Still, it is not merely this fact that causes her to be be listened to with so much eagerness and enthusiasm. Aside from the feeling of friendliness, there cannot but be an acknowledgment that she has rare talent and skill, and among critics, far away from the circle of home, proves that she is an artist who is sure to win a name and fame. It is not only what she has achieved, but what she will achieve, that causes the people of Council Bluffs to feel proud of her.

The other features of the evening's concert were enjoyable and none the less so because the other participants were home artists.

Miss Oliver has a strong and cultivated voice, and one which the people are al-ways glad to hear. She gave one of the best numbers of the programme.

The Markel slaters are always given a hearty welcome, and their voices blend together charmingly. The dust of violin and flute, given by Frank Badolet and Paul Tulleys, was a very pleasing open-ing to the delightful programme, these young musicians showing a skill which is to be envied by many of more experience and training.

The following, which appeared in a special to the Globe-Democrat, will be read with interest, as showing what sort of an Impression "the mayor of my city" is making in Washington:

Washington, July 9 .- Mr. Vaughan, of Council Bluffs, an exceedingly fresh gentleman, was interviewed here at some length a couple of weeks ago, on Iowa politics. Among other bolddeclarations, Mr. Vaughan announced that Iowa was a two men, with either of whom as the how he had successfully dodged the proclaimed that he would able to carry Iowa because the liquor element would rally to him. It is probable that the Iowa mayor intended his interview for Washington ceived at the treasury department the application of Mr. Vaughan, of Council Bluffs, to be appointed superintendent of the metropolitan police of the District of Columbia. It is to be feared that the Iowa democracy will have to fall back on that other man.
