CHICAGO, March 31.-The Evening Mail publishes the following: It is on record that men will do almost anything to get a little money when they are pinched, but the most novel transaction in that line occurred in Judge Rogers' court to-day. About two years ago Albert C. Scott, of New York city, came to Chicago with $10,000. He drifted in the direction of Fourth avenue, and became an habitue of Mollie Fitch's place at No. 114. Miss Annette Barnett, one of the star boarders" there, became his affinity, and atter a season of dalliance the pair left for Europe, where they managed to spend the greater part of the ten thousand greater part of the ten thours. The agent refused to deliver, Connor, local superintendent of the Pacific Mail company, was first arrested, and later the captain and purser of the steamer placed under arrest on board. Subsequently Capt. Dow, general agent of the Pacific Mail company; Mr. Wright, United States consul, and a lieutenant of the American man-of-war Galena were arrested and marched off to the cuartel. They were released at 6 o'clock on condition that the arms should be delivered, and the delivery is going on.
