FINANCIALRETRENCHMENT

How the Policy of the New City Coun-Is Working.

As the new city council has started in with the policy of financial retrenchment the reports of the amount of bills allowed naturally causes more than usual inter. oners, being allowed no special favors or est. It appears that since the 16th of subjected to any special durance. During March they have allowed bills to nearly corridor in common with the others, and the amount of $13,000, but of this amount each night is locked up in his cell. it is claimed that about $6,000 was for Should he be taken to Fort Madison he bills contracted by the old council. There were on the auditor's table last evening for allowance, bills to the amount of If he does not care to work he will b. $3,500, so that in round figures it appears that it has cost the present council for running the city two and a half months about $10,000, or a little over $4,000 a month. The old council spent in twelve months over $89,000, or about $7,500 a month. It is predicted that the present council will out cown the running expense of the city over $2,000 a month, and if they can do this without any interests of the city suffering they will be entitled to much praise. There is always danger of swinging to extremes, and while the old council may have been too lavish, the danger now is that the present council may be too econ omical, but this fesrisseldom realized with city councils, and if a council should be guilty of bsing too economical they would spring into national reputation. The taking away of saloon licenses has been one of the causes for the present economical policy.

A Fire Scare. The slarm of fire yesterday forenoon Pusey tied on seven each. was caused by some paint catching fire while the workmen were engaged in mixing it and putting it on the roof of the baptlet church. The paint was being cooked in a great iron kettle close to the church wall, and quite near to an adja-cent dwelling, and as the paint caught fire, and sent forth a great volume of his successor was disallowed. smoke, it seemed at first sight that a big fire had got under way, but there was no damage, and no stream had to be thrown. DR. CROSS' CASE.

Vitness.....

He Gets So Far as the Depot on His Way to the Penitentiary.

Dr. Cross is still confined in the jail at Glenwood, although Judge Loofbourow ordered him removed to the penicentiary at Fort Madison. Sheriff Farrell, on getting the order, started for the depot with the prisoner Sunday night, but just as he was taking the train, he received a message from the judge to hold Dr. Cross there in jail until further orders. This change was due to the fact that Cross' attorneys on hearing that he was to be taken to Fort Madison opened communication with the judge, and presented CHARLES H. PATCH some points of law, which the judge felt should be at least examined and thought over before the change was made. The sheriff was here in consultation with the judge, and it was decided that the doctor should remain in the Glenwood jall for a few days, while the law points were being considered. The sheriff seems to be clearly of the opinion that there is no discretion allowed him. but that the law requires him to take the prisoner to Fort Madison, to remain there during the pendency of the appeal. Judge Loofburow has been rather inclined to the view that the matter was discretionary, but authorities have been presented to him showing the contrary, and on the other hand the attorucys for Cross present a strong case in favor of keeping him at Glenwood. The defendant's attorney have also prepared a showing and presented it to Judge Reed, of the supreme court, and asking him to issue the necessary order for the doctor's retention at Glenwood. The matter will be decided in a few days.

Sheriff Farrell says the reports concerning Dr. Cross' failing health are all false. The doctor looks well, and seems to be in good spirits, talks freely, and in fact has nothing in his condition or demeanor which warrants any such sensational stories. He felt very badly about going to the penitentlary, and was re lieved when the sheriff started back from the depot Sunday night for the jail.

The doctor is kept with the other pristhe day he is allowed the freedom of the will have to come under the discipline of the penitentiary, but will be given his choice of working in the shops or not. obliged to remain locked in his cell.
