

THE DAILY BEE

Saturday Morning, Feb. 21.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

A marriage license was issued yesterday to Peter Selp and Pauline K. Peterson. James Lowry was arrested yesterday upon a warrant sworn out by Lizzie Calhoun, who claims that Lowry assaulted her. Last night Mrs. Henry Knodell presented her husband with an eight pound girl baby. Both mother and child are getting along nicely. Revival services at the South Tenth street M. E. church this evening conducted by Rev. W. J. Pyle. Children's meeting to-morrow at 3 p. m. Thomas McLaughlin, aged 85, died at the hospital yesterday morning of senile exhaustion. He was friendless and unknown in the city. The body has been removed to the coroner's office, awaiting interment. Jack Jennings, whose engine jumped the track near Omaha recently, and who was brought home to Covington in a very critical condition, is now worse and not expected to live. The danger is caused by hemorrhage of the lungs. The Fremont Tribune says that Patrick McNally, the O'Neill pugilist, well known in local sporting circles, will shortly go east. His mission thither ends a central purpose in an attempt to be made to pick a fuss with that refined and respected citizen of the "Hub," John L. Sullivan. The United States National, First National, Merchants' National, Omaha National, Commercial National, Nebraska National, Omaha Savings and McCague Bros' banks will be closed on Monday, February 23, in observance of Washington's birthday, as that day is a legal holiday, but falls on Sunday. Ward has reached this city that little Laura, the 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Larsen, died at Evanston, Wyo., after an illness of several months. The interment took place at Evanston to-day. Mr. and Mrs. Larsen were for many years residents of Omaha, and have the heartfelt sympathy of a large circle of friends in their bereavement. "It'll be that four months from this day that Cleveland is inaugurated that at least one-half of the banks in this country will be closed and that three-fourths of the workmen will be idle," said a republican politician. This was too much for a democratic politician who was present in the crowd at the Washburn corner, and asked the republican to name the amount he wanted to put up on that assertion. This was accordingly done and the money was placed in the hands of a stakeholder. The republican will probably win, as four months from the 4th of March will be the 4th of July, on which day the banks will close and three-fourths of the workmen, it safe to say, will be idle on that holiday.

PERSONAL

Col. Floyd has recovered from his late illness. Constable's Lippincott goes to Ashland to-day on business. Ten of the Mapleson opera company are at the Metropolitan. Robert Sherman, of Plattsmouth, was in the city yesterday on business. Mr. F. M. Bailey, who has been out north on business returned home yesterday. J. L. Tidball and H. S. Fuller paid a flying visit to Omaha Friday. (Creted Vidette). Hon. J. M. Patterson was at Omaha to-day, as was also Major Wheeler. (Plattsmouth Journal, 20th). Dean Millsap went to Detroit last night to attend the consecration services of the Rev. Dr. Worthington, at that city. F. C. Moses, of New York, has arrived in Omaha, and will accept a position in Smith's dry goods store as head salesman. Mrs. Hattie Gehlert has been visiting the family Dr. S. K. Spalding for the past winter. She returned to her home in Burlington, Iowa, yesterday. Mr. T. P. Cartwright, one of L. B. Williams & Son's most popular salesmen, returned yesterday evening from a short visit to his parents in Creston, Iowa. John Nagorshek, of Omaha, is in the city. In conversation with the Herald, John said that he thought he would return to Plattsmouth and enter business as of yore. (Plattsmouth Herald). Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Haller (nee Lintner) left yesterday for Durant, Iowa, to visit Mr. Haller's parents. The indisposition of Mrs. Haller prevented their earlier departure upon their bridal tour. H. H. Wayne, North Bend, L. S. Powell, Grand Island, C. E. Bullock, Denver, J. C. Sheahan, Chicago, H. C. Race, C. O. Webster, J. T. Marshall, J. M. Beardley, Weeping Water, are at the Canfield. Mrs. R. R. Ringwalt and Miss Gertrude Ringwalt left for Detroit Thursday morning, expecting to be present at the consecration of Rev. Dr. Worthington, the newly elected bishop of Nebraska, in St. John's church, Detroit, February 24th. E. A. Fray, Fremont, A. W. Dennis and wife, Searcy county, O. N. Newell, wife and child, Cedar Rapids, Daniel Collins, Neb., P. W. Lockwood, Kansas City, Mo., A. F. Washington, St. Joe, Thos. B. Smith, Harlan, Iowa, F. W. Logan, J. A. Elliott, Orange, Kansas, and G. L. Kennedy, of Burlington, Iowa, are stopping at the Metropolitan.

Many cosmetics for the complexion have from time to time been up on the market. But none have stood the test as has Pezzen's medicated complexion powder. It is an absolute curative for blotches, discoloration, freckles, etc. For sale by druggists. Card of Thanks. Mr. Editor:—Allow us to return our heartfelt thanks to the many friends who sympathized with us in our bereavement during the illness and at the death of our beloved son, the late Peter J. Sullivan, and in a special manner to Messrs. J. H. McShane, Madfrey Bros., Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Genleman, Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Krause, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Burt, for their kind and sympathetic words and offers; and more particularly to Mrs. Thomas Burt for her valuable assistance in nursing our dear boy during the last weeks of his long illness. DANIEL SULLIVAN, MARGARET SULLIVAN. Omaha, Feb. 20, 1885. Shreman Bros. recount sale will only continue for a few days. Just received a nice lot of Celery at 50 cents.

A UNION PACIFIC WRECK.

The Belated Trains Delayed by Two Weeks in Wyoming.

The Union Pacific Folks in This City Deny the Fact of There Having Been Any Wreck. Thursday a Bee reporter got a pointer that there had been a wreck on the Union Pacific road in Wyoming and visited the headquarters for the purpose of ascertaining the truth of the report. There he was told that there was no truth in the report that there had been a wreck and that the delay was simply caused by snow. This is seems was not the truth of the matter, for the Laramie Boomerang of the 18th says the following: "The first trouble began on Monday, when train 12, in charge of Conductor Hayes and Engineer McKay, was wrecked, the engine leaving the track, turning over on its side and dragging seven loaded freight cars into the ditch, where the engine still lies, though the cars have been pulled out and taken to Niles, a mile and a half west, a track being built around the wreck. This delay of the east bound express, due here at 6:50 a. m. yesterday, about ten hours. The same evening, a west bound engine "flying light," stuck in the snow near Wilcox about 9 o'clock, and there being no help available the engineer and fireman passed the night sitting on their dead engine with the snow drifting fast over and around them. The Pacific express, going west on the same night, tied up at Rock Creek till daylight, when the two engines were detached and went in search of the lost engine, which was found as stated, off the track in the drift. She was pulled on and brought back to Rock Creek, where the three engines were coupled to the west-bound passenger and started on a little before noon yesterday. When about three miles west of Wilcox they struck a broken rail, ditching the two heavy leaders across the track, derailling the third engine and mail car, the latter having her truck frames broken. A relief train was sent to the scene of the wreck, and pulled the coaches back to Rock Creek, after which two of the three engines left the track, together with the mail car, were got on and taken to Wilcox. The leading engine is still in the ditch, but the track was finally cleared for passing this afternoon." Do not be deceived; ask for and take only B. H. Douglass & Sons' Capicum Cough Drops for Coughs, Colds and Sore Throats. D. S. and Trade Mark on every drop.

Daniel O'Keefe's Statement.

To the editor of the BEE. DEAR SIR:—Would you be kind enough to give me a chance to answer through your paper the false statement published in last Sunday's Republican in regards to the trouble with the school teacher of school district No. 3, of Douglas county, which has been refused by the Republican. The facts of the case are, I, by request of the director of the school board, went to the county superintendent and requested him to furnish district No. 3 with a teacher, which he did in a few days. We opened the new school house January 12th, and on the second or third day I whipped a small child until he fell to the floor. I received a written complaint from the boy's father, requesting the removal of the teacher for brutal treatment to his boy and others, and he then whipped my boy for objecting to sit in the same seat with one of the pupils, for good reasons, and for which the school gentleman, as the Republican calls him, whipped the boy in such a manner that he could not use his arm all the next day. I met the two officers of the district and informed them of the actions of the teacher and they both told me to get rid of him, as they would not tolerate such treatment. I then gave him notice that his services would not be required after his month expired and you will find by referring to the school laws, that the school board has the right to engage or dismiss a school teacher. At the end of the month there was a petition presented to the board which caused them to change their mind, they being at the other end of the district, did not know whether the list was genuine or not; I living in the district for the past eight years, know better. There are names on that list that I or any other man in the district could never get to any meeting for the benefit of the district. The gentleman who started the petition was Daniel Way, who started the petition to me, for no other reason but compelling him to act up to his contract for the erection of the new school house. I then called a meeting at the superintendent's office, and his voucher for his pay was presented to me, and I refused to sign it until he gave up the keys to the board. It then became the duty of Mr. Brumme to get out a writ of mandamus to compel me to sign the voucher. He went to Mr. Cowley to commence suit, but found that he could not compel me to sign. After my refusal to sign his voucher he went on teaching school, and to revenge himself he commenced to whip another of my boys, he not having menhood enough to take satisfaction out of myself. I therefore had him arrested for assault, not knowing the trick that Mr. Daniel Way had played to evade justice and if I had known I would have acted in the same manner, for I believe the laws of this country give the right to the parents to correct their children instead of outsiders doing it for them. The gentleman of the Republican further states that several of the boys are heroes of the Molly Maguires, and among the bad boys a O'Keefe's boys. I can inform that gentleman that my boys are at home every night and not committing midnight depredations, as he alleges. He further states, the whole trouble is caused by the officious assumption and interfering boy-play of the moderator, O'Keefe. I can assure that gentleman, I will not ask him for any information in regard to the duties of my office. DANIEL O'KEEFE.

A LIVELY RUN.

Mr. W. H. Jjams' Horse Indulges in a Morning Run and Smashes Two Vehicles. Yesterday morning about 9 o'clock there was a lively time on Fifteenth street. Mr. Jjams' sorrel mare got the best of her driver on Fifteenth street and indulged in a lively run. Near the postoffice the buggy to which was attached the flying horse, collided with a buggy belonging to Dr. Parker, completely wrecking the same. Mr. Jjams' buggy was overturned by the collision and the driver was thrown up on the pavement and very badly stunned. Mr. Jjams' horse ran up Thirteenth street until between Farcam and Harny streets, where she became so entangled in the wreck that it was impossible for her to run any further. The buggy, to which she was attached, was badly demolished and it will require the expenditure of a considerable sum of money to pay the damages. A Phantom Party will be given at the Little Omaha roller rink, for the benefit of the Omaha Light Guards, Monday, February 23. The money is to go toward getting uniforms for the company. Subscriptions to the amount of $300 have been raised for this purpose. They resort to this means to obtain the balance. The price of admission is 25 cents, and for gentlemen 15 cents, ladies 10 cents. This will be the first phantom party ever given on rollers in this city, and the Guards should have a full house. The committee are Capt. E. B. Smith and D. C. Wright. A lady seventy five years old, at one time a leader in Washington society, announced her intention of attending the long vacation ball and participating in its festivities. She claims the distinction of having attended every inaugural ball since she was old enough to do so, until the republicans came into power, and of having done with four presidents.

THE COURTS.

Yesterday's Doings in the District Judiciary—The Afternoon Work in the Police Tribunal.

The Mercer vs. Calver case, which has been pending in Judge Neville's branch of the district judiciary, was finished yesterday. The jury returned a sealed verdict. Judge Wakely tried, without jury, the case of White vs. Bogart, a suit to compel payment on some land, and returned a verdict of $320 to the plaintiff. W. E. Jones files a petition for divorce from his wife, Sarah E. Jones, on the ground of adultery and desertion. Plaintiff in his petition alleges that defendant has been guilty of open and continued liaison with a man by the name of M. E. Brandig, that she has been guilty of criminal intimacy with other parties whose names are not specified. Mrs. Jones will be re-manded as the lady who left her husband last week on a pretense of going to Plattsmouth to pay a bill. She did not return and Mr. J. has discovered that she has taken with her some $1,700 in cash and negotiable paper. Charles L. Fitcher, administrator of the estate of James H. Eayres, files a petition in this court to compel the dissolution of a claim of mortgage, held by William N. Nason, on the estate of deceased. POLICE COURT. "That ar's the man, judge that's him! Wot did he do! Did enuf, I talls you. He slugged me on the shin with a big stick and hurt me awfully. I won't do nothing to him, either." And Lizzie Calhoun, in Judge Bencke's court yesterday afternoon went on to tell a woful story of how she had been maliciously bruised and beaten, by the defendant arraigned, James Lowrey. Both parties are unsavory bottomities. After hearing the rich details of the case, the judge called Lowrey to the front, and gently invited him to append his signature to a $100 bond to keep the peace. This done, he was released with reprimand. Lizzie Calhoun smiled a sweet and expansive smile such as can only be assumed by avenged and triumphant femininity, and swept out of the court room. A complaint was sworn out against James Campbell, a young man who is accused of grand larceny in connection with the robbery of Scherb at the post-office some weeks ago. It will be remembered that his father William Campbell, was arrested and jailed on the same charge Thursday morning, having been, it is well known, spending money lately in a manner unaccountably lavish, and having, as a matter of equal publicity, no source whatever of honest revenue. Young Campbell, it is alleged, had been heard to acknowledge that he had found Scherb's pocketbook in the postoffice. To the arresting officer, however, he said that he had been gambling very successfully of late, and had thus accumulated a large sum of money. THE WINTER OF 1884-5. The signal service authorities say this winter has been in all probability the coldest season experienced here since the establishment of a signal station here fifteen years ago. At least so the records tell the arctic tale. As compared with the winter of 1883-4, the difference in mean temperature is quite marked. For instance, in December, 1883, the mean temperature for the month was 28.6 degrees; in December, 1884, 17.3 degrees. In January, 1884, the mean was 17 degrees; in January, 1885, 12.2 degrees. The ground is frozen, so say the plumbers, to a depth of four feet, and passing the much vexed question of the reliability of the craft, this is certainly a remarkable depth and represents an intensity of cold which has been well appreciated during the past season. Altogether, the winter of 1884-5, the severity of which it is predicted has been mainly spent, is one which will not soon be forgotten, and one which will bear comparison with the memorable winter season of 1857-8. A Token of Respect. There was a pleasant little party at the residence of Mr. Thos. Mellrum, on North Fourteenth street, last night, on the occasion of the presentation of a handsome gold ring to Mr. James Gray, a young Scotman who is leaving Omaha to return to his home in Aberdeen, Scotland. He has made many friends here by his frank and many ways and they thought it very appropriate to present him with some tangible token of their appreciation as well as remembrance of his friends in the "Gala City of the west." Mr. M. Fleming, sr., handed over the ring in a very appropriate and kindly speech, wishing him God speed, and Mr. Gray replied, thanking his friends for their beautiful gift. Refreshments and dancing filled in the remainder of a very enjoyable evening. Miss Oldwell, who has given a munificent donation to found a Roman Catholic library in the United States, the first American to receive from the Pope the golden rose, which is presented each year to the individual who has rendered the most signal services to the church during that year.

THE CRIMINAL CALENDAR.

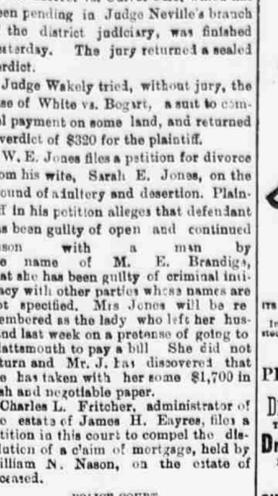

The Order of the Call of Criminal Cases Before Judge Neville. District Attorney Estelle has made out the list of criminal cases in the district court and they will be called in the following order, three cases to be called each day, commencing Monday morning, February 23d, 1885: 1. The state vs. Gazole, for murder in the first degree. 2. The state vs. Frank Gardner and Chas. O'Connor, for grand larceny. 3. The state vs. Charles Miller, for grand larceny. 4. The state vs. Greenwald and Lempeke, for attempted arson. 5. The state vs. Chris Roberts, for grand larceny. 6. The state vs. Albert Johnson, for burglary and grand larceny. 7. The state vs. Frank Grabney and Lucia Klus, for murder in the first degree. 8. The state vs. Frank Burns, peace warrant. 9. The state vs. Alice P. Mills, for libel. 10. The state vs. John McClelland, for robbery. 11. The state vs. Charles Westergard, for horse stealing. 12. The state vs. Chris Roberts, for grand larceny. 13. The state vs. Charles T. Erlington, for grand larceny. 14. The state vs. Laddlow, peace warrant. 15. The state vs. Frank J. Clarke, alias John Laughlin, for grand larceny. 15. The state vs. Lizzie Howard and John Thompson, for murder in the first degree. 17. The state vs. John McClelland, for burglary. 18. The state vs. James Mills, for libel. 19. The state vs. Wylie D. Clegg, for embezzlement. 20. The state vs. Norris, for forgery. 21. The state vs. Wylie D. Clegg, for embezzlement.

SOCIALEVENTS.

The Apollo Club's Last Ball—A Surprise Party. At Masonic hall Thursday night the event of the evening was the closing party of the season of the APOLLO CLUB. The spacious hall was well filled with the members of the club and their friends who devoted themselves to the pleasures of the dance, observant of a programme of twenty-two numbers. All the parties given by this popular organization during the season have been cessations of pleasurable memories, and this one was no exception. Following were the committees in charge: Master of ceremonies, A. J. Eaton, F. H. Kossers and C. H. Pula. Floor committee, T. E. Jones, Walter Skelthley, Ed P. Mullen, Walter C. Kelly and C. H. T. Rippen. At Falconer's hall, a pleasant surprise party was tendered to Mr. N. B. Falconer, by his lady employees, as a testimonial of their esteem. A large number of the clerk and their friends gathered in the hall at an early hour, in accordance with plots pre-arranged, and a committee was appointed to wait upon Mr. F. and notify him of the fête that awaited him. He speedily fell into the trap and was enticed down and led blindfold into the scene of merrymaking. As for the rest, dancing, refreshments and social pleasures formed the evening's entertainment. The credit of the enterprise is to be accorded to Miss Nellie Hollingsworth, who planned and superintended it, and who acted as general mistress of ceremonies. A LIVELY RUN. Mr. W. H.
