We imagine that Col. Savage can survive the awful sarcasm of the convicted libellers.

The Pennsylvania legislature has at last adjourned, and the tax-payers of that state feel greatly relieved.

Mr. Boyd, it is announced, has safely reached the national capital. But where is Dr. Miller? The democratic office-seekers would like to know.

The latest advice from Washington is to the effect that Miss Phoebe Cousins returned to St. Louis fully satisfied that there will be no change in the office of United States marshal, now held by her father.

It has been generally supposed that the democrats of Ohio would renominate Gov. Hoadly to run again in opposition to Judge Foraker, but Gov. Hoadly positively declines to run.

POSTMASTER SENTER, of Niobrara, against whom charges have been filed with a view of having him removed, has knocked the wind out of his opponents.

We have been told three or four times that Mr. James Creighton has been called into court to prove his charge that the Republican was a railroad organ.

THE constitution requires that the statutes shall be published within sixty days after the adjournment of the legislature.

It is decidedly amusing, if nothing else, for the Omaha Republican at this late day to ask anybody in or out of court to believe that it has not been a railroad organ.

WILL the Republican please publish the names of the contributors to its five-cent fund, so that the people of Nebraska may know who feel aggrieved over the conduct of the BEB?

THE commissioner of agriculture has appointed an experienced veterinarian of Newark, N. J., to visit this state for the purpose of making a thorough investigation of hog cholera.

THE WORK OF DETECTIVES.

The sad story of the ruin of Jacob M. Smith, of Atchison, is one that cannot help exciting some sympathy. After a long and honorable record as an enterprising business man, he is charged with an attempt to burn his own pork-packing house for the purpose of defrauding the insurance companies.

For some time past hogs, meat and other freight had been stolen from the cars and stock yards in East Atchison, and the railroad companies put detectives at work to ferret out the robbers.

Mr. Smith and his confederates, as well as the hog thieves, were accordingly taken into custody. Mr. Smith, who had no connection whatever with the thieves, confessed to the charge of attempted arson made against him.

Now, although Mr. Smith is said to admit his guilt, is it not possible that instead of his proposing to the detectives the plan to burn the building, that the proposition came from the detectives?

THE Illinois legislature has passed three laws that will no doubt have a tendency to purify the elections in that state, and particularly in Chicago.

BRIGHTEEN DAYS FOR NEVADA. Ever since the famous Comstock lode began to dwindle down to an ordinary yield, the state of Nevada has gone backward.

JEFFERSON SQUARE. Citizens interested in property around Jefferson square and along Sixteenth street have filed with the city council an opinion, prepared by Judge Lake.

THE coal mines at Twin Creek have been abandoned. Apen proposes to issue $40,000 in bonds to build water works. The east Denver high school turn out a class of twenty graduates last week.

WESTERN NEWS.

DAKOTA. Fargo claims a population of 10,000. Kingsbury county owes about $18,000. In Potter county farmers have planted many acres of sunflowers for feed.

NEBRASKA. Cassius C. Ross, of Bismarck, was drowned in a lake near that city while bathing. The Russian, McPheron, county has put some $100,000 of tax on the land.

WYOMING. Robert Stratton was killed by a switch engine at Rawlins on the morning of the 12th. The big ditch of the Wyoming Central and Improvement company is now irrigating 40,000 acres of Laramie Plains.

UTAH. The output of the Butte mines for the week ending June 5th was $107,100. The output of the famous Drumm Lumber mill will reach $100,000 this month.

ARIZONA. The great Arizona canal has been completed and is ready for business. It is a model of its kind and will furnish abundant water for 100,000 acres.

NEW MEXICO. The assessed valuation of North Platte is $88,502. The army worm is said to be prowling around Hall county.

MISSOURI. The assessed valuation of Cass county is $3,365,129, and the levy for county purposes is 13 1/2 mills. The Blair end of the railroad bridge is assessed at $160,000.

BUSY BRAINS.

Diligent Pupils and Attentive Teachers Doing Thorough Work. Visiting Jackson and Leavenworth Schools, and Observing How the Young Ideas Learn to Shoot.

The crowning glory of American institutions is the public school system; nothing else is so intensely American. Since the finished man or woman is to do with a nation in which man are the only factor, the peculiarly democratic system upon which our schools are conducted does certainly better fit them for a sphere of usefulness and honor than could possibly be attained by any other method.

It is a matter of surprise to those interested in school work that parents and guardians should pay so little attention to the public schools. When it is considered that the teacher spends more waking hours with the children entrusted to her care than do their parents, and by the close relationship which he or she bears to them and their daily work, shapes their lives for good or ill, the carelessness of the vast majority of parents in this direction, cannot easily be accounted for.

THE JACKSON SCHOOL is located at 1217 Jackson street, and is a small frame building of two rooms, presided over by Miss Ada E. Schoonmaker, who is ably assisted by Miss Stella Crowley. The average attendance of pupils during the year has been 70, there having been no material increase during the school year.

THE LEAVENWORTH SCHOOL at the corner of Leavenworth and Seventeenth streets is a large, handsome building, constructed with an especial eye to the needs of our modern educational system, and provided with every convenience for school work.

DRYER DETAILS OF SCHOOL WORK THAT SPACE IS NOT ALLOWED FOR MENTION OF THE MANY INTERESTING FEATURES WHICH THE REPORTER SAW IN EVERY ROOM HE VISITED.

dryer details of school work that space is not allowed for mention of the many interesting features which the reporter saw in every room he visited. Indeed, the space allotted for the entire article could be easily taken up by a description of Leavenworth school and then not do full justice to each department. The penmanship, the drawing, the singing, the marching of the pupils in leaving the building, all were excellent and interesting, and yet each can have only the mere mention. Before leaving this school, however, we must mention the names of Lizzie Boddling, Carrie Butler and Harry May in Miss Lighthorn's room who are especially proficient in writing and drawing.

Adolph Lindquist also presented the Ben man with an interesting account of the storm which wrecked his father's building, and it is to be regretted that lack of space forbids its publication.
