With this much of a leverage to work on Miss Anna salled in to secure her rights and thus far has been victorious. In rendering his decision, among other things Judge Brewer says:

In this case, the primary question I am reluctantly compelled to decide in favor of the complainant, Wasserman. I say reluctantly, for when a man on the eve of death having a child 5 years old and living with a wife to be delivered of a child within twenty days, makes a will religious all the managers seem to be of the opinion that it would be useless to try to settle either the "milling in transit" and Northwestern complication or the Ocean feacht tenths. child within twenty days, makes a will global strain the "milling in transit" and Northwestern complication or the Omaha freight troubles before the settlement of the tripartite complications.

It was feared yesterday by many that the common voice will say that he intended no wrong to the born or unborn child, but trusted to his wife, their mother, to do justice by each and believed that she, with the property in her hands, could handle it more advantageously for herself and children than if interests in it were distributed. A BARBED WIRE CASE.

Settles the matter as far as the Northwestern's membership in the association is concerned, as the action of the arbitrators was in strict as the action of the arbitrators was in strict as the contract. The Northwestern did not expect any other result, and was fully prepared for the decision. It has lately taken the ground, and so stated before the arbitrators, that it did not improve the call of the contract. At last accounts the wave had struck St. Louis and Chicago, and was still going about in its mad career to call on consider itself a member of the combination. ing abead in its mad career to call on MONEY TO LOAN-On real estate and chattels lington has thus far refused to recognize the tripartite combination as one line and refused to enter into a combination with it as such, but it is understood that it has modified its opinion in this respect, and stands ready to recognize the combination provided it cau get the terms it thinks it ought to have. The Northwestern will no doubt be guided in its attitude toward the tripartite combination by the Burlington's action.

the Burlington's action.
"Now that the tripartite arbitrators have given their decision, and decided that the Northwestern is no longer a member of the Western Trunk Line association, it is quite likely that some decisive action will be taken by the managers' meeting. It is understood that at to-day's meeting one of the tripartite lines will introduce a resolution for entering into a pooling agreement with the Burlington and Northwestern on all business between Chicago and Cheyenne. The proposition is that the Burlington and its lines west of the Missouri river form one line, the Northwestthe Northwestern and its lines west of theriver another, and the Union Pacific with its eastern allies—the Rock Island, Milwaukee & St. Paul, and Wabash—a third one. This is substantially the same proposition made when the tripartite pool was first formed, with the difference that the Northwestern was then a member of the tripartite combination. Matters of the tripartite combination. Matters are now in exactly the same shape they were when the tripartite combination was first formed, and fears are expressed that when it comes to the consideration of a civision of business there will be even more serious trouble than before, and for this reason but few believe that the present reason but few believe that the present troubles will be settled. The only hope the managers of the various roads interested in this fight bave that they may yet succeed in aurmounting all obstacles is, as one of them expressed it yesterday. 'It is true,' said he, 'that we are again where we were when the tripartite contract was first made, but we are in the residence of the low when we have a lower trouble of the low when we have a lower tripartite on the residence of the low when we have the said of the low when the said of the lower than the said of the in the position of the boy who was kicked in the face by a donkey while trying to tickle him. Although the boy was much disfigured he had a mighty sight more experience. The roads now have more experience than they had then, and for this reason they may consider discretion the better part of valor and not attempt any more foolishness and get still more disfigured than they already are."

CHUCAGO, Ill. May 7.—To the minds "

Chicago, Ill., May 7.—To the minds of some outsiders the general managers of the western trunk lines in session here, are going about it in a very islaurely manner. Another day has passed by and on the word of one of the managers absolutely nothing was accomplished. Whatever be the deductions of the very energetic work is being done at the session. To day the attitudes of the dif-ferent roads toward each other and the manner in which they had, or had not, lived up to to the'r agreements, were warmly discussed from many standpoints. The restoration of rates is the great end to be achieved, but there is a multitude of obstacles to be overcome before that object can be gained.

QUARBEL BETWEEN THE STATE COMMITTEE AN CONGRESSMEN OVER THE SPOILS. WATERLOO, Iowa, May 6.-[Chicago Time Specials.]—The conference held by the Iowa lemocratic congressmen in Chicago last Saturdsy for the purpose of arranging the distribution of federal patronage in this state has stirred up the ire of the democratic state central committee to a dangerous extent A proxinent demecrat, who is thoroughly posted as to the temper of the central committee, was in the city to-day. When asked whether the committee would indorse the slate arranged at the Tremont house conference, he answered emphacically that they would not, and said it was apparent some time ago to the committee and to the democracy of the state that some of the four democratic congressmen were knifing each democratic congressmen were knifing each other at every turn, each one eager to so dispose of the federal patronage that it would inure alone to his personal benefit. Seeing this, a committee from the democratic central committee, consisting of Judge Kinne. Hon. L. G. Johnson, Col. P. G. Balingall, and Hon. Cato Sells went to Washington, and, by appointment, had an interview with President Cleveland. He was informed that all the central committee desired was that the federal patronage in Iowa aired was that the federal patronage in Iowa should be justly and equally distributed. The president assured the committee that he was heartily in accord with their wishes, and added that no set of men should control the patronage of Iowa for their own benefit. Solely at the president's request, the committee met at the president's request, the committee met the Iowa democratic congressman that after-noon, but could not reach no settlement of the question. The result was reported to the president and he told the committee to go back to Iowa and try to harmonize the dif-ferent interests and let him know the out-come. The conference in Cedar Rapids fol-lowed, but was devoid of results. Now comes the conference in Chicago, to which the cen-

In reply to the question, 'Did the president request that the recommendations be made by joint confer-ence!" he said: "This was the explicit understanding by both factions, after an interview held with the president a few weeks ago. The committee regards their actions as very injudicious and calculated to breed trouble They invited Judge Kinne to be present, but he perentorially refused, whereupon they pro-ceeded with the nominations, and have been advertising the result as having the unani-mous approval of both factions, which is a After hearing an old-timer vehicmently declare, yesterday, that to white man ever saw or felt as cold weather in
