

ROBBED WHILE ASLEEP.

An Old Man Falls Asleep in a Saloon and is Robbed of His Valuables.

Yesterday morning a man named Gustave Tuttle, was robbed in the back room of Schultz's saloon, corner of Twelfth and Dodge streets.

He had been drinking heavily all night and yesterday morning about 7 o'clock went into the room in the rear of the saloon and went to sleep. In the same room sat a man whose name could not be learned. Shortly after the old man fell asleep the stranger was seen to get up and leave the place.

A short time after the stranger had left, a friend of Tuttle's entered, and noticed that his watch and chain had been taken. He awakened the old man, who upon going through his pockets, discovered that he had been robbed, not only of his watch and chain, but also of his pocketbook which contained $10.

The police were at once notified and officers Moxton and O'Boyle were detailed to look up the matter. The empty pocketbook was found on the street, but the man who is supposed to have committed the crime had made good his escape and has not been found. It is supposed he skipped over into Iowa.

The watch was a silver one and valued at about $20. The old gentleman who was robbed resides on Farnham street just west of the city limits.

AN EMBEZZLER.

Harry Fear Arrested for Embezzling Funds from the U. P. Meat Market.

Until recently Harry Fear has been engaged as driver of a delivery wagon for the U. P. meat market, on Sixteenth street. A few days since he collected something over $200 from the customers of the market, to whom he was delivering meat, and skipped out with the funds. He remained away until Monday when he returned, doubtless intending to secure his clothing, which he had left behind, and again take his departure.

In this scheme he was foiled for Chas. H. How, the block watchman, was on the lookout for Fear, and when he put in an appearance he was quickly gobbled up and marched off to jail.

Edward Kyppig, manager of the market for Mrs. Aust, filed a complaint against Fear, charging him with embezzlement. He is now held awaiting examination.
