A GENERAL ADVANCE. Special Telegram to The BEE.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 1.-The leading artiles to-day were active and showed a little early advance, notwithstanding the heavy receipts and the talk of increase in to-morrow's visible supply, the posting of both of which influences were depressing. The early market was sustained by local traders but showed no special features. Towards the close the feeling was heavy, with all the early advances lost.

WHEAT.

Wheat opened barely steady and with every endency to sell quite sharply downward in tendency to sell quite sharply downward in the face of heavy receipts. But the course of the market until noon was irregularly upward within a ged c in the leading features. This small movement was wholly the result of local trading, which was not pronounced on either side. The closing of the morning session was easy and barely steady, all the early advance having been lost by reaction. No. 2 spring sold at 84 he cash. sold at 84hc, cash. COBN.

Oats were moderatively active and steady at about Friday's average. Sample trade was quiet with the holders not very firm owing to to heavy arrivals.

PROVISIONS.

PROVISIONS. Provisions showed more strength at the opening than prain and throughout the morning session were moderately well traded in at higher prices all through the list though the advance was less pronounced in lard and ribs than in pork. The advance came largely through the filling of local shorts and was well sustained. The close of the morning session was steady. On call, June pork at §10.374@10.40; July at $10.474 and January at $10.45.

OFF ON A PASTORAL SPREE.

THE BEV. JAMES M'MULLIN SENT TO AN INEBRI-ATE ASYLUM. Special Telegram to The BEE.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 1. - The Rsv. James McMullin, graduate of the catholic propaganda college at Rome, was brought before Justice Kersten, at the Chicago avenue police court The Butter and Cheese Headquarters this morning. Trembling like a poplar leaf with delirium tremens, the pricet was en of a wealthy parish in that state. He had plenty of gold with him, and having overstudied for the last two years, the relaxation from college grubbing and freedom and the excitement of travel aroused in him a burning desire for a few days' leisure. America was a good field wherein to sow his wild oats, and his parishoners in Califernia would be none the wiser. The spree was begun in New none the wiser. The spree was begun in New York, the priest reveling for days to his heart's content. Catholic officers in that city braced him up, hushing all, and sent him on his way. Upon reaching Chicago, Father McMillin went on another spree. He was put out of one hotel and by advice of the Rev. Father Agnew. The rolaterer was sent to the Alexian brothers bos-nital but he was refused admission and next he ing up. pital but he was refused admission, and next he was sent to Larrabee street station where ha was kept a short time and transferred to the Chicago avesue station. The errant priest had nothing to say for himself to Justice Kerstein, pleading guilty, and he was sent to the Washingtonian home on a $25 fine with a warning from the court that if he did not be-have himself there he would be sent to the Bidewell.

In appearance Father McMullin is tall and He was one of the brightest students of his class. His age is thirty-five years. He had nothing with him except a travelling satchel, and it is supposed that he lost some of his baggage on the way.
