

Saturday Morning November 15.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

The Scientific Academy meets at the Creighton college on Mondays and Thursdays at 7:30 p. m.

Joseph Cobby, an old resident of Douglas county, residing near Florence, was yesterday brought into the city and placed in jail under a charge of larceny.

Gen. Howard will deliver his lecture on Egypt on the 25th inst. instead of the 21st, as stated in the Bee.

Heretofore the clearings of our National banks will be reported to Boston every Thursday night. Yesterday they were $325,362.74.

Thursday at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. Wm. Mayall and Miss Minnie C. Dennis were united in marriage, Rev. A. F. Sherrill officiating.

A meeting of Nebraska female suffragists will be held to-day to elect delegates to the woman's convention, which is to be held in Chicago on the 15th and 20th of this month.

The little son of C. S. Raymond last night strayed away from his home on Seventh and California streets and the father's clerk was hurrying about the city in search of the little wanderer.

Asquit Schuppert and Miss Dora Gauderer were united in marriage Thursday, Mr. Schuppert is well-known firm of Swanson & Co., merchant tailors, and laudible congenial associates of a host of friends.

Last evening the driver of a cart loaded with garbage, in attempting to back down into North Omaha creek at Saunders and Cuming, saw thrown from his seat and the wagon and its contents dumped upon him.

Mrs. Johnson, who resides on Leavenworth street, was severely injured Thursday by being thrown from a buggy in which she was riding. The vehicle collided with a lamp post and was overturned at the corner of Eleventh and Pacific streets.

Marshall Cummings Thursday received a letter from C. Saylor, of Iowa City, stating that his daughter, Mrs. Kinne, and her husband started for Hot Springs some time ago and nothing has been heard of them since. He thinks they are in Omaha.

There will be a meeting of all parties interested in the bazaar to be held for the benefit of the German-American school at Germania hall Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. A full attendance of all those in charge is urgently requested.

Passenger trains Nos. 3 and 4 will be discontinued between North Platte, Neb., and Cheyenne, Wyo., until further notice; commencing with those due by schedule to leave points named on Wednesday last, November 12, 1884, and thereafter passenger trains Nos. 73 and 74 will make at and do way work between North Platte and Denver Junction.

The fair and festival given Thursday by the ladies of the First Presbyterian church was well attended and the ladies realized a nice little sum. The fancy goods attracted much attention and the confectionery booth, headed with home made candies, was well patronized. The oysters were cooked by Miss Darr and were much enjoyed. The entertainment was continued last evening.

A dinner party was given Thursday to Senator Manderson by Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kuntze. Those present were: Senator and Mrs. Manderson, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Barker, Mr. and Mrs. L. Richardson, Mrs. Edgar, Mrs. O. N. Ramsey, Mrs. J. N. H. Patrick, Miss Annie Hurford, Miss Berlin, Mr. Moqueir, and Mr. Robert W. Patrick.

A meeting of the Union Catholic library association will be held at their rooms in Creighton block on next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock p. m., Nov. 19, for the purpose of electing officers. A full attendance is desired. By order of the Board of Managers.

The twentieth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rosewater was celebrated Thursday evening at their residence on Harvey street by a gathering of their relatives and neighbors. They were heartily congratulated by all present. The guests were handsomely entertained, and a pleasant evening was spent by all.

O'Malley's Room at 1303 Douglas Truly Magnificent.

The Opening to Take Place Tonight. This evening Mr. R. O'Malley, better known as Capt. O'Malley, and who is recognized by everybody as a typical gentleman and the prince of good fellows, will open his place at 1303 Douglas street. The magnificent display, and the furnished elegance of his rooms will make his resort by far the most attractive of its kind in Omaha.

It is intended by the proprietor to spare no pains or expense in making his place a complete and first-class saloon, oyster and refreshment house. Mr. O'Malley's place is on the first floor, and is large and roomy. The rooms have been made brighter and cheerier by the master hand of Charles E. Esters, the prince of paper-hangers, and they bear an air of elegance and comfort seen in but few places in the city.

The room fronts on Douglas street, and on entering through the front door two-thirds of the room to the left, occupying two-thirds of that side of the room. The furniture is all of the finest and is of solid cherry throughout, massive in size and of the Egyptian style of architecture. It includes counter, cigar counter, buffet, wine cabinet and ice-box, all the very latest and best designs. The mirror are of novel style, there being three of them all connected into one. The center one is the largest piece of circular, beveled French plate glass in the United States, being six feet in diameter and exceedingly thick. It is flanked on either side by a square mirror of the same glass and the whole presents a unique appearance as it surmounts the pyramids of crystal glass and shining silverware. This side is all complete and ready for the opening.

Across the room is to be the lunch counter, about thirty feet long and of the same superior workmanship as the rest of the fixtures, all being manufactured by the Standard Saloon Fixture company, of Chicago. This side will not be completed for about a week. It is the intention to make this a first class oyster and fish house, the luscious fruit of the ocean to be brought to Omaha alive and thus secure to customers all the natural flavor they possess on the seashore.

Mr. O'Malley will keep constantly on hand the best of all wines, liquors and cigars. Old Crow, Hermitage, Gibson and Gukenheimer will always be found there, and the best brands of champagne will ever occupy a place on the shelves. Also and no less important, a variety of bottled ales, and old time smok- ers will always find there the finest brands of both imported and domestic cigars, carefully selected by the proprietor who knows a good cigar when he sees it.

Mr. O'Malley will be assisted by Mr. P. B. Bowe and Mr. Charles Lantz, two gentlemen whose names as mixers of drinks is known throughout the entire west. Mr. F. G. Burch, who for some time past has been connected with the Boston oyster house, a place of almost world-wide fame, in Chicago, will have charge of the lunch counter and will be fully able to satisfy the voracious appetite. The location and elegance of the place, and the many gentlemanly and fine qualities of the proprietor will serve to put his resort in the front ranks with the many places of its kind in the Gate City.

PERSONAL.

Gen. McBride, of Lincoln, is at the Paxton. Mr. Lew Hill left yesterday for a trip through the east.

Mr. G. M. Barnes, of Lincoln, is at the Paxton hotel. Major Miller, one of Boone county's prominent attorneys is in the city.

Mr. W. T. Kelly left for Denver yesterday and will be absent for a week. John A. Croughton, of Omaha, is registered at the Tremont house, Chicago.

Wm. Cartan, bookkeeper at the Garneauacker factory, left last night for a trip to Chicago. A. Wilhelms, Donald Harold, Thomas Baker, Bert Costo, and H. B. Clark, of the "Dreams" company are at the Metropolitan hotel.

askans are at the Paxton: S. R. Mores, Juan Boyle, S. M. Nevins, and S. W. Powers, Kearney; Gray Warner, Beatrice; John Hayes, Central City. B. P. Humphrey and A. R. Newton, of Kansas City, and Geo. A. Hannaford, of Chicago, a trio of well known passenger agents are in the city and registered at the Millard.

shaded by daylight, will throw an audience into ecstasies of admiration at night.

The first class scenic artist's night. The first class scenic artist's night. The first class scenic artist's night. The first class scenic artist's night. The first class scenic artist's night.

The theater scenic artist usually has one or two assistants. The old style of scenic painting was for the artist to sit on a swinging platform and smear on his colors. Nowadays, in the well regulated theaters, he stands on a stationary platform while the canvas is suspended in front of him on rollers and raised and lowered by a winch.

The regular force at Boyd's opera house is five men, but there are nights when it requires twenty to handle the scenery; and it requires sixteen men to make a single change of scene in the "Silver King".

The beautiful" that falls upon the "Two Orphans" for instance, is finely cut white paper, placed in a perforated cylinder up in the flies. The crank of the cylinder is turned and the white flashes go fluttering down. A "Supe" need to stand above and drift white paper snow out of both hands, but a supe can't now as regularly and evenly as the cylinder can.

The sighing wind is nothing more than the noise produced by a wooden cylinder, worked with a crank, rubbing against a web of silk that is attached to it. The more loosely the silk is held the louder the blast.

When a real water rainstorm is introduced a perforated pipe, with water connections and regulated by cocks, is stretched across the stage from opposite flies. A rubber tube is attached to the stage to catch the shower. A fountain on the stage, when a natural spray is thrown up, is worked about the same way, waterworks connection being made and the water, thrown up, caught either by a galvanized basin or a rubber net.

When the rain storm was most beautifully shown here was during the production of the Mark Twain's great play, "The Danites".

There are many little things which are added by the scenic artists and stage carpenters, which either make or lose a play, and the part which those workmen play is usually the leading one.

A Great Game. This afternoon, at the St. Mary's avenue park, the fire department of Omaha, under the captainship of Jerome Pentzel, will play a game of ball with the police force of this city, under the leadership of James Knight. The positions of the firemen brigade are as follows:

Wm. Webb, Pitcher; Wm. Cochrane, Catcher; J. J. Catlett, First Base; G. M. Barnes, Second Base; A. J. C. Pentzel, Third Base; J. J. Pentzel, Short Stop; J. J. Pentzel, Left Field; J. J. Pentzel, Right Field.

The positions of the police men have not yet been arranged. It is to be a great game, and the firemen declare they will not let the "coppers" get a single run, but if Pat Diamond plays they can't prevent him from climbing the fence to avoid being put out.

Police Court. Business was very dull in police court yesterday, only four plain drunks appearing for trial.

Joseph Brandt and George Ludes had no excuses to offer for violating the city ordinance by becoming intoxicated, and were each fined $5 and costs. John Mesgood was called up and charged with having been drunk. John said that he was not drunk but was just recovering from an epileptic fit. The judge evidently knew something of his case and discharged him at the same time advising him to seek medical assistance at once.

Happily Wed.

Thursday, the marriage of Mr. Frank Bailey and Miss Clara Redman was solemnized at the residence of the bride's father in North Omaha, Rev. J. S. Detweiler, of the English Lutheran church, officiating. The bride was attended by Miss Dollie Bailey, while Mr. Frank Redman acted as best man for the groom.

After the ceremony a sumptuous wedding supper was served, which was partaken of by a large number of invited guests. After supper the guests indulged in a dance until quite a late hour.

Mr. Bailey is engaged in the brick making business in the western part of the city, and is an exemplary young man. The bride is an interesting young lady and is deserving of all the smiles fortune may bestow upon her. Both are members of the Home Circle club and other social organizations and are highly esteemed by all who know them.

They will take up their residence on West Cuming street, in a neat little cottage which has already been prepared for their occupancy.

FOR SALE-A good family horse buggy and harness. L. A. RATH, Post Office Box 30.

Burglars' Visitors. Thursday night burglars entered the residence of Mr. N. J. Edholm, at 2444 Chicago street, and carried off a valuable gold watch and an overcoat. Other things in the house are supposed to have been taken, but is impossible at this time to tell just what was carried off.

The burglars gained an entrance to the house by turning the key in the front door with a pair of nippers. They were pretty slick thieves and will doubtless be heard from again.

Smoke Seal of North Carolina Tobacco. An Omaha Man Shot. It is reported in this city that a young man from Omaha went out to Millard Wednesday night to visit his brother, who is working for a farmer named Allen. The young man arrived at the farm house at 9 o'clock and found the family had retired. All in sport he rapped loudly on the door, and in reply to Allen's query, "Who's there, and what do you want?" replied that he wanted his (Allen's) money or his life. Allen told him to go around to the back door, and seized a shot gun, opened the door and shot the young man in the neck, inflicting probably fatal wounds. Allen was greatly shocked on learning who the supposed robber was. The neighbors think Allen was justified in the shooting.
