New York, July 8.—The Herald's Philadelphia special says: Evidence is accumulating that the Chinese are introducing their national funds and oath-bound societies into the United States.

The recent assaults committed upon fellow-countrymen by the Chinese tend to confirm belief. Within the past few weeks printed cipher circulars have been distributed among the Chinese of Philadelphia that are unintelligible to the best American scholars of the language.

These circulars are supposed to bear peculiar significance to such persons as understand their import. They are printed, not written, on a piece of rice paper four inches long by one inch in width. An American naturalized Chinaman named John Wing, engaged in the tea trade in a modest way on North street, sheds some interesting light on the subject.

He pronounces this a veritable "yellow peril" and says that the Chinese are the most feared of all Chinese secret alliances. While he frankly admits he does not understand the characters, he declares the all the words and phrases are words coined letters being formed by combinations of recognized forms which are readily pronounceable though antagonistic to the movable type of the printing press.

He believes the card to be the work of a Shanghai scribe, basing the opinion on certain peculiarities of the latter formation which affected in this city. It is the first specimen of Ye Hing he has since leaving Tin Tin, one of the forts of Peking, five years ago. He had seen the air full of such circulars before the outbreak at Ho Chou.

They were often circulated by kites and small balloons which carried great quantities of these paper proclamations aloft and released a few yards above the city when the kite or balloon was pulled. As the snow shower began to fall, the people in the streets gathered about the kites and the kites and balloons were pulled. WASHINGTON, D. C., July 8.—The newspapers of the cabinet, Secretary Whitney, seems to have abandoned, or at least suspended, the Dolphin performance. It is the general impression that he will, after all, get worked in his contact with Roach.

It is worthy of note that the only expert on Mr. Whitney's board is the civilian engineer and constructor, Mr. Harmon Winter, who happens to be the consulting engineer of a line of steamboats from New York to Boston, of which Secretary Whitney's brother is general manager, and Secretary Whitney's brother-in-law is the principal owner.

The Indian secret assumed gigantic proportions here yesterday and last night. Hundreds of families fled here from points as far west as Fort Leavenworth to seek safety in the city. The reports come from Pray Centre that a large number of settlers have arrived there, fleeing from the Indians. They also report the massacre of a family named Schofield, at Spring creek. Great excitement prevails.

The following dispatch was received this morning by the governor from H. R. Nickerson, division superintendent of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railway. It was sent to Nickerson by the station agent at Kingman: "The Indian secret assumed gigantic proportions here yesterday and last night. CHICAGO MARKETS.

THE DAY IN REVIEW.

Special Telegram to the Bee.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 8.—The wheat market opened weak this morning and under considerable pressure prices fell off from the closing of yesterday, the offerings being large and the shorts selling rampant.

The entire police force of the city are under orders, and should an outbreak occur they will be hurried to the scene in short order. Military authorities have been contacted, but thus far no order has been issued, nor will there be unless affairs assume a much more threatening aspect than at present.

There was more doing on a speculative account in corn and the feeling was stronger and prices higher, influenced by the falling off in receipts. Prices advanced $\frac{1}{2}$ cent, fell back, and closed $\frac{1}{4}$ cent higher than yesterday.
