GROWING CITY The remarkable growth of Omahe during the last few years is a matter of great astoniahment to those who pay an occasional visit to this growing city. The development of the Stock Yards-the necessity of the Belt Line Road-the finely paved streets—the hundreds of new residences and costly business blocks, with the population of our city more than doubled in the last five years. All this is a great surprise to visitors and is the admiration of our citizens. This rapid growth, the business activity, and the many substantial improvements made a lively demand for Omaha real estate, and every investor has made a handsome profit.

Since the Wall Street panic last May, with the subsequent cry of hard times, there has been less demaud from speculators, but a fair demand from investore seeking homes. This latter class are taking advantage of low prices in building material and are securing their homes at much less cost than will be possible a year hence. Speculators, too can buy real esta's cheaper now and ought to take advant e of present prices for future pro tr.

The next few years promises greater divelopments in Omaha than the past tiv years, which have been as good as we could reasonably desire. New manufacturing establishments and large jobbing houses are added almost weekly, and all add to the prosperity of Omaha. There are many in Omaha and through-
