

THE DAILY BEE

Published every morning, except Sunday... Price per week, 25 cents.

THE RESULT IN IOWA.

One of the states that was loudest in its demands in the national republican convention for the nomination of James G. Blaine was Iowa.

THE PRESIDENCY.

The official count in New York has been completed, but the result was already anticipated. The democratic candidates have carried the state by a majority of over 1,100.

LEADING THEM ALL.

There is nothing so successful as success. This is true of the newspaper as of any other enterprise. There was a time, less than five years ago, when we referred with great pride to the fact that the circulation of the daily Bee had mounted up to 2500 copies.

CITY WALKS AND TALKS.

"I see by the papers that General Harney was married in St. Louis the other day," said an old settler to the Bee's man about town.

more appreciated in the windy city than that of the brilliant journalist and orator. Davis, of Chicago, is another victim to "mmgumpian", and in him Chicago loses a hard worker and a man who had a very careful habit of taking care of his own record so far as it related to his prospective return.

THE Chicago News says that "the Hon. Church Howe, of Nebraska, who was sent south to secure the electoral votes of Louisiana and Tennessee for the republican party, has returned with a bunch of bananas and a bouquet of magnolias."

Is the Sixth congressional district of Iowa Weaver, the fusionist candidate, elected by 555. In the First congressional district of Nebraska our Weaver, republican, received a majority of between 500 and 600.

The mayor of New York has prohibited any more "glove contests" in that city on the ground that they are demoralizing and differ in no degree from prize fights.

In view of the fresh outbreak of cholera in France, Secretary McCulloch has issued a circular order in relation to the importation of old rags from infected ports, which modifies existing orders on that subject so as to continue the embargo until further notice and to declare all French and Mediterranean ports to be infected.

PAUL DE CASSAGNAC, the famous duelist, politician and editor of the Paris Pays, has announced his intention of retiring from public life and to do more fighting.

The little island of Dominica, in the West Indies group, wants to cut loose from the British government and put itself beneath the stars and stripes of the United States.

Appointments should be for ascertainment of fitness. The taxpayers are entitled to the best procurable men for their money.

The Fremont Missions have evidently been looking at himself in the mirror. He is just the kind of a correct young man that has been favored from his early childhood by more luck than genius.

Aggregate daily circulation, three months ending November 15th, 1883, 6,120.

Aggregate daily circulation, three months ending February 1st, 1884, 6,472.

Aggregate daily circulation, five and half months ending July 15th, 1884, 7,351.

Aggregate daily circulation, four months ending November 15th, 1884, 8,182.

The above includes both morning and evening editions.

The following exhibit shows the growth of the evening edition, which circulates almost entirely in this city:

For three months ending February 1, 1884, 3,001.

For five and one-half months ending July 15, 1884, 2,844.

For four months ending November 15, 1884, 4,013.

With an aggregate daily circulation of over 8,000 the Bee has more than four times the circulation of any other daily in Omaha and very nearly if not fully as large a circulation as all the dailies of this state could show combined.

THE FENCE QUESTION. The national cattlemen's convention at Chicago adopted a resolution to the effect that it is of the utmost importance to future stock raising that some kind of permanent tenure be obtained to the grazing lands so that they can be legally fenced in.

Under the present liquor license law citizens in this state are enabled by a belt two miles in width which no liquor houses can be granted. Why this prohibitory belt was created is something that we have never been able to fully understand.

General Harney gained considerable notoriety on account of the Ash Hollow affair in the summer of 1855. He continued the old settler. "If I remember correctly, it was in the month of August, 1854, that some bands of Dakota Indians were camped about eight miles from Fort Laramie, awaiting the arrival of the agent to distribute to them their share of a fifty thousand dollar annuity."

The above includes both morning and evening editions.

With an aggregate daily circulation of over 8,000 the Bee has more than four times the circulation of any other daily in Omaha and very nearly if not fully as large a circulation as all the dailies of this state could show combined.

WHATEVER may be said about the mugwump press, it would have been much more prudent for the republicans to have heeded what it said than to have defied it. It will be remembered that General Anson McCook was one of those who resented the conduct of Curtis and his associates, the independents, in a letter which he published in the New York Tribune.

THE next president is a cruel man. His order to his private secretary to destroy every letter from applicants for office, will arouse a storm of indignation among the democratic rank and file.

In the forthcoming Thanksgiving proclamation of Governor Dawes no mention will be made of the school land gobblers.

THERE have been a great many counts in this country, but none have attracted so much attention as the New York count.

ST. JOHN is reported to be in good spirits. He ought to be preserved in alcohol.

ORANGES, both foreign and domestic, will be cheaper this winter, it is thought than ever before.

"Colonel Gibbon is in luck," remarked a military officer a day or two ago. "How's that?" asked the Bee man.

I heard a pleasant little story concerning General Howard, showing him to be a very humane and charitable man, remarked a gentleman from this city the other day.

THE Washington correspondent of the Baltimore American has written an interesting resume of the changes made in Congress by the recent elections.

THE Red-headed Kangaroo of the Rockies—Hollard—will no more make the frosted arches of the house ring and the members rear, with his quavering voice and badly constructed sentences.

THE democrats, on the other hand, have lost that time honored representative of rock-ribbed democracy, Eaton, and along with him the man on their side whom he most vigorously fought.

Another man from the south, Kellogg, left at home, though, as he has been in office now for nearly a quarter of a century, it is probably fair to think he should have a brief holiday.

General Harney, when I knew him, was a rough, blustering, profane sort of man," continued the old settler.
