

THE DAILY BEE

COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Saturday Morning, Jan. 31.

Subscription rates: By Carrier 30 cents per week; By Mail $1.00 per year.

Office: 7 Yearl Street, Near Broadway.

MINOR MENTION.

The county board of supervisors meet Tuesday.

Herman Klaser was yesterday fined for being drunk.

The city council meets at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon.

The Danebo society give a ball this evening at their hall.

Crofts does and will hold his goods in quality the same as before.

Rev. Mr. Hammond will preach in the Congregational church to-morrow.

Fay Tompion appears at the opera house this afternoon and evening.

Leave your orders for job printing a day or two ahead at Pryor's Bee job office.

The circuit court, with Judge Connor on the bench, opens here on the 9th of February.

Walter Amy now has a badly injured knee as the result of falling on a slippery sidewalk.

Rev. T. S. Borell will preach in the Baptist church to-morrow morning and evening.

Permit to wed was yesterday granted Marvin Nelson and Cathrina Olson, both of this county.

The young ladies of the Episcopal church are planning for a social in the Masonic hall next week.

Crofts' cigars are all manufactured at 529 Broadway under his own supervision and are Union hand-made cigars.

On Friday evening of next week Bob Bardette is to give his lecture on "The Rise and Fall of the Moustache."

The Fay Tompion company divided up, part stopping at the Ogden and the most of the company at the Pacific.

The interior of the new Presbyterian church has so neared completion that services will be held there to-morrow.

Wallace Shephard now has a sprained ankle as the result of coasting. Two years ago he met with a similar accident.

J. C. Morgan, now of the Kearney, Neb., Courier, now mourns the death of his aged father, who died there on the 22d.

Two tramps sneaked some pairs of boots from Eismann, Rodda & Co.'s yesterday, but were arrested, and the goods recovered.

There is to be a convention of surveyors and engineers at Des Moines February 24, for the purpose of organizing an association.

Charles Bennett, known as "Banjo Charlie," was yesterday given a double dose in the police court for being drunk and exposing his person.

Remember Crofts sells three 5c cigars for 10c and twenty for 50c, also two, clear Havana filler, Samatra wrapper hand made cigars, for 15c and eight for 50c.

A pair of handcuffs with the key attached by a cord has been lost by Nick O'Brian who requests the finder to leave the same at THE BEE office or return them to him.

Among those who have filed plans for a new court house are S. E. Maxon, of this city; Eckert & Mann, of St. Joseph; E. E. Myers, of Detroit, and W. A. Howie, of Marshalltown.

The Evening Herald has struck a lead on filling up space. It is publishing all the anonymous letters it can find or compose, purporting to be from persons who contemplate suiciding.

Graham avenue has proved the popular coasting place. The traversers have a slide of three-quarters of a mile and make the distance in two and a half minutes, which is fast flying, indeed.

W. H. Strickland, business manager of Shook & Collier's "Storm Boat" company, was in the city yesterday arranging for the appearance of the company here February 4th and 5th.

The iron beams for the new postoffice are expected to arrive to-day. The castings came two or three days ago. Messrs. Raymond & Campbell and C. Hendrie of this city have put in bids for setting the above as have also several eastern firms.

Rev. L. H. Hammond, of Chicago, father of the superintendent of the deaf and dumb institute, will occupy the pulpit of the Congregational church to-morrow morning and evening. It is expected that he will preach each Sunday until the arrival of the new pastor, Rev. G. W. Croft, about March 1st.

Now it is on Harry Hunter. Some one told him that spring must be coming, for he had seen a Martin, but forgetting to say that it was Henry Martin. Straightway Harry evolves for the Nonpariel the pleasing item: "House martins, sweet harbingers, of spring, made their appearance yesterday." How poetic!

The trial of N. A. Lewis for the murder of Arthur Fagan in Des Moines in January, 1883, will be called in the district court at Winterset next Thursday before Judge McHenry. A number of witnesses will attend from here to testify to Lewis' good character. Judge Cole and Will McHenry are Lewis' attorneys in the case.

The work of helping the boys of the city has taken a practical turn, and much good will doubtless be accomplished.

Neglected and needy boys should register their names at Mr. L. B. Sibley's office under the Citizens' bank, and the meeting of the association is to be held Monday afternoon at 8 o'clock, in the Y. M. C. A. rooms.

There was a happy gathering of friends at the residence of J. W. Squires Thursday evening in honor of Mr. J. H. Chapman, of Woodstock, Vermont, who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Squires. Mr. Chapman is a fine vocalist, and the musical feature of the evening's entertainment was highly enjoyable.

Emma Smith, who has a house in Yankton, has been here for a day or two getting some "lady boarders." She cured four here and two in Omaha. Among those engaged here was Lena Wright, who has been boarding with Kittle Edwards. As she skipped out in the night the Edwards woman swore out a warrant for her arrest on the charge of jumping a board bill.

For sale—My book and stationery business 341 Broadway. H. E. Seaman.

Yearly Report of the Y. M. C. A. As we compare the work of to-day with that of a year ago we notice a most marked advance. A year of constant effort has caused the change.

The benefits to individual young men will never be fully known.

Socially—The elegant parlors are always open for any young man who desires to meet his friends in quiet conversation or entertain them with games.

In this room a young man has the same rights he would have in his own home. Young men of excellent social qualities are always on hand to cordially greet and welcome strangers.

For mental improvement the opportunities offered are many. First comes the reading room, with a carefully selected assortment of papers and magazines. Second, chance for development in public speaking, reading and singing, as found in the Literary and social.

A RAT TALE.

The Sensation About a Poor Old Lady Living Alone, Being Eaten by Rats.

A sensational story was started yesterday that an old lady named Marie Baranger, living alone in a little hotel, No. 243 Sixth street, had had her fingers eaten by rats. The story proves to be largely sensational, with but little truth. The old lady, now in her 78th year, is not of very clear mind, and lately one of her delusions has been that a tunnel had been made by neighbors, leading into her little house, for the purpose of sending rats into it. The place in which she lives is a little old house, with many cracks for rats to get through, and she has not been suffering in many respects from destitution. Rats and mice infest the place, but it seems that she has not been so badly eaten as the sensational report indicates. The ends of her fingers, but that the flesh was taken off by rats while she was asleep seems not very probable. The old lady is very peculiar in many respects, but is known that despite her present condition she has been a finely educated as any lady in the city. She is a thorough French and German scholar, has been able to do most elegant embroidery and painting, and has received a thorough musical training, having been an especially fine performer on the piano. She receives a small amount from the old country every quarter, and with the assistance of kind-hearted acquaintances and the county, is given a living, though in many respects it is a very sad and lonely one, and lacking many of the comforts so needed in old age.

A DRUNKEN ROW.

It is Followed by a Display of Temper in Court.

Kate Herberts home was the scene of a lively racket Thursday afternoon. Her son-in-law William Larne and Thomas Brown seemed to be largely concerned in it, and an officer was sent for. The newly appointed one, Kilgore appeared on the scene, but though a burly built man, he seemed unable to handle Brown, who was pretty full of fighting whiskey, after one found, in which Brown was given a bloody blow on the head with the policeman's club, assistance came, and Brown and Larne were brought to the station. They appeared in the police court yesterday morning. Brown pleaded guilty to being drunk and was fined. Larne's wife appeared against him, and they had a lively war of words and interchange of abuse and charges. The display of temper was such that Judge Ayresworth concluded to let the case go over to afternoon, but by that time the woman had cooled down and did not appear in court to testify, so her husband was discharged. About an hour later she appeared on the scene, and finding it was too late she started off in a huff, judging to see some lawyer and commence over again.

STILL MORE CHARGES.

The Police Force (Catching it All Around.

Besides the many other charges against the police which have been aired up of late is one to the effect that Captain Hathaway and Officer Cusick were in John Nicholson's saloon last Saturday night getting a lunch, when a row broke out, and in settling it one man was knocked stiff, it being fully fifteen minutes before consciousness was restored. It is said that the affair was a disgraceful one throughout, and yet the officers made no arrests and the matter was not reported. One of the reasons assigned for the neglect is that the police have been in the habit of getting free lunches there, and hence are under obligations to the house. The police committee can go on with more inquiries now.

Real Estate Transfers.

The following is a list of real estate transfers filed yesterday in the recorder's office of Pottawatomie county, Iowa, as furnished by A. J. Stephenson, abstractor, real estate and loan agent, Council Bluffs, Iowa, January 30, 1885.

Death of Mrs. Pace.

An event by no means unlooked for occurred about 1 o'clock yesterday morning, Mrs. Pace, wife of Mr. Harvey Pace, then breathing her last. She had been married about three years, and was in the twenty-fifth year of her age. She had a large circle of friends and acquaintances, and was esteemed very highly by all. The funeral is to be held Sunday at 1 o'clock from the family residence, No. 710 Mynter street.

The boys who have suffered from the jokers of Pilly, the leader of the Hibberts are now even with him.

He received a neat little note in the evening, asking him to meet the writer at the depot in Omaha on the arrival of the dummy train. After spending all of Thursday afternoon and evening watching the trains to vain, he became disgusted and returned only to find another note saying that she had been sick and could not come, but would like to meet him at a certain place on Mynter Street, last evening. He went there and had his curiosity satisfied by finding the writer of the note a ducky maiden with tight curly hair.

John Schmit of Page & Schmidt, received a telegram yesterday announcing the death of his sister in Ann Arbor, Mich.

Boosting the Hennepin Canal.

ALABAMA, January 29.—Chairman Shoemaker, of the committee on canals, presented the senate resolution in regard to the Hennepin canal to the assembly this morning and requested it to be immediately passed, which was done.
