J. W. & E. L. Squires have a good office railing which they will sell very cheap.
You should lose no time in securing your tickets at Atkins' store for the entertainment to be given by Miss Jennie Couthouli. Seats are being taken rapidly.
A man named Charles Scott, employed in the K. C. yards at Boswell, was killed last Friday night, he falling from a freight car, and the train cutting him in two.
Officer Smillens has been laid off duty for ten days. The cause is not known, but it is intimated that the chief thought he has not been paying enough attention to his orders.
Justice Shurtz on Saturday performed the ceremony joining as husband and wife, Mr. Elmer Logler and Miss Mattie Killoren. The groom is from Lincoln and the bride from Omaha.
Rev. J. A. Nash, of Des Moines preached at the Baptist church yesterday morning and evening. Next Sunday it is expected that the new pastor, Rev. Dr. Cooley, will begin his labors.
J. T. Hart is raising his residence at the corner of Sixth avenue and Eighth street; quite a raise, considering that he once before raised it as high as he ever thought he would need it. W. P. Aylsworth is doing the raising.
Rev. N. F. Scallon, of Yankton, D. T., will lecture at the Catholic church in this city on Wednesday evening, April 29, on "The Influence of the Catholic Church on Civil Liberty." Rev. Scallon is an able speaker, and the lecture will be an intellectual feast to those who may hear it.
Saturday evening those in the vicinity of the corner of Main and Willow avenue were startled by the report of two pistols in succession. It proved to be Officer O'Brien, shooting at a big, ugly dog, which had taken up his position on the doorstep of the boarding house there, and was refusing to let any of the boarders enter.
There was a report on the streets yesterday that Bill Heaton, in running a train out of here Saturday night had some trouble with three tramps, and that he had shot and killed one and wounded another. The report seems to have grown out of the shooting near Atchison, the particulars of which are given in the telegraph columns.
Teddy White has been arrested on the charge of kidnapping one of his own children. He and his wife have not been living harmoniously together, and the wife was preparing to take one of the girls to Nebraska, when Teddy, by some means, got the girl away from the house. Justice Frayne is to hear the case to day.
The postoffice facilities between here and Omaha do not seem to be any too good. A letter dropped into the office here Saturday evening did not reach that city's office until yesterday afternoon. This is no unusual instance. In fact it generally takes longer to correspond with Omaha by mail than any place ten times the distance.

The skating rink has been transformed into a dime museum, which opens this evening, and is to be made a permanent feature of Council Bluffs. Among the attractions already secured are Lowardo Baldwin, the armless man; Mlle. Estelle, the long haired woman; Princess Pochontas, Albinos, Moors, the great living half lady, and other wonders. The Georgia minstrels have also been secured for this week.
Deputy Sheriff Clatterback successfully served the notice on Wm. Farrell, of Weston, that an application would be made before Judge Connors, at Glenwood, for an injunction restraining him from selling any more whisky. The application is made by four of the residents of Weston, and it is understood that Farrell has concluded to make no fight, but to close up business at once.
The Council Bluffs Catholic Knights will send Rev. Father Haley as a delegate to the annual convention of the supreme council of the Catholic Knights of America, to be held in New York May 10th. While in New York Father Haley will make arrangements for the purchasing of uniforms for the Council Bluffs order. Father Haley expects to start for the east May 4th.
The McClurg Cracker company, whose belts were so mysteriously and maliciously cut the other night, expects to be able to start up again by next Wednesday. The chief delay is caused by the stealing of the connecting rod of the engine. The Omaha cracker manufacturer sent over an expression of their indignation at the maliciousness, and a generous offer to help out the factory here in any way possible.
Yesterday for the first time in many years the saloons were closed tight. The bars of the hotels, even, were brought under the general order, given by the chief of police on Saturday. Heretofore the hotels, and the saloons having lunch counters, have claimed special favor, their front doors being left open, but yesterday it seems that all rooms containing bars were kept locked.
The lecture of Joseph Cook, on May 11th, is to be on the subject "Does Death End All?" As he is one of the greatest thinkers in this country, and one of the greatest orators, and as this is said to be one of his best lectures, there will doubtless be a large crowd to hear him. The young men who have secured this treat for Council Bluffs should have no difficulty in getting the necessary financial support to make it a success.
J. R. Davidson, the dry goods man, has made an assignment to Mr. James Wickham for the benefit of his creditors. This action causes some surprise, as Mr. Davidson has been known as a very conservative and very economical man, but he lays the blame to hard times and slow collections. The claims are nearly all held by home folks, and it is thought there will not only be enough assets to pay all creditors but to leave a nice little surplus.
Over two hundred men, comprising merchants, lawyers, doctors and clerks, crowded onto the 1:30 o'clock dummy train yesterday and went over to Omaha to witness the game of base ball between the Omaha and Cleveland clubs. A large number took the 11:30 a. m. train and about twenty the 3:30 dummy also for the same purpose. On reaching Omaha the crowd from the 1:30 train marched up Tenth street, attracting much attention. The Omahans not seeming to know the cause of the crowd.
An owl sitting calmly on a tree near the corner of Pierce and Frank streets Saturday evening proved a tempting target to a lot of rude boys, and one of the stones struck M. H. Judd, who lives on that corner, while another struck his horse, frightening him and nearly causing a runaway. The stones were also flying rather uncomfortably near the windows of the house, and when the boys were cautioned by Mr. Judd they began abusing him. He telephoned to the police, but before they reached there the boys had skipped. Some of them were of prominent families, and if they do not look to their ways a little more carefully they will be brought to the front.
The last entertainment of the Mortimer & Weaver company at the opera house Saturday evening proved that they had saved the best of the wine to the last of the feast. This company has been growing in favor, each night seeing increased audiences and increased enthusiasm. J. W. Burton is a comedian of great versatility, and is a merry maker surely, without being a clown. Miss Annie Burton is a pleasing artist, and Mortimer in some parts is very strong. The other members of the company are good, and the combination of the whole is a much better one than many more pretentious. The popular prices are popular indeed, and the company merits full houses wherever it appears. They left last evening for Atlantic.
Plumbing and water work is our special business. Lewis & Gilbert, Main street plumbers.
Artists' Materials at G. R. Beard's Wall Paper Store. Send for price list.
Substantial abstracts of title and real estate loans. J. W. & E. L. Squires, 101 Pearl street.
Facts worth remembering when you buy Wall Paper: 1st.—That Beard, next door to postoffice, has the largest stock to select from. 2d.—That his prices are as low as the lowest. 3d.—That he is a practical interior decorator and employs none but skillful workmen.
Gen. Jacob Cox has been elected president of the Unionist university.

THE TRIPLETS.

They are Said to Have Had a Lively Time at the St. Joe House.
On Saturday night the political triplets, Frayne (justice of the peace), Patton (prospective consul to Singapore), and Galvin (city weighmaster), seemed to have a lively time of it at the St. Joe house. From the statement given by one of the party it appears that Patton and Galvin alone went to the place a little after 11 o'clock and wanted a cigar, and that after getting smokes they asked for drinks, which were refused, and that Matt Kuhl, the proprietor, rushed at them from behind the bar with a billiard cue and put them out without cause or reason.
The other side of the story is that Frayne was there too, and that the hotel was being scrubbed out, when they demanded admision. The door being unlocked, they came in and bought some cigars, after which they wanted drinks, which were refused, as it was 1 o'clock, and the saloons are ordered to close at 11 o'clock. They proposed to help themselves, and this started a racket, which ended in their being put out of doors.
Patton therefore swore out a warrant before Frayne and Kuhl was arrested and bail fixed at $1,000, in default of which he was put in jail. Frayne reduced the bail to $300 and he gave this amount. The case is to come up to-day, and some interesting developments are promised. If Frayne was one of the party, the affair seems a very unseemly one and in any event, war is promised all along the line. John Lindt is Kuhl's attorney and he is threatening to prosecute the triplets for riot, or read the riot act to them before he gets through with it.
Sewer pipe of all sizes for sale at wholesale or retail at Lewis & Gilbert's, No. 521 Main street.
The Bee in Council Bluffs.
At a meeting of the retail merchants, held the other evening, one of the Council Bluffs Herald men, the one who is "trying" to learn the business, called the attention of the committee to the fact that the advertisement of the president of the meeting appeared in THE BEE, a copy of which he held in his hand. He asked that THE BEE be "boycotted," but was very politely set down on by one of the committee, also a BEE advertiser, who informed the Herald's "freshman" that advertising in THE BEE paid the merchants of this city, and that they had more and better returns from an ad. in THE BEE than in all the other papers combined. For the benefit of the "fresh gentleman" of the Herald it might be well to mention the fact that Council Bluffs' merchants who advertise in THE BEE do so, not for charity or because it is cheaper than the other papers, but simply because the circulation of THE BEE is greater than the whole number of copies printed by all the other Council Bluffs papers combined, and they have better returns from an advertisement in THE BEE right here in Council Bluffs than from advertising in either or all of the other Council Bluffs papers. THE BEE is not guilty of one practice common to other papers here; that is, of coaxing Omaha advertisers to use their columns by offering them cheaper advertising rates than they give the advertisers of Council Bluffs. If they have any special favors to show or cuts of prices to give, they should give them to the merchants here, instead of giving them to the merchants of competing points. THE BEE business in Council Bluffs is leased and controlled by Council Bluffs men and capital. Seventeen residents of Council Bluffs are given employment, and the job material, presses, etc., are owned by Council Bluffs citizens. The space and papers are bought just as any merchant buys his goods, and are sold again at enough profit to meet the running expenses, which have to be met by Council Bluffs men. THE BEE office in Council Bluffs is therefore as strictly a local institution as any state or factory here, and is so recognized and considered.
One Free Train Every Week.
Now that the merchants are planning to make more of a boom for business, it would be a good idea for them to consider the advisability of arranging, not for one free train only, but for several. An arrangement could doubtless be made with every railway running into this city so that once a week at least, a special train could be run into the city, from first one direction and then another, taking a different road each week, and thus securing one gala day every week. The expense, if divided among the merchants, would be small, and these special trains would bring in a large number of people, and a goodly amount of trade. It is suggested that each merchant subscribing should be given tickets in proportion to his subscription, and these he could place in the hands of those with whom he thought they would do the most good. The organization now being effected, would do well to investigate a little along the line of these suggestions, and the result might be that at a little expense one regular "hurrah" day might be secured for Council Bluffs every week.
