> As will be seen by the notice given in another column, the annual meeting of the Home of the Friendless association is to be held on March 16. In view of the statement made that there has been no active organization and no duly elected executive board, an opportunity is now given for all members of the association to show themselves, and to take a voice in electing such officers and committees as they want. If they do not improve the opportunity they will not be in very good condition to find fault because the organization is not made complete. If the institution is to be kept before the public as under the active control of an association, there should be a regular election of executive officers, and to hold such an election satisfactorily there should be a large attendance of the contributors to the home, all regular contributors who are not in arrears, being him. No provision is made for a sheriff's office.

Messrs Kirkwood and Graham are appointed as a committee with power to act in the matter of procuring three burglar proof safes for the offices.

A STRANGE CASE.

The Burglarizing of Conrad Geise's Office and a Mysterious Check.

A day or two ago the office of Conrad

Gelse, at the browery, were burglarized at noon, and a small quantity of cash and a $100 bill taken from a drawer in the desk. The bill was payable to "C. Geise or bearer," and was drawn on some country bank a short distance from here. The next day the check was presented to Officer & Pusey's bank by a man whom the bank clerk took to be Mr. Lerche, the well known German newspaper man. He wanted it cashed, but the clerk told him that he could not do that, would and said he could get the check cashed up the street, so the receipt was torn up, the check returned, and the man disappeared. Nothing more has been heard of the check, but Mr. Geise being notified of the affair, interviewed Mr. Lerche, and he denied all knowledge of the affair whatever. He was not the one a good deal of mystery, and is being investigated with the hope of getting at
