We have a great many little boys and girls present here to day who have not been attending the meetings during the past week; we also have a great many who have been attending, and who have been very nice and well behaved. It seems funny to me that Council Bluffs children should be so well behaved. A man from another place remarked to me during the week, how well they behaved. It is well that it is true; not only for is few days but for the future of Council

What a glorious thing it is to be a boy these days, or a girl either for that matter. In a few years you will be able to see what the world has never seen before. This is always the way when we fall to heed the advice of the older, and are enticed and tempted by these whom we ought to know better than to heed, and then after a man becomes a pauper and an outcast, and it is too late to return, or become anything he meets with plenty who are willing to tell him that he is an old fool.

The proper way is to shun the first wrong step. Heed the advice of the older, and profit by the examples of those who have gone before. You either have to learn by your own or some one else's experience. When you go by a forbidden door, or know that It lies in your way, you had better go round that place; steet clear round it. Keep this passage of scripture before you: "My son, if sinners entice thee, consent thou not."

At the close of the address a large number of children took the pledge, promis-ing not to use tobacco, profanity, or intoxicanty, and after a distribution of ribbons and papers, the large audience dispersed.

In the evening at the opera house there was a union mass meeting, which called forth a great audience. Col. Woodford gave another of his earnest, eloquent ad-

51.—It is purely native, and therefore hardy. Has stood 35 degrees below zero without injury.

4th.—Bears a good crop the 3d year and often the 2d, and is a regular bearer, and no waste, as bunches are compact. Never fails to ripen its crop as the thick leathery foliage holds even to the base of the canes until frost kills it.

5th.—Vineyards are in bearing in various sections from Georgia to the Northern Lakes and Canada, and from Kansas to the Atlantic coast, there being more than 1,000 acres planted within the last five years, and over 200 acres were planted at Brocton, Chautauqua Co., N. Y. last spring, (1884); Jones Martin alone having 47 acres; the largest vineyard of Niagaras, being planted at Highland, Ulster Co., N. Y., by Sam'l Rogers, Esq., which contains 80 scres of this one variety, and he has realized from 20 to 30 cents per pound for his fruit, while Concords grown in the same locality brought from 4 to 6 cents only.

6.—All parties planting vineyards have signed a contract to return all the wood and cutting every year back to the Company up to, and including 1888; so it has been the sole owner of all the stock, and no one but the Company and its authorized agents can sell and deliver geouine Niagara vines. So all persons should examine agent's certificate of authority, and see that it has the corporate seal of the Company attached, and every vine that it has a lead seal attached, bearing the impression of the Company's registered trade mark.

7th.—We now offer for the first time, strong 2 year old vines at retail at $2.00 each without restrictions, to be delivered on and after March 1st, 1885.
