

GREAT SLAUGHTER OF MUSLIN UNDERWEAR.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON, JUNE 13th, at

Smith's Cash Store

1307 and 1309 Farnam Street, Omaha, Neb.

We have given several Great Muslin Underwear Sales, but this sale Saturday afternoon will eclipse anything ever undertaken by us. We have purchased a job lot of ## 600 Dozen Muslin Underwear.

And will offer the entire lot at this sale at one-half what it cost to manufacture the garments. Read carefully the prices given below and be convinced that you can buy Muslin Underwear at this sale cheaper than you ever bought it before of any dealer or at any sale. We will lower our record for low prices by several degrees at this great sale and no lady in Omaha or Council Bluffs can afford to miss this grand opportunity, which stands without a parallel in the history of the dry goods trade in this western country. Come one and all and help yourselves.

LOOK AT THE BARGAINS--One lot of Chemise, Drawers and Corset Covers, manufactured from first class muslin, trimmed with lace, at 15c, actually worth 40c,

One lot of skirts manufactured from the best muslin, tucked and ruffled, corset covers, gowns, drawers and chemise, nicely trimmed, at 35c; would be a bargain at 75c. One lot of chemise, drawers, corset covers, skirts and gowns manufactured from best muslin and handsomely trimmed at 55c actually worth $1. One lot of garments of all kinds manufactured of cambric, handsomely trimmed at 75c, you never bought the same quality of goods for $1.25. One lot garments of all kinds, manufactured from cambric, handsomely trimmed at 95c, sold the world over at $1.75. One lot garments of all kinds manufactured from fine cambric, beautifully trimmed in all styles, at $1.15, well worth $2. One lot garments of all kinds, manufactured from No. 1 cambric, elaborately trimmed at $1.35, a bargain at $2.25. One lot of garments of all kinds, manufactured from first class cambric, beautifully trimmed at $1.55 would be excellent value at $2.75. One lot of garments of all kinds made of the best cambric, beautifully trimmed at $1.75, cannot be bought elsewhere for less than $3. One lot of garments of all kinds, made of the best cambric elaborately trimmed at $2 worth fully $3.50. One lot of garments of all kinds made of the very best cambric, elaborately trimmed at $2.25, cannot be bought anywhere else in this country for less than $4.

The above goods and prices make all other dealers stand from under and fairly shake in their boots; and well they may, for this is an avalanche, for which they were totally unprepared, and the blow is so sudden and herculean that it is impossible for them to ward it off, and hence they will have to fall from the race and acknowledge themselves distanced.

We want all of our friends, (and everyone is our friend we are proud to say) to see the handsome stock of CARPETS AND CURTAINS, which we are selling at Special Sale. You can never again buy these goods so cheap.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

—Mr. Henry Lehmann left Wednesday evening with three paper hangers for Grand Island, to paper and decorate the R. R. eating house at that place.

—This evening there is to be a formal dedication of the old Buckingham theater to temperance purposes. Addresses will be made by Gen. Howard and other prominent citizens.

—A man by the name of Shannon was arrested yesterday afternoon, charged with committing the assault upon John I. Paynter, of the Occidental hotel, Tuesday night, at 8:30 o'clock. Mr. Paynter is seriously injured, but will recover.

—The bid of William Mark for paving South Thirteenth street from the present terminus at the railway tracks to Hickory street, with Colorado sand stone is $3.05 instead of $3.50 as has been erroneously stated in local print.

—No business of importance was transacted in the police court yesterday morning. Five drunks were arraigned, one of them fined and the others released. Frank Goss had committed a grievous assault upon Mat Shrinkler and paid the penalty, $5 and costs.

—Conrad Sobel, the farmer who tried to hang himself at Millard Station yesterday because his wife, tired of his cruelty, had announced her intention of procuring a divorce, expired yesterday morning at 7 o'clock. Every effort was made to save his life, but to no avail.

—N. C. Ray, assistant engineer of the Union Pacific railway was in the city visiting his many old friends here, and left last night for the east. He reports that there was a fall of eight inches of snow in Butte, Montana, last week and that on Sunday he enjoyed a sleigh ride.

—There was a very pleasant dance at the Stock Yards Hotel in South Omaha Wednesday night, about sixty couples being in attendance. The festivities were prolonged until a late hour this morning. The opening German was led by Mr. Frank D. Yates, whose fame as a dancer is of more than local extent.

—Mr. J. H. Daniels, one of the gentlemen engaged in the work of taking the census tells of a very narrow escape that he had the other day. He went into a house where there was a young lady of cherubic face and figure. Mr. D. asked her in most impressive manner, "Are you married or single?" "No," replied the fair one, "but I shall be married when a fellow comes along that will have me. Will you?" Mr. Daniels turned red in the face, said that he guessed he couldn't just then, but probably would when the cows came home, etc. She was about to fall on his neck, he says, when he closed his book and fled precipitately. He will send another enumerator to gather the other particulars about that young lady.

—E. Pillsman Curry came to the headquarters yesterday and reported that the sidewalks at two localities in north Omaha were in a disgraceful condition. One place was on the west side of Sixteenth street, between Izard and Nicholas, where the boards had become detached and formed a dangerous trap for passing pedestrians. A little girl stepped upon one of the boards last night and was violently precipitated to the ground below, narrowly escaping injury. Another place is on Burt street, north side, between Sixteenth and Seventeenth. Two ladies passing there last night were quite seriously injured in suffering a fall, on account of the wretched condition of the walks. It is claimed that the attention of the board of public works has been called to these two places but that no steps have yet been taken to repair the walks.

—J. W. Black, a wealthy hardware man from Boone, Iowa, was passing through Omaha Wednesday on his way westward to inspect some land. He fell in with a number of old friends and got to drinking. Before he left them he was intoxicated. He was taken in tow by a party of toughs, it is presumed, drugged and robbed. When he was found Wednesday night about twelve o'clock he was lying across the B. & M. track in a condition of stupor. Eleven hundred dollars had been taken from him. He has telegraphed home for more money and as soon as it comes will pursue his journey westward. The case was investigated by the police yesterday morning, but no clue to the thieves was found.

The catalogue shows that there are now on the shelves of the library 12,309 volumes; 2,225 of these were added during the past year, and of that number 2,083 were purchased, 85 donated and 57 bound.

Death of Tina Glantz.

SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 25, JUNE 8, 1885.—Death, the unwelcome visitor, is continually doing his work of destruction. This we can more deeply feel, when he comes among us and deprives us of a dear young friend and pupil.

To-day this was illustrated by a large concourse of people, who followed the remains of Tina Glantz to their last home on Pleasant hill.

Only one short week ago she was with her playmates on the school grounds, the happiest one of all that merry group. But, almost before the vision of her sunny curls floating in the morning breeze, had faded from our view, and the echo of her glad voice had ceased to ring in our ears, we were startled by the sad news that our loved one was no more. After a brief, but severe illness, she breathed her last on Saturday evening, surrounded by heart-stricken relatives and sorrowing friends, for Tina was the favorite of all who knew her.

As I took a last look at the pale features before me I thought—

"Tis thus in life from childhood's hour, I've seen my fondest hope decay; I never loved a tree, or flower, But 'twas the first to fade away."
