Lewis and Beecroft, two well-known expressmen, had a row Saturday over the hauling of some baggage, in which Bescroft got several sharp raps over the head with the butt end of a whip. Both were arrested for disturbing the peace, and their cases postponed for a week.

On Saturday the ball bond of $10,000 in the Coffman case was filed with the clerk of courts, and Mr. Coffman was re leased from custody. His daughter, Mrs. Harlow, of Avoca, was in the city Saturday, and accompanied him to Omaha, where he had some little business to attend to, and he will return to his home to day. The signers of his bond are J. W. and E. L. Davis, S. C. Harlow, O. B. Nelson, F. Benjamin, Ed. Gursely, and Charles Uhden.

Over a month ago Mrs. Wallace, wife of an expressman, suddenly left home for parts unknown, deserting her husband and several small children. Wallace got information that she had centered her affections upon Nelson Heston, who lived near Crescent City, and that she had gone with him. He filed an information before Justice Schurz, and has had them arrested in Sioux City. They will be brought into court Tuesday for a hearing on the charge of lewdness.

On Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Tibbits celebrated their tenth weddirg anniversary in a very happy man ner, the occasion being shared in by about seventy-five couples of their friends. A large platform for dancing was erected, and the grounds about their residence on Seventh street were brilliantly lighted, and the guests were cared for with lavish hospitality. A large number of gifts appropriate to such an anniversary were bestowed upon the worthy couple. Pat Villisca, who has gained a good deal of notoriety by his peculiar acts as a hackman, and his treatment of those who were not used to the ways of the city, for a breach of trust.
