

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The remains of Mrs. W. H. Gould were buried yesterday afternoon. Judge McCulloch on Saturday united in marriage Mr. A. P. Nelson and Miss Nettie Johnson. J. M. Wolfe's new city directory is a useful and most creditable book, especially useful to business men. A good attendance greeted the hymn service yesterday afternoon in the St. Mary's avenue Congregational church. Charles Miller has returned to his old post at the city jail. Doc Pettit is now in charge of the post house. The Choral club of the Y. M. C. A. association will meet at 8 p. m. Friday next for practice, and a social will add to the pleasure of the occasion. The Charity Union have left their old headquarters and are now located in No. 7194 North Sixteenth street, a more convenient and cozy place. The funeral of Mrs. Harriet J. Gould, wife of W. H. Gould, took place at 2 p. m., from the late residence on South Fifteenth street. Thomas and John Garretson, who are charged with the burglary of Preston & Co's warehouse, have given bail in Judge Brandes' court to appear on April 1. A petition for the pardon of Jack Hanley is being circulated and has received many signatures, including those of every member of the jury who convicted him. The Omaha veteran club will meet around a campfire next Thursday evening in the old court house building. All old soldiers invited to participate and hear some good speeches. The remains of Peter Peterson, the yardman who was killed in the railroad accident at Villisca about three weeks ago arrived here Saturday and were buried in Prospect Hill cemetery, by request of his sister, who is now living in this city. Entertaining services were held at the rooms of the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon and evening. The latter conducted by D. L. Chubbuck, who proposes to hold a series of like meetings twice a week in the Baptist church, and invites all to attend. At 1 o'clock yesterday a number of the members of the Y. M. C. A. held services in the county jail at the request of the prisoners confined there. Forty-two prisoners attended, and fifteen asked for the prayers of the Christian people of Omaha. A meeting for young men exclusively will be held in the rooms of the Y. M. C. A. next Thursday evening at eight o'clock. All are invited to be present. The meeting for strangers in Omaha will be held Saturday at 8 p. m. The sheriff of Lancaster county was in Omaha Saturday, and took back with him Doug. McGuire and George Howard, who were arrested Friday by Omaha officers for the burglary of the storehouse and theft of goods belonging to Winger & Miller, of Lincoln. In the insane asylum at Lincoln, on Saturday last, Mrs. M. E. Johannes of Omaha, an old and respected citizen, died. Her derangement was occasioned by a tumor about the brain, from which she suffered continuously for a long time. Her remains were brought here and buried yesterday. Charles Bedford, of Oakland, Iowa, a lad of 18, while handling a load of reveler caught to be accidentally discharged. The ball entered the fleshy part of the left forearm, shattering the first joint. The ball was extracted by Dr. J. C. Jones. The victim is in the "Charity Union" of Omaha at present. Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Burgess have suffered sad bereavement in the death of their infant son, Charles, who passed away yesterday, after a brief illness. The funeral took place yesterday at 3 p. m. from the family residence on Hamilton street near King. All friends are invited. Bishop Worthington preached to quite a large congregation at Grace mission on Friday evening and after services resided to the home of Mr. E. Morony where a number of church people were invited to meet him. A very delightful time was spent, and all went away favorably impressed with the new bishop. Read carefully Smith's large advertisement on the last page of this paper. Never before were such bargains offered the citizens of Nebraska, and Iowa as are now offered by Smith. Special sales of carpets all this week. Send for samples of goods of any kind and they will be sent without charge. Orders by mail promptly attended to. The emigrants passing through Omaha may be said to be increasing daily. Friday night for the first time in the history of the office the land exploring tickets which are sold at the depot, were exhausted and some emigrants had to be temporarily turned away until this morning a new stock could be secured from headquarters. How to Build a House.—A new book of over thirty fully executed engravings of dwellings of all sizes, from two rooms up; also, barns, churches, cut-houses, etc.; etc.; worth its weight in gold. Sent by mail for 25 cents in stamps or silver. Address H. S. Smith, publisher, 105 and 108 South Fourteenth street, Omaha, Neb. Rudolph Emmert, who lives near Waterloo, in this county, started at an early hour yesterday to perform an errand. He rode a vicious and stubborn horse. His untimely exit was due to his safety and a party going to search for him found his body dead in the highway. He had been thrown and his neck broken by the fall. His burial took place from his residence yesterday afternoon. How to be Your Own Lawyer.—And book of legal and business forms. This work, which is entirely new and thoroughly reliable, should be in the house of every man in the land. It is handsomely bound; it is adapted for use in every state; and territory, contains over 600 pages, and will be sent, postpaid, for $1.50. Circulars free. Agents wanted. Address H. S. Smith, publisher, 105 and 108 South Fourteenth street, Omaha Neb. All the rubbish and debris in the new court house yard and premises were removed on Saturday by Contractor Coote. The contract for grading the grounds will soon be given by the commissioners of Douglas county, and shoveling parties will at once be set to work on the high and dangerous bank that now overhangs the sidewalk there. This is well, for at present it is liable momentarily to tumble into the street burying whomever might be passing at that fall. The assessors will begin work on June 1 next, and under the law the work must be completed in twelve days from that date. Mr. G. R. Lane came to Omaha Saturday to arrange for the taking of the census here. Omaha is divided into eighteen enumerating districts, as they are called, and the enumerators will proceed before long to gather reliable statistics as to population and manufacturing interests here. A man by the name of John Klansen was driving rapidly down Sixteenth street Saturday morning when his horse became frightened and ran away. His wagon collided with a buggy in which was riding Mr. William Coffman, brother of Dr. V. H. Coffman of this city. Mr. C. was thrown out upon the pavement and sustained a severe scalp wound. He was taken to his home at Calhoun and his injuries were attended to by Drs. Coffman and Lee. Manager Brandt, of the Stadt theatre has determined to give no more beneficiary performances to his actors, in view of the action of Mr. O. J. Fialta, who ran away with the proceeds of his benefit last week. To-morrow, however, he will present a double attraction. Besides the regular stock play, the Marten's Trio, a combination of superb vocal artists will appear and render a number of selections. The programme will doubtless be one of rare merit. Michael Casey appeared in the police court Saturday and swore out a complaint against his son Larry Casey, who so far forgot all instincts of manliness and decency the other day as to beat and severely wound his mother, Mrs. Catherine Casey. Young Casey is tough of the lowest description and may be remembered as the youth who was so badly injured last summer in the row near Sam Beatty's saloon. He is well known in police circles and bears a hard name. E. C. Pierce, the well-known coroner of Washington county, appeared in this city Friday night, dressed in a light summer suit and a straw hat. He informed his astonished friends that he had made a bet last fall with some enterprising citizen of Blair that if Blaine were defeated he would come out on the first of March in full summer attire, light clothes, light shoes, straw hat, no overcoat or gloves. Cleveland "made the stake" and now Mr. Pierce, to use expressive slang, is "paid out cold." The wicked horse trader Louis Betts, who ran away from this city the other day in company with the prostitute Annie Dennis, has been heard from at Fremont, where he had tried to procure a marriage license, with the intention of committing bigamy. A letter from Fremont was received from the Fremont authorities, advising if the couple were wanted, but an answer was made that no charge had been preferred against either. Meanwhile the deserted wife mournfully chants, "Betts and I are out." In the police court Saturday, Charles Ferguson, a vagr, was sent up for ten days on bread and water, and John Pluge, Henry Wilson and Henry Holworth, were fined $5 and costs for intoxication. Charles Rose, the vagrant who was given 21 hours to leave town Friday, was arraigned on the double charge of not having left the city as ordered, and having stolen an overcoat yesterday afternoon. Rose was given his original sentence of 30 days plus a fine of $20 and costs for larceny. In default of the fine he will spend about 60 days in the county jail. William Callin, who was arrested, Thursday with a piece of broken sidewalk in his possession, feels greatly hurt that a trivial matter should be magnified into a police court offense. He states that the piece of plank which he took were broken by the falling of trees on Bert street. He did not think it was wrong to have taken them, and claims that Policeman James arrested him for spite and abused and beat him brutally, smashing a tully on his head and kicking him in the ribs. Mr. C. states this is the first time in a long and honorable career as soldier and citizen that he has committed an act which could be tortured into an offense against the laws, and he feels a public explanation is due his friends and acquaintances. A gentleman from Sutton, Clay county brings news, among other things, of a comical mishap which befell the enterprising editor of the Clay County Democrat, Ross Locke. He was set upon by a mob of masked citizens last week and rotten-egged, until he resembled, in appearance and odor, a distillery dump. It appears that the young man, who is a very smart youthful representative of eastern journalism, had written clandestinely to a young school girl, asking her to meet him at an appointed place. The young miss very wisely, made up her mind to refuse the chance of "making a match" and showed the note to her mother who in turn, gave it to her husband. The story in conjunction with one or two other disgraceful exploits of the young man, caused a feeling of general indignation, which found vent in a manner which may be said to be extremely harsh. Friday evening a "Lodge of Sorrow" was held in Free Mason's hall, under the auspices of the Scottish Rite, in memory of the life and Masonic labors of A. C. Drake, W. M. Dolan and John Cameron. The officers for the occasion were Robert C. Jordan, Ven. Master; William R. Brown, Sen. Warden; Elbert T. Duke, Jun. Warden; John J. Points, Orator; Rev. Brother James Peterson, Primate; Gustave Anderson, Almoner; Frederick B. Lowe, Secretary; John G. Willis, Treasurer; Henry C. Atin, Master of Ceremonies; Charles R. Turney, Sen. Deacon; Frederick J. Borthwick, Jun. Deacon; William J. Mount, Tiler. The chamber was appropriately draped with black cloth. The order of exercises consisted of the usual funeral rites of the order and the programme of music and oration was of a solemn and impressive character. This was the first "Lodge of Sorrow" yet held in the city and the event was one long to be remembered by the local brotherhood of Masons. H. C. Chapman, Esq., of the Grand Island Times, is in the city. Mr. C. was a passenger of No. 4 passenger train at the time of its collision yesterday morning about seven o'clock, six miles east of Crete, with a double-headed freight train going west. The light engine had run ahead to flag the passenger, and met No. 4 in a deep cut, but so close that a collision was inevitable. Both engines reversed their engines, the passenger engineer applied brakes, and seeing the freight train close behind the light engine, he and the fireman jumped; the result was that the engineer suffered a dislocation of the left knee, and the fireman was a little bruised. Both the engine and fireman of the other engine jumped and escaped unhurt. The light engine after colliding with the passenger, recoiled and started at a terrific speed back, and collided with the freight engine, badly shaking up that; so there were three engines injured by the accident. The injury will not be very serious as the engines will be repaired and out of the shops in a short time. There are several parties who claim the honor and the reward for the arrest of "Tough" McGuire and "One-Eye" Howard, the thieves implicated in the robbery of Winger & Miller, the Lincoln merchants, last week. Detective C. W. Edgerton comes in for no small praise for his efforts in connection with the successful detection of the culprit and the recovery of the goods. But it seems that Friday afternoon Marshal Cummings received a letter from Detective Pound, of Lincoln, telling him to arrest McGuire and Howard, and that sufficient evidence had been accumulated to clearly fasten the guilt upon them. The marshal immediately turned the case over to Officer Green, who swore out a search warrant to examine the premises of Mr. McGuire. He was going down the street when he met Howard, and immediately arrested him and placed him in jail, on a charge of larceny. Mr. Edgerton, also looking for the same man, discovering that he was in jail and understanding that he had been arrested as a suspicious character, procured his release from Judge Weiss and rearrested and placed him in the county jail, on a charge of burglary. Officer Green swore out a mittimus Saturday and tried to secure possession of Howard, but failed, as Jailer Miller, of the county bastille, refused to give him up. An interesting event occurred in the counting room of THE BEE on Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. It was the presentation of a number of watches to THE BEE carrier boys, in accordance with a promise of the company made last fall that those who did extra good work through the winter in the delivery of papers to the subscribers would be suitably rewarded. The conditions were that the papers should be delivered regularly and promptly, and that the conduct of the carriers should be polite and gentlemanly, the twelve out of the twenty-three who made the best record to each receive a present of a watch. This offer was made in the interest of the subscribers. At the hour named above the carriers assembled in the counting-room to receive their rewards of merit. Besides the full force of carriers, there were present quite a number of the other employees of the establishment, as well as several gentlemen and ladies, who seemed to take considerable interest in the affair. The presentation of the watches was made by Mr. Theo. Williams, issue of THE BEE's city circulation, who has charge of the carriers. The watches were awarded to the following carriers: 1. Edgar M. Crowe. 2. Ernest Read. 3. Geo. Carpenter. 4. E. N. Town. 5. Louis Weyandler. 6. Ivar Berg. 7. Nels Nelson. 8. M. J. Nelson. 9. Arthur Frost. 10. M. G. Arnold. 11. John W. Straight. 12. E. V. Rowley. The first two premiums, given to Crowe and Read, are fine gold watches, while the rest are silver, all of them being Elgin movements and heavy cases. The names of the recipients were neatly engraved upon the cases. The criterion in the award of the watches in the above list of honor indicates their relative standing on the record of their services, which has been carefully kept. Mr. Williams, in presenting the prizes, made a few remarks appropriate to the occasion, stating the object of giving the watches it was done as a remuneration for faithful services and extra work which they had done in order to please the patrons of THE BEE. He commended all the carriers and encouraged them in their work, and hoped they would continue to do as good service in the future as they had in the past. The prize-winners were very much pleased with their presents, as was plainly evident to the spectators. George Carpenter, who was awarded the third prize, has been in the service of THE BEE for four or five years, and makes a comfortable living by carrying papers, he having in addition to his evening work for THE BEE a morning route. It should be borne in mind that carrier boys are not in any way like newsboys who sell papers on the street, who, as a rule, are a lot of saucy youngsters. THE BEE carriers are intelligent and gentlemanly, and as fine looking a set of boys and young men as can be found anywhere. There are no bad characters among them. Incidentally it may be stated that the reason that some of them did not get prizes is that they have been with THE BEE only a short time, but it should not be forgotten that while they have been with THE BEE they have done excellent work. Among the BEB carriers are the sons of quite a few well-to-do families in Omaha, while others are poor boys who thus get their other support. A boy who is capable of carrying his routes correctly, making his collections closely, and otherwise properly attending to the duties required of a newspaper carrier possesses all the elements of a first class business man, and is bound to succeed in life. There are hundreds of boys continually applying for positions as carriers, but it is a difficult matter to select the ones who possess the required intelligence, perseverance and pluck. Some of the BEB carriers are young men who are attending school or college, and who pay their expenses, in whole or in part, by carrying newspapers. Many of the carriers have no trouble in obtaining first-class positions when they quit the service of THE BEE. During the last month five of them quit to better their condition. One of them secured a clerkship in one of the principal grocery stores of Omaha; another obtained a clerkship in the Union Pacific headquarters; another found employment as stenographic secretary in a large agricultural implement concern; a fourth got a clerkship in the Omaha National bank; while a fifth has begun farming on his own account near La Platte, Nebraska. City Political Pointers. A mass meeting of the colored voters of this city will be held to-night at 8 o'clock to select five delegates to the convention of workmen that will meet in the police court room. This was agreed on Saturday night last in a caucus of which Wm. H. Butler was chairman and J. R. Simpson was secretary. The republican committee of the fourth ward decided to hold no caucus to elect delegates to Tuesday's convention, but that they should be chosen at this evening's primaries at the Planters house. THE SECOND WARD CAUCUS. The caucus of the second ward republicans met Saturday night at 7:30 in Kessler's hall and was called to order by

L. S. Haseall. M. Lashy nominated D. C. Schelly for chairman. Another vote nominated Gen. O'Brien for chairman. Haseall put the motion of Schelly for chairman, which though voted down by an overwhelming majority was declared by Haseall carried. A man at Haseall's elbow named O'Brien for secretary. A party named Mansey then put the motion of O'Brien for chairman which carried by an overwhelming majority that Haseall said he had no fair "shake" and with Lashy, Schelly and a few others left the hall. Gen. Geo. M. O'Brien assumed the duty of chairman. J. B. Piper was elected secretary and the caucus proceeded to the election of delegates which resulted in the selection of delegates to the city convention as follows: M. Lee, Frank Kaesper, S. J. Larson, M. P. O'Brien, Tim. Collins, J. B. Southard, Chas. Thomas, and J. B. Piper. After a few speeches the caucus adjourned. Haseall and his followers after resting around half an hour gathered sufficient number to call a meeting together at Kessler's hall, over in the First ward, at which delegates were also selected. So there will be two sets of delegates to be voted for at the primaries, and as Haseall is likely to be snowed under there will probably be two sets of delegates apply for admission into the convention. REPUBLICAN PRIMARIES. The republican primaries will be held at the following places, Monday, March 23, from 5 to 7 p. m.: First ward—Thrane's shoe store, Tenth and Jackson streets. Second ward—Walling's, on Leavenworth and Thirteenth streets. Third ward—Twelfth and Douglas. Fourth ward—Planters' hotel. Fifth ward—U. P. bakery. Sixth ward—No. 1 engine house. Each ward shall select eight delegates to the republican city convention to be held at the City hall, Tuesday, March 24, at 2 p. m., for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for the following offices: Mayor, police judge, treasurer, auditor, six councilmen at large, three members of the board of education. By order of the city central committee. MICHAEL MANEY, Chairman. ROBERT D. DUNCAN, Secretary. VODICKA & PAPEZ, MERCHANT TAILORS, REMOVED TO 210 SOUTH 12TH, BETWEEN DOUGLAS AND FARMAN STS. A meeting of the board of managers of the Douglas County Agricultural Society was held Saturday afternoon, the following members being present: Messrs. Eicke, Avery, Rustin and Gissman. Elijah Allen, who had been appointed a committee of one to visit and confer with the officers of the different county societies, with a view to holding a district fair, reported favorably. Saunders, Washington, Bert and Cumins, all seemed to favor the proposition. It was decided to request all counties favorably disposed to either send a delegate to a meeting to be held in Omaha, April 11, 1885, at 1513 Farmar street, at 2 o'clock p. m., or send instructions by letter to a newspaper carrier, secretary of the Douglas county society. Messrs. Eicke and Rustin were appointed a committee to consult with the leading citizens of Omaha and Douglas county with respect to the expedition intended to be held this fall. The board adjourned to meet again Saturday, March 25, at 2 o'clock p. m., 1513 Farmar street.
