A GROUNDLESS FEAR.

Yesterday morning several colored men were standing on one of our street corners engaged in discussing in real seriousness the probability of the negroes being turned back into slavery now that the democrats are about to come into power.

There is no danger whatever that the negroes in this country, either in the north or in the south, will lose their liberty or be deprived of their rights in any way to go and come as they please and earn a livelihood for themselves and families.

On account of the democratic celebration on Monday night, the board of trade was unable to do anything in the matter of the proposed chamber of commerce.

The state board of canvassers for Nebraska will meet on the 24th of November to canvass the votes for presidential electors and judicial officers.

An illustration of the way in which a town may be completely blotted out by a change in the tide of traffic is shown in the fate which has overtaken Lisbon, Ga.

The supreme court has the case of Ex-Marshal Guthrie under consideration. Mr. Guthrie is refusing to testify at the Chas. trial on the ground that he would criminate himself.

The cholera continues to spread rapidly in Paris. A singular fact is that where the drainage is bad and the water impure the people are not as yet attacked by the epidemic.

"GOVERNOR" MORTON continues to receive a good deal of free advertising. The Chicago News is responsible for the following bit of gossip concerning him:

A CORRESPONDENT of the Chicago Times writes to that paper asking a decision of a bet, A. having bet that Blaine will be the next president, while B. wagers that he will not.

China. A little while ago France was loudly proclaiming that there could be no peace without the payment of a large indemnity by China.

The only thing that now troubles the average republican mind is what effect the labors of the Hon. Church Howe in Tennessee have had upon the solid south.

We have never taken any stock in Roscoe Conkling, and shall not do so in the future even if he should by hook or crook manage to get into the United States senate again through a democratic alliance.

OTHER LANDS THAN OURS. The passage of the British franchise bill through the house of commons is an accomplished fact.

The question of protection against foreign competition is growing in interest in both France and Germany; but there is this important difference between the subject as presented in those countries.

The tenth of November is always a red-letter day in London. On that day the new year's resolutions are made, and a parade of medieval pomp and wealth of antiquated splendor.

It will be many months before the new commercial treaty which has been arranged between Spain and the United States can possibly go into operation.

The tory papers of London have been greatly impressed with the gains made by the socialists in the Reichstag elections.

The news from China by way of San Francisco is of a kind which may require attention at the hands of many civilized governments.

men have been looked upon by the missionaries as being subjected to personal violence, and numerous crimes have been committed upon their work.

It is all this there may be exaggeration, of course, but it is not certain by any means that the story exceeds the truth.
