

THE DAILY BEE.

OMAHA OFFICE NO. 914 AND 916 FARMAN ST. NEW YORK OFFICE, ROOM 63 TRIBUNE BUILDING.

Published every morning, except Sunday. The only money newspaper published in the state.

TERMS BY MAIL. One Year, in Advance, $2.00. Three Months, .75. Six Months, 1.25.

ADVERTISING. All Business Letters and Communications should be addressed to THE BEE PUBLISHING CO., Props.

THE CITY COUNCIL must revise the assessment roll and bring tax-shirkers to time.

Now that Mayor Boyd has approved the pound ordinance it is hoped that Omaha will cease to be a cow pasture.

The president has not yet gone on that vacation, but he continues to give vacations to nearly a number of office-holders.

Political plums are not being plucked very fast in Nebraska this season. The fruit crop in this state is evidently a failure.

The president has supplied Alaska with a new set of officials—governor, judge, attorney, and marshal. It is a cold day when Alaska gets left.

Among the appointments made by the president on Tuesday Nebraska failed to draw a single prize. It is pretty evident that there are very few "rascals" in this state.

Parties who have laid out farms into city lots and expect the city to supply water, gas, fire and police protection, and school facilities for their additions, should be compelled to pay their proportion of city taxes.

According to the Herald Dr. Miller's three-columns of hog-wash and soft soap on the Union Pacific and its relations to Omaha and the west has received the attention which was due it from the people of this city.

Dr. Miller has the effrontery to tell us that Mr. Charles Francis Adams in his future designs for building up Omaha has always had in view the extension and use of the belt railroad as a means for solving the transfer problem.

The reports from Mount McGregor show that General Grant is sinking rapidly, and that the hour of his death is near at hand.

The city council has at last taken action toward securing a uniform system of sidewalk in the business center—between Tenth and Fifteenth, and between Farm and Douglas.

As Injunction suit does not always enjoin. This was the case with an Illinois farmer whose wife had applied for a divorce and had obtained an injunction restraining him from disposing of his property.

Whitehall Reid has evidently made a favorable impression on the Pacific coast, where he was visiting. The Haworth, (Cal.) Bulletin concludes a complimentary notice of him as follows:

Although ex-Delegate Maginnis, of Montana, is a much disappointed man, owing to his failure to secure the governorship of that territory, he is by no means a crushed politician.

One thousand Crow Indians congregated on the Big Horn recently to mourn the death of Iron Bull, their war chief. They made a howl for three days.

FRAUDULENT ASSESSMENTS.

The citizens of Omaha will now realize what we have been predicting for years, that the systematic tax-shirking of heavy property-owners and capitalists, the wholesale exemptions of railroad property which is no part of their right of way, and the reckless disregard of their sworn duty to assessors, is liable to seriously affect this city in the prosecution of its public improvements.

The INDIAN QUESTION. Gen. Miles may be a good Indian fighter, but in his advocacy of the transfer of the uncivilized tribes to the care of the war department he will not find very general endorsement.

The Indians that have up to this time been removed to the Indian territory have as a rule become settled, are well satisfied, and seem to be making more rapid progress towards civilization and self-support than any other bands.

Mr. Holman proposes to recommend the purchase of the Sioux reservation, and the removal of the Sioux to the Indian territory, as the initial step in his scheme of concentrating all the Indians in that locality.

Perhaps the Western Union does not care to waste any money in painting its unsightly poles in Omaha, as it must in the near future bury its wires in all the large cities.

Where Mr. Hendricks is Wanted. Vice President Hendricks, who is coming to California, may demand upon his return a royal welcome.

The Three B's. Both Jim Dawes, our dude governor, and the Laird, our do-nothing congressman, expect to step into Senator Van Wyck's breeches at the next senatorial election.

Ulysses Despatch. Both Jim Dawes, our dude governor, and the Laird, our do-nothing congressman, expect to step into Senator Van Wyck's breeches at the next senatorial election.

Where Mr. Hendricks is Wanted. Vice President Hendricks, who is coming to California, may demand upon his return a royal welcome.

The Three B's. Both Jim Dawes, our dude governor, and the Laird, our do-nothing congressman, expect to step into Senator Van Wyck's breeches at the next senatorial election.

Ulysses Despatch. Both Jim Dawes, our dude governor, and the Laird, our do-nothing congressman, expect to step into Senator Van Wyck's breeches at the next senatorial election.

Where Mr. Hendricks is Wanted. Vice President Hendricks, who is coming to California, may demand upon his return a royal welcome.

The Three B's. Both Jim Dawes, our dude governor, and the Laird, our do-nothing congressman, expect to step into Senator Van Wyck's breeches at the next senatorial election.

Ulysses Despatch. Both Jim Dawes, our dude governor, and the Laird, our do-nothing congressman, expect to step into Senator Van Wyck's breeches at the next senatorial election.

Where Mr. Hendricks is Wanted. Vice President Hendricks, who is coming to California, may demand upon his return a royal welcome.

The Three B's. Both Jim Dawes, our dude governor, and the Laird, our do-nothing congressman, expect to step into Senator Van Wyck's breeches at the next senatorial election.

Ulysses Despatch. Both Jim Dawes, our dude governor, and the Laird, our do-nothing congressman, expect to step into Senator Van Wyck's breeches at the next senatorial election.

Where Mr. Hendricks is Wanted. Vice President Hendricks, who is coming to California, may demand upon his return a royal welcome.

The Three B's. Both Jim Dawes, our dude governor, and the Laird, our do-nothing congressman, expect to step into Senator Van Wyck's breeches at the next senatorial election.

Ulysses Despatch. Both Jim Dawes, our dude governor, and the Laird, our do-nothing congressman, expect to step into Senator Van Wyck's breeches at the next senatorial election.

Where Mr. Hendricks is Wanted. Vice President Hendricks, who is coming to California, may demand upon his return a royal welcome.

The Three B's. Both Jim Dawes, our dude governor, and the Laird, our do-nothing congressman, expect to step into Senator Van Wyck's breeches at the next senatorial election.

Ulysses Despatch. Both Jim Dawes, our dude governor, and the Laird, our do-nothing congressman, expect to step into Senator Van Wyck's breeches at the next senatorial election.

Where Mr. Hendricks is Wanted. Vice President Hendricks, who is coming to California, may demand upon his return a royal welcome.

The Three B's. Both Jim Dawes, our dude governor, and the Laird, our do-nothing congressman, expect to step into Senator Van Wyck's breeches at the next senatorial election.

Ulysses Despatch. Both Jim Dawes, our dude governor, and the Laird, our do-nothing congressman, expect to step into Senator Van Wyck's breeches at the next senatorial election.

Where Mr. Hendricks is Wanted. Vice President Hendricks, who is coming to California, may demand upon his return a royal welcome.

The Three B's. Both Jim Dawes, our dude governor, and the Laird, our do-nothing congressman, expect to step into Senator Van Wyck's breeches at the next senatorial election.

Ulysses Despatch. Both Jim Dawes, our dude governor, and the Laird, our do-nothing congressman, expect to step into Senator Van Wyck's breeches at the next senatorial election.

Where Mr. Hendricks is Wanted. Vice President Hendricks, who is coming to California, may demand upon his return a royal welcome.

MAJESTY AND REBELLING AGAINST THE CONSTITUTION OF THE REALM.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

MR. ROACH AS A MARTYR. It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

MR. ROACH AS A MARTYR.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

It is difficult to understand why republican papers should undertake to make the failure of John Roach a political issue, and hold him up to public view as a persecuted man who has been ruined simply because he was a republican.

RUMBLINGS BY RAIL.

An Attempt to Wreck a Passenger Train on the C. St. P. M. & O. Road.

Great Activity in and About the U. P. Shops—A Big Force of Men at Work—Personal Notes, Etc.

A report came flashing in over the train dispatcher's wire, of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha road, night before last, stating briefly that out-laws had placed a rail across the track two miles north of Herman, evidently for the fiendish purpose of wrecking the Oakland passenger train, which leaves here at 5:40 o'clock every evening.

The Helms (Mont.) Herald says: "Governor Hauser is in receipt of a letter from John Gibbon, U. S. A., recently advanced to brigadier general, warmly congratulating him upon his appointment.

Under General Orders No. 13, current series, from the headquarters, First Cavalry, at Helena, E. C. Galloway, adjutant, Ninth cavalry, is detailed for duty on general recruiting service for the department of the Platte, in the field, and at Fort McKenney, Wyo., upon his arrival there.

General O. O. Howard has issued an order at headquarters to the effect that officers may wear civilian dress when at headquarters. Those who prefer wearing the uniform will not be prevented from so doing.

The members of the Republican State Central committee are hereby called to meet at the Millard hotel, at Omaha, on Tuesday, August 4, 1885, at 8 p. m., for the purpose of calling a state convention and the transacting of any other business proper to come before said committee.

The rivalry between Mr. Nathan Strauss' bay gelding Majolica and Mr. J. I. Case's bay stallion Phallas is of long standing, and their trotting-match at Elmwood park next Friday for $2,500, a side promise to be an interesting event.

Phallas will arrive to-morrow at Fleetwood, and will be stabled upon the hill where it is cool. He bruised his quarter in his recent race with Maxey Cobb, but is otherwise reported to be in good condition, and fit to trot at any time when called on.

Phallas and Majolica have the same blood lines. Majolica is fifteen hands high, and was foaled in 1876, and bred by Mr. Robert Bonner. He was sired by Starke, he by Hambleton, dam Jessie Kirk by Clark Catef, he by Mambriero Chief. Phallas is sixteen hands high, and was foaled in 1877, sired by Dictator, he by Hambleton, dam Betsy Trotwood by Clark Chief.

Phallas party has since telegraphed to the Majolica party to know whether they should bring Phallas on or whether Mr. Strauss would pay forfeit. "Bring him on; Majolica is ready to trot," was the reply.

A telegram was received at army headquarters yesterday from General Schofield of the division command, ordering that the Ninth cavalry which has been stationed at Ogallala for some time past be removed from that place and resume its march to the posts of Fort McKimney, Washakie, and Robinson.

A telegram was received at army headquarters yesterday from General Schofield of the division command, ordering that the Ninth cavalry which has been stationed at Ogallala for some time past be removed from that place and resume its march to the posts of Fort McKimney, Washakie, and Robinson.

A telegram was received at army headquarters yesterday from General Schofield of the division command, ordering that the Ninth cavalry which has been stationed at Ogallala for some time past be removed from that place and resume its march to the posts of Fort McKimney, Washakie, and Robinson.

A telegram was received at army headquarters yesterday from General Schofield of the division command, ordering that the Ninth cavalry which has been stationed at Ogallala for some time past be removed from that place and resume its march to the posts of Fort McKimney, Washakie, and Robinson.

A telegram was received at army headquarters yesterday from General Schofield of the division command, ordering that the Ninth cavalry which has been stationed at Ogallala for some time past be removed from that place and resume its march to the posts of Fort McKimney, Washakie, and Robinson.

A telegram was received at army headquarters yesterday from General Schofield of the division command, ordering that the Ninth cavalry which has been stationed at Ogallala for some time past be removed from that place and resume its march to the posts of Fort McKimney, Washakie, and Robinson.

A telegram was received at army headquarters yesterday from General Schofield of the division command, ordering that the Ninth cavalry which has been stationed at Ogallala for some time past be removed from that place and resume its march to the posts of Fort McKimney, Washakie, and Robinson.

A telegram was received at army headquarters yesterday from General Schofield of the division command, ordering that the Ninth cavalry which has been stationed at Ogallala for some time past be removed from that place and resume its march to the posts of Fort McKimney, Washakie, and Robinson.

A telegram was received at army headquarters yesterday from General Schofield of the division command, ordering that the Ninth cavalry which has been stationed at Ogallala for some time past be removed from that place and resume its march to the posts of Fort McKimney, Washakie, and Robinson.

A telegram was received at army headquarters yesterday from General Schofield of the division command, ordering that the Ninth cavalry which has been stationed at Ogallala for some time past be removed from that place and resume its march to the posts of Fort McKimney, Washakie, and Robinson.

A telegram was received at army headquarters yesterday from General Schofield of the division command, ordering that the Ninth cavalry which has been stationed at Ogallala for some time past be removed from that place and resume its march to the posts of Fort McKimney, Washakie, and Robinson.

A telegram was received at army headquarters yesterday from General Schofield of the division command, ordering that the Ninth cavalry which has been stationed at Ogallala for some time past be removed from that place and resume its march to the posts of Fort McKimney, Washakie, and Robinson.

A telegram was received at army headquarters yesterday from General Schofield of the division command, ordering that the Ninth cavalry which has been stationed at Ogallala for some time past be removed from that place and resume its march to the posts of Fort McKimney, Washakie, and Robinson.

A telegram was received at army headquarters yesterday from General Schofield of the division command, ordering that the Ninth cavalry which has been stationed at Ogallala for some time past be removed from that place and resume its march to the posts of Fort McKimney, Washakie, and Robinson.

A telegram was received at army headquarters yesterday from General Schofield of the division command, ordering that the Ninth cavalry which has been stationed at Ogallala for some time past be removed from that place and resume its march to the posts of Fort McKimney, Washakie, and Robinson.

A telegram was received at army headquarters yesterday from General Schofield of the division command, ordering that the Ninth cavalry which has been stationed at Ogallala for some time past be removed from that place and resume its march to the posts of Fort McKimney, Washakie, and Robinson.

A telegram was received at army headquarters yesterday from General Schofield of the division command, ordering that the Ninth cavalry which has been stationed at Ogallala for some time past be removed from that place and resume its march to the posts of Fort McKimney, Washakie, and Robinson.

A telegram was received at army headquarters yesterday from General Schofield of the division command, ordering that the Ninth cavalry which has been stationed at Ogallala for some time past be removed from that place and resume its march to the posts of Fort McKimney, Washakie, and Robinson.

A telegram was received at army headquarters yesterday from General Schofield of the division command, ordering that the Ninth cavalry which has been stationed at Ogallala for some time past be removed from that place and resume its march to the posts of Fort McKimney, Washakie, and Robinson.

A telegram was received at army headquarters yesterday from General Schofield of the division command, ordering that the Ninth cavalry which has been stationed at Ogallala for some time past be removed from that place and resume its march to the posts of Fort McKimney, Washakie, and Robinson.

A telegram was received at army headquarters yesterday from General Schofield of the division command, ordering that the Ninth cavalry which has been stationed at Ogallala for some time past be removed from that place and resume its march to the posts of Fort McKimney, Washakie, and Robinson.

Jablochkoff's Latest.

London Times, June 30. M. Jablochkoff, who was the first to introduce electric light into our midst on a practical scale, has for some time past directed his attention to the production of electricity by means of a primary battery. He at first produced a sodium battery, which developed a very high electro-motive force. It had, however, one radical defect, which rendered it useless, and that was the rapid oxidation of the sodium in contact with the air.

Speaking of the matter of promoting Gen. Terry to the vacant major generalship, our Gen. Howard, a contributor to the Army and Navy Journal says: "To promote the second brigadier over the first in rank would be contrary to the precedents established in the promotion of brigadiers for a period of fourteen years; and, too, at the expense of an officer distinguished in as many battles during the war as any officer in the service—three times wounded, bearing the scars of the battle of Fair Oaks when his distinguished bravery saved the army of the Potomac from threatened serious disaster. Since the close of the war, in campaigns against the Indians, his rapid and constant pursuit of Chief Joseph stands alone—has no parallel. Without meaning to detract an atom from the hero of Fort Fisher, it is contended that his friends cannot afford to press him for promotion manifestly unfair. In the spirit of all fairness, as well as in the line of wise discretion, his friends should unite with the friends of Gen. Howard and insist upon the right of seniority for promotion, else, in the contention which will necessarily follow, a brigadier general to both be selected, and thus by increasing at the price of 1885, lose also that of 1888."

Under General Orders No. 13, current series, from the headquarters, First Cavalry, at Helena, E. C. Galloway, adjutant, Ninth cavalry, is detailed for duty on general recruiting service for the department of the Platte, in the field, and at Fort McKenney, Wyo., upon his arrival there.

General O. O. Howard has issued an order at headquarters to the effect that officers may wear civilian dress when at headquarters. Those who prefer wearing the uniform will not be prevented from so doing.

The members of the Republican State Central committee are hereby called to meet at the Millard hotel, at Omaha, on Tuesday, August 4, 1885, at 8 p. m., for the purpose of calling a state convention and the transacting of any other business proper to come before said committee.

The rivalry between Mr. Nathan Strauss' bay gelding Majolica and Mr. J. I. Case's bay stallion Phallas is of long standing, and their trotting-match at Elmwood park next Friday for $2,500, a side promise to be an interesting event.

Phallas will arrive to-morrow at Fleetwood, and will be stabled upon the hill where it is cool. He bruised his quarter in his recent race with Maxey Cobb, but is otherwise reported to be in good condition, and fit to trot at any time when called on.