

THE DAILY BEE. Thursday Morning, July 9.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The management of the baseball park has been telegraphed to secure the Hastings team for a game Saturday and Sunday. Mrs. George Medlock entertained her friends at her home, 1618 Cass street Tuesday night with the sight of a beautiful night-blooming cereus. Capt. J. E. Smith, formerly of the police department, is in the city on a short trip from Washington where he now resides, for treatment for injuries received in the army. He has received a back pension from the government. Mary C. Holmes brought suit in the United States district court yesterday against the B. & M. railroad, for $10,000 damages, on account of her husband's death, he having been killed about six months ago by a train running over him. Mr. Ainsworth was Tuesday offered $15 for the corner stone of the old court house, but it seems that the building had no corner stones. At least none can be found. It was rumored that the workmen there dug out two diamond rings; but when interrogated they denied it. In compliance with telegraphic instructions from the headquarters of the army, the commanding officer at Fort Douglas, Utah, has been ordered to send Sergeant Xavier Wilks, company E, Sixth infantry, to report to the commanding officer at Fort Monroe, Va., by July 20th, next, for examination for promotion. Judge Stenberg has received a letter from a gentleman of Blair, making inquiries about one A. W. Campbell, formerly of that place. He has been missing for some days, but afterwards turned up in Omaha, writing to a friend in Blair that he was in trouble and needed money. Since that time nothing has been heard from him. Campbell is described as being a man five feet seven inches in height, with dark hair and eyes, and Irish by birth. The body of the unfortunate man, who was found near the bottoms Saturday afternoon, and who was subsequently taken to Joseph's hospital where he shortly after expired, was buried yesterday in the potter's field. Several persons called at Drexel & Man's yesterday looking at the unknown man, but no one was able to identify him. Yesterday the case of Henry Koster charged by Driesbach & Middleton with committing perjury, came up in Judge Wells' court. The defendant was alleged to have sworn falsely in trying to collect a debt of $20.20 from Messrs. D. & M. Mr. Koster, with his lawyer, was on hand, but the plaintiffs were not. The case hence, was dismissed, and complete exoneration is secured to Mr. Koster. Gen. Howard, accompanied by his son, Lieut. Guy Howard left for west Tuesday night to be gone some eight or ten days on a tour of inspection. They first go to North Platte, where a conference is held with Gen. Hatch, of the Ninth cavalry, which, after a long and rapid march from Missouri, reached that point yesterday. From North Platte, Gen. Howard goes to Fort Douglas, Utah, where he has not visited for three years. Returning, visits will be paid to Bridger, Sidney and other posts. The passengers on the 7 o'clock dummy train were regaled Tuesday by the struggles of a drunken passenger who refused to pay his fare to the conductor. When the train finally reached the transfer, a row--side of the river the engine uncoupled and started to wobble, preparatory to coupling on to the rear end and pushing the train into the depot a mile and a half switch there it off the track. The conductor's attention was drawn to the scene of the accident and the drunken man escaped. Officer Buckley bagged a very tough looking citizen about one yesterday morning by the name of Charles Field. He went to Ben Flood's house on South Tenth street, pretending to be looking for a woman, whom he said somebody told him was there. Mr. Flood informed the gentleman that his house was not occupied by any such person, but he would not believe it and started to force his way in, at the same time giving Flood orders to stand aside. The latter, however, seemed to have good use of his fist and promptly knocked the intruder down. About that time the officer appeared and collared him. A meeting of the Pioneer Hook and Ladder company was held Tuesday night in Chief Butler's office. The president's frontpiece and belt were unanimously voted to ex-President Phil Dore. Honor certificates were given out to the members who had not yet received them. Many were given the lithographs, but as these ran short, photographs of the plate were in their stead given to several of the members. A committee was appointed to thoroughly investigate the books and records for the last twenty-five years, and with the trustees to report upon the exact parties entitled to a division of the company's funds and property. Messrs. Frank Dellone, Lake Redfield and Jardine were constituted such committee. Tuesday evening there was at the Seward street M. E. church another of the pleasant socialables which the estimable ladies of that society know so well how to get up. The occasion was in honor of the birthday of their pastor, the Rev. R. L. Marsh. He was the recipient of a handsome Oxford blue, revised edition, with patent index, gotten up in the best style as a slight token of the esteem with which he is held by the church, for whose welfare the Rev. Marsh has labored long and diligently and with great success. Dr. Newman made the presentation speech in his usual happy style, and was responded to by Rev. Marsh in a few well chosen and fitting words. During the evening there were songs, recitations by the children and a solo by Mrs. J. E. Newman, all of which were well received. Refreshments in the shape of ice cream and cake were served and furnished a delightful repast. A well-known morning newspaper man just returned from Kansas City via the Missouri Pacific, tells a good story on himself of how he fell from the rear of the train as it passed through Atchison. He is a firm believer in spiritualism, and for some time prior to the accident had been holding sweet and solemn communion with the spirits of departed comrades through the medium of a three-pint flask. While in an excited condition, he went out on the back platform, and doubtless believing himself to be in the embrace of the spirits, tried to tread aloft the air. He made a miserable failure of the attempt, and fell off the back of the train. His howls for help brought the conductor to the rear of the train, "down brakes" was sounded, and the unfortunate car was assisted aboard. The story of a subsequent misfortune which befell the youth is said blunder of stumbling by mistake for the berth of a fat woman at the narrow passage from instant death, thereupon, is told.

SCHOLARS' EYSIGHT.

A Proposed Examination of the Eyes of the Children in the Public Schools.

The Points of Information Which Should be Sought--Remedial Measures to be Suggested.

Some time ago it may be remembered the matter of having Dr. Graddy make examination of the eyes of all the children now in the schools of Omaha, was brought up during a session of the school board. The matter is still pending, not having been settled. The proposed examination of the children's eyes will be made without any charge. Meeting Dr. Graddy last night a reporter for the Bee questioned him as to some of the points he sought to bring out in his examination. "There are several things with reference to which I shall examine the eyes of the scholars of our public schools. One, for instance, would be to determine the state of refraction of the scholar's eye--to see whether there was a lower power of refraction producing over-sight, causing nearsightedness. Then between these two simple abnormal conditions, of course there are varying degrees of refraction, producing vision more or less inaccurate. "Then again the examination would be directed to determine the condition of the scholar's eyes in the different grades up to us go higher among the classes we discover that there is more and more near-sightedness, the inference would be perfectly fair that application to study, or also certain hygienic surroundings, produces this near-sightedness. Having once established this fact it would be an easy matter to remedy this evil by laying down certain rules with reference to the position of the pupil at his desk, the distance between the eye and the book, the shape of the desk, which by carefully observed would undoubtedly lessen the danger of increasing near-sightedness as the student progressed in his studies. "Another point which would be made a matter of special observation is that of the sense of color among pupils. The examination would show the condition of the sight of each scholar with reference to color-blindness--to determine whether it was blind for more than one color--and if so, what color--or whether it was simply "blurred" to certain colors--that is, unable to distinguish them readily. "Another very important matter to be determined by the examination is that of ocular disease among the school children of this city. There is a disease which I have no doubt exists to a certain extent in the schools here called "ophthalmia. This malady is a dangerous one and not easily cured. "It is contagious. "Yes, very contagious. I have noticed that one child afflicted with the disease, may go into a room of say a hundred children, and if allowed to associate daily with them, will communicate the malady to every one. "Do you suppose that it exists to any alarming extent among the pupils of the Omaha schools? "That is a matter to be determined by the examination. I know that the disease exists, as I have said before, to a certain extent in our schools, for I have under my charge a number of cases now. This malady is undoubtedly the old Egyptian ophthalmia, which has been spread over the world by emigration. It is easily communicable from country to country, or from state to state, and I have no doubt that if the disease did not exist in Nebraska, one case of it would finally spread the malady over the state. No, it is not very dangerous, but requires time and patience to treat it. "These are a few of the things which would be determined by an examination. After the primary facts were discovered, the suggestion of remedial measures would follow. We could offer suggestions as to the hygienic surroundings, conditions of light, etc., which would undoubtedly lessen the danger which threaten the eyesight of the average pupil in our public schools. Some of the rooms in our school buildings are very poorly lighted. For instance, a teacher made complaint to me the other day of a school room in which she was employed, which I think she said was 20 feet or more long, in which all the light was afforded by two windows at the end. Under ordinary conditions, she said, it was very difficult for the pupils to read plainly and without straining their eyes. If such a condition of affairs exists, the remedy ought to be applied immediately. For above all things a scholar, in his studies, must have plenty of light. "This matter of examination of the eyes of school children is no new thing. In Germany and other countries of Europe, the system was adopted several years ago, and produced wonderfully favorable results. In our eastern cities, too, the matter is receiving the attention which it urgently demands, and the reforms suggested, in connection with the examination, are being adopted."

A Happy Home.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Pat O'Connor, corner Sixth and Pierce streets, was an exceedingly happy one on Saturday last. It was on the occasion of a visit from their daughter (in religion Sister Mary Cassia) who has been absent from them for upwards of ten years. Sister Cassia at an early age took it as her choice to join the convent, and is located in Chicago. She has been granted the privilege of coming to visit her parents and was accompanied as far as Sioux City by the sister superior, and from there to Omaha by the sister superior of that city. During her brief stay here she was visited by numerous friends and relatives, all of whom were overjoyed to see her. Sister Cassia left for her adopted home in Chicago on Monday, and on her return to Council Bluffs where she spent her early school days. She was welcomed by a host of friends and school mates, at the convent there, from which place she took the evening train for home, followed with the best wishes of all who had the pleasure of knowing her.

The Smith Case.

Yesterday Oberlin, Abbig & Desinger, through their attorneys, commenced replevin proceedings against Sheriff Miller and Messrs. H. Lowy & Co., to obtain possession of $955.40 worth of dry goods, which they were so unfortunately as to consign to the merchant syndicate. The plaintiffs claim that they have been damaged in the sum of $60 by the retention of the goods, and ask, for a judgment the delivery of the property, and $50 besides, and in case the same can not be taken under writ of replevin, judgment for $1,000, interest and costs. Judge Dundy has not yet announced his decision in the replevin case of Galland Bros. vs. H. Lowy & Co.

POLICE COURT.

The Usual Routine Business Disposed of. Henry Cann, alias Sullivan, plead guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct, in Judge Stenberg's court yesterday and was remanded to the county jail. On his person was found a $20 draft, dated at Valentine, and made out in favor of P. L. Albertson. It is supposed to have been stolen.

William Mayfield and Charles Field answered a charge of intoxication and disorderly conduct and paid fines of $5 and costs. Charles Field is the fresh young man, who is reported as having tried to force his way into the house of Ben Flood on South Tenth street, in search of a woman. He was ordered by Mr. Flood to leave the premises, but refusing to do so, was about to raise a disturbance, when he was arrested by an officer. Patrick Reed, an "ancient toper, upon whose wrinkled face could be noted the lines of many a spree, was released from the charge of intoxication. Lester Daily, a young vagabond, was set to work cleaning out the jail, upon a faithful performance of which duty his release was conditional.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of William Anderson, who is accused of beating F. Williams. Williams claims that Anderson charged him with casting aspersions upon the fair name of his (Anderson's) wife. The plaintiff says, however, that he has been guilty of no such thing, as he knows neither Anderson nor his wife. Charles E. Ferris, of the Planters hotel, swore out a complaint against A. Miller, charging him with defrauding the hotel.

The Report. The report that was adopted by the council as board of equalization Tuesday night, provides that for paving the alleys in districts 1 and 2, curbing and guttering on Farnam and Douglas streets from Eighth Ninth streets and of Cumming street from the terminus of the old curbing to Division street, a tax shall be levied on the lots and real estate adjoining the line of such improvements to the depth of 132 feet. The levy is to be 3 1/2 cents on the first twenty-two feet next to the line and for each subsequent twenty-two feet after that it will be 20c, 10c, 10c, 10c and 10c.

PILES!! PILES!! PILES!!

A sure cure for Blind, Bleeding, Itching and Ulcerated Piles has been discovered by Dr. Williams (an Indian remedy), called Dr. Williams' Indian Pile Ointment. A single box has cured the worst chronic cases of 25 or 30 years standing. No one need suffer five minutes after applying this wonderful soothing medicine. Lotions and instruments do more harm than good. Williams' Indian Pile Ointment absorbs the tumors, allays the intense itching, particularly at night, after getting warm in bed, acts as a poultice, gives instant relief, and is prepared only for Piles, itching of private parts, and for nothing else. Sold by druggists, or mailed on receipt of price, 50 cents. At retail by Kuhn & Co., and Schroeter & Becht. At wholesale by C. F. Goodman.

Special Notices. All advertisements in the special columns will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line for the first insertion, and 7 cents per line for each subsequent insertion. No advertisement will be inserted for less than 25 cents or the first time. These advertisements will be inserted in both Morning and Evening Editions, representing a circulation of over Eight Thousand. This class of advertisements must positively be paid in advance.

SUPERIOR TO ALL OTHERS. "Royal Baking Powder is undoubtedly the purest and most reliable." Prof. Mott, Government Chemist. The fact that Royal Baking Powder is, in all respects, the best baking powder offered to the public, has been established beyond question. Prof. H. A. Mott, when employed by the U. S. Government to analyze the various baking powders of the market to determine which was the best and most economical, after an extended investigation, reported in favor of the Royal, and it was adopted for government use. Prof. Mott has continued his examinations of baking powders sold at the present day, and now affirms it as his deliberate judgment, arrived at after most thorough research and a careful examination of the principal brands of the market, that the Royal is undoubtedly the purest and most reliable baking powder offered to the public. OFFICE DR. H. A. MOTT, CONSULTING CHEMIST, 61 BROADWAY, NEW YORK, Feb. 12, 1885.

The Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure, for I have so found it in many tests made both for them and the U. S. Government. I will go still further and state that, because of the facilities that company have for obtaining perfectly pure cream of tartar, and for other reasons dependent upon the proper proportion of the same, and the method of its preparation, THE ROYAL BAKING POWDER IS UNDOUBTEDLY THE PUREST AND MOST RELIABLE BAKING POWDER OFFERED TO THE PUBLIC. HENRY A. MOTT, Ph.D., etc.
