

ANOTHER CATASTROPHE.

A Switch Engine of the B. & M. Jumps the Track.

And Death Results to Wilson, the Engineer, and Malin, the Fireman.

Another one was last night added to the long series of railroad accidents which of late have been frequent along the lines in this state...

At about 11 o'clock last night the people of the city were startled by numerous shrill railroad whistles and the thought of fire near the depot instinctively followed.

It was soon reported, however, that an accident had taken place near the U. P. bridge, and upon going to that place the scene of death was discovered.

It appears from information given by the men employed about the B. & M. yards that the pony engine No. 96...

The train thus made up started out from the lower yard on the main line for Gibson station.

When immediately beneath the Union Pacific bridge, and going at a rate not to exceed ten miles an hour...

The engine was thrown from the track with the cars and the engine and fireman both killed.

As to the cause of the accident there seems to be a difference of opinion. A few say it was caused by a misplaced switch.

The plausible and probable theory seems to be that it resulted from several causes. The main track upon which the train was running at the time...

The running of cars and engine at a reasonable rate of speed even would create a great pressure against the rails...

Es soon as the whistles were heard the switchmen and those about the depot ran down to the scene of the accident.

The engine was found just north of the U. P. bridge with her pilot turned directly toward the east...

It was found that the engine was on the right side of the engine, and was found fouled into a heap on her left, below the cab window.

When found he was lifeless. The work of extricating his body from the wreck was done by the use of axes...

After the engine was extricated from the wreck it was found that the boiler was cracked in several places.

The bodies were taken out, and laid face upwards upon the sand and their coats thrown over them.

After a couple of hours the bodies were brought from a new building close by and the bodies laid upon them.

The fireman was found to be crushed about the breast and, as it appeared, he was caught between the boiler head and the tender.

The fireman was principally injured about the breast and abdomen, but it is thought the occasion of his death was the escaping steam.

The unfortunate men were C. M. Wilson, the engineer, and D. B. Malin, the fireman.

The former lived at Fifth and Division streets and leaves a wife who has been confined to her bed by sickness for the last three months.

The fireman was also a man of family, leaving a wife and one child about three months old.

Malin had been married about fifteen months and resided at Fourth and Walnut streets.

Both were young men not over thirty-five years of age. Up to 2:30 this morning their families had not been notified of the mournful news...

The coroner was notified of the accident, but had not arrived at the scene of death at 5 o'clock this morning.

The trial courts. Gaslin vs. O'Brien Concluded. The Liquor Vendors Before Judge.

Wilson vs. Brown's Complaints. In the district court yesterday afternoon the case of Gaslin against O'Brien...

After a trial of four days reached a conclusion in a verdict for the plaintiff. This finding of the jury if it be sustained by the court of last resort...

The case of Wilson vs. Brown's complaints was also concluded. The jury found for the plaintiff and awarded him $2,000.

The trial of Gaslin vs. O'Brien was held in the district court. The jury found in favor of the plaintiff and awarded him $5,000.

The case of Wilson vs. Brown's complaints was heard in the district court. The jury found for the plaintiff and awarded him $2,000.

The trial of Gaslin vs. O'Brien was held in the district court. The jury found in favor of the plaintiff and awarded him $5,000.

The case of Wilson vs. Brown's complaints was heard in the district court. The jury found for the plaintiff and awarded him $2,000.

The trial of Gaslin vs. O'Brien was held in the district court. The jury found in favor of the plaintiff and awarded him $5,000.

The case of Wilson vs. Brown's complaints was heard in the district court. The jury found for the plaintiff and awarded him $2,000.

The trial of Gaslin vs. O'Brien was held in the district court. The jury found in favor of the plaintiff and awarded him $5,000.

The case of Wilson vs. Brown's complaints was heard in the district court. The jury found for the plaintiff and awarded him $2,000.

pends about twenty acres more whose title it has been agreed by the parties to this cause shall stand or fall with that of the ten acres. The title relied upon by the plaintiff to sustain his action...

Before Judge Wakeley the case of Dodge against the Omaha & Southwestern railway company was being tried to the court. This case involves the title to the lot upon which the B. & M. depot now stands.

The trio of liquor vendors, Tom Galan, Rasmus Rasmussen and George Geisler were brought before Judge Weiss yesterday afternoon on warrants issued on complaints sworn out by the city marshal.

Elio Taylor, the woman charged with an assault and battery upon the Dispatch reporter, was fined $15 and costs, which she paid.

Complaints by George S. Brown were lodged against Lizzie Howard for receiving stolen goods, and against Charles Tracy and Art McCoy for their larceny.

Es soon as the whistles were heard the switchmen and those about the depot ran down to the scene of the accident. The engine was found just north of the U. P. bridge with her pilot turned directly toward the east...

The bodies were taken out, and laid face upwards upon the sand and their coats thrown over them. After a couple of hours the bodies were brought from a new building close by...

The fireman was found to be crushed about the breast and, as it appeared, he was caught between the boiler head and the tender. The fireman was principally injured about the breast and abdomen...

The unfortunate men were C. M. Wilson, the engineer, and D. B. Malin, the fireman. The former lived at Fifth and Division streets and leaves a wife who has been confined to her bed by sickness for the last three months.

The fireman was also a man of family, leaving a wife and one child about three months old. Malin had been married about fifteen months and resided at Fourth and Walnut streets.

Both were young men not over thirty-five years of age. Up to 2:30 this morning their families had not been notified of the mournful news which sooner or later must be imparted to them...

The coroner was notified of the accident, but had not arrived at the scene of death at 5 o'clock this morning. The trial courts. Gaslin vs. O'Brien Concluded.

COUNCIL BLUFFS.

BLAZING FOR BLAINE.

The residence streets throughout the city were a blaze of light, and most brilliantly illuminated and decorated with great taste.

By 7 o'clock the incoming trains had poured in the visitors and the streets were soon filled with torches and the parade took place.

The first division was under command of Col. Lindt. It consisted of the Bavarian band, the young men's club of this city, McFadden's martial band...

Beside the music of the bands there was a tree full of balls and numerous horns. In passing Mayor Lyman's house there were a few cheers and fireworks.

The second division under command of H. H. Field, consisted of the Omaha delegation 650 strong, headed by the U. P. band and Col. Smythe's drum corps.

They bore the transparencies of the Omaha Young Republican club, with its seventy men made as handsome an appearance as any in the line.

Under the transparency was a large red, white and blue ball, which was kept rapidly revolving. The had forty flambeaux and 300 men in line.

The third division under the command of Capt. Cooper, Avoca with a band under Capt. Consequoy, then Emerson, then Atlantic with a band, then delegations and bands from Extra, Minden, Defiance, Wiota, Harlan, Grant, Nevada besides the marching party...

There were a few cheers and fireworks. The parade was well attended and the city was brilliantly illuminated.

Two weeks ago the Buzzard printed the following article in the Register. It is reprinted here for the benefit of our readers.

"The convention that nominated Ephraim Guano Brown a short time ago, thinking that the people at home would forthwith endorse his action and rally around the deceased duck and soiled dove, Brown, had better go and soak his three-cornered head.

It is in the hands of the sheriff and toting on its feet, he might have been more easily whiped into the party traces; but to-day, in the full sunlight of prosperity, with the tax-list printing for this fall, with the encouragement of our paid subscribers and another man, we come out boldly and bolt the nomination!

"Who was it that twenty-three years ago sold the remains of his mother-in-law to a cleomegarian emporium, and now has the audacity to come before the people and ask for the suffrages of his fellow citizens? These are solemn questions which the Buzzard proposes to propound from now on till election day.

"How are we to protect the purity of our American institutions if we permit the election of a social pus cavity like Ephraim G. Brown? How could we look foreign powers in the face when they joked us in broken English about our cleomegarianism, and answeredly asked us whether we were making it this season moistly or without mother-in-law in it?

"It is time that a free press and a free pulpit and a free people should arise and jerk Mr. Brown baldheaded. This is not a fight between parties. It is a fight for principle. Let this atrocious fact splash around lonely and desolate in his fermented brain. The opinion of the Buzzard cannot be fought.

When we are so lost to all honor that our support can be bought by a horse kleptomaniac whose life is in the hands of a disorganized and incompetent vigilance committee we will forward a stated bid to Brown, the alleged human being. Brown, the hipped blot on the face of nature; Brown, the social wart; Brown, the political excrescence; Brown, the accidental incubus of the country in which he lives.

Until there, with the first and four lines letters of living light, we will proclaim through these pages that our ballot and our latest breath are dedicated to the joyous task of busting Brown. And should this announcement catch the eye of Brown, and should Brown demur to any of the sentiments which we have expressed in this article, we care for him not a fig.

Whereas on the 4th day of November, 1884, occurred the important election of a president, vice-president, congressman, state, county and township officers, and as good order should be desired by all patriotic law-abiding, honorable citizens that a full and honest vote can be intelligently polled, and recognizing the fact that the name and reputation of our city is of more importance than the election or defeat of any special candidate, and fully realizing the responsibility resting on me to see that the people's rights are fully protected, therefore I have ordered the chief of police to select five competent special policemen, regardless of their political ideas, for each voting place, or a total of twenty special men, and I have also ordered him to secure five light express wagons with reliable drivers, to be used along for police duties, to wit: Taking prisoners to jail and conveying police to places where they are needed.

One of the regular policemen will be placed in charge of each set of special men, in fact the department will be full of constabulary to preserve the best of order. It is my further order that every saloon, or place where beer, wine, whisky, etc., is claimed to be for sale, that all of such places must close their front and back doors, and must not sell anything that is intoxicating from 5 a. m. to 8 p. m. on November 4, 1884, and any policeman who fails to see this order obeyed, or neglects to arrest any person drinking liquor in the street, or in any manner refuses to see that the ordinances of our city are fully complied with, such police officer will be immediately discharged from the force.

W. R. VAUGHAN, Mayor, November 1, 1884.

CRIMES AND CASUALTIES. A Youthful Delinquent. Chicago, October 31.—J. J. Ballie 20 years old, book keeper for the National Bank of America, was discharged two weeks ago. The officers of the bank now claim to have discovered a deficiency of six thousand dollars in Ballie's accounts and will cause his arrest.

Killed with a Base Ball Bat. Taylorville, Ill., October 31.—Eugene Dorner tonight killed Leroy Hunter, a respected citizen, with a baseball bat. Hunter was carrying a torch in a political procession and unintentionally lowered it till it touched Dorner.

JAMES N. MATTHEWS. The Washington Evening Star's special from Buffalo gives an interview with Mr. James N. Matthews, editor of the Buffalo Express, in which he says:

"I am very hopeful that Mr. Blaine will carry the state. I think he will have a majority of from 25,000 to 50,000. I will be more surprised if it goes below 30,000 than above 50,000. I have no figures on the probable independent vote in Buffalo, but an satisfied it will be small. The claim of the independent committee that they have 90,000 names enrolled in the state is like the declaration of some young men here that they would get 40,000 prominent Buffalo Republicans to sign a paper vindicating Cleveland's character.

Private advices from Kentucky are to the effect that it has been recently discovered that the leaders of the prohibition movement are in collusion with the democrats, and that the money necessary to conduct the prohibitory campaign in Erie county is supplied by the democratic county committee and by democratic candidates for county and district offices. It is believed that two-thirds of those who vote for St. John there are today but fifteen, and it is believed that two-thirds of those who vote for the republicans here before next Tuesday.

ENGLAND AND THE VATICAN. THE TROUBLE OVER BISHOP O'FARRELL'S ALLEGED STATEMENT. ROME, October 31.—It is officially promulgated from the Vatican that the Pope never mentioned to Bishop O'Farrell, of Trenton, United States, that he desired that Ireland should be freed from the rule of the English government.

BISHOP O'FARRELL'S DENIAL. TRENTON, N. J., October 31.—Bishop O'Farrell says that he has no calligram from the Pope such as announced in the dispatch from Rome to-day. The Bishop says that he does not expect any such message, as the Pope knows he has been misrepresented and did not say what he was reported to have said in his address Sunday.

Cholera in India. MADRAS, October 31.—An unusually fatal outbreak of cholera has occurred here, which is aggravated by the difficulty of procuring provisions, as the terror-stricken villagers refuse to bring to the city the customary supply.

The Commons. LONDON, October 31.—The commons this evening were mainly occupied by a discussion of the merits of fair trade in iron trade. In the discussion it was stated that complaints were made that rents were diminishing everywhere and capital leaving England for present investment in "protected" countries. English trade has suffered from foreign countries and protective duties. Melver's amendment to the address greeting the speech from the throne, contains no reference to the agricultural and commercial depression of the country and was rejected 85 to 67.

Cleveland's Plans. ALBANY, N. Y., October 31.—Governor Cleveland and party arrived here from Connecticut at 9:45 this morning. The governor announced his executive duties. Tomorrow he goes to New York to review the business men's parades. He goes to Buffalo Monday and returns to Albany Tuesday night.

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE-SATURDAY NOVEMBER 1, 1884.

BLAZING FOR BLAINE.

The residence streets throughout the city were a blaze of light, and most brilliantly illuminated and decorated with great taste.

By 7 o'clock the incoming trains had poured in the visitors and the streets were soon filled with torches and the parade took place.

The first division was under command of Col. Lindt. It consisted of the Bavarian band, the young men's club of this city, McFadden's martial band...

Beside the music of the bands there was a tree full of balls and numerous horns. In passing Mayor Lyman's house there were a few cheers and fireworks.

The second division under command of H. H. Field, consisted of the Omaha delegation 650 strong, headed by the U. P. band and Col. Smythe's drum corps.

They bore the transparencies of the Omaha Young Republican club, with its seventy men made as handsome an appearance as any in the line.

Under the transparency was a large red, white and blue ball, which was kept rapidly revolving. The had forty flambeaux and 300 men in line.

The third division under the command of Capt. Cooper, Avoca with a band under Capt. Consequoy, then Emerson, then Atlantic with a band, then delegations and bands from Extra, Minden, Defiance, Wiota, Harlan, Grant, Nevada besides the marching party...

There were a few cheers and fireworks. The parade was well attended and the city was brilliantly illuminated.

Two weeks ago the Buzzard printed the following article in the Register. It is reprinted here for the benefit of our readers.

"The convention that nominated Ephraim Guano Brown a short time ago, thinking that the people at home would forthwith endorse his action and rally around the deceased duck and soiled dove, Brown, had better go and soak his three-cornered head.

It is in the hands of the sheriff and toting on its feet, he might have been more easily whiped into the party traces; but to-day, in the full sunlight of prosperity, with the tax-list printing for this fall, with the encouragement of our paid subscribers and another man, we come out boldly and bolt the nomination!

"Who was it that twenty-three years ago sold the remains of his mother-in-law to a cleomegarian emporium, and now has the audacity to come before the people and ask for the suffrages of his fellow citizens? These are solemn questions which the Buzzard proposes to propound from now on till election day.

"How are we to protect the purity of our American institutions if we permit the election of a social pus cavity like Ephraim G. Brown? How could we look foreign powers in the face when they joked us in broken English about our cleomegarianism, and answeredly asked us whether we were making it this season moistly or without mother-in-law in it?

"It is time that a free press and a free pulpit and a free people should arise and jerk Mr. Brown baldheaded. This is not a fight between parties. It is a fight for principle. Let this atrocious fact splash around lonely and desolate in his fermented brain. The opinion of the Buzzard cannot be fought.

When we are so lost to all honor that our support can be bought by a horse kleptomaniac whose life is in the hands of a disorganized and incompetent vigilance committee we will forward a stated bid to Brown, the alleged human being. Brown, the hipped blot on the face of nature; Brown, the social wart; Brown, the political excrescence; Brown, the accidental incubus of the country in which he lives.

Until there, with the first and four lines letters of living light, we will proclaim through these pages that our ballot and our latest breath are dedicated to the joyous task of busting Brown. And should this announcement catch the eye of Brown, and should Brown demur to any of the sentiments which we have expressed in this article, we care for him not a fig.

Whereas on the 4th day of November, 1884, occurred the important election of a president, vice-president, congressman, state, county and township officers, and as good order should be desired by all patriotic law-abiding, honorable citizens that a full and honest vote can be intelligently polled, and recognizing the fact that the name and reputation of our city is of more importance than the election or defeat of any special candidate, and fully realizing the responsibility resting on me to see that the people's rights are fully protected, therefore I have ordered the chief of police to select five competent special policemen, regardless of their political ideas, for each voting place, or a total of twenty special men, and I have also ordered him to secure five light express wagons with reliable drivers, to be used along for police duties, to wit: Taking prisoners to jail and conveying police to places where they are needed.

One of the regular policemen will be placed in charge of each set of special men, in fact the department will be full of constabulary to preserve the best of order. It is my further order that every saloon, or place where beer, wine, whisky, etc., is claimed to be for sale, that all of such places must close their front and back doors, and must not sell anything that is intoxicating from 5 a. m. to 8 p. m. on November 4, 1884, and any policeman who fails to see this order obeyed, or neglects to arrest any person drinking liquor in the street, or in any manner refuses to see that the ordinances of our city are fully complied with, such police officer will be immediately discharged from the force.

W. R. VAUGHAN, Mayor, November 1, 1884.

CRIMES AND CASUALTIES. A Youthful Delinquent. Chicago, October 31.—J. J. Ballie 20 years old, book keeper for the National Bank of America, was discharged two weeks ago. The officers of the bank now claim to have discovered a deficiency of six thousand dollars in Ballie's accounts and will cause his arrest.

Killed with a Base Ball Bat. Taylorville, Ill., October 31.—Eugene Dorner tonight killed Leroy Hunter, a respected citizen, with a baseball bat. Hunter was carrying a torch in a political procession and unintentionally lowered it till it touched Dorner.

JAMES N. MATTHEWS. The Washington Evening Star's special from Buffalo gives an interview with Mr. James N. Matthews, editor of the Buffalo Express, in which he says:

"I am very hopeful that Mr. Blaine will carry the state. I think he will have a majority of from 25,000 to 50,000. I will be more surprised if it goes below 30,000 than above 50,000. I have no figures on the probable independent vote in Buffalo, but an satisfied it will be small. The claim of the independent committee that they have 90,000 names enrolled in the state is like the declaration of some young men here that they would get 40,000 prominent Buffalo Republicans to sign a paper vindicating Cleveland's character.

Private advices from Kentucky are to the effect that it has been recently discovered that the leaders of the prohibition movement are in collusion with the democrats, and that the money necessary to conduct the prohibitory campaign in Erie county is supplied by the democratic county committee and by democratic candidates for county and district offices. It is believed that two-thirds of those who vote for St. John there are today but fifteen, and it is believed that two-thirds of those who vote for the republicans here before next Tuesday.

ENGLAND AND THE VATICAN. THE TROUBLE OVER BISHOP O'FARRELL'S ALLEGED STATEMENT. ROME, October 31.—It is officially promulgated from the Vatican that the Pope never mentioned to Bishop O'Farrell, of Trenton, United States, that he desired that Ireland should be freed from the rule of the English government.

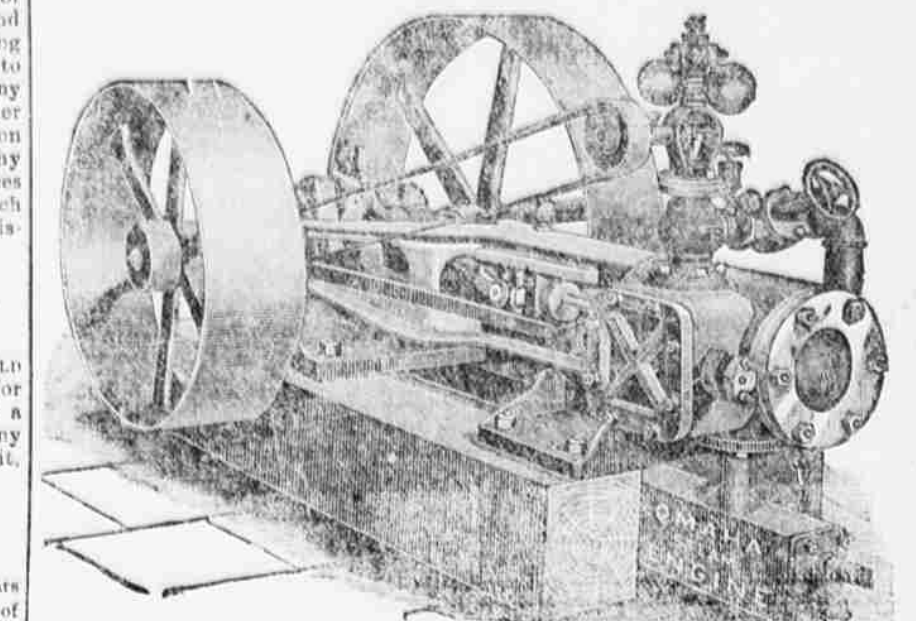

BISHOP O'FARRELL'S DENIAL. TRENTON, N. J., October 31.—Bishop O'Farrell says that he has no calligram from the Pope such as announced in the dispatch from Rome to-day. The Bishop says that he does not expect any such message, as the Pope knows he has been misrepresented and did not say what he was reported to have said in his address Sunday.

Cholera in India. MADRAS, October 31.—An unusually fatal outbreak of cholera has occurred here, which is aggravated by the difficulty of procuring provisions, as the terror-stricken villagers refuse to bring to the city the customary supply.

The Commons. LONDON, October 31.—The commons this evening were mainly occupied by a discussion of the merits of fair trade in iron trade. In the discussion it was stated that complaints were made that rents were diminishing everywhere and capital leaving England for present investment in "protected" countries. English trade has suffered from foreign countries and protective duties. Melver's amendment to the address greeting the speech from the throne, contains no reference to the agricultural and commercial depression of the country and was rejected 85 to 67.

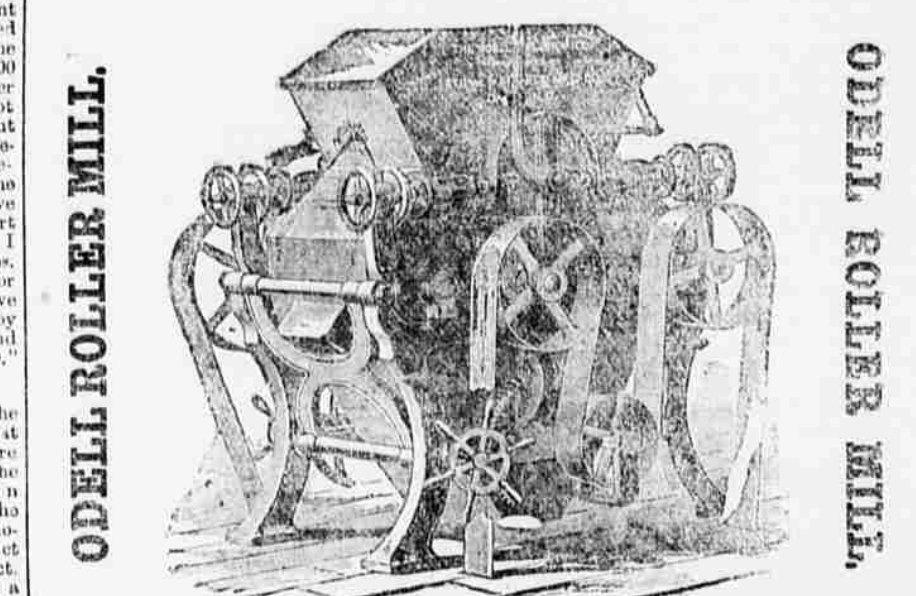

Cleveland's Plans. ALBANY, N. Y., October 31.—Governor Cleveland and party arrived here from Connecticut at 9:45 this morning. The governor announced his executive duties. Tomorrow he goes to New York to review the business men's parades. He goes to Buffalo Monday and returns to Albany Tuesday night.

RICHARDS & CLARKE, Proprietors. W. A. CLARKE, Superintendent. Omaha Iron Works U. P. RAILWAY. 7TH & 18TH STREETS

MANUFACTURERS OF AND DEALERS IN Steam Engines, Boilers WATER WHEELS, ROLLER MILLS, Mill and Grain Elevator Machinery MILL FURNISHINGS OF ALL KINDS, INCLUDING THE Celebrated Anchor Brand Dufour Bolting Cloth STEAM PUMPS, STEAM WATER AND GAS PIPE.

BRASS GOODS AND PIPE FITTINGS ARCHITECTURAL AND BRIDGE IRON.

DEANE ROLLER MILL. We are prepared to furnish plans and estimates, and will contract for the erection of Flouring Mills and Grain Elevators, or for changing Flouring Mills, from Stone to the Roller System.

1884. FALL & WINTER 1885. GREAT Bargains! -IN- READY-MADE CLOTHING -AND- GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS

Visitors to the city and all others in need of Men's, Boys' and Children's CLOTHING, WILL DO WELL TO CALL ON B. NEWMAN & CO., THE STRICTLY

1 PRICE 1 House in the city and examine their goods and prices. They carry the largest stock, and sell lower than any other house in the city. Merchant Tailors Don't forget to call at 1216 - FARNAM STREET. - 1216

TUTT'S PILLS 25 YEARS IN USE. The Greatest Medical Triumph of the Age! SYMPTOMS OF A TORPID LIVER. Loss of appetite, bowels constive, pain in the head, with a dull sensation in the stomach, and a general feeling of languor, with a disinclination to exertion of body or mind. Irritability of temper, low spirits, with a feeling of having neglected some duty, morose or irritable when receiving the mail. Headache before the eyes, headache over the right eye, restlessness, with trifling derangements of the stomach, and CONSTIPATION.

TUTT'S HAIR DYE. GRAY HAIR OF WHISKERS changed to a GLAZED LILAC by this hair and beard dye. It is a natural color, and acts instantly, and is sold by druggists, or by express on receipt of $1.00. Office, 44 Murray St., New York.

WHOLESALE BY L. A. STEWART & CO., 1013 Jones Street, ASK FOR RED CROSS, OMAHA NEB