

LITTLE BY LITTLE.

Snail Pace Progress of the Official Census.

Eleven Assembly Districts in the City Reported.

All But One of the Outside Counties in.

A Reduction of 307 on Cleveland's Plurality.

He Now Has a Leading Margin of 1,054.

Specimen Press Figures—Tammany's Ratification and Randall's Reform Speech.

THE COUNT.

Another day finds the canvass of the vote of New York state completed with the tally of the county of New York still in practice. The tables of the count as estimated by the metropolitan press on the night of November 5th, with a tabulated statement of the returns from the six assembly districts, up to that hour (6 p. m. last evening) received, are appended. Since their receipt, five other districts have been reported with official figures from Kings county. So far, on all authentic returns from New York county, Blaine has a total of 231. Kings county, however, alters Cleveland's plurality by an advance of 20. Accepting these figures given, 1208, as Cleveland's plurality outside of New York county, it will readily be seen that on all returns officially reported up to this morning Cleveland has a total plurality of 1054, a reduction of 307 on previously cited figures.

NEW YORK COUNTY.—The total vote of New York county, with comparison of the Associated Press progress, is that furnished by the city press bureau on November 6th. It gave the following figures: Cleveland 123,084; Blaine 89,847; Butler 3,313; St. John 978; Cleveland's plurality 33,237. There are twenty-four assembly districts in New York county. Thirteen of these, as first reported by the city press, are appended. By keeping in hand the returns, as they are canvassed and reported, may be compared, and any discrepancies may be noted.

ASSEMBLY DISTRICTS AS REPORTED NOV. 15TH. Dist. Blaine, Cleveland, Butler, St. John. 1. 2,258 4,512 89 10. 2. 2,052 5,911 101 8. 3. 2,027 5,210 131 10. 4. 2,290 6,239 125 9. 5. 2,695 4,968 125 18. 6. 2,656 5,612 122 14. 7. 4,120 4,252 160 74. 8. 4,780 4,129 68 11. 9. 4,487 5,222 119 124. 10. 4,177 5,388 114 11. 11. 2,467 3,312 71 261. 12. 3,018 5,171 71 15. 13. 4,876 4,453 130 91. 14. 2,255 4,387 74 29. 15. 4,120 5,111 136 22. 16. 2,718 5,910 167 6. 17. 5,265 6,401 207 57. 18. 4,618 6,280 147 25. 19. 4,678 6,284 147 25. 20. 3,434 6,114 155 38. 21. 4,659 4,640 87 53. 22. 5,041 4,941 288 94. 23. 7,721 8,842 297 132. 24. 3,015 5,438 142 98. Totals, 89,847 123,084 3,313. Cleveland's plurality, 33,237.

The following have already been reported: Dist. Blaine, Cleveland, Butler, St. John. 1. 2,133 5,231 91 9. 2. 2,214 5,111 136 22. 3. 2,291 4,822 158 10. 4. 2,005 4,968 125 18. 5. 2,656 5,612 122 14. 6. 4,722 4,140 69 14. The relative gains and losses for the above six assembly districts of New York county already reported are as follows: Cleveland's gain, 12; Blaine's loss, 129; Butler's gain, 7; Blaine's net gain, 38; Cleveland's loss of 106. This does not include the differences already noted in the complete canvass of the First and Seventh assembly districts, nor are the changes in New York county included in the statement of the vote which puts Cleveland's plurality at 1,208. The Fourth precinct of the First election district of this city, which was sent back to the inspectors yesterday for correction in its form, was counted election night, as having given 44 for Blaine, 196 for Cleveland and 1 for Butler.

The Sixth, Nineteenth and Twenty-sixth precincts of the Seventh assembly district, which were similarly returned for correction, gave according to the first figures reported, Blaine 408, Cleveland 210, Butler 6. If these figures are not changed, the First assembly district will show a gain of five for Blaine over the figures of November 5th, and a loss for Cleveland of forty-nine. The Seventh district will show a gain for Blaine of 215 and a gain for Cleveland of 94. It is claimed by the democrats that the first count in these two districts was incorrect and that the final canvass will show little or no gain for either side. Franklin county official—Cleveland 2,948; Blaine 4,638; St. John 70; Butler 67.

REVIEW OF THE COUNTS.—All counties of this state have sent in their official reports excepting New York, Erie and Monroe. If there is no change in the plurality of these three counties from what was reported by their county clerks just before the canvass of their returns, Cleveland's plurality in the state will be 1,208. The fifty-seven counties which have reported show gains for Cleveland of 27; losses for Cleveland of 64; gains for Blaine of 18, and losses for Blaine of 14.

The Norfolk county official canvass shows that Cleveland has a plurality of 553 votes. This agrees with the table. 553, Lawrence county official—Blaine, 3,411; Cleveland, 6,638; St. John, 511; Butler, 20. Blaine's plurality, 7,400. This agrees with the Times's figure of 7,400, which is the Blaine's plurality of 7,491, a gain of 4.

land, 6,638; St. John, 511; Butler, 20. Blaine's plurality, 7,400. This agrees with the Times's figure of 7,400, which is the Blaine's plurality of 7,491, a gain of 4.

The county clerk states that the official canvass of the county will not be completed until the 15th of the month. The Times and Sun are giving the following figures: New York, November 14.—The official vote of Kings county announced this evening gives Cleveland 69,288; Blaine, 73,512; Butler, 2,242; St. John, 1,431; a gain for Blaine of 2,740 over his vote of the 5th.

NEW YORK, November 14.—Senator Gorman, chairman of the democratic national executive committee, states that Wm. H. Vanderbilt has not made any contribution to the national democratic campaign fund.

NEW YORK, November 14.—The World says that it has not touched the figures on the electoral vote since last night, that there has been no change. The Times gives Cleveland 1,207 plurality, a gain of one over yesterday. The gain is in Kings county.

NEW YORK, November 14.—The Tribune has given Blaine 57,734 plurality in the counties of the state outside of New York and Kings. In the latter counties it says the democrats claimed 89,957 plurality for Cleveland. The loss of three of the counties in the above two counties are said to reduce Cleveland's plurality to 58,588, still giving Cleveland a plurality in the state of 834.

NEW YORK, November 14.—The managing editor of a morning paper here says: city press bureau figures on the election in the city sent to the Western Association press. The night of election was correct and are found to be correct by the canvass. But the bureau in grouping the figures into assembly districts got them mixed up. The loss of three of the counties in the above two counties are said to reduce Cleveland's plurality to 58,588, still giving Cleveland a plurality in the state of 834.

NEW YORK, November 15, I. a. m.—The official canvass of the Ninth assembly district of this county, with a gain for Blaine of 1,177; Cleveland, 5,591; Butler, 121; St. John, 11, a change of 3 in favor of Cleveland from first press reports.

NEW YORK, November 15, I. a. m.—The official canvass of the Ninth assembly district of this county, with a gain for Blaine of 1,177; Cleveland, 5,591; Butler, 121; St. John, 11, a change of 3 in favor of Cleveland from first press reports.

NEW YORK, November 14.—The board of canvassers completed their labors on the presidential vote of Erie county. The only change made is in the first district of the 4th ward, instead of Cleveland receiving 252 votes as in the official report, he received 254. This does not affect the plurality of Blaine and Logan, which is 1409 in the county.

NEW YORK, November 14.—The Tammany hall general committee in the wigwag celebrated the election of Cleveland and Hendricks. Speeches were made by Samuel J. Randall, John Kelly, and others. A great crowd was present. Randall paid a tribute to Tammany for the faithful efforts he had given to the democratic ticket, and advised the party to stand by their principles. He promised to the conservative people of the United States, they must abolish every unnecessary office; they must bring the government down to economy and they must only reduce the extraordinarily great revenues of the country. A great amount of the public lands that have been given away through the profligate legislation of the republican party must be taken back to the ownership of the people, to be held for actual settlers under the homestead laws. He held that it was not fair to perform their duties under the restrictions laid upon them. Kelly defended himself and Tammany hall from charges of disloyalty to Cleveland.

NEW YORK, November 14.—The police commissioners received a communication from the mayor asking that the police prevent glove fights such as take place in Madison square garden, on the ground they were demoralizing and differed in no degree from prize fights. The superintendent of police was accordingly instructed to prohibit such exhibitions in the future and an order to that effect was sent to all police captains.

NEW YORK, November 14.—Evang. Cameron's candidate for congress in the Fourth district, will contest the election of Brady (Maunder's candidate). Evans claims he has discovered corrupt underhand practices on the part of Brady and his followers during the recent canvass.

BOSTON, November 14.—The official canvass shows the total vote of Boston as follows: Blaine, 39,227; Cleveland, 32,773; Butler, 3,748; St. John, 1,231. Cleveland's plurality, 11,441. For governor, Robinson, 24,981; Elliott, 29,627; McCafferty, 3,743; Seely, 187. Elliott's plurality, 4,625.

ST. JOHN'S VOTE IN NEW YORK. NEW YORK, November 14.—St. John's official vote so far is, First assembly district, 19 votes; Second, 9; Third, 22; Fourth, 1; Fifth, 18; Sixth, 7; Seventh, 67; Eighth, 8.

FATAL STREET COLLISION. CINCINNATI, November 14.—Truman B. Hardy, a grain speculator, was probably fatally injured to-night while in his hurry in a collision with a street car.

CATTLE KINGS.

Last Day's Session of the National Stockmen's Convention.

Heated Discussion on the Animal Industry Bill.

Equal Freight Rates on Beef and Cattle Demanded.

Important Action on Tenure of Range Lands.

Measures For The Union of all Factions Adopted.

Mass Conclave at St. Louis Requested Officers and Committees Appointed—Adjournment.

STOCKMEN'S CONVENTION.

CHICAGO, November 14.—The national stockmen's convention continued its session to-day. The secretary read a letter from Professor Law, of Cornell College, attacking the work of the bureau of animal industry, created by the last congress. This created a heated discussion and a motion to tender the writer's vote of thanks was tabled. The committee on the award of Judge Cooley, arbitrator, fixing the rate by rail of dressed beef considerably higher than that for live cattle, reported that the two rates should be the same and stated that the health of beef steers depended in a measure in having cattle slaughtered as near the shipping point as possible, to avoid the unsanitary conditions produced by transportation on hoof. The committee on resolutions presented an extended report on the question of fencing ranges on government land. It set forth that obtaining permanent tenure to these lands in some legal form is of the greatest importance to the future of stock raising. That these lands are largely used for agriculture and not reclaimed by irrigation on a count of their broken surface and the lack of running streams. That Colorado and Wyoming stockmen have two hundred millions invested in the business, and the taxable wealth of the country, and lowering the price of beef. That they would welcome the opportunity to buy or rent these lands for a term of years. That the committee to Washington to suggest stock legislation, be instructed to endeavor to secure the passage of a law permitting the rental stock owners who are actual occupiers of the land between the Missouri river and the Pacific coast for the longest period possible, at the lowest obtainable rate, such rental not to interrupt or suspend the operation of existing laws for rent exemption or homestead; the rentals being subject to such an order as the committee to be instructed to submit to congress to ask for the assent of the Colorado stock growers' association, those of Wyoming, Nebraska, Dakota, Montana and Nevada being represented in this convention. A resolution of greeting to the stock men to assemble in St. Louis next Monday, deprecating the division of interest and urging a committee to confer with the committee from that body with a view to union, also passed. Officers elected: President, Dewitt Smith, of Springfield, Ill.; secretary, Thos. Sturgis, of Chicago; treasurer, John Clay, Jr., of Chicago. Also an executive committee of eight. Adjourned sine die.

STOCKMEN'S CONVENTION. CHICAGO, November 14.—The national stockmen's convention continued its session to-day. The secretary read a letter from Professor Law, of Cornell College, attacking the work of the bureau of animal industry, created by the last congress. This created a heated discussion and a motion to tender the writer's vote of thanks was tabled. The committee on the award of Judge Cooley, arbitrator, fixing the rate by rail of dressed beef considerably higher than that for live cattle, reported that the two rates should be the same and stated that the health of beef steers depended in a measure in having cattle slaughtered as near the shipping point as possible, to avoid the unsanitary conditions produced by transportation on hoof. The committee on resolutions presented an extended report on the question of fencing ranges on government land. It set forth that obtaining permanent tenure to these lands in some legal form is of the greatest importance to the future of stock raising. That these lands are largely used for agriculture and not reclaimed by irrigation on a count of their broken surface and the lack of running streams. That Colorado and Wyoming stockmen have two hundred millions invested in the business, and the taxable wealth of the country, and lowering the price of beef. That they would welcome the opportunity to buy or rent these lands for a term of years. That the committee to Washington to suggest stock legislation, be instructed to endeavor to secure the passage of a law permitting the rental stock owners who are actual occupiers of the land between the Missouri river and the Pacific coast for the longest period possible, at the lowest obtainable rate, such rental not to interrupt or suspend the operation of existing laws for rent exemption or homestead; the rentals being subject to such an order as the committee to be instructed to submit to congress to ask for the assent of the Colorado stock growers' association, those of Wyoming, Nebraska, Dakota, Montana and Nevada being represented in this convention. A resolution of greeting to the stock men to assemble in St. Louis next Monday, deprecating the division of interest and urging a committee to confer with the committee from that body with a view to union, also passed. Officers elected: President, Dewitt Smith, of Springfield, Ill.; secretary, Thos. Sturgis, of Chicago; treasurer, John Clay, Jr., of Chicago. Also an executive committee of eight. Adjourned sine die.

STOCKMEN'S CONVENTION. CHICAGO, November 14.—The board of canvassers completed their labors on the presidential vote of Erie county. The only change made is in the first district of the 4th ward, instead of Cleveland receiving 252 votes as in the official report, he received 254. This does not affect the plurality of Blaine and Logan, which is 1409 in the county.

STOCKMEN'S CONVENTION. CHICAGO, November 14.—The board of canvassers completed their labors on the presidential vote of Erie county. The only change made is in the first district of the 4th ward, instead of Cleveland receiving 252 votes as in the official report, he received 254. This does not affect the plurality of Blaine and Logan, which is 1409 in the county.

STOCKMEN'S CONVENTION. CHICAGO, November 14.—The board of canvassers completed their labors on the presidential vote of Erie county. The only change made is in the first district of the 4th ward, instead of Cleveland receiving 252 votes as in the official report, he received 254. This does not affect the plurality of Blaine and Logan, which is 1409 in the county.

STOCKMEN'S CONVENTION. CHICAGO, November 14.—The board of canvassers completed their labors on the presidential vote of Erie county. The only change made is in the first district of the 4th ward, instead of Cleveland receiving 252 votes as in the official report, he received 254. This does not affect the plurality of Blaine and Logan, which is 1409 in the county.

STOCKMEN'S CONVENTION. CHICAGO, November 14.—The board of canvassers completed their labors on the presidential vote of Erie county. The only change made is in the first district of the 4th ward, instead of Cleveland receiving 252 votes as in the official report, he received 254. This does not affect the plurality of Blaine and Logan, which is 1409 in the county.

STOCKMEN'S CONVENTION. CHICAGO, November 14.—The board of canvassers completed their labors on the presidential vote of Erie county. The only change made is in the first district of the 4th ward, instead of Cleveland receiving 252 votes as in the official report, he received 254. This does not affect the plurality of Blaine and Logan, which is 1409 in the county.

STOCKMEN'S CONVENTION. CHICAGO, November 14.—The board of canvassers completed their labors on the presidential vote of Erie county. The only change made is in the first district of the 4th ward, instead of Cleveland receiving 252 votes as in the official report, he received 254. This does not affect the plurality of Blaine and Logan, which is 1409 in the county.

STOCKMEN'S CONVENTION. CHICAGO, November 14.—The board of canvassers completed their labors on the presidential vote of Erie county. The only change made is in the first district of the 4th ward, instead of Cleveland receiving 252 votes as in the official report, he received 254. This does not affect the plurality of Blaine and Logan, which is 1409 in the county.

THE VETERAN'S BRIDE.

Or, the Romance of an Old Soldier's Escape.

A Domestic Drama in One Matrimonial Act.

Gen. Harney, at the Callow Age of 85 Years.

Marries His Aged and Honored Housekeeper.

Noble Requital of a Woman's Faithful Services.

Rabid Indignation of the Old General's Relatives—Threats of Suits—Interesting Reminiscences.

GEN. HARNEY'S MARRIAGE.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., November 13.—The secret marriage yesterday afternoon of Major Gen. W. S. Harney, the hero of three wars and one of the best known gentlemen in the west, was a fruitful source of conversation to-day. The event was altogether unexpected by the friends of the bridegroom, and from the manner in which the delicate affair was conducted it seems the general, who is now in his 85th year, stole a march on his children and other members of his family. The general is the oldest officer on the retired list, and his voluntary retirement, of matrimonial compulsion, to use a slang phrase, "knocked his friends and family silly." Four o'clock yesterday afternoon the Recorder was summoned hastily to the Southern Hotel, where he was ushered into the presence of Gen. Harney. "I want a marriage license," said the old war-horse. "Certainly," replied the recorder, who stood transfixed with astonishment. "What is the lady's name?" asked the general. "Mrs. Marie St. Cyr," said the general. "The license was made out, and a bridal party consisting of the bride and groom, the bride's father and daughter, took carriage and drove to the Catholic church, in the neighborhood of Father Tobin, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing, but with his hair white, and his eyes dim and clouded with age. The bride, a young lady, of a handsome and pleasing countenance, and a long and slender figure, stood by his side. The ceremony was performed by the priest, and the old soldier and his former housekeeper in the holy bonds of matrimony. That was a remarkable scene witnessed in the old cathedral in the dim November twilight. Before the altar stood the old general, still erect and soldierly in bearing,