

THE DAILY BEE. COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Thursday Morning October 22

SUBSCRIPTION RATES. By Carrier... By Mail...

OFFICE: No. 7 Pearl Street, Near Broadway.

MINOR MENTION.

See J. Reiter's new fall stock of cloths Frank Long, arrested for being drunk and personating an officer, was discharged yesterday.

The funeral of Mrs. Clangersey took place at the Catholic church yesterday afternoon.

The alarm of fire on Bluff street last night was caused by the burning out of a chimney.

Permit to marry was yesterday granted to D. A. Arrowsmith, of Cedar Rapids, and Martha McCarty, of Weston.

There is at least a spurt in enforcing the cow ordinance. Fifteen cows and one horse were in the pound yesterday.

In the case of Coyle, charged with assault, the prosecuting witness was sworn yesterday, and after being examined the case was dismissed by Justice Abbott.

Pat Bodkins got so enthusiastic over meeting some old friends here that he had to plead guilty yesterday to taking a drop too much, and was assessed the regulation amount.

The Bavarian band with a goodly number of democrats started last night for Atlantic to join in the demonstration there last evening, taking their torches and transparencies with them and prepared for a hurrah.

James Donahoe got shot at Wm. Arndt & Son's store yesterday. He got a whole bag of it, worth about $1.50 and on pleading guilty to the larceny was sentenced by Justice Schultz to thirty days in jail.

One of THE BEE employes in making his rounds yesterday morning, found lying in the street a leather mail pouch, intended for the K. C. train, which ought to have gone out the night before. It had dropped out of the wagon, and had lain unnoticed all night.

A horse attached to a buggy and owned by Wheeler, took a dash from the St. Joe house on Main street to Broadway, where he was caught and stopped by a boy who boldly grabbed the horse by the head and was dragged thirty feet, but luckily escaped injury. The buggy was but slightly damaged.

Wm. C. Stewart, on being brought before Justice Schurz yesterday, declared that he did not know how he got drunk. He was stek and took one drink before breakfast and one afterwards. That was all he knew about it until he awoke in the police station, with no money and no hat. The judge kindly let him off for $7.00.

Those who have while living elsewhere got a few whiffs of "Floating Cloud," have made frequent hunts for it in this market, but in vain, until T. D. King & Co., the other day in getting in a large stock of J. G. Flint's best brands of smoking and chewing tobaccos, got some of the "Floating Cloud." It is one of the nicest tobaccos for cigarettes and the pipe that was ever made, and while those who have used it make a rush to get it again, it will also make friends with those to whom it is introduced.

Five boys, who form a sort of gang for general deviltry, have been causing much annoyance of late. Some of them were arrested for stealing shoes from George Blaxim's store. One of them, Thomas Brennan, aged about fifteen, was before Justice Vaughan yesterday and as it appeared clear that he was a sort of ringleader of the party, the justice concluded that instead of sending him to jail, he would take steps to have him placed in the reform school, in the hope of making a man of him.

The discussion about the fire protection of the city attracts attention to the condition of the two steamers now in the Rescue building. To an outside amateur in fire matters it appears that these costly engines are being allowed to accumulate dust and rust until they are shamefully dirty, and experts say that the Rescue steamer which is considered by far the better of the two, is of no use now and needs to be overhauled. Although this city has an excellent water-works protection, still the experience of other cities teaches that it is not safe to do away altogether with steamers. However this may be, so long as this city has two steamers they should be kept clean and in order.

The democratic town convention succeeded in making one of the strongest nominations for justice of the peace and one of the weakest. The strong one referred to is that of N. Schurz who by his official record for two years past has won the confidence of all, and who will get many republican votes. The weakest one is that of J. J. Frayne, who got the nomination by a scratch, and after months of hard work for the place, and who in the election cannot get there with any amount of work. The other nominations made yesterday were of average strength, and the whole presents a fair ticket. C. Wesley has already showed himself an excellent constable, and J. J. White and John Barhyte are citizens who outside from being democrats, and men the people would be warranted in supporting, if there were not equally good men nominated by the republicans.

City attorney Holmes expresses it as his opinion that Ald. James' seat in the council is already vacant, and that the council cannot proceed legally with business until steps are taken to fill the vacancy. Ald. Myster seems to differ with the city attorney. He generally does. It remains to be seen whether the aldermen will run the risk of perplexing litigation and cause the city trouble, expense, and perhaps heavy loss, for the simple purpose of indulging in some further child's play. The calling of a special election for the Fourth ward will give the people a chance to choose a new man, and that seems to worry some of the other aldermen, who fear that an honest man will be chosen who has been wit enough to see through schemes and grit enough to expose them. If the aldermen who are inclined to play football with the city's interest were sure that they could get a man after their own heart, they would be more inclined to act promptly in the matter.

THE TOWN TICKET.

The Democrats Fix It Up In Convention Yesterday.

The democratic township convention was held at the court house yesterday afternoon. George A. Holmes called the convention to order, and was made its chairman. George H. Jackson was chosen as secretary.

A committee of one from each ward was appointed on credentials, the chairmanship F. H. Guanella, William Lacy, F. W. Spelman and J. A. Churhill.

They reported the names of delegates as already published, which was concurred in.

On motion of Mr. Jackson the convention proceeded to nominate candidates for justices of the peace. W. R. Vaughan presented the name of A. L. Hendricks. Mr. Schoenigen presented the name of N. Schurz. Mr. Wm. Patton presented the name of J. J. Frayne. Mr. J. J. Stewart named A. Wheeler. Frank Granelle named H. Shoemaker. W. L. Biggs was also nominated by H. Nutt.

On motion of Wm. Lacy the convention proceeded to a formal ballot for justices, the three receiving the highest votes to be the nominees.

W. R. Vaughan and Wm. Lacy were chosen tellers.

The ballot resulted: Schurz 52, Hendricks 44, Frayne 27, Shoemaker 23, Biggs 12, Wheeler 6.

This made N. Schurz, A. L. Hendricks and J. J. Frayne the nominees for justices.

For constable Mr. Jackson nominated John Barhyte and moved that it be made unanimous by acclamation, but objection was made by W. R. Vaughan and others, who wanted a free show for the other army of candidates. E. R. Bates, C. Wesley, J. J. White, John Steffen, Sam Payne, C. Klein and John Barhyte were named. A formal ballot was taken as in the case of the justices. It resulted: Wesley 49, White 44, Barhyte 42, Bates 13, Klein 13, Steffen 5, Darrell 2, Payne 1. This made C. Wesley, J. J. White and John Barhyte the nominees.

A ballot was then taken on township clerk. A. Gans and Wm. Ritchie were named. The ballot resulted: Gans 43, Becker 5, Ritchie 5. Mr. Gans was declared the nominee.

For town trustee Mr. Robert Huntington was unanimously nominated.

For chairman of the township committee Mr. G. A. Holmes was chosen, and the convention adjourned.

THE DEADLY LANDSLIDE.

Two Men Buried Beneath the Dirt But Dug Out in Time to Save Life.

Yesterday another of those terrible landlides so common in the digging away of the bluffs occurred, and it was almost a miracle that two lives were not lost. Fred Klein and Chris Larsen were at work when a portion of the bluff began sliding. They were warned by a shout, and started to run, but were caught and pretty well buried. There were about 100 loads of dirt in the slide, and the distance was fully seventy feet, but the run saved the lives of the men, they being nearer the edge where the weight and depth of dirt was not so great.

When reached, Klein was completely covered, except one foot, and was buried head foremost. Quick work soon uncovered him, but his life was about gone. When brought to it was found that no bones were broken, but his spine was rather badly hurt. Larsen was buried all but the upper part of his head. He was also rescued, the only injury received by him being to one of his legs. The men had a close call indeed, but it is hoped that in a few days they will be able to be about again as usual.

AFTER THE MISSING MAN.

Morgan O'Brien Brought Back Home Again.

The mysterious disappearance of Morgan O'Brien has caused much anxiety among his many friends, and his family are nearly frantic. It being reported that he had been seen a few days ago in the woods in the vicinity of Mynster springs, the mayor called for volunteers on horseback to scour the woods, thinking that if even if no light was thrown on O'Brien's disappearance, the search would prove a comfort to the distressed family. The tapping of the fire bell yesterday forenoon was the signal to gather. Among those who met and started out on the search were, George Edgar, Joseph Kirk, William Galvin, Officer O'Brien, Conrad Lundendorfer, John Short, John Montgomery, William Highsmith, John Lawrence, Henry Harler, and M. Welsh, while William Mahoney and others went on foot over a portion of the ground.

The search seemed a fruitless one, and most of the riders had given up further search, when John Montgomery, who is a neighbor of O'Brien's, and who knows him well, was surprised at seeing him walking along the road. Montgomery greeted him, shook hands with him, and O'Brien in a dazed bewildered way, indicating that his mental condition was anything but right, told him he was going home. Montgomery went with him to O'Brien's house, No. 1149 Eighth avenue, where his arrival was welcomed with a joy that can be ill described. O'Brien appeared in a deplorable condition, mentally and physically, as a result of his ten days' wanderings. His clothing was torn, his feet sore with travel, and his face showed that he had been greatly exposed to the weather. He was unable to give any very clear account of where he had been. He said he went from here to Sioux City, and that from there he drove him twenty miles to Sioux City again, and from there he had come here. He seems to think that there is danger of his being hung, and that men are after him. Whether his insanity is a mere temporary ailment or not cannot at present be determined. O'Brien has been a very industrious, upright and sober citizen, kind to his family, and the only reason assigned for his disappearance is that of insanity, caused by an injury received some time ago while repairing a railway car.

PERSONAL.

Officer Town has returned from his trip and is on duty again.

A. J. Glas, of the Janesville, Wis., manufacturing company, was in the city yesterday on a flying trip.

Hon. W. H. H. Gable, of Osage, Iowa, member of the legislature from that county, was in the city yesterday.

Mr. George Blaxim, the popular Main street boot and shoe man, left last evening for Davenport on a brief visit to old friends.

J. G. Lusch, representing the boot and shoe manufactory of Cramer Bros., is in the city, and intends being here at the commercial men's gathering next week with a full line of samples.
