

THE DAILY BEE.

Tuesday Morning, July 14.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Surveyor of Customs Campbell has received bonded goods since June 1, and says that the receipts are materially increasing.

Deputy Grebe arrested yesterday morning young man, Ryan and Hanlan, who were caught in the act of stealing a pair of shoes from Whitney's shoe store.

Deputy U. S. Marshal Allan will leave today for Oregon, where he will sell the stock of L. L. Woods, consisting of about $5,000 and $3,000 worth of goods, which have been attached by Monroe E. Smith, of Chicago.

A man by the name of McMullen living on South Seventeenth street was kicked by a mule at the corral Sunday. He was very badly injured, sustaining a fracture of his collar bone. His wounds have been dressed, and at last accounts he was resting easily.

A horse belonging to Mr. George Ames was hitched to a post near Fifteenth and Far, nam yesterday morning, suddenly broke away and ran down the street, dragging the hitching post after him. He was finally stopped near the corner of Fourteenth and Douglas and returned to his owner.

Whitmore Brothers, of Valley, have contracted to furnish the Union Stock Yards company of this city 2,000 tons of hay and the horse railway company 1,000 tons. They have steam power presses, a sidetrack from the U. P. on their premises, and are about to erect extensive barns for handling and storing this vast product. The hay crop is fast becoming a very important one in Douglas county.

The bats for the rowing association are beginning to come in one by one and in a short time it is hoped to have all arrangements complete for a grand opening, to which special invitations are to be issued. Florence Lake is beginning to be quite a resort for pleasure parties, and doubtless when the association commences operations, the place will become greatly more attractive as a suburban place of resort.

J. H. Daniels, of the U. P. freight auditor's office, who has just returned from a trip east, is regaling his friends here by telling them how he saw Smith, the absconding dry goods merchant and F. C. Miles, the ex-manager, at Put-in-Bay, Mich. He says that both of them claimed they were only away from Omaha on a little pleasure trip and desired to be remembered to their many friends in Omaha.

A man living in Patterson's division has made a complaint in the police court at this office, that two men, peddlers, living in that part of town, had killed and skinned a cow which had been sick for some eight days, and sold the meat which was horribly tainted, to various people living on the bottoms and in South Omaha. It is said that some of the people who bought the meat were afterwards taken sick. If this be true, somebody ought to be punished.

LEGAL LORE.

Cases in the District Court--General Legal Matters.

The case of Wylie D. Clegg is still on trial before Judge Neville. Yesterday the defense continued the introduction of testimony to show the insanity of the prisoner. Before Judge Wakeley the case of Peabody vs. the City of Omaha was taken up yesterday. The case, an old one of a year and a half standing, is one in which the plaintiff demands damages for grading near his property on Fourteenth and Jones.

In the county court yesterday John and Julia Flannigan commenced suit against the Continental Insurance company for $500 on a policy on which it is claimed a default has been attempted. The damages to property for which the payment of insurance is asked, it is alleged, were caused by one of the severe storms which place in the early part of April.

In the case of Dr. Lunyon against Messrs. C. J. Canan, John Hitchcock and G. E. Key, to compel payment of a note of $80, alleged to have been signed by these gentlemen, Judge McCulloch has rendered a decision in favor of defendants. The decision was based on the ground that the note itself showed forth no consideration, and as no evidence was introduced to show such consideration, its validity could not be sustained in court.

The case of Eliza J. D. Peabody vs. the City of Omaha was put on trial yesterday before Judge Wakeley. This suit is one brought for the recovery of damages to the extent of $10,000, caused by reason of the grade established on Fourteenth and Jones streets, wherein plaintiff avers that her property, lots 1 and 2, block 196, has been rendered almost useless. She also alleges that ingress and egress to and from said property is of the most difficult, dangerous and hazardous nature.

Mitchell M. Clark filed his petition in the district court yesterday, praying to be divorced from Maria J. Clark, his wife, who he charges of holding clandestine meetings with one William Thompson, at saloons and at his (Clark's) own house when he was away from home. They were married on the 15th day of January, 1860.

SPRANGE STORIES.

Another "Smothered Sensation" and How it Resulted--Two Hackmen in Trouble. All day yesterday, the air was full of strange rumors about a hack driver who was said to have been killed in the morning near the Fort by two fellow Jehus. The tales were as conflicting and inconsistent as they were many, and the most thorough investigation failed for a time to either prove or disprove the truth of them. The true story runs thus:

Yesterday morning a telephone message was received at McShane's livery stable from Maj. Craft of roadhouse fame saying that Geo. Spalding, a hack driver who worked for the stable, was in trouble, having been engaged in a quarrel in the vicinity of the road house. A man was immediately sent out with officers Bloom and Harrison. Arriving there they found a nice crowd of spectators. "Hindly Bob," Pollan and Baby Barnes had been out at the road house on the rampage. They had become incensed at the hack driver Spalding because they believed he had run into them about two o'clock in the

The Omaha Problem. Indian, Neb., July 11, 1885. To the Editor of the Bee. Did you see those Indians who passed through our streets Saturday morning? Well, as peaceably as they appeared then, just so peaceably you will find them anywhere on the prairie, if the white man will let them alone. The easiest thing on creation to do in order to civilize the Indian, who is no heathen -- is to get him away from contact with the white man of his wigwam, the Indian agent and the sutler--diarrhoea him--put him in--by the white man's laws, if he is found to have committed protection to the cattleman's herds. In exchange for arms, ammunition and whisky given by the sutler.

The unscrupulous white man of the prairie keeps the army continually in unnecessary commotion at the expense of the tax payers of the entire country--and only for his own primary benefit--that of starting up the Indians.

ONE WHO KNOWS. C. R. Thorpe, Wahoo, N. C. Wilson, Denver; W. G. Henneberg, Burlington, are at the Arcade. Dr. Julius Gerth, the recently appointed state veterinarian, accompanied by O. M.
