COUNCIL BLUFFS.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES. Weekly per week By Mail - - - - - $1.00 per year

OFFICE: No. 7 Pearl Street, Near Broadway.

MINOR MENTION.

See J. Reiter's new fall stock of cloth. The Phoenix is placing a fountain in its front window.

A delegation of republicans with the Bavarian band went to Avoca last evening.

The ladies were drilling in Masonic hall yesterday preparatory to joining in the parade to-night.

Chinese lanterns are in demand, and the supply is running short, owing to the demand for to-night.

Permit to wed was yesterday granted Herman Jonferman and Christiana Baumker, both of Neola.

J. Degenhart, of this city, has bought the harness business of H. T. Richmond, at M. Iver, and will take up his residence there.

The young folks' society of the Methodist church met at the residence of E. S. Barnett, on South Madison street, last evening.

A band of the Council Bluffs Y. M. C. A. went to Omaha last evening to attend the monthly meeting of the association of the two cities.

There are now thirty-one prisoners in the county jail, and it takes sharp watching to keep them from crawling out of the numerous cracks.

ATTENTION.—All persons looking or low prices will find them at Seaman's closing out sale where all goods are sold at a great reduction.

There was a lively brook throwing racket on Pierce street yesterday, some of the girls of "rotten row" making a target of a woman living near by.

There was a good deal of window washing yesterday preparatory to having the candles shine out on the marching torch-bearers this evening.

Dr. Jeffries commenced suit yesterday against the Chicago and Rock Island road, claiming $1,000 for damages caused to his house by the dynamite explosion three years ago.

The democratic party paper even does not seem disposed to enthuse over Trainey as justice. The care with which it avoids complimenting or endorsing him is noticeable.

Those who contributed to the expenses of the commercial men's gathering are the ones who can most appropriately criticize the management and success. Others are naturally barred.

Jack Schop, who keeps the Lower hotel, was arrested and placed in jail yesterday on a charge of assaulting his wife with intent to kill her. The woman was not seriously injured in the domestic outbreak.

There was only one old wind-broken horse in the city pound yesterday. It is about time to make the monthly charge. Put up a new pound, and hire somebody to drive in a few of the many bovine vagrants.

There is a bad hole at the corner of Third street and Ninth avenue, which bothers teams badly, and wagons pass over the sidewalk instead of being kept in the street. A few wagons of dirt would remedy the trouble.

The largest, most varied, and most elegant line of samples of ball programmes ever seen in Council Bluffs have been received in Pryor's BEE job office. They vary in price, from $2 up to $50 a hundred. Call and see them.

In the case of Ryan, charged with assaulting Detective Fero, the jury could not agree, and a new trial is to be had before Justice Schurz, November 8. The case against Fero, growing out of the same affair, has also been continued to the same day.

A fellow giving his name as Pat Kelley was brandishing a razor in Lucy's place, and Officer Towns was called to arrest him. The officer and Kelley had quite a wrestle, but Kelley was taken in, and yesterday was let off with a fine for disturbing the peace.

Lillian A. Lester has commenced proceedings for a divorce from James M. Lester, to whom she avows she was married in this city January 15th, 1881, and who deserted her in July, 1882. She wants the custody of their only child, who is 11 years of age, and the right to resume her maiden name, Lillian A. Ramsey.

The marriage of Dr. J. M. Barstow and Miss Carrie M. Shepard took place at the residence of the bride's parents on Sixth avenue, Wednesday evening. Only a few intimate friends and the relatives were present. The young couple have many friends in this city, and the wishes of joy are as hearty and honest as they are numerous.

The man Flagley, who left his wife and children here last Monday, returned yesterday. He says he went over to Omaha to see if he could not get work, and failing, concluded to come back. He found work here yesterday, and will now probably be able to provide for his family, who have been making the police headquarters their abiding place during his absence.

The average contractors say that the reason they have left the dirt piled over the ditches on Lower Broadway is that they are putting in the wing sewers, and so soon as these can be connected they will flood the whole side of the street at once, and thus settle the dirt. This will probably be done to-morrow, and possibly this afternoon.

The Messrs. Stewarts, of the Broadway music house, yesterday received a communication in regard to Fanny Bloomfield, the pianiste. It is stated preparations for a grand piano recital by this celebrated pianiste is being arranged to take place here about Christmas. She is expected to give ten of these recitals in the west, one of which may take place here at the opera house.

Three young men, T. J. Reynolds, Anthony Otto and F. L. Reynolds, were eyed with some suspicion as they were sauntering about the city, were at last arrested for beating Taylor's restaurant out of a meal. They claimed to be from Cedar Rapids, and that they belonged to "a detective association." Two of them had stars. They were locked up in the county jail, where they will have a good chance to get "pointers."

Those whose curiosity causes them to rush after an officer when a prisoner is being taken to jail, and who are so anxious to find out what the trouble is, should bear in mind that their curiosity may prove expensive. The new city ordinance provides that those thus following an officer are liable to be fined to the extent of $25. Money would be more satisfactorily expended in buying the next morning's BEE and thus learning what the matter was, instead of paying fines.

The democratic city marshal was very prompt in giving public notice to have all boxes and other obstructions removed from the sidewalks, preparatory to the democratic parade. He forgot all about taking any such precautions for the republican parade to-night. He probably thought the democrats would take up the whole of the sidewalk, but that the republicans were more sober-minded and would not get more anti-prohibition on board than they could carry and carry straight.

One of the Shaughraun company lost his pocketbook in coming from Omaha here. It was a red book, bearing his initials, and containing papers and pictures, valuable only to him. While at the opera house a boy told him that a railway man outside had his pocketbook, and he gave the boy a dollar to reward the finder, the boy promising to bring back the book. He failed to appear again. The chief of police is now appealed to, and the finder of the book had better interview Skinner with promptness.

The most stupid showing of stupid journalism is the charge made by the Nonpareil that Pusey and Baldwin want to get the bridge bill passed by congress so that they can make a barrel of money. Why, bless her dear old heart, the bridge bill was passed long ago. The old lady must have been in one of her moods to have overlooked so important an event. All that remains to be done is to build the bridge, and if Pusey and Baldwin see any money in it they can go ahead, whether Pusey gets into congress or not. A big majority of Council Bluffs wish that somebody would see money enough in it to build it, for it would help the city greatly.

The dear old lady now snivels about Pusey and Baldwin having a scheme to get another bridge built between here and Omaha, by which they would make several millions or billions of dollars. She must think the readers of her scrap basket are fools. A bill has already been passed providing for a combined wagon and railroad bridge, and its passage was urged by many prominent citizens of both political parties. When the campaign opened Col. Sapp feared that Pusey would take to himself the glory of having got the bill through, and in a public speech showed that Pusey had done little to secure its passage, and stoutly avowed that the bridge would be built, and by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway company. The Nonpareil has always opposed any and all bridge enterprises, but not so with the people, and the attempt to drag the enterprise into the political arena would only be attempted by an old lady in her dotage. The fact is that a wagon bridge is wanted, and wanted badly, and the Nonpareil is urging the people to vote for Lyman because he will oppose the bridge enterprise, and vote against Pusey because he will encourage the bridge enterprise. It will make votes for Pusey, because a large majority of the people are anxious to have another bridge, but the fact is that the bridge is not now a political issue, and the bill has already passed.

Closing Out. To close the business I offer my stock of miscellaneous books, picture, fancy goods, notions, fire screens, casses, willow and cane high chairs and children's rockers, at prices never known before in the west. H. E. Seaman, paper, books and stationery, 504 Broadway, Council Bluffs.

THE RALLY.

The Republicans' Plan for To-Night's Grand Demonstration.

The Delegations Expected from Other Towns and the Line of March.

There is a great deal of enthusiasm about the republican rally to be held here to-night, and if the weather proves favorable Council Bluffs will have one of the largest gatherings, and greatest parades ever seen in this part of the west. The local arrangements are very extensive and elaborate, and the visitors may rest assured that they will be cordially received and hospitably cared for.

Omaha is expected to send over at least 1,200 torch-bearers. C. O. Howard, of the young men's republican club, writes T. J. Evans that that club will send over two companies, one hundred strong of uniformed and thoroughly drilled men. They will form crosses, hollow squares, triangles, the letters "B" and "L," besides executing regular army movements. The Union Pacific band will accompany them.

The buildings throughout the city are to be decorated and illuminated, and the display will not be confined to one locality or to the central part of the city, but will extend in all directions.

The following are the estimated numbers to arrive on the different roads: Chicago & Northwestern—Audubon 200, Jefferson 100, Carroll 250, Vail 100, Westside 150, Dunlap 250, Woodbine 200, Logan 300, Missouri Valley 300, Onawa 100, Whiting 50, Mondamin 50, Little Sioux 50, and small towns and scattering 200. Total 2,400.

Chicago & Rock Island—Stuart 100, Wista 100, Casey 50, Atlantic 400, Lewis 100, Griswald 100, Extrahard 200, Marne 100, Walnut 200, Avoca 350, Harlan 300, Oakland 200, Carson 150, Hancock 150, Shelby 150. Total 2,650.

Milwaukee & St. Paul—Neola 300, Peria 100, Portsmouth 50, Panama 50, Earlring 75, Defiance 50, Dedham 50, Coon Rapids 50, Underwood 50. Total 775.

Burlington—By special train: Creston 200, Corning 100, Villisca 100, Clarinda 100, Stanton 50, Red Oak 400, Emerson 100, Hastings 50, Macedonia 200, Henderson, Clark and Sidney 200, Hillsdale 50, Glenwood 300. Total 1,850.

Wabash—Bianchard 50, Coin 50, Bingham 50, Shenandoah 250, Imogene 50, Strand, Solomon and Lawrence 50, Malvern 250, Silver City 50. Total 800.

Kansas City—Hamburg 100, Percival Bartlett and Pacific Junction 100. Total 200.

Besides these 1200 are expected from Omaha and 100 from Fremont. Such are the figures put forth by the managers of this affair. If these figures are reached it will make 10,000 torches in line, beside those from Council Bluffs. It is not probable that any such number will be reached, but if it comes anywhere near the estimate the demonstration will be a huge one. The democrats figured on 5,000 and got 2,500. The republicans expect between 10,000 and 12,000, and if they do better in proportion than the democrats they will get out 5,000 to 5,000 surely.

One of the novel features of the parade will be the presence of lady brigades. It is expected that there will be four brigades of this kind. As for music, the managers count on having thirty-seven brass bands and nine martial bands.

The visitors will be served with coffee and sandwiches as they march along. David Mottaz by a canvas along Sixth and Seventh avenues alone has secured 2,500 sandwiches. Smith & Loecke have orders for 5,000, and other plans are made so that all will be amply supplied.

The following lines of march will be strictly carried out during the grand republican parade to-morrow evening: First Division—Pearl street, right resting on Fifth avenue, west on Fifth avenue to Seventh street, north on Seventh street to Willow avenue, Willow avenue to Sixth street, north on Sixth street to Broadway, east on Broadway to Madison street, north on Madison street to Washington avenue, west on Washington avenue to Main street, south on Main street to Broadway, and east on Broadway to Bancroft street.

Second Division—From Broadway south on Ninth street to Third avenue, east on Third avenue to Eighth street, south on Eighth street to Sixth avenue, east on Sixth avenue to Main street, north on Main street to Broadway, east on Broadway to Madison street, from Madison street on Broadway to Pearl street, Pearl street to Fifth avenue.

Third division—From C. R. I. & P. depot north on Main street to North street, on North street to Bluff street, north on Bluff street to Willow avenue, west on Willow avenue to Bancroft street, south on Bancroft street to Sixth avenue, west on Sixth avenue to Main street, north on Main street to Broadway, east on Broadway to First avenue, and counter march on Broadway to Bancroft street.

All citizens residing on the above line of march, all business houses along the same, and the rear houses to the corners of intersecting streets, are respectfully requested to illuminate their buildings and decorate their grounds.
