

THE DAILY BEE. COUNCIL BLUFFS. Saturday Morning Dec. 6. SUBSCRIPTION RATES. By Carrier - 25 cents per week. By Mail - $10.00 per year. OFFICE: No. 7 Pearl Street, Near Broadway. MINOR MENTION.

H. R. Stewart, artist, at Chapman's. See J. Roter's new stock of cloths. Try McClurg's self-raising buckwheat. The work of repairing Second street bridge will begin to-day.

The Catholic ladies are to give a fair and festival during holiday week. Christmas cards now on sale at half-price at Seaman's closing out sale.

The Royal Arcanum is preparing for a grand ball in Beno's hall on the 25th. The fountain at Bancroft street and Broadway has been boxed up for the season.

Trade is lively at Seaman's. Holiday goods at closing out prices is the cause of the rush. John Gilliland of Pacific Junction, has lost nine or ten head of cattle, by some strange disease.

The ladies of St. Paul's church are to give a fair and festival in the Masonic hall December 15. Ladies' arm bags, purses, pocketbooks, and fancy goods, at way down prices, at Seaman's closing out sale.

The ladies of Harmony Mission had a social last evening at the residence of J. R. Bell on Voorhes street. Excellent finish, life-like expression, true to nature, are the characteristics of Stewart, the artist's, work.

To-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock the gospel service as usual. Both ladies and gentlemen will be welcome. A telephone was yesterday put in at the Centerville coal company's yards and one will be put in the Ogden house on Monday.

There will be preaching at the congregational church to-morrow morning and evening by the Rev. Thomas McClelland, of Tabor. Mr. J. Mueller is clearing out the first floor of his establishment and making extensive preparations to display his holiday goods.

The song service and workers' training class for young men only, will be held this evening at 8 o'clock. Young men are cordially invited. Telegraph poles are being drawn to the court house to prop up the old walls of the falling building. These rude props will rob the court house of none of its beauty. It has none to rob.

"The truth will make you free." Spiritual circle to-morrow (Sunday) afternoon and evening at 2 and 7:30 o'clock in Spiritual hall. Entrance on Main and Pearl streets via stairs two doors south of the postoffice. The fare to New Orleans and return is now only $27.25 over the Wabash & St. Louis. Those desiring further particulars can get them of J. C. Mitchell, the ticket agent, corner of Main and Broadway.

A petition is being circulated in Avoca to be presented to the county board Monday, asking that the court house be repaired and strengthened so as to answer for a few years longer. It is useless to patch any longer. At St. Paul's church to-morrow the rector, Rev. T. J. Mackey, will in the morning preach on "The Selfish Element in Thanksgiving." In the evening Rev. Mr. Mackey exchanges with Dean Millspaugh, of the cathedral, in Omaha.

The Svendsen Concert company appeared before a delighted audience in the Congregational church last evening. THE BEE's words of praise on a like concert given by them in Omaha were fully endorsed by all who heard these gifted artists last evening. They certainly are fine. Cocke & Morgan come to the front with some good reading matter of practical interest to all. Read their advertisement carefully and note the bargains offered. The amount of business they have gained since they opened in this city is astonishing and shows what good goods at low prices will do.

Abe Lincoln Post, No. 29 G. A. R., give each year a ball for the raising of money for the relief of the widows and orphans of old soldiers and sailors. These balls are among the most worthy of social events, and tickets meet with a ready sale. The post has arranged for the next ball of this kind to take place in Masonic hall on Christmas eve.

In the superior court yesterday the time was occupied in trying the case of Mrs. Jane Richardson, a tenant of C. R. Scott's against whom Scott got out an injunction before Judge Lyman. Afterwards she was ordered arrested for contempt, and bonds fixed at $300. Not giving the bonds she was placed in jail, and then sought to get released on a writ of habeas corpus. Judge Aylesworth after a long hearing remanded her.

The action of the Spletman brothers in following up the man who raised one of their checks is certainly commendable. It has got to be the practice not to bother about catching rogues unless one has suffered by them, but the Spletmans, although they lost nothing, felt it their duty to protect others by spending time and money to catch the check-raiser and to their assistance that Catef Skinner was able to get him.

Mr. Burhorn, the jeweler, calls attention in another column to the fact that he is still alive and wide-awake, and pushing business. He has a large and varied stock, and his established reputation inspires confidence in the public that his representation of goods can be relied on, while his prices are always reasonable. Those who need anything in that line should inspect his stock, and they can always depend on courteous treatment and fair, square dealing.

The petition being circulated against a new court house read: "To the Honorable Board of Supervisors of Pottawattamie County, Iowa—We, your petitioners, would respectfully remonstrate against your calling an election for the submission of a proposition to issue bonds for the building of a court house; and would recommend that you take steps at once for the repairing of the present building and by so doing preserve the property of the county."

The arrest of S. F. Noel here on a charge of larceny proved to be a blunder. He was taken on a telegraphic order from the sheriff of Lee county, but as soon as that official arrived he saw that it was not the man he wanted. Mr. Noel feels very much hurt over the arrest, although he was not locked up or brought into court. A number of citizens, who have known him for years, vouch for his honesty and his honorable reputation, and publicity given to his arrest has caused him much trouble. He is a poor man, a hard worker, and the fact of his being arrested has caused it to be difficult for him to get employment of those who do not fully understand the mistake.

An affidavit was filed to-day in Justice Redfield's office by which a cloud is cast upon the official integrity of one of our best officers. Owing to the mysterious disappearance of the affidavit we cannot give the exact words, but are informed that it states, or intimates that deputy sheriff Rainbow is acting in collusion with the defendants in a certain case for the enforcement of the prohibitory law. We are authorized to state, that there is no evidence whatever for such intimation. On the contrary, in the selection of the jury, deputy Rainbow selected men, not for any opinion they might hold in regard to the justice of the law in question, but because they were good and intelligent citizens. The charge against the officer is a very serious one, and seems to have been hastily made, from prejudice or imaginations, not from facts. Be sure you are right, then go ahead, but be sure you are right first.—Harlan Tribune.

McClurg's self-raising buckwheat flour is the best. Try it.

Overcoats and Suits. Bes. styles. M. Bros.

Rough dry washing 20c per dozen. Broadway Steam Laundry, 711 Broadway.

BADLY BRUISED. William Lacy Thrown From His Buggy and Dragged.

Yesterday afternoon as William Lacy was driving along Broadway in a light road wagon, the front axle, which was weak from an old break, gave way suddenly, throwing him out, while the frightened horse started on the run. Lacy, hanging to the reins, was dragged quite a distance over the paving. He was badly bruised about the head and face, and one leg and arm hurt somewhat, but luckily no bones were broken.
