reported that they have been closed on attachment. Assets are placed at $5,000 and liabilities $15,000.

"SUCCOTH."

The Last of the Jewish Holidays Began Saturday night.

The Hebrew Feast of the Tabernacles, also called Succoth and Festival of the Booths began Saturday night continues for eight days. The followers of the faith in this city will appropriately observe this holiday, which is really the last of the Jewish holidays of the year.

The word "Succoth" means dwelling in tents, so this holiday is really a camping meeting, and it was from this that the idea of a camping meeting first originated.

OMAHA CORNICIERS.

Rumpling & Bolte Making a Reputation for Honest Work.

Messrs Rumpling & Bolte, the proprietors of the Omaha Cornicors works, on Twelfth street, between Farnam and Harney, started in business here about three years ago, have gained an enviable reputation among architects, builders and property owners in this state and Iowa. Messrs Rumpling & Bolte make no mistakes in furnishing estimates or exacting orders, but are always ready to put their part of the building where it belongs, and without alteration.

This article is written because the people of Omaha take a just pride in having such a first class establishment, and that all who have had dealings with them most heartily recommend them to their friends. Write to them or call.
