TIME TO CALL A HALT.

The people of Lincoln do not appear to realize that the savage warfare which their papers and political bosses are waging against Hon. Charles H. Brown is liable to prove a boomerang. If the opposition to Mr. Brown was of a political character, it would be justifiable and proper, but when an appeal is made to the people of Lancaster county, regardless of party, to defeat Mr. Brown simply because he opposed Bill Stout's penitentiary jobs and refused to vote for appropriations, to assist Stout to build the capital, they betray a lamentable ignorance as to their relations to the rest of the state. They forget that an honest member of the legislature, no matter from what part of the state he may come or what party he belongs to, is in duty bound to protect the interests of the tax-payers. It is notorious that the bills and measures which Mr. Brown opposed were only passed by a corrupt use of money. Tom Kennard himself boasted openly during the last session of the legislature that he was the disburser of the corruption fund raised in 1877 to pass the appropriation for the wing of the capitol building. Kennard declared that this was outlawed now, and he does not care who knows the facts. With the odor of bribery all around him, and with the knowledge that purchasable members of the legislature were being bought like hogs and cattle, is it any discredit to Mr. Brown to have recorded his vote against such bills? The vultures and vampires that feed upon jobbery and plunder at the State Capital have a natural hatred toward a man of integrity like Charles H. Brown, but the people of Nebraska who have been taxed and made to contribute to the piratical gang will stand by him. Has it come to this that an honest and fearless legislator is to be slaughtered because he dares to do right? Do the reputable citizens of Lincoln realize that this scandalous warfare upon Mr. Brown may produce a reaction which bodes Lincoln and Lancaster county no good. The idea that Omaha and Douglas county are hostile to Lincoln and desire to cripple the state institutions is preposterous. The record of the state senate shows that Mr. Brown cordially supported every appropriation that was legitimate and not tainted with corruption. In the last legislature the Lancaster delegation was traded off to railroads and jobbers, and no honorable man, who knew these facts, could stultify himself by supporting any such deals.

"AT THEIR MERCY!"

WOODWORTH, the councilman, arrested by Rosewater for acting as agent for Colorado sandstone, was released by the grand jury. Bohm, Rosewater's lieutenant and striker, was indicted for acting as the bribed agent of the Sioux Falls granite company. When Rosewater starts to hoist someone he wants to look out for his own petard.—Omaha Republican.

THE MATHEMATICIAN OF THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

figures out the general average republican majority in Ohio to be about 18,000, and that on November 4th it will exceed 30,000. The Tribune says: The vote of congressmen, on that portion of the republican state ticket which was not scratched, and on the local county and municipal ticket throughout the state furnishes the true basis for estimating the republican majority in Ohio, and it does not fall far short of the estimates made in the first glow of success.

MURAT HALSTEAD SAYS THAT THE GERMAN VOTED SOLIDLY WITH THE REPUBLICANS

and that they saved the state. If they keep in the right track in November, and the Irish-Americans give the same assistance which Alexander Sullivan claims that they rendered at the recent state election, Ohio ought to give a majority of over 25,000 for Blaine and Logan.

ALEXANDER SULLIVAN ESTIMATES THAT AT LEAST 10,000 VOTES WERE CAST FOR THE REPUBLICAN TICKET IN OHIO BY IRISH-AMERICANS

If they will do as well at the national election it will be all that the republicans can expect. The fact is that all Irishmen ought to be republicans.

"HORIZONTAL BILL" MORRISON IS RUNNING AGAINST A SHARP REPUBLICAN OPPONENT NAMED NEEDLES

It is hoped that it will be more difficult for Mr. Morrison to reënter congress than it is for a camel to go through the eye of a needle.

WE CAN READILY ACCOUNT FOR THE BITTER WARFARE OF THE LINCOLN JOURNAL UPON MR. BROWN, AFTER READING THAT INTERVIEW WITH SENATOR VAN WYCK.

Custer County School Land Steal. Buffalo County Press. An examination of the records in the office of the Land Commissioner, reveals the following facts: There have been leased in Custer county, at an appropriation of $2.50 per acre, 380 acres of school lands; at $2.25 per acre, 950 acres of school lands; at $2.00 per acre, 2,440 acres; at $1.75 per acre, 1,480 acres; at $1.50 per acre, 2,000 acres; at $1.25 per acre, 3,760 acres; at $1.00 per acre, 12,480 acres; at 72 cents per acre, 27,000 acres; at 50 cents per acre, 36,100 acres; and at an appropriation of 25 cents per acre, 6,400 acres.

THE GREYHOUNDS OF THE SEA.

The sport of racing steamers, which ever formed an exhilarating and exciting feature of travel on the Mississippi, is destined to become the main relief to the monotony of ocean voyages. The ocean racer is now all the rage with the traveling public, and even the slow and safe Old Cunard line has been compelled to enter the competition. The crack steamers are averaging more than twenty miles per hour, for the whole distance on favorable trips, and when they are in the "Deuce" they are nearly as fast as the fastest of the land. There is an extensive betting as to the outcome. This, of course tends to heighten the excitement, and perhaps acts as an unhealthy stimulus to managers of steamship lines. It tends to heighten the hurrah over the victor and to intensify the anathemas pronounced on the loser. The more of these races, the less can seamen afford to sell tickets for losing lines. The safety of the high seas will be regarded as conclusively demonstrated until some terrible calamity is traced directly to it. Then there will be sermons and lectures about reckless navigation. It seems to be conceded that where steamships are running races sharper lookout will be kept, greater attention maintained among the crew, so that the risk will be minimized in this way. The interest and excitement of an ocean steamship race can not be expected to reach the same high tension that used to prevail on the river. There is no hugging the banks, rounding bends, skimming over bars, dodging snags, piling in pine knots and coal oil, no digging for the safety valve—in fact the competing boat is not in sight, nor is anything else in view to make the passenger feel that he is really in a race and going very fast. It is a kind of time race in which cold-blooded calculation and seamanship undertake to extract from the winds, the ocean currents and the burning of fuel the greatest velocity over a given course, and nearly only the course but the distance traversed by two vessels varies greatly, and because one makes a trip more quickly does not necessarily signify that it is the faster. The race is a go-as-you-please affair in which each contestant is allowed to choose his own road, and on the judgment displayed in shaping the course to the weather depends no small amount of the success attained. It is more exciting to the navigators who have opportunity to watch the progress made to anybody else. The passengers share the peril without really being able to enjoy the fun.

BRACE UP YOUNG MAN.

Many young men applying for employment are greatly discouraged to find so few vacancies, so many applicants and such small wages offered. They know of persons of their own age who have work and are well paid, and they are led to accuse fate of dealing harshly with themselves, and sometimes in fits of depression sink into vicious ways. If these young men will inquire narrowly into the matter, they will discover that those who are employed had much trouble to get the outset to secure a place, and that they were in an onerous way, and that they have secured at last better pay by diligence, industry and proved usefulness. It is the first step which costs, says the French adage. Instead of being discouraged, let the youth who means to find work, keep trying; let him be content with the barest living wages at the beginning, let him realize that the matter is in his own hands, let him acquire a lodgement so as to become acquainted with those who employ people, and let them resolve by useful discharge of duties to bring about increased pay. Many youngsters sneer at twenty dollars a month and find the road to perdition in this sneer. It would be better to get a place to start for a wages of ten dollars a month, and to get a good and shelter for a while, than to drift around with no employment. It is wonderful and it is cheering what headway an amiable, industrious and honorable young man can make in the confidence of all by a single month's department and conduct in any business. How soon he will make substantial friends. How soon he will have cash in his pocket. How full of rational promise the future. Don't stand outside the show window. Get in on any terms, and then by true manhood and with reliance on the Supreme Power, you will have all the advantages that youth, health and resolution require. Brace up; the battle is not even fought yet, much less lost.

A NEW FIELD FOR THE TYPEWRITER.

At the electrical exhibition now being held in this city a telegraph operator is taking dispatches direct from an ordinary sounder on a Remington type-writer. The advantages of this method are obvious. The "copy" taken in this way is much more legible than pen writing. The use of this machine enables the receiving operator to manifold the required number of copies, and the physical troubles engendered by the cramping and straining of the operator's hand in manifolding in the old way with the stylus are obviated.

THE LIME-KILN CLUB.

The speed, with which the type writer can run, reaching seventy-five or eighty words per minute, makes it possible to receive much more rapidly than by the present method. The ease with which the operator can do a given number of hours in this way is another point decidedly in its favor. The electric exhibition has done much to gain for the nineteenth century the name which has been more than once suggested. The inventions of Brush, Edison, Bell, Drayton and numerous other electricals—that of the "Age of Electricity."

DETROIT FREE PRESS.

If de Hon. Lycurgus Standoff in de hall to-night he will please step de way," observed Brother Gardner as the meeting opened with the thermometer marking 103 degrees above zero. The brother referred to laid down the half of a six-cent muskmelon and addressed to the platform with a look of mingled surprise and anxiety on his face.

"Bruder Standoff" said the president in a voice full of kindness, "you am an ambitious man. You hanker to be great an famous. You want to climb up. You spend hours preparin' speeches an' oder hours in deliberin' 'em befo' emigratory audiences. You lay on de grass an' read de Cassius. You lay on de grass an' read Brutus. While awake you hanker to be a member of de Legislative, an' in your sleep you dream of risin' to a pint of oder in de nex' congress. Lycurgus!"

THE STATE OF DAKOTA.

This is the only state that the next congress will be called upon to admit one or two states into the union made up of the territory of Dakota. Three states larger than Pennsylvania could be carved out of its 148,450 square miles. The growth of Dakota is without parallel in the history of the country. In 1880 only 4500 acres of land were sold in the territory. The building of the Northern Pacific railroad opened the way to it in 1882, and 4,000,000 acres were sold. During the year ending with June last 11,082,815 acres of land were taken up. A great deal of this land has gone into the hands of bona fide settlers; but a great deal has also gone into the hands of speculators. Laws intended by the Federal government to secure the lands to actual settlers are made the means of getting them into the hands of syndicates. The railroad land grants allfold largely into the hands of single holders. THE OMAHA BEE says the timber culture act has resulted in gigantic swindles. Cottonwood sprouts are being sold for timber, and contractors, who certify under oath to the tree planting required by the law, and this secure at a nominal expense great tracts of valuable land. The surveyed lands have been largely taken up by fraudulent representations under the pre-emption and timber-culture acts of congress. These large holdings in the hands of speculators will doubtless in good time act as a check to the marvelous growth of population in the territory; but its fruitful soil must prove for many years to come an inevitable attraction to immigrants. It is evident that one of the immediate needs of the territory is such intelligent self-government as will be insisted for themselves, if they had the opportunity. They have had enough of political and speculative mismanagement at the hands of outsiders who neither care for their material welfare nor understand their necessities.
