

COURTS AND CLIENTS. An Injunction Granted Against Contractor Breunau.

Peter Bogue Before the Police Tribunal for Defrauding His Partner. A quite important suit, involving the rights of abutting property owners on streets upon which paving improvements are being made, was instituted yesterday in the district court by Ben B. Wood, Frank Murphy, James M. Woolworth and William J. Connell against Ed. J. Breunau, contractor for the construction of the curbing and guttering on St. Mary's avenue.

The petition alleges that the contract for the construction of these improvements was entered into by the defendant, the plaintiff's further avers that the curbing and guttering was to be of Colorado sandstone on a sand base and to be three feet in width under the direction of the board of public works. As averred in the petition the defendant has constructed a curb and gutter on this avenue in some places six feet wide. On Tuesday evening he was ordered by the council to not build them in excess of three feet, but the petition filed yesterday alleged that he had excavated for a six-foot curb and gutter and was threatening to put them in.

The petition also alleges that a curb and gutter of this width is a practical paving of the street for three feet on each side, and that their cost is higher than Sioux Falls granite on a broken stone foundation. Another grievance is complained of in the fact that the property owners must pay for the guttering of intersections, while the cost of paving them comes out of the city. These plaintiffs appear for all property owners situated similarly with them, nine-tenths of whom they allege signed the petition to the city council. A temporary injunction was prayed for to restrain the defendant from constructing these improvements to an excess of three feet in width and was granted by the court.

Before Judge Wakeley the case of Brown against Edgerdon, begun Monday last, has not yet been given to the jury. In Judge Neville's court the suit of Geo. M. O'Brien, Jr., against Judge Gaal, involving the title to certain real estate in the city, was on trial the greater part of the day.

Before Judge Weas in the municipal tribunal the case of the state against Peter Bogue, charged with defrauding his partner, consumed the afternoon. It appears that the defendant and John Morris the complainant were partners in several building contracts. Bogue, it is charged, collected $1200, and did not account to his partner for the same. The defendant does not deny that that amount was collected by him, but sets up his disbursement of it to pay the debts of the firm. One claim of a certain lumber dealer in this city of $400 was testified to as being paid, but the creditor swore it had never been liquidated. Bogue is the party who several weeks ago was complained of by his partner to the police magistrate, was arrested, and afterward discharged without a trial on his appearing before Judge Beneke. It is said he was apprehended at the instance of his partner to prevent his spending the money at that time in his possession.

The case was taken under advisement by the court. Joseph Agee, a boy eleven years old, for throwing a brick at his companion, was arrested for an assault, and after being soundly lectured by the court was discharged. Julius Thiele, whose case for assault was down the calendar for yesterday, did not appear and was brought before the court on a capias.

A complaint was filed against one Peterson by V. E. Jensen, charging him with the larceny of a certificate of deposit for $15 on the Nebraska National bank and afterwards forging the complainant's name to obtain the money on the same. A warrant was issued on the complaint, but Peterson has as yet not been apprehended.

Smoke Seal of North Carolina Tobacco. A Reckless Team. Some horses have no regard for democratic parades and had just as soon run over a good staunch democrat as to do anything else. This was fully proven Tuesday night one of those teams without any respect for party lines ran away on Harney street while that thoroughbred was crowded with enthusiastic democrats down the street the team came at break neck speed, and the way the patriots did scatter was a caution to the oldest inhabitants. In their mad career the horses divided in twin brass bands, notwithstanding the fact that the tubs was blasting away right in their faces. In their flight they ran over two men, but luckily they were not seriously injured.

Colonel Chase's Case.

A number of prisoners were brought up in the district court yesterday to plead to the various indictments against them. After they had been remanded the district attorney said that Colonel Chase was present to plead to his indictment, as he had never been arraigned, but he would have him plead at some future time as he did not have the indictments in court. He said Colonel Chase's case will be the first one called next Monday.

Judge Neville said that for various reasons he had concluded not to try the case himself, if he could avoid it, and that Judge Wakeley had also declined on account of his long acquaintance with Colonel Chase, and that he had written two other judges in the state, one of whom had declined and the other had not yet answered. The judge said it was not at all probable that another judge could be procured until after election, owing to the condition of the dockets in the state.

John Patrick and the only sister of Mrs. Joseph Barker, of this city. Deceased was a native of Pennsylvania, having been born near Pittsburgh, May 10th, 1841. In 1862 she was married in this city and resided here until 1870, when she removed with her husband to Salt Lake City, where she remained until the time of her death. She came to Omaha from her native state in 1856, when but fourteen years of age. She was a beautiful girl and having a bright, winning disposition, she attracted many friends toward her, and during her years of residence here she did not make an enemy. Her death is mourned by a large circle of friends in Omaha. Her remains were buried in Salt Lake City Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock.

STACH.—In this city, October 22d, at 7:30 o'clock a. m., Frank Stach, Aged 40 years. Funeral will take place to-day, October 23d, at 2 o'clock p. m. in his late residence, corner of Fifteenth and Williams streets.

A Little Girl Run Over. Tuesday afternoon a little girl about eight years of age, whose name could not be learned, was run over at the corner of Sixteenth and Webster streets, by a heavy stone wagon.

The wagon was one with a low platform and as it was being driven down the street the little girl attempted to step upon the platform and missing her calculations she slipped and fell to the ground, the wagon passing over one of her limbs, causing a fracture of the bones between the ankle and knee. She was carried into Whitehouse's drug store and her wounds dressed.

Since writing the above it has been learned that the child's name was Callahan and that her parents live at the corner of Fourteenth and Webster streets, where she was taken from the drug store. New and elegant Neck Dressings for Men's Wear. Hudson's, Millard Hotel Block.

BUSY BURGLARS. They Start in the Cutlery Business in Good Shape.

E. T. Duke's and T. Sinitold's Hardware Stores Girted Tuesday Night. The season of burglaries has begun in good earnest and the busy crackmen are reaping a reaping rich reward for their labors. Almost daily depredations are reported and the losses range all the way from $10 up to $1,000. None of the gang have been apprehended and it don't seem as if they would be. The latest job was that of robbing

E. T. DUKE'S HARDWARE STORE Tuesday Mr. Duke's hardware store is on Douglas street, the second door west of Fourteenth, on the north side of the street. His store joins Connolly's liquor store in the rear, and the two are separated by a wooden partition, in which are a number of windows. The thieves got into Connolly's cellar and forced up a trap door into his store room. They went through Connolly's store, overhauling everything, but found nothing which they wanted. After this they broke a lot of glass out of the partition and went into the hardware store.

Upon entering the hardware store they paid their attention to the pocket knives, scissors and razors. They took all the goods from the boxes and dumped in the street some receptacles which they had for the purpose and left all the empty boxes lying upon the floor. They were very careful in their selections and refused to take any iron handled knives or those which were not fully up to the standard. One box contained six large dirk knives which open by touching a spring. The spring in one of these knives had been broken so that it would not work. They took the five which worked all right and left the disabled one.

The goods were all of Roger & Son's and Wostenhelm's make and were valuable, some of the knives being worth $20 per dozen at wholesale. Besides the cutlery, they carried off two overcoats which belonged to one of the clerks, and took about $15 which had been left in the till. They went through the drawers in the office desks but did not find anything which they cared to carry off. They must have taken a good deal of time to go through the stock and sort out just what they wanted.

Mr. Duke thinks his loss will come close to $1,000. He says he will give $100 or the recovery of the goods and will give $500 if the thieves can be arrested and sent to the penitentiary.

SINITOLD'S STORE ROBBERY. It seems that the burglars could not get knives enough at one hardware store, so they made a raid upon Mr. T. Sinitold's store on Thirteenth street, between Harney and Howard streets. Here they broke a window and gained an entrance to the tin shop, after which they broke another window giving them a way to get into the store. They pursued the same plan here as at Duke's. They emptied all the knives out of the boxes and left the boxes upon the floor. Mr. Sinitold's loss is between $150 and $200. No clue has been obtained to the thieves.

A FAST RIDER.

The Champion Long Distance Bicycle Rider in Omaha.

Announcement has been made that Mlle. Louise Armatino, the champion long distance bicycle rider of America, will ride a ten mile race at the Athletic park on Sunday next, against two fast race horses. There has been considerable talk in sporting circles about the coming event and not a few bets have been made. Miss Armatino arrived in Omaha Sunday and is quartered at the Metropolitan hotel, where she was seen by a Bee reporter yesterday. She is a French Canadian and her English is somewhat crude, and hence she converses quite slowly. She is about five feet four inches in height and of a very solid and plump build. Her hair is brown, her eyes light and her general appearance that of a country girl. She weighs at present 139 pounds.

She says that she has been engaged in bicycle riding only about three years but has succeeded in riding 100 miles in six and one quarter hours without dismounting. In San Francisco a short time since she rode 107 1/2 miles in 72 hours. She rides a 50 inch wheel, which weighs 35 pounds. She expects a new machine here this week with a 50-inch wheel and which will weigh only 22 pounds.

She was asked how quickly she would ride the ten mile race next Sunday and said that she might ride it in 32 minutes. It being all according to how hard she is pressed. She is confident that she can and will beat the horses.

Before she began to ride a bicycle she was an athlete and used to throw a 68 pound cannon ball, perform on the horizontal bar, and do some wonderful feats upon the trapeze.

Arrest of a Famous Man.

Constable Edgerdon returned Tuesday morning from Banwick, Iowa, with a man, Johnathan Butler, of Fairmount, Fillmore county, this state. The man Butler was arrested by a requisition on a warrant sworn out by Patton & Gilliguard. His crime was the transfer of property to defraud his creditors. The law is one passed in 1883, and this is the first arrest and will be the first case under the new law. The sum involved is about $400. Butler having bought goods to that amount and then, it is claimed, leaving the state without paying therefor. The case is of interest from the fact that it is rather a test of the new law. The penalty is the same as for larceny of the same property. Butler will be taken to Fairmount for trial Thursday morning.

The credentials shall also state time and place of holding such meeting. No wards or precincts will be entitled to representation, as it is desired that nothing but a true labor representation shall be present. All meetings to elect delegates shall be published in the city press and be held at least twenty-four hours prior to the convening of the convention, and electing a new central committee.
