An entertainment by her would doubtless be greatly appraciated by her many friends, who would gladly improve the opportunity of hearing her.

It is said that there is too much carelessness in allowing persons to drive over the hose at times of fire, and that much damage has been done to hore in this way. The ordinance providing that any one driving over hose shall be fined, is said to have fallen into disuse, and to be violated with impunity. Worse than all leased the circulation of the Globe. It is cisimed that on some occasions hose carts themselves have sun over lines of hose laid for a fire. If such abuse exists the city visiting his brother, Charles D. it should be corrected without delay. A heavy wheel, or a sharp shod horse, is liable to cut a section of hose so as to render it almost worthless, and proving quite a serious loss.

Two dry goods clerks are getting into trsgedy. On Sunday one of them tore the cilk umbrells which was the pride of the other one's heart, and yesterday they met again and snother chapter was added striking out for Nebraska. He took his to the sensational history. The one whose umbrells had been torn sought revenge by grabbleg the other one's bat as they met on Broadway, and proceeded to kick a hole in it. They really came near having blows, and unless there is an injunction got out, or some other stop put to the feud, there will be blood flowing in the streets from the nose of one or the L no le, where he has been on a business tric. other of these fierce antogenists.

A copy of the will of A. R. McCown, of Philadelphia, has been put on record here, as it affects the title of some lands in this county.
