

THE DAILY BEE

Monday Morning, April 20.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Company F, Fourth United States Infantry, will give a grand ball at the company barracks, Tuesday evening.

Police Judge Stenberg issued a warrant yesterday for W. H. Rennert. Charge, forging a $70 check upon C. J. Cowan & Co., and passing it upon Henry Bohn.

Joseph Wasaku, the tailor, lost a new suit, which had been cleaned and was hanging in the back yard to dry, Friday night. It was stolen by some sneaky thief.

In the district court Saturday morning, a motion for the appointment of a receiver in the case of Booth vs. D. B. Beemer, the recently bankrupt commission merchant, was argued and submitted.

An attempt was made Friday night by some daring thief, to break open the iron safe in Bradford's lumber office, Ninth and Douglas. The attempt was not successful, and the would-be cracksmen secured no booty.

The court proceedings of Saturday were wholly unimportant. There will be no district court this week. In police circles all was quiet last night and fewer than usual cases of drunk and disorderly reported at the jail.

Judge Stenberg on Saturday heard the charge of stealing $20 from an Italian laborer by two colored boys, Porter and Thekell. Porter was held to await the action of the grand jury, and the other boy released.

Lively work by the forces of eighty men who are clearing out the landslide from the St. Paul & Omaha railway cut-off at Florence, has nearly completed the job, and trains will run through the cut-off again very soon.

A warrant was sworn out in the police court Saturday morning for the arrest of W. H. Rennert. He is charged with forging a $70 check upon C. J. Cowan & Co., and passing it upon Henry Bohn, the Sixteenth street grocer.

Henry Drexel has received per mail (and female) a beautiful box of roses from Napa City, California. They were somewhat faded and wilted when they reached Omaha, but served to convey "in flower-poem, those tender memories," etc., etc.

To-night will be heard at the Museum the "King Bee Georgia Minstrels." This troupe of twenty artists come here most highly endorsed by the great dailies of Kansas and Missouri and the Bix man, who has heard them, heartily exclaims this praise.

The funeral of Mrs. H. L. Chamberlain, wife of Mr. H. L. Chamberlain, of Chamberlain, Iowa & Marshall, took place Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence, 1715 Cass. The remains were shipped to Clinton, Mich., in the evening, for interment.

A lamp in the stairway at 1,395 Douglas street exploded Saturday night about 9 o'clock, scattering burning oil around general. Fortunately Policeman Bowles discovered the fire and kicked the lamp into the street and the fire was put out without an alarm being sounded.

The enlargement of the B. & M. headquarters will cost $30,000. It will be made a four-story structure, and a building 22 feet wide and 132 feet deep will be added on the west side. The contract has been let, the plans are being drawn, and the work will be begun at once.

Mamie Dillon, an actress, lately employed at the Buckingham, left for the east yesterday morning, taking a lot of personal property belonging to two of the professional "sisters." She was arrested last evening by Chief Skinner, in Council Bluffs, and released after surrendering the property.

Burton in the "Vigilantes" would make a first-class candidate for congress in West Virginia or Tennessee. His speech descriptive of the hills among which his supposed constituency reside, where "stars drip dew from the daisies and the tall pines whisper to each other of the winds," would be immense among the free, bold men of those sections.

In the police court Saturday morning, William Henney and Tom McGregor were fined $10 and costs for creating a disturbance in Bohemian town last night. Ignacio, whose pugnaeous proclivities had overpowered his discretion, suffered a similar infliction. Robert McGuire, intoxicated, was fined $5 and sent to the county jail.

Sixteen cars filled with cattle, which had been shipped from North Platte to Chicago via the U. P. and C. & N. W. railways, were sent east last Friday over the C. R. 1 & P. It is said that they were rebuffed at the stock yards. The Northwestern folks are very angry over the "diversion" and said Saturday that unless accident in rebelling was shown there will be a row. Wait and see.

County Treasurer Rush is slightly vexed and perplexed. He has received the payments of a number of delinquent tax-payers, under the provisions of the new law repealing the 5 per cent. He is now informed by Gen. Cowin that the law is to be considered unconstitutional. If the county commissioners so will, they can hold Mr. Rush responsible for the deficit thus occasioned. They have as yet not expressed themselves on the subject.

The entertainment in the Dodge street Presbyterian church this week, on the occasion of the trial of the grand pipe organ, promises to be the musical affair of the season so far. The celebrated organist, Clarence Eddy, of Chicago, will be in attendance, and a choir of twenty-five voices selected from the best musicians of Omaha will render such music as has rarely been heard here. Will T. Tubor, the master of the organ heretofore, will accompany the singers and the entire musical world of the city is anticipating the event with high expectations.

Private information was last night received at this office to the following effect: "Two men who came in last night and said there was a man found dead hanging to a bridge between Albin and St. Edwards. He was a German and was called Jake, and was employed by a man named Mart Stevens. Derangement of the cause." Further particulars learned later as to the effect that the man whose name seems to be Jacob Jacobs was in love with a working girl, who trifled with and jilted him, and he "took it to heart," as the backwoods people say, and killed himself.

J. L. Rice, a former resident of Omaha, has been arrested and jailed at Denver for general crookedness. Sometime ago he was put at work soliciting advertisements for "The Grippeack," a publication in which Messrs. Gibson and Croffut are interested. Tuesday afternoon Mr. Croffut, who is now in Denver, found that Rice had been hypochondriac orders for advertising, first signing Henry Gibson's name as an endorsement, all the bills being made payable to his order. The exact amount thus disposed of by Rice is not known, but it is estimated that it will reach $1,000. Mr. Croffut at once had Rice jailed, and at last accounts he was still behind the bars.

HAULING THE SEINE.

Things Wise and Things Otherwise Done in Omaha.

The "Omaha Club" [kind of sticks not mentioned] met at the Paxton Saturday night and smoked.

The base ball game fluid is beginning to circulate. A match is made for Saturday between the Creighton college and High school clubs.

More the pity for the poor pigeons. A number of these birds will be slaughtered to-morrow afternoon at Athletic park to make a Nebraska holiday.

The pardon-prayer placed in the hands of Gen. Howard for the benefit of Christian Wirth (who has not yet been "branded") will be acted on ere long.

The German tragedienne, Magda Ireschick, was greeted with round after round of enthusiastic approval at the Stadt theatre last night in the play of "Marie Stuart."

The youth who "broke himself up" falling from the dome of a temple in Omaha a long ago, has been so successfully put together again that he now moves around intact.

Conductor Charley Mack, of the dummy train, has the reporter's thanks for finding and returning his lost "head-water-alicker." Loose yours, Charley, and he will reciprocate if he can.

Bonanza Fair, ex-bar-keeper, and now United States senator, and Smeltingworks Hill, former roustabout in a Welsh mine, and now United States senator, passed west Saturday. And so money makes the mare go.

It will only cost twenty-five cents (the price of two brandy snashes) to hear the grand musical entertainment to-morrow evening at the hall of St. Philomena Temperance society. Let's all go, old toppers!

The Buckingham man "bucked" the wrong tiger when he tackled the city treasurer for his $100 deposited for liquor license. It was no go. Here is a case where "sin plated with gold," [punch beck], found that the strong arm of justice did not "hurdless orak" for the penny straw of McVay's garnishment bid to pierce it.

The Loop City people sent W. H. Canger, late member of the gang of Nebraska lurers, assembled in Lincoln, as is the bi-annual custom, to direct the building of a railroad to that future, (very future) great metropolis. The road will go there as soon as possible after the judgment day.

The Hon. Max Meyer promises when he gets to Berlin to ship prepaid and duty free to the city department of this city two tin horns and a hand organ, for use when the first-stopped-in-for-a-moment man calls and seats himself. Thanks, Mr. Meyer, your philanthropy will be rewarded "over there."

NO REVOLVING LUXURY. The county officers had their visions of easy chairs, fine desks, revolving tables, massive record cases, etc., etc., etc., knocked higher than a kite on Saturday by the determination of the commissioners, under the advice of the county attorney, not to accept the fine furniture put in by the contractor for the new court house.

It seems that upon examination the vaults and various articles of court house furniture are not as they should be, according to the letter of the bond; and inasmuch as the use of the chattel will be construed as an acceptance of the same, and entitle the contractor to draw the cash for what he did not furnish, the wise guardians of the exchequer of Douglas county promptly and properly refused to accept. This leaves, for the time being, an $8,000 vacuum in Contractor Felge's money-purse, which will be filled when the bond is kept. The rest of the work on the new "Temple of Justice (?) is almost completed; only a little braising, smoothing and putting in place of lace, ends and bangs are needed to make the county's darling ready for a grand debut in legal society.

PAT WOMEN AND MILKERS. Lincoln has the state fair and Omaha is going to have a district fair in September that will carry off the limp limps from her depopulated rosettes. On Saturday the Omaha Board of Trade and the Douglas County Agricultural society met in the rooms of the former in joint convention to hold a business pow-wow, whereat

HON. AGRICOLA BOYD presided and the following substantial "farmers" were present: Messrs. E. Allen, Charrell Parker, Henry Eicke, John Boumer, Julius Treitschke, G. Linloger, H. G. Clark, Chris. Hartman, John P. Paulsen and Daniel Wheeler.

A gentleman explained the practical condition of things, and among others said that they had $200 cash in hand, $400 due from the county, and about $1,100 likewise due the county agricultural society from the county. Mr. E. Allen reported the different county organizations as agreeable to the proposed fair, because they told him so on his late visit made per order of the county board. Mr. Wheeler, of Plattsmouth, made several good points for Omaha, and a center shot when he said by all means have plenty of good races, and hold it just long enough before the Lincoln fair to make certain that "the boys" who spend the cash will all get broke before going down. [Mr. Wheeler didn't say exactly this, but it is a good idea, only roughly expressed.] Mr. Lininger talked business, also. He favored $25,000 worth of stock company to start an exposition, to erect a building in Omaha city, and the fair to be held on the old fair grounds. He wanted an exposition this year. This proposition was favored by President Agricola Boyd, who suggested fifty in place of twenty-five thousand dollars capital and that no more than 10 per cent. be called in. These suggestions met such favor that the Board of Trade committee and the managers of the county society were made a select committee to draw up articles of incorporation with a capital of $50,000, to be called the Omaha Fair and Exhibition association. [Mr. Lininger is father to this monosyllabic title.] When the association is formed and in working order, Mr. Wheeler, it was agreed, will be major-domo of the establishment with headquarters in the saddle or on a Pullman car, and at the major-domo's suggestion the time for holding the fair was fixed at September from the 4th to the 11th inclusive. And then this meeting, which really has arranged for one of the most important enterprises of the interests of the people of this city and section, adjourned.

P. J. Williams, Esq., a colored constable of Omaha, declares he has no idea of the time of day, although the watch was running all right. It appears that a writ of you've-got-'im-and-I'll-take-'im, vulgarly known as epilepsy, was given the constable by which authority he was directed to go to Smith's pawnshop and demand and take a watch pledged there, worth about twice as much as $25, the sum procured on it by the owner. The constable went and kept his writ in his pocket. He demanded the watch, and when produced he took it. His wishes now he had pulled that writ from his pocket. Had he done so there would have been no necessity for blowing whistles and calling out the city militia, as there was. Williams says as a hitter, a hugger and a biter Smith is a success.

With the exception of several fish, which are too large to hang upon this "string," and which will be found elsewhere, good reader, you have been here given the select catches of Tex Bry's seine-hauler. Some "offal fish" he has thrown back into the sea of daily life, with the hope that if he catches them again, or any like them, they will be fitter to serve for the friends of Tex Bry.

KANSAS CITY VS. OMAHA.

Last Saturday's Base Ball Game Resulted in Victory for the Kansas City Boys.

The Western league championship season for 1885 opened Saturday at Kansas City with victory for the Kansas City team over the Omahas, on the ground of the former.

It is possible that many readers of the BEE will not be able to see the detailed account of the game and a synopsis is therefore given to-day.

The weather was cold and raw, but about 2,000 people witnessed the game.

Doyle carried off the honors of the infield for the home team, accepting of the seven chances offered him. The game was a one-sided one from the start, but the Omahas played a good upthill game, and gave evidence of being composed of sure and level-headed ball players.

The Omahas scored only in the fourth and eighth innings, in the fourth making the circuit on a single by third, which Burch allowed to go through him, a passed ball and Gels' sacrifice hit to second. In the eighth they made three runs, Graham, Jimmie Say and Black getting around on a fumble of Hackett's, a wild pitch, a base on balls, Say's single between short and third and Gels' drive to the center field fence for two bases, the latter being an earned ball.

The home team scored in every inning except the fifth and sixth.

The Omahas consisted of Meteler, I. F., Graham, C. F., L. Say, S. J. Say, 3d B., Black, P., Gels, 2d B., Dwyer, 1st B., Kent, r. f., Webber, c.

The Kansas City team were Seery, r. f., Vlsner, c. f., Burch, I. F., T. O'Brien, 2d B., Doyle, 3d B., W. O'Brien 1st B., Hackett, ss., E. Dugan, p., W. Dugan, c.

Saving the Waifs. *Miss Selina Armstrong, of those philanthropic ladies who are so often found in the Atlantic section of the country taking such an active interest in the prairie lands of the west, and the welfare of the orphans and waifs of that older section towards the sunrise, passed through Omaha Saturday, armed with transportation from Manager Calloway of the U. P. company, for eleven little children, picked up in the streets, and slums and gutters of the "City of Brotherly Love." Miss Armstrong took these little street Arabs to Platte Centre, Nebraska, where they have homes already secured and will be cared for. Good work, good lady! and towards the middle of the next generation there will possibly be another story of a president who rose from nowhere and became great. There are "Arabs" in Omaha too.

A NEEDED EDIFICE.

Prominent Citizens Propose to Erect a Grand Exposition Building for All Sorts of Public Meetings.

Among the many projects now on foot to add to the fine buildings of a quasi public character, is that decided on Saturday last by the following gentleman, well known in business circles, who met in private way, without parade but filled with business purposes, viz: Messrs. F. W. Gray, Max Meyer & Bro., C. E. Ames, Dewey & Stone, R. F. Smith, William Wallace, Luther Drake, J. A. Wakefield, L. Mendelssohn, P. P. Shelby, and J. W. Miner.

Their purpose is to erect a grand exposition building, large enough to accommodate any assemblage that may be attracted at any time in the city, and if carried out will fill a crying need in this metropolitan city. It is proposed to erect a building upon the south half of the block between Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets, facing south on Capitol avenue, 263 by 120 feet in dimensions, open from ground floor to high skylight roof. The structure will be a perfect model of the modern exposition building. The floor will be laid with a fine, oiled, grained, hard wood. About the four walls will be placed tiers of seats, which, with the gallery above, will accommodate 3,000 people.

Immediately on the Fifteenth and Capitol avenue corner, will be the main entrance, exits being at the same time afforded at all corners.

The city has long needed a building for the accommodation of mass convocations, a first-class, large skating rink is demanded, and the necessity for an industrial exposition building has been long felt and growing. It is intended to afford every facility for a grand exposition in the fall. During the remainder of the year the structure will be employed as a skating rink, except on occasions of great public gatherings, when vast seating accommodations are prepared. Beside the three thousand seats about the walls in the gallery, four thousand more can be put on the floor, thus giving the building a capacity of 7,000, the largest by far in the west. Grand concert, opera, public speaking, dramatic festivals and such occasions of large audiences will be accommodated in a manner for which no provision now exists in the city. The ground has already been secured upon a lease from Hon. A. J. Poppleton, for 30 years. To-night the supporters of the project will meet in the office of C. E. Squires to perfect arrangements.

Six freight cars, one of which had a broken track, struck a loose rail and ran off the track, in the Union Pacific yards about 3:30 Saturday afternoon.

Religious Notes.

Rev. R. Lutz, the evangelist, has recently returned from Platte county, Neb., where he has been holding revival meetings. He reports over one hundred conversions.

Revival meetings are in progress on the south side of the city, and services are held in the hall of No. 4 engine house, Eleventh and Duran streets.
