

THE DAILY BEE, COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Friday Morning, June 19, 1885.

Subscription Rates: Single Copies 5 Cents; Per Week 30 Cents; Per Month $1.00; Per Year $10.00.

MINOR MENTION.

Jim Wilson is improving his property on the California house, on lower Broadway.

Regular meeting of the Fidelity Council, R. A., No. 156, this evening, at the Royal Arcanum hall.

A copy of the plans and specifications for the new court house is filed up in the auditor's office.

Another lot of the R. A. ex-slaves went east yesterday in Pullman cars over the Rock Island road.

James Howard was tried before the district court yesterday, and found guilty of being a pickpocket. He will go to Fort Madison.

The police have "suspicions" and only suspicious of the robbers of the $64.25 taken from Beebe & Company's store on Wednesday evening.

Seven sleepers and coaches carrying the Nebraska delegation to Portland left as a special train yesterday over the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy.

Auditor Burk, City Clerk Dalrymple, and Alderman Stedentop yesterday ascertained the total amount of outstanding city warrants to be $47,849.96.

At the superior court yesterday four ordinary drunks were up and were put through the mill. They were all called upon to contribute to the city.

Meyert Sinclair and Annie Bias, of Omaha, were given permit to wed yesterday and immediately availed themselves of the permission by seeking out the Rev. Mackay and joining hands and forming.

The Chicago & Northwestern road yesterday promised the California excursionists who were on their way to Portland, Maine, that it would whirl them from Council Bluffs to Chicago in fourteen hours.

The trial of Thomas Wilson, charged with attempting to rob the St. Joe house on May 1st, was concluded in the district court yesterday morning. The jury, after being out only a few minutes, returned a verdict of not guilty.

A number of people outside of the grand army of the republic have gone east and taken advantage of the reduced rates over the railroads, but only one member of the grand army of the republic has gone from this city, he being Sohn Lindt.

The account of the mass meeting last evening, to devise ways and means by which to raise funds to take the place of the $25,000 that has previously been paid into the city treasury by the saloons as license money, will be found on another page of this paper.

Mrs. Shoop, who owns the Lower house on Main street, complained of her husband for being a vagrant and a habitual drunkard. He was tried before Justice Frayne, and found guilty. He was fined $50, and in default of payment was sent to the county jail for fifteen days.

The women's exchange of the proberian church desire to express their thanks to the public for the liberal patronage given them at their supper the other evening. One hundred and six dollars was the amount received, which, after all bills were paid, netted the ladies the neat sum of $83.

The Sioux City route will to-morrow night begin running a through sleeping car from this city at 7:30 p. m. to Spirit Lake, and continue the same throughout the season. As the travel from this city to that popular watering place was so large last season Mr. E. C. Cheney, the passenger agent, thinks the road will be amply repaid by continuing the sleeper accommodations all the season.

It has been discovered that the storm of last Friday night, which damaged the institution for the deaf and dumb, also loosened the roof of the Woodbury public school. Yesterday a committee was sent out by the school board to examine the injury and ascertain if it was of such a nature as to render the building dangerous for school purposes. They decided that while a new roof was required, there would be no danger in completing the present term of school.

The better class of people going on the grand army excursion to Portland are going via the Chicago & Northwestern railway for the reason that by securing tickets via this route they have the privilege of visiting the Niagara Falls, going down the St. Lawrence river by boat as far as Montreal, thence to Portland via Mt. Washington, and return via Boston and New York state. The Northwestern can sell you a ticket via any line you may desire east of Chicago. For tickets or sleeping car accommodations apply to any agent of the Union Pacific or Chicago & North western railways, or to W. N. Babcock, general western agent, 1411 Farnam street.

The Pacific coast delegation to the annual encampment of the grand army of the republic passed through here yesterday from San Francisco. There were about fifty gentlemen with their wives and friends. The whole party was under the command of Mr. R. H. Warfield, department commander. The cars were decorated with flags and a steamer, on which was inscribed, "San Francisco to Portland, 1885-Portland to San Francisco, 1886." The delegation have gone to Maine with instructions to capture the annual encampment for 1886; $100,000 has been pledged to meet the expenses of the encampment if it is held in Francisco; $27,000 by the city, $25,000 by the state legislature, and $50,000 by the citizens. Gen. Logan will join the party at Washington, and Gen. Rosecrans at Boston.

J. L. Rutekin, the grocer at No. 619 Main street is wrothy over the fact that Charles Henry, of Missouri Valley, who was bound over by Justice John Jay Frayne, on the charge of procuring goods from Rutekin under false pretenses, was not attended to by Justice Frayne, but has been let go by default as the grand jury has been discharged and Frayne neglected to send the papers in. Rutekin says Frayne told him the papers were sent to District Attorney Thornell, and that upon Thornell denying this Frayne acknowledged that he "forgot it."

Frayne claims that Rutekin should have appeared before the grand jury and secured the indictment; that Henry was bound over to await the action of the grand jury, and that Rutekin should have secured the proper action; that his neglect to send the papers to the district attorney made no difference, as they could have been had when called for.

HAY FOR SALE.—One hundred and fifty tons of blue-joint hay in stack for sale. Last year's crop. A mile and three quarters south of the city; good road. Apply to Ben Marks, Council Bluffs.

Hanthorn sells wood at his feed store.

PERSONAL.

Miss Neddy Stevens returned from San Francisco yesterday.

James Bowman, and his brother, Edward, left for a trip to Portland, Maine, last evening.

Mr. Charles Keith, general agent of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy road, returned with his wife from Chicago last night.

F. A. Shepard, one of the clerks in Harkness Brothers store, left yesterday on a vacation trip to visit his old home in Boston.

S. S. Stevens, of the Rock Island road, who has been so long confined to his room by severe sickness, was able to take a ride yesterday.

Mrs. S. T. Smith, wife of Prof. Smith, of the electric belt firm of Judd & Smith, left yesterday over the Wabash railroad for a visit to her former home in Sheboygan, Mich.

T. W. Crow, traveling agent of the Louisville, Evansville & St. Louis road (the air line), whose headquarters are in Kansas City, was looking up business in this city yesterday.

J. M. Metcalf, Joseph Carneau, Jr., D. T. Mount, Euclid Martin, W. J. Kennedy, F. C. Morgan and George Canfield, from Omaha, were over here yesterday in the interest of the coming Omaha exposition.

Read Judd & Smith's offer of $1,000 reward in another column.

On a strike.

A lot of the employees of the Wabash road are out on a strike again. The men say that the company has violated its promise made at the compromise last fall. The road agreed to give three days notice before laying off any of the men. The other day they laid off a lot of men without any notice whatever, and the men in the shops at different points have walked out in consequence. At this place twenty-five men quit work last night. There has been no violence, but the men are determined, and up to last evening had allowed no freight trains to leave here.

The agent of the road says that several divisions of road have been taken out of the Wabash system this month, there was less work to do. He says that eighty-four engines belonging to the divisions that were taken from the system were taken from the road and sent to the points where they belonged, thus reducing very materially the number to be repaired at Springfield, Ill. The reduction of work necessitated a reduction of force, and the company attacked the case to the men and prepared to reduce the number of working days to five per week. The men objected to this and demanded that those who worked through the last strike be laid off, and the strikers retained. The company refused, and a strike resulted. Application was made to the mayor last evening for special police to protect the engineers and train men in running trains out of the city, and the request was granted.

Peace Reigns.

The school board denies the report that they are making faces at the graduating class of the high school, and say they have noticed no facial contortions on the part of the class, the Evening Herald to the contrary notwithstanding. They say that no permission has been requested to decorate the stage with flowers, but that the board had informed the class that the taste of the class would be allowed full scope in the matter of decorations. The question arose as to who had the control of the matter of the graduating exercises, and it was promptly settled by the board, who on the question was referred, who announced that all scholars in the public schools were under control of the teachers, superintendent and school board, who would superintend all arrangements for all exhibitions and exercises, as well as the ordinary routine of school duties. But it is denied that there is or has been any clash of any kind between the board, or the teachers and the graduating class.

Da usages.

The jury appointed to assess the damages on the right of way for the Kansas City railroad from Council Bluffs to Pacific Junction has made its report awarding to:

The Iron Mills Running. PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 18.—Twenty-five mills here have resumed operations since the signing of the scale, and notwithstanding rumors of opposition to the action of the conference committee, it is believed that three-fourths of the mills of this district will be running before the end of the month.

ECHOES OF RESTAURANT BELL'S.

The Belles of the Bluffs no Longer Hear Their Chimes.

A BEE man stepped into one of the most popular restaurants in Council Bluffs, and just as he finished his quill on toast, a lady entered and took a seat at one of the tables. Seeing no waiter she rapped on the table with her fan, tapped on the floor with her foot, and finally manifested her impatience very unmistakably, so the BEE man passed out, called the attention of the proprietor to the lady, and her wants were soon supplied. The question was then asked: "Why do you not keep bells on the tables for your guests to call the waiters?"

"Bells can't do it. Down east folks know what bells are for, and how to use them, but out here they are a nuisance. Why, folks will come in, sit down, ring the bell, and give an order to the waiter. Then while the order is being prepared they will amuse themselves by ringing every few moments, causing the waiters to continually appear in answer to the summons, only to be laughed at. They will answer the bell and ring it, screw it up and ring it, and finally take it all to pieces, and leave the parts scattered over the table and floor. I didn't like to take the bells all off of the tables, so I bought several rattle boxes and when I saw any one fooling with a bell I quietly removed it and put a rattle box in its place, but I finally took them all out of the room."

"Why, you wouldn't believe the pranks people play at the tables. They seem to think that because it is a restaurant they can do anything. Tony people, too. You would be surprised. Why, they sometimes pour the chow chow into the tooth pick holder or fill the bottle of salad dressing with red pepper. Perhaps you notice that there is no chow chow, salad dressing or meat sauce on any of the tables. Can't leave them there. They would be all wasted."

"Why don't you charge them for the damage they do?"

"I do, when I can catch them at it, but they usually act that way when no waiter is in the room."

"One day a gent brought a lady in to have some ice cream and cake. The waiter saw him pour a lot of salad dressing into the Worcesterhire sauce, and fill up the salad dressing bottle with the Worcesterhire sauce. When he reported I gave him a check for $1.30, which was placed by the side of the plate of the young man. He became indignant and walked out here to know if we charged $1.30 for two dishes of ice cream and cake. I told him no. Thirty cents was for the cream and cake, fifty cents for the Worcesterhire sauce and fifty cents for the salad dressing. He turned red and paid the bill without a word. Another time I charged a man 50 cents for filling the chow chow with red pepper. He squealed, and said it was a joke, but finally paid."

"So now I don't have bells, chow chow, meat sauce, nor anything of that kind on the tables. If folks would only behave, I would be only too glad to have all these things on the tables, as it would be much more convenient for me and for those guests who know how to act in a restaurant."
